HILLMAN EASY FOR BUCKNELL

HEAVY ACADEMY TEAM FILLED CANCELLED DATE.

VARSITY MADE FAVORABLE SHOWING UNDER NEW RULES

Entire Back Field of Last Year Back in Game and Gained Through Visitor's Line at Will.—Big Squad of New Men Out for Team.

Although outweighed by its opponents the Varsity ushered in the football season on the local gridiron most favorably Saturday when it easily defeated the sturdy Harry Hillman Academy team, of Wilkes-Barre, with a 41 to 0 score. Lock Haven Normal was scheduled to appear here Saturday, but notified Manager Smith Wednesday that it could not come. The Academy squad was then persuaded to sign up in its stead.

The day was an ideal one for football and the Varsity was in excellent shape. A large crowd was in attendance, anxious to see Bucknell's warriors rip through the line of their opponents and to get a line on the new rules, which, during the winter, underwent radical changes. The most important change, that of increasing number of downs from three to four, enabled the Orange and Blue team to keep possession of the ball most of the time, and it was significant that only once was Bucknell held for a first down.

The Varsity scored three touchdowns in the first half and three in the second. Captain Jordon successfully kicking all but the first goal. Line bucking as well as end runs figured conspicuously in the ground gaining of the local team, and two of the touchdowns, those by Jordan and Sturgis, were made on forward passes into the ten-yard zone beyond the goal line, permitted under the recent changes in the rules governing the game. Several chances to score were lost when the Varsity fumbled inside the ten-yard line.

The Bucknell backfield, which was the same as in last season's team, consisted of Crulkshank, Keiser, Gdaniec and Topham. The men ploughed through the opposition line and skirted the end men with almost midseason power and aggressiveness. Too much credit cannot be given to the work of the men on the line. Their stubborn defense kept the visitors from making any lengthy gains and their charging tore big holes in the Academy line through which the swift backfielders plunged for big gains.

In the second half Coach Dickson substituted an almost complete team in an effort to get a line on the playing of a number of the new men and to give some of the old men a chance to prove their ability.

Men Being Tried Out.

With all but three of the men that comprised last year's Varsity football team back in college and with over twenty other candidates, most of whom are freshmen, out for positions on the squad, the prospects for a winning team this season look especially bright.

ENROLLMENT AS LARGE AS EVER THIS YEAR

NUMBER OF NEW STUDENTS MAY EXCEED LAST YEAR'S RECORD.

The registration of new students has been unusually slow this year, giving an outward appearance of a small freshman class. Figures in the Registrar's office, however, show the number of new entrants to be considerably above the average for the past few years and fully equal to last year's record of enrollment. New names are being added daily and the number will likely surpass even last year's enrollment.

The number of new students entering with advanced standing is larger than usual. Several additions have been made to all the old classes.

Institute and Academy enrollments are about the same as for last year, while that of the School of Music is much larger.

Two additions have been made to the teaching force. Prof. Glenn V. Brown, A. B., A. M., Dickinson, graduate student at John Hopkins, Ph. D., Univ. of Pennsylvania, occupies the position of Assistant Professor of Chemistry in the College, and Mr. Curtis Zimmerman, S. B., State College, is Instructor in science in the Academy. Prof. Brown fills the position made vacant by the resignation of Prof. Winter who is now a member of the faculty at State College, while Mr. Zimmerman takes the place of Mr. Case in the Academy.

SOPHOMORES TURN TABLES IN ANNUAL CLASS SCRAP

SECOND-YEAR MEN ARE VICTORS FIRST TIME IN HISTORY OF SCRAP.

The under classmen mixed things up in a most exciting manner when they met on the athletic field for the annual class scrap a week ago Saturday. From the standpoint of winning this event the freshmen were handicapped by the fact that so many of their classmates are girls. At any rate, the two classes were almost equally matched and the sophs, for the first time in the history of the scrap, emerged as victors. The final score was 22—28.

PHI KAPPA PSI DANCE.

The Phi Kappa Psi fraternity gave an informal dance in their halls last Friday evening at which guests were present from Milton and Sunbury. Campbell's orchestra of Sunbury, rendered the music for the occasion.

MEN TO RALLY THIS WEEK

A MAMMOTH MASS MEETING ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

SOME TIMELY TOPICS TO BE DISCUSSED BY STUDENTS

Meeting Called in Order to Better Cheering and to Foster Enthusiasm. —Some Possible Innovations Will be Considered.

A mass meeting of all the men students of Bucknell University is to be held at eight o'clock on Wednesday evening of this week for the purpose of considering some suggested innovations in the student life of the college. The meeting is to take place in Bucknell Hall and it is imperative for the success of the rally that every Bucknell man attend.

Last Thursday evening a committee of twenty-five men, representing the student body of the college, met in the Y. M. C. A. office and discussed preparations for Wednesday's big meeting. The need of some innovations in the student life of the college was realized. It was decided that a mammoth mass meeting of all the students was necessary for the success of such innovations.

To Elect Cheer Leaders.

The first step toward bettering the cheering at the athletic games is to place men in charge of the cheering who are the unanimous choice of all the students. Such men should be representative of the student body in every particular. They should be men of influence and ability. In view of these facts the committee in charge of the mass meeting Wednesday evening urges caution in the choice of cheer leaders.

Compulsory Cheering Practice.

The committee also considered the advisibility of establishing a compulsory cheering practice, one hour each week, for the first year men. A plan suggested was to have a cheering practice every Friday afternoon in which the college band would assist. A roll call of the freshman class is to be taken. Inability to attend the weekly practice on the part of freshmen is to be reported by the man himself to the cheering committee. Loyalty to the institution on the part of the other classes is to urge their attendance at the weekly practice. The final decision as to this innovation is to be left to the discretion of the student body at the mass meeting Wednesday night.

Prizes for Cheers.

The committee decided that the best means to obtain new cheers, and ones which would give the most volume to the enthusiasm of the students, would be to offer several prizes to those presenting the best cheers. The money for such a prize contest could be obtained by subscriptions from the student body. The committee believes the present college cheers insufficient and not the best which might be obtained. As a consequence the contest suggested may be utilized, that is, if the students so decide at the mass meeting Wednesday night.

Organization of the Band.

In order to enliven cheering practices and college games the reorganization of the college band is to be considered. Practically all of last year's musicians have returned to college, thus forming a nucleus for a bigger and better organization this year. Leader Fahringer of last year has stated his willingness to serve again this year. The freshman class contains a number of musicians who will help materially the size of the organization.

Student Government Considered.

The subject of a student government is to be brought up for discussion at the meeting Wednesday evening. Inasmuch as most of the important colleges of the country have successful student governments, it is thought that such an organization will meet with the approval of Bucknell students. At any rate the organization of a student government and all the phases of the same will be considered Wednesday night.

BAND TO MEET WEDNESDAY.

The first meeting of the Bucknell University band will be held Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock in the Oratory Room. Musicians from all classes are requested to be present. Arrangements will be made for the presence of the band at the mammoth mass meeting in the evening. There is some talk, too, of having the college band accompany the Varsity and rooters to Harrisburg where Bucknell will meet Gettysburg on Nov. 23.

GOEHRING COACHING FOOTBALL.

The General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. was at Mt. Carmel last Saturday attending the football game between Mt. Carmel High School and Lewisburg High. "Bill" is coaching the local high school squad.

TO TAKE MOVING PICTURES OF BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY

OPERATOR FOR THE GAUMONT FILM COMPANY TO BE HERE THURSDAY.

Moving pictures of Bucknell University and a panorama of Lewisburg will be taken on Thursday, October 3rd. At 10.30 o'clock in the morning a moving picture of the Bucknell football team in action on the campus will be taken. The picture is to be taken by the Gaumont Co., of New York, under the direction of H. E. Davis of the Bijou Dream theatre, Milton. The Bucknell football team will be placed in the Animated Weekly through the courtesy of A. D. Miller, of Lewisburg, through whose efforts the moving picture operator will be brought to Lewisburg. It will be exhibited in 45,000 theatres all over the world. No doubt a large crowd will be present Thursday morning to see how moving pictures are made.

SNYDER TO COACH VARSITY.

"Fat" Snyder, '11, an old football star of several years ago, will aid Coach Dickson next week in getting the Varsity ready for the University of Pittsburgh game. Snyder will arrive in Lewisburg next Saturday and he will be here a week. He is at present connected with the chemistry department of the Pennsylvania R. R. at Altoona.

ALPHA SIGMA ENTERTAINS.

The Alpha Sigma fraternity entertained at a smoker in their rooms on Tuesday evening. Refreshments were served.

ORATORIO SOCIETY AND GLEE CLUB ORGANIZED

PROFESSOR STOLZ EXPECTS COMING YEAR TO SURPASS ALL OTHERS.

The Oratorio Society and Glee Club were organized and held their first rehearsal in Bucknell Hall last Thursday at seven o'clock. About forty enthusiastic boys and girls were out; all of these showed sincerity and delight in the good work, and warranted us Prof. Stolz stated, "the beginning of the most successful musical year in the history of Bucknell."

The society will meet regularly at seven o'clock Thursdays to give the various town choirs a chance to attend rehearsals.

The following officers were elected: Prof. Paul Stolz, director; Miss B. S. Rice, pianist; Van Osten, '14, manager; Prof. W. Pangburn, treasurer; Jackson, '13, and Davenport, '13, librarians.

Y. M. C. A. BEGINS EVENTFUL YEAR

ANNUAL RECEPTION REVEALED STUDENT INTEREST.

PROFESSOR PHILLIPS ADDRESSED FIRST MEETING

Offered Plea to College Men Not to Neglect Religion and Religious Interest. —Association Began Work Early.

The annual reception of the Christian Association to the new men was held in Bucknell Hall on Saturday evening, September 21st. The chapel seats were disposed of along the walls and the entire center of the room was left vacant so that the men could mix freely together. The early part of the evening was spent in getting acquainted. After everybody had shaken hands with everybody else and a general good feeling prevailed, the fellows got together around the piano and gave vent to their Bucknell enthusiasm in a series of Bucknell yells and songs.

The president of the Association then called upon Dr. Harris, who responded with a splendid short talk. Hon. Frank L. Dershem was the next person called upon for a talk. Mr. Dershem briefly presented the claim of politics on the college man, showing that there was really a great field of opportunity in politics for the college man with the fire of Christian ideals. Middleton, president of the Senior class, was next introduced. "Middy" made a hearty address of welcome to the new men. "Bill" Goehring, the General Secretary of the Association, made the last talk of the evening and told the fellows that the Y. M. C. A. was here to help them and that they should not feel timid in making use of the reading room, the books and magazines and daily papers, and whatever else was intended for public use in the Association office.

Following the talks came that very pleasant feature of the evening, the "eats." After the ice cream cones had been passed several times and each one was sure that he had sampled every variety of the cakes, the men got together for another hearty Bucknell-el-el and the reception was over.

Y. M. C. A. Active This Fall.

Every Bucknell man has been brought, during the last two weeks, to realize that the Young Men's Christian Association is one of the really big things of the institution. The Association has been active this fall in every department of college life. It began its work long before the term opened by getting in touch with the new men who were coming. It has continued its work during these opening days and has rendered valuable assistance to the old as well as to the new men in getting started right. With the Y. M. C. A. under the leadership of a General Secretary one may confidently expect the athletic, academic, social, and moral life of the college to be better this year than ever before.

Dr. Phillips Speaks.

On Thursday evening in the Y. M. C. A. Hall, Dr. Phillips addressed the first regular meeting of the Association. Prof. Phillips' talk was a plea to college men not to neglect religion and religious exercises. The speaker said that religion is a natural endowment of man. It is not something that a man may or may not take unto himself. It is already in man. Since it is a part of man it is very evident that man cannot make the most out of himself and still neglect it. One developes by finding outside of one's self something that will cause that which is within to respond. Religious exercises cause the religious instinct in man to respond.

WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S RALLY

The mass meeting called for Wednesday evening in Bucknell Hall is an effective register of the enthusiasm within the student body for the activities about the college which made the past college year an unusual one at Bucknell. The Y. M. C. A. as it is to-day, the revival of the two old literary societies, the reorganization of debating at the college and a successful Varsity team on the platform, a decrease in the indebtedness of the Athletic Association by careful management and student interest in athletics—all these things were accomplished because of the hearty enthusiasm and the healthy interest on the part of the student body. Wednesday evening's rally vouches for another display of this enthusiasm and interest.

BUCKNELL RALLY SONG.

The Orange and Blue presents with this issue a supplement entitled "The Bucknell Rally Song." This is surely, in word and spirit, an out and out Bucknell song. The words are from the pen of a well known graduate and the music too belongs to a Bucknell graduate.

Bucknell meets Gettysburg in football, on November 23, at Harrisburg. Certainly many students will want to cheer and sing at that game. Try the Bucknell Rally Song and if it measures up to standard, as we believe it will, it is yours for that occasion and any other as well.

WELCOME TO NEW STUDENTS.

The Orange and Blue proffers both welcome and congratulations to the students enrolled for the first time at Bucknell. We say welcome because they are to be sons and daughters of the "old college on the hill"; we congratulate them on having chosen so well. There are traditions and standards which they must help to maintain. We believe they will not fail.

REGULAR PLACES IN CHAPEL.

All students are expected to attend chapel service each day. No credit will be given for attendance unless the student is in the proper place before the close of the first hymn and no one is expected to come into the chapel after the first hymn. For this term the seating will be as follows:

East side—young women. Seniors first three rows; Juniors next four rows. Sophomores next four rows and Freshmen in the rear.

Middle Block—Seniors front half; Sophomores rear half. East side Juniors front half, Freshmen rear half.

LYCEUM COMMITTEE CHANGES COURSE ENGAGED

WITHDRAWAL OF DR. WILEY PROMPTS ACTION WITH COIT BUREAU.

The Lyceum Course Committee has, during the last week, cancelled its contract with the Coit Lyceum Bureau. This action was taken as a result of the fact that the Coit Bureau gave the Bucknell committee reason to believe that they did not expect to give Dr. Wiley a date in Lewisburg this season. The course was sold to the Y. M. C. A. on the strength of the fact that Dr. Wiley would be one of the big attractions. The manager of the Bucknell course considered that it would not be satisfactory to Lewisburg people without Dr. Wiley and so cancelled the contract for the whole course. Another contract has been obtained with the Ridpath Bureau and a strong course has been arranged. The course consists of five big attractions and is as a whole even stronger than the one previously announced.

The season will be opened by The Rawles, a native company of New Zealanders, highly educated in the best universities of England. The Rawles open their evening's entertainment with an illustrated lecture on the geography, natural resources and government of New Zealand at the same time calling attention to the way in which New Zealand has worked out her salvation in the matter of government till at present she has the best form of government on the face of the globe. Following this they entertain their audience with native songs and recitations. In the latter part of the program they show some of the industrial arts of their land. The company has three dates to appear before the Fine Arts Club of Chicago this year.

The orator and commanding figure of the course is Gov. Hoch of Kansas. Gov. Hoch is the man who gave to Kansas her present local option law. He is also the man who put the Standard Oil Company to the wall in that state. He is one of few public men who have been able to hold their popularity as public speakers after their expiration of office.

The two musical numbers are high priced entertainments and should prove very satisfactory. Both the Aldas Quartette and The Four Artists are companies of good personnel and come well recommended.

Phidelah Rice, who is a pupil of Leland Powers, has won considerable recognition on the Lyceum platform as a reader and impersonator. In some of the larger schools Mr. Rice alternates from year to year with Powers himself.

The committee expects to make a canvass of the town and school during the next few days in order to secure subscribers to the course. The price of season tickets will be one dollar and fifty cents instead of two dollars as previously announced.

COLLEGE MEN AND WOMEN GUESTS OF C. E. SOCIETY

ANNUAL SOCIAL AT THE BAPTIST CHURCH A SUCCESS

The college men and women were guests of the Christian Endeavor Society at a social in the Baptist church parlors last Friday evening. The committee in charge was successful in arranging a successful program. The guests were divided into groups, each of which was required to sing a section of some familiar song. This caused no little amusement.

Several individual selections were rendered. Miss Rachael Davis recited "In Imminent Peril." Miss Wilma Knapp sang several selections and Miss Ruth Bancroft followed with a piano selection. Clarke, '15, recited "Tom Sawyer's Cure for Lovesickness." Several recitations by Miss Schillinger were received as usual with hearty applause. The program completed, light refreshments were served.

ORCHESTRA TO REPORT.

All students, both men and women, playing orchestral instruments are to report at Miss Armstrong's studio on Tuesday at 4.15, when the orchestra will be organized. Work will begin at once.

REGISTRAR TO GRANT EXCUSES.

The Registrar will be in his office for the purpose of granting excuses each Wednesday morning from nine until twelve. Excuses will not be granted at any other time. The rule requiring excuses to be obtained within two weeks after the absence will be strictly enforced. Students wishing to be excused from chapel for the term should see the registrar at once, and if their reasons are satisfactory they will be excused. Attendance at chapel will be considered in determining college standing.

HILLMAN ACADEMY EASY FOR BUCKNELL

more, but a substitute has been found in Sturgis, who was substitute full back last year, and he already handles himself well in the position.

The Varsity back field will doubtless remain the same as last year. Cruikshank holding the pivotal position with Keiser and Gdaniec as half backs, and Topham as full back. Aleshouckas has been an able understudy to "Crook", while a large number of new men are making excellent showings as backfieldmen, among them being Fitzgerald; Lukens, Gubin, Corrin and Samuel. Mellott and Glass are showing up well at end positions but are at a great disadvantage on account of light weight.

On account of the inclement weather during the first part of last week the football men were not given scrimmage practice until Wednesday, but since then have been put through some gruelling contests with the second team. During the coming week the work will be carried on more in detail by Coach Dickson and additional plays will be practiced to be used against Wyoming Seminary next Saturday and University of Pittsburgh the week following. The Pitt game will be the first big game of the season and the initial gridiron contest between the two teams for several years.

Oct. 5—Wyoming Seminary, at Lewisburg.
Oct. 12—Univ. of Pittsburgh, at Pittsburgh.
Oct. 19—St. Bonaventure, at Lewisburg.
Oct. 26—Cornell, at Ithaca.
Nov. 2—Lafayette, at Easton.
Nov. 9—Navy, at Annapolis.
Nov. 16—Swarthmore, at Swarthmore.
Nov. 23—Gettysburg, at Harrisburg.
Nov. 28—Washington and Jefferson, at Washington.

CHANGES IN FOOTBALL RULES

NEW GAME SAID TO FAVOR THE HEAVIER TEAMS.

Some material changes have been made in the football rules for the present season. Authorities in the game see in the new game some advantage for the heavier varsities. The changes from the rules of last year are as follows:

The offensive team is given four trials to make ten yards, instead of three as heretofore.

The value of a touchdown is increased from 5 to 6 points.

The playing field is reduced in length from 110 yards to 100 yards.

The onside kick is abolished.

The forward pass is retained and a touchdown permitted even when the ball is caught over the goal line.

A forward pass may be made for any distance.

The ball is kicked off from the 40-yard line instead of from midfield, and the kick-out from the 20-yard line instead of the 25-yard line.

The intermission between the first and second, and third and fourth quarters is reduced from two to one minute.

There is a 20-foot zone behind the goal posts in which the forward pass is legal.

The number of privileged coachers who may walk up and down upon the side lines is now limited to one instead of three.

VARSITY FINDS WYOMING EASY

KINGSTON TEAM FAILS TO MAKE SINGLE TALLY

COACH DICKSON USES TWO TEAMS IN GAME

Saturday's Game Revealed Several Weaknesses in the Bucknell Defense. Baer, Injured, May be Unable to Reenter Game This Season.

The Varsity experienced little difficulty with Wyoming Seminary on the local gridiron Saturday afternoon, running up 49 points on the Kingston boys and preventing them from scoring.

The game was an intensely interesting one to look at. There were few penalties, while long and spectacular runs and forward passes were the features. The day was an ideal one for football from the spectators' view point, but not so much so for the players who suffered greatly from the heat.

The degree of perfection to which Coach "Bo" Dickson has brought Bucknell's offense was shown in Saturday's contest, the sturdy backfielders racing around Wyoming's end at will, and crashing through their line of defense for repeated gains. The defense of the Varsity, however, showed a few weaknesses, which Coach Dickson was quick to notice, and which will be given especial attention during the practice of the coming week.

Only once during the game did the visitors make any consistent gains, and then it did not last for long. By a series of line plays and successful short forward passes they carried the ball down the field for about 50 yards, then realizing the danger to its own goal the Orange and Blue put forth increased effort and recovered the ball on downs.

During the third quarter Topham was taken sick and left the game, Baer taking his place. A few minutes later the latter had to be carried off the field wit a badly injured knee which will undoubtedly keep him out of the game for four or five weeks.

Practically two full teams were used by Coach Dickson against Wyoming in an effort to get lines on the large number of new men of the second and third teams. The first backfield, composed of Keiser, Gdanice, Crulkshank and Topham did great work. Capt. Jordon and Sturgis made several beautiful runs after receiving accurate forward passes from Crulkshank.

In the third quarter Sturgis fumbled the ball when tackled after having received a forward pass, a Bucknell player recovering the ball. The visitors disputed the decisions of the officials, claiming the pass incompleted, and threatened to leave the field. After a short discussion, however, play was resumed.

GLEE CLUB BEGINS WORK.

Active work on the part of the college glee club was begun last Thursday evening when forty candidates reported at Bucknell Hall to Prof. Stolz of the Music Department, who is acting as director. Every effort is to be made this year to duplicate the splendid work of last year.

Work will be begun at once toward the presentation of "The Holy City," which will be rendered by the Glee Club some time this term. "Elijah" by Mendelssohn will be presented during commencement week. Professor Stolz expects even a larger number of candidates for the club at the weekly practice in Bucknell Hall the coming Thursday evening at seven o'clock.

EUEPIA TO MEET TO-NIGHT.

The first meeting of the Euepia Literary Society for the present college year will be held this evening in the hall of the society at eight o'clock. The Euepia Society is one of the oldest institutions of the college, having members in every graduating class which has left the University.

EFFECTS OF ALCOHOLISM TREATED BY DR. MARY WOLFE

BUCKNELL ALUMNUS ADDRESSES JOINT MEETING OF CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATIONS.

The joint meeting of Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. in the chapel on Thursday evening was addressed by Dr. Mary Wolfe, '96. Miss Wolfe took as the subject of her talk, "The Effects of Alcoholism on the Brain." Many years of experience in hospital work enabled Dr. Wolfe to speak with authority.

Miss Wolfe called attention to the fact that it is very hard for a person who is even a moderate drinker to get life insurance. She further mentioned tests which have been made to determine to what extent alcohol affects the efficiency of a working man. Every test reveals the fact that a man's efficiency is lowered by even the smallest amount of alcohol.

Miss Wolfe said that at least 25 per cent. of insanity is preventable. Of this 25, 15 per cent. is due directly to alcohol. Many cases which are not included in the 25 per cent. are due directly to alcohol. Of feeble minded and idiotic children 16 per cent is due to the fact that the parent or parents use alcohol.

MOVING PICTURES A FARCE.

The much-heralded arrival of the Gaumont moving picture agent to take views of Bucknell's team and student body, resulted in something like a farce last Thursday morning. Practically the entire student body turned out to greet the picture man who was ready and eager to secure some good views of Bucknell, when he was checked in his purpose by interested parties from Milton, who had previously engaged the services of the operator. As a result of the wrangle the film was unsatisfactory.

Mr. Koser, of the Orpheum theatre, of Lewisburg, has stated, however, that he will see that some good pictures are taken in the near future. He is now trying to arrange for a return of the Gaumont agent or a Lubin representative for the Bucknell and St. Bonaventure game on Oct. 19.

SCRUBS HAVE SEVERAL GAMES.

The assistant Varsity football manager has been busy scheduling games for the second Varsity football team. Thus far two games have been scheduled, one with Pottsville high school and another with Bloomsburg State Normal. The management is making an effort to secure a more extensive schedule for the scrubs.

Cheering practise Wednesday afternoon on Athletic Field.

RALLY, SUCCESSFUL, BRINGS RESULTS

MEN ENTHUSIASTIC AT LARGE MASS MEETING.

PROBLEMS OF STUDENT LIFE SERIOUSLY CONSIDERED

Order of Business Received Hearty Reception and Consideration on the Part of Student Body.—Meeting Expected to Accomplish Good.

The mass meeting of the men of the college held in Bucknell Hall last Wednesday evening was noteworthy from the standpoint of enthusiasm expressed and subject matter discussed. "Bill" Goehring, General Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., acting as chairman of the rally, preserved the order of business elected by the student committee of the week before. Music by the lately reorganized Bucknell Band, served to add gratifying vim and eclat from first to last. Printed cheers and a copy of a song written by a prominent Bucknell alumnus were distributed for use during the meeting

Cheer Leaders Elected.

As announced last week in the Orange and Blue, three men were elected to serve throughout the present college year as cheer leaders. Fetter, '13, was the unanimous choice of all the students for the office of head director of the cheering. From a half-dozen nominees for the position of assistant cheer leader, Lowther, '14, and Criswell, '14, were chosen. These men will direct the vocal enthusiasm of the student body upon the athletic field during the college year just begun.

Band a Reality.

Leader Fahringer, in a short talk, found the prospects assuring a college band of unprecedented success. "This year's band is beginning where the organization of last year left off," said Leader Fahringer. The band requests two things, however. It should have a uniform of some kind to distinguish it as a separate organization and it should purchase new music which is essential for future success. This sentiment was warmly applauded and the audience responded at once with a ten dollar collection as a nucleus of a fund to be subscribed soon to defray the expenses and supply the needs of the band.

Prize for Best Cheer.

The editor of the Orange and Blue, in behalf of the college paper announced the beginning of a contest in which five dollars would be awarded for the best college cheer submitted by a student of the college. Especial attention is to be given in deciding the contest, to cheers imparting the most volume to the enthusiasm of the students.

Student Government Discussed.

The project of a student government met with a varied reception. Some students were in favor of a student government and expressed themselves. An upperclassman, lately entered from Franklin and Marshall, advised against a student council as derogatory to college spirit. The general attitude was one of indifference and it was decided that the presidents of the senior, junior and sophomore classes should confer, as a committee with the faculty heads of the different halls, thus failing in with the administrative plan already provided.

Coach and Comptroller Speak.

Coach Dickson considered the prospects favorable for a successful football season. With eight men from last year's team and plenty of new material, success should follow. He reminded the student body, however, of the need of a second varsity for the success of any college team.

Professor Griffith, comptroller of athletics, explained the failure of the executive committee to schedule bigger college games on the local campus. Ursinus withdrew from an agreement almost completed to play here, leaving on open date at a late time. St. Bonaventure was then secured. Every effort will be made to secure the Gettysburg game for Lewisburg instead of Harrisburg on Nov. 23.

Cheering Practice Each Week.

The sentiment of the meeting was only partially favorable to a compulsory cheering practice for underclassmen. It was decided that a weekly cheering practice be held on Wednesday afternoon of each week of the football season, on the athletic field. The band is to be present at this practice. The matter of attendance was left to the loyalty of each student toward the college.

TO SEE TEAM OFF FRIDAY.

Plans will be discussed at the first weekly cheering practice Wednesday afternoon to accompany the Varsity football men to the station Friday when they leave for Pittsburgh where they will meet Pitt University Saturday afternoon. The departure of the football men will no doubt be the event of a "peerade" on the part of the student body assisted by the college band.

DR. NESBIT REORGANIZES HIS "POISON SQUAD"

BUCKNELL ALUMNUS IS MAKING REMARKABLE EXPERIMENT FOR BENEFIT OF SCIENCE.

Coincident with the announcement of the formal opening of Hahnemann Medical College, of Philadelphia, following a special exercise came the announcement that the "poison squad inaugurated by Dr. Edwin L. Nesbit, '99, last year for the purpose of conducting experiments to determine the actual effect of certain poisons upon the human system, will be reorganized at Hahnemann immediately with an entire change in its personnel. Volunteers will be asked from the incoming class of thirty-five freshmen as well as from students of the other classes who have not as yet offered themselves in the general experimental work, and within the next few weeks Doctor Nesbit will proceed to put the young men on a restricted diet and then inject into their systems minimum doses of a variety of poisons, every care to be taken to guard against really harmful infection. Success attended the practitioner's efforts in the work of the last term but there remain still new phases of the general theory of poisonings that will come under his observation during the present term. No difficulty is anticipated in filling the vacancies ordered in the famous "poison squad," as the students are in hearty accord with Dr. Nesbit's belief that finally the work will result to the great benefit of the medical science.

FOOTBALL SQUAD RUNS AMUCK.

The football squad of Hillman Academy of Wilkes-Barre, ran amuck while at the station in Bloomsburg while enroute to Lewisburg where they played Bucknell and lost 41-0. They destroyed several sacks of flour which were loaded on a truck at the station platform and scattered the contents of one of the sacks through the rear coach of the train. A policeman in Sunbury was informed of their conduct and when the train arrived in Sunbury he gave them their choice of settling the damages or being taken before a justice. They settled.

COURSE TICKETS ON SALE.

Tickets for the Y. M. C. A. Lyceum Course have been placed on sale at the office of the General Secretary. The sale of season tickets will be limited to 600 this year. Those desiring tickets should call at the office at once. The number of available tickets will not be sufficient to supply the demand.

COLLEGE BAND ASSURED SUCCESS

HAS MADE SEVERAL SUCCESSFUL APPEARANCES TO DATE.

NEW MEN INCREASE SIZE OF ORGANIZATION

Leader Fahringer Pleased With Success Thus Far Asks for Music and Uniforms.—Band Will Likely Give Concert and Dance Later.

When the call for band candidates was issued last Wednesday not only did the members of last year's organization report but an almost equal number of new men of standard ability as well. A short practice was held in the band room at 4.15 and three hours later a complete and well-working band was instilling spirit at the mammoth mass meeting in Bucknell Hall.

New Men Report.

Among the new men who have qualified for positions are Vendenburgh, '16, solo cornet; Krause, '16; Middaugh, '16, cornet; Hulley, '13; Sanders, '16, bass; Haggemann, '16, baritone, and Lewis, '16, drum. These men all have considerable ability and experience and make a valuable addition to the band corps.

Director Fahringer Pleased.

At the mass meeting Wednesday night, Director Fahringer, '15, expressed himself as greatly pleased with the work and enthusiasm of his men and stated that but three things are wanted to make this the biggest and best band that has ever played upon College Hill. He stated that the band is in need of money with which to buy some new music, a uniform dress for its members, and the opportunity to help the Varsity win the Gettysburg game at Harrisburg on November 23.

To Secure Uniforms.

The first want was filled on the spot by a collection taken up among the students present. It was suggested that white duck trousers, black belts, and white caps, the men furnishing themselves with blue coats, would make an excellent band uniform. The cost of twenty uniforms of this kind would hardly exceed forty dollars and ought to be easily made up by subscriptions from the students and faculty. The expenses for the Harrisburg trip can easily be made up by a collection at the big mass meeting to be held just before that game.

Band Plans Activities.

With a band of the character promised by Director Fahringer, good music is assured for all the Varsity games on the campus this year. A series of outdoor concerts, such as were proposed last year, may be realized in the spring term. A big stag dance in the gymnasium is already scheduled for a date immediately following the close of the football season.

TAGS TORN FROM TREES

Several of the metal tags which were placed upon some of the trees of the college campus have been torn from their fastenings since the opening of the college. This vandalism is deplorable inasmuch as the effort of the class in forestry to label all of the trees upon the campus is of general interest. It is the intention of the class to continue the task of labeling the trees this spring if its work is not hindered.

COLLEGE ORCHESTRA ORGANIZED

About sixteen pieces are expected Monday evening at the second meeting of the college orchestra in Bucknell Hall. Miss Armstrong, who is in charge of the work of the orchestra desires more violins. Candidates should report to-night at 7.15 o'clock in Bucknell Hall.

This paper is published once a week during the college year by the Orange and Blue Board, representing the student body of Bucknell University. Subscription $1.25 per year. $1.00 if paid before January 1 of the college year. Communications addressed to the Orange and Blue, Lewisburg, Pa.

SUCCESS OF CHEERING.

The successful maintenance of cheering at the athletic events of the college now rests with the student body itself. Whether or not the present year shall be an unusual one from the standpoint of enthusiasm displayed in the student activities of the college is a problem which has for its solution the attitude of the student body. Every effort has been made to begin the year with a promise of future success. The cheering has been placed on the best possible basis; cheerleaders have been elected, provision has been made for new cheers and songs and for an established cheering practice. Best of all the college band has been organized. The permanence of the organization throughout the year is assured by the enthusiasm of its candidates and the capability of its officers. With these things in mind, we approach the first weekly cheering practice to be held on Tustin field Wednesday afternoon.

THE COLLEGE AND ACADEMY.

In consideration of the establishment soon in the Orange and Blue of a department of items concerning the life and doings of Bucknell Academy students, a few words are appropriate concerning the relation of the preparatory men to the college itself. Though not noticable this year, there has been in the past a spirit of indifference and not of good fellowship on the part of college men towards the students of the academy and vice versa. The cause of any estrangement must be explained by the difference in the ages of college men and those of the academy students. While the age prpoblem is unavoidable, college men should not forget that the preparatory students are the Bucknell men of the future and Academy students should bear in mind that they are a part of Bucknell and liable for the maintenance of its traditions and standards. Considering this the Orange and Blue will create a department of Academy news in the near future.

BAND ELECTS OFFICERS.

The band met last week for the purpose of electing its officers for the present college year. Leader Fahringer and Manager Phillips of last year's organization were unanimously re-elected to serve this year.

Don't be afraid of your professors Talk to them, and make them know you.

INTERESTING FOOTBALL SCORES.

The football games the past week bring to light some knowledge as to the strength of the college teams which Bucknell is to meet on the gridiron later in the present season. Oberlin sprung a big surprise on Cornell at Ithaca last Saturday. The "red" team was defeated 13-0. Bucknell meets Cornell this year. Carlisle and Washington and Jefferson battled to a scoreless tie on the latter's field Saturday. Thorpe, the Indian wonder, made three vain attempts to place a drop kick toward the latter part of the game. Bucknell plays the final game of the season with W. and J. The Navy was able to defeat Johns Hopkins by the close score of 7-3, Saturday. The Navy replaces the Army on the Varsity schedule this year. Perhaps the biggest surprise of all was the Swarthmore-Lafayette game at Easton, Saturday. The Quakers managed to defeat the latter team by the score of 22-0. Swarthmore began the present season with the entire Varsity team of last year, including its captain. Bucknell meets Swarthmore and Lafayette later in the season. Gettysburg, which will meet Bucknell at Harrisburg on Nov. 23, was able to defeat Lebanon Valley by the narrow margin of six points, Lebanon Valley being blanked.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor Orange and Blue:

During the past college year there was much talk on the Hill concerning the establishing of a wireless telegraph station at Bucknell. For some time it appeared that this might be done but now it seems that the possibility of such a station has become more obscure. As an engineering student at Bucknell, I wish to register my protest against the abandonment of the idea.

Practically every engineering college in the country is equipped with wireless apparatus. Only last year a wireless station was established at State College. In the face of these facts it seems strange that the engineering department of Bucknell is not equipped with a wireless station.

Lewisburg, Pa.

Dear Sir:

As editor-in-chief of the Orange and Blue, I hope you will allow me to suggest that you will not publish any articles in your paper which refer to lack of loyalty or college spirit of the students to the university. Praise everything about the college—the best students, the best college and the best teams etc. I think Bucknell can't be surpassed and the students are the finest lot of boys that can be found anywhere.

At a special meeting of the Board of the American Baptist Publication Society held Sept. 25, 1912, a new department of Social Service and the Baptist Brotherhood was created with Dr. Samuel Zane Batten, '85, in charge. Dr. Batten, whose headquarters will be in Philadelphia, was formerly on the faculty of Des Moines College. Dr. Batten has achieved national reputation in Christian social service. He is a writer, speaker and organizer.

The following is taken from the Pittsburgh Post, dated from DuBois: "Vic" Schmid, captain of last year's football team at Bucknell, has been engaged to coach all athletics of DuBois High School and also to have charge of the newly installed manual training department. Schmid played four years of college football and played at every position on the team. In his Senior year he was captain and played a star game at center. With most all of last year's High School team back and a new coach, the local followers are looking for a wonderful team.

PITT SUCCUMBS TO BUCKNELL ATTACK

WESTERN TEAM SURPRISED AT VISITOR'S STRENGTH.

VARSITY EXCELLS AT EVERY POINT OF GAME

Forward Pass Used Frequently By Bucknell Finally Wins Game.—Team Does Excellent Work to a Man.

The overwhelming defeat administered to the University of Pittsburgh Saturday by the 'Varsity is graphically told in the following account taken from the Pittsburg Dispatch:

"The Bucknell University football representatives furnished a big surprise yesterday afternoon at Forbes Field by beating the Pittsburgh eleven, 6 to 0.

"Before the teams went on the field the players from Lewisburg, who are coached by By Dickson, once a famous Pennsylvania player, were not accorded much consideration, but shortly after play was started it was patent that Pitt had its work cut out for it The result was that Bucknell outplayed Pitt the greater part of the time, there was not one time during the afternoon's session that Pitt outplayed the visitors.

"But for three great stands by the Pitt warriors, Bucknell would have scored at least three touchdowns.

"The visitors, at that, did not make their touchdown until the game was almost over, and it was brought about by a well-timed forward pass by Crulkshank, the steady and reliable quarterback, to end and Capt. Jordan, who took the ball over the goal line. No goal was kicked.

"In a few seconds the game was over and Pitt went off the field after putting up as poor an exhibition of football as any Pitt team has shown in several years.

"Pitt had no offense, the man running with the ball being afforded very little protection. Time and again Sturgis, a former Kiski boy, smashed interference and grabbed the runner himself and Jordan, the other end, did likewise.

"In the first two periods Pitt did not make a first down, and in the final two periods it made but two. In handling the ball the work was crude. The men on the secondary defense were uncertain in their work and when the backs were carrying the ball they were liable to drop it at any time. In addition, the men played slowly and with but little fight.

"That Bucknell did not make at least three more touchdowns was due greatly to the excellent defensive work of Smith and Hockensmith. Shortly after the kickoff the visitors resided to scoring distance and lost the ball on downs on the one-yard line. Again it was lost one foot from the goal line and in the second period but two yards separated Bucknell from the goal line and a touchdown. This was the only redeeming feature of the Pitt playing.

"A real punch at the critical moment was the only thing Bucknell needed yesterday. Crulkshank showed a variety of plays and he used good judgment.

The First Quarter.

Bucknell won the toss and Jordan kicked off to Pitt, who was defending the north goal. The ball hit the cross bar and bounded back to the five-yard line, then across the field. Smith grabbed and ran back fifteen yards. Wilson Carboy kicked Topham ran it back eighteen yards to the Pitt 40-yard line. Bucknell lost five yards on an off-side play. Three Bucknell men went out from the line and Crulkshank tossed the ball. It came down in the arms of Sturgis, who sprinted across the goal line after a pretty run. But the Bucknell cheers were cut short, for the play was called back on account of holding. Capt. Jordan declined the penalty, but the officials said Sturgis stepped out of bounds on the four-yard line. The ball was put in play there.

Carboy punted to Crulkshank. When they lined up Crulkshank, threw the ball to Jordan, who was standing on the 20-yard line. He ran to the three-yard line where he was tackled, but he threw himself and just managed to get the ball across the line. But the ball was taken by the officials to the nine-yard line

Pitt thus was again in danger. Topham tried the right side of the Pitt line and made three yards. Kaiser got two at center and Crulkshank took the ball himself against the left side of the line and was stopped one foot from the goal line. With another trial it looked like a Bucknell touchdown. Crulkshank again kept the ball, but he was stopped in his tracks. He did not gain or lose an inch.

Second Quarter.

STUDENTS AND TOWNSPEOPLE CELEBRATE PITT VICTORY

MAMMOTH BONFIRE ON CAMPUS SATURDAY NIGHT IN HONOR OF ABSENT TEAM.

When the first telegram announcing Bucknell's victory over Pitt reached Lewisburg Saturday evening, excitement ran riot through the town and college. Both united to do honor to the victors in the big Steel City battle.

Headed by the college band students and townsmen paraded the streets till about nine o'clock, when the underclassmen got busy and with the aid of two wagons borrowed for the occasion, collected material for a big bonfire on the Athletic Field.

While the big fire burned enthusiastic cheers were given for each member of the absent team and for Coach Dickson. Principal Wilcox, of the Academy, star center of '01—'04 responded to a call for a football speech.

MINISTERIALS TO MEET.

The first meeting of the Ministerial Association will be held at the home of Dr. Phillips on North Second St., Wednesday evening of this week at 8 P. M. Reports of summer pastoral experiences will be given and plans made for the year. Dr. Phillips will speak on the subject: "College Subjects for Ministerial Students."

D. T. U. ENTERTAINS.

The Delta Theta Upsilon fraternity entertained the local chapters of the S. A. E., Phi Gamma Delta, and Kappa Sigma fraternities at an informal dance at Riverside Park, Milton, last Friday night. The program of twenty dances was an excellent one. The Campbell orchestra, of Sunbury, furnished the music.

JUNIORS TO DEBATE.

Candidates for the Junior Debate are to report to Professor Smith on Thursday of this week at 3.15. The subject for October 17th, is the Government Ownership of Railroads. References may be found at the Librarian's desk. Each speaker must accompany his oral argument with a written brief.

Fo Suen, the oldest son of the recent Provisional President of China, Dr. Sun Yat Sen, is among the entering class at the University of California this fall. He has come to the University with his bride of a few months.

COLLEGE FUND NEARS COMPLETION

MOVEMENT NOW IN PROGRESS TO RAISE $160,000.

STUDENTS TO ATTEND MEETING SUNDAY IN A BODY.

Friend of University Offers to Duplicate Amount Obtained by General Subscription and Appeal is Made to Different Classes in Consequence.

In the movement now in progress to raise $160,000 for the University it is hoped that every student both of former years and of the present will have a part. A neat souvenir will be issued containing the names of student contributors arranged by classes. The town of Lewisburg will be canvassed the present week, closing with a general meeting, Sunday evening, Oct. 20, in one of the churches. At that meeting results will be announced. A friend has agreed to give dollar for dollar upon all sums raised by general subscription in smaller amounts. Thus every subscription will bind an equal amount. No doubt the classes of '12, '14, '15 and '16 will join with the earlier classes in securing for the institution a liberal part under this offer.

Big Meeting Sunday.

The Students' Fund consists of gifts by former students, alumni and others. It is expected that as many as a thousand will contribute to this. A meeting will be held in one of the local churches on Sunday evening, and the students are urged to attend in a body and thus add to the interest of the movement. Several of the churches have offered to suspend their regular services in favor of the mammoth gathering. Contributions to the fund from Lewisburg and the college will be announced at that meeting.

C. E. RECEIVES STUDENTS.

The Sunday school auditorium of the Lutheran church was the scene Friday evening, of the second Christian Endeavor reception of the school year. It was attended by a large number of young people, especially of college students. The program consisted of several contests for which different groups selected competitors, and the games were thoroughly enjoyed. The reception was quite informal, and furnished excellent entertainment. Refreshments were served.

FRIDAY OCCASION OF PARADE.

The departure of the 'Varsity football team for the University of Pittsburgh last Friday afternoon, was the occasion for a large gathering of students at the Pennsylvania station. The band, in keeping with its admirable enthusiasm this year, was present in no passive manner. Cheers and songs were directed by Cheerleader Fetter and short speeches were made by each of the football men.

PAY FOR SEASON TICKETS.

The executive board of the Athletic Association wishes to announce that a deposit must be made on all season tickets before the St. Bonaventure game on Saturday. Deposits are to be made to Stout, '13, or to Secretary Goehring at the Y. M. C. A. office.

CHEERING PRACTICE LAST WEEK.

The first weekly cheering practice occured last Wednesday afternoon on the athletic field. The college band and a small crowd of students attended. In face of the game with St Bonaventure on Saturday another practice will be held this week.

INITIAL MEETING OF EUEPIA.

Euepia Literary Society held its first meeting of the term in Euepia Hall last Monday evening. No literary program was given at this initial meeting, the time being taken up with discussion of new men, appointment of committees, and transaction of other business of the society. Two new men were elected to membership. The literary committee has arranged the following program for the regular meeting to-night:

Reasons for Student Government at Bucknell, Walters, '13
The Panama Canal Tolls, From The British View Point, Wendt, '13
A Nation at School, Richardson, '13
The Ethics of Business, Harris, '14
The Abolition of Poverty, Riley, '14

FRILL AND FROWN IN PLAY

The Frill and Frown girls will give a benefit play, "Miss Fearless and Company," this Friday evening in the Institute study hall. This same play was given by the Dramatic Club last year and the general expression of opinion about the college and the town was that it was the best production ever attempted by this society. The play Friday evening will be given to benefit the Y. W. C. A. of the Woman's College. The admission fee is thirty-five cents.

Y. M. C. A. REQUESTS BOOKS TO AUGMENT ITS LIBRARY

THIS NEED DISCUSSED AT INFORMAL MEETING LAST WEEK.

Last Thursday evening, the Young Men's Christian Association held an informal meeting. Fetter, President of the Association started discussion with a few excellent remarks concerning the importance of a man possessing convictions and expressing them when the time demanded it. In the remarks which followed, some good practical points for the development of Christian character and service were brought out by those present.

During the meeting it was suggested that a number of good books be secured from the student body and friends of the Association and be placed in a case in the Association office. The purpose of this plan is "to give the men on the Hill access to good reading, especially Sunday afternoons. Any book which appeals to the average college man, will be gratefully received at the office.

STATE SECRETARY TO SPEAK.

Thomas, the new State Secretary of the Y. M. C. A. will address the student body Thursday at 9.00 in the association hall. Every man is urged to be present to give Thomas a rousing reception on his initial visit to the "College on the Hill." Bucknell is booming in all departments of college activities. How about it fellows?

The time—Thursday at 9.00 P. M. The place—Association Hall.

SUNDAY NIGHT'S MEETING.

Now that the effort to raise $160,000 for the college has reached the student body itself, it ought to go without saying that every student should give the matter serious consideration. The fine offer of a friend to duplicate the amount subscribed at the college and in the town should meet a hearty response. What is more the meeting Sunday night will be a register of the interest of every individual student in the progress about the college.

SOPHOMORES POST PROCS.

Last Wednesday morning the student body was awakened to find that the second year men had posted their proclamations against the incoming class. Inasmuch as the procs were not expected to be posted by the sophomores until later in the week, the freshmen were surprised and the customary pitched battle between the two classes failed to take place.

MUSICAL CLUBS SHOW PROMISE

PRESENT YEAR WILL NO DOUBT BE BEST IN HISTORY.

GLEE CLUB BEGINS WORK WITH FORTY-SIX SINGERS

Will Render As Usual Two Oratorios, the Second to be Mendelssohn's Elijah.—College Orchestra and College Band Also Active

The various musical organizations of the university, after achieving great success last year, have returned with the resolution to even excel their past records. Greater enthusiasm is being shown by all interested than has ever been shown before, the number of candidates for positions is the largest in the history of the university and as a result it seems very probable that this will be the banner year for the musical organizations, which contribute so much to the student life of Bucknell.

Glee Club Begins Work.

It is the custom of the Glee Club to present two oratorios during the year, one in the fall term with the talent all from the School of Music, and another during Commencement week with imported singers for the solo work. The same course will be followed this year as last, however, on a much larger scale than ever before.

Work has already been begun toward the presentation of The Holy City, which will be rendered sometime this term. In all likelihood Lloyd, '11, one of the best bassos the School of Music has ever produced, will return to sing the bass solos in this oratorio.

Those of the students who were here last Commencement remember with pleasure the splendid rendition of Haydn's Oratorio, Creation, in the Baptist church on Commencement Sunday. Yet the leaders, not content with past achievements, announce that if their plans are successful the Commencement oratorio this year, when Mendelssohn's Elijah is to be rendered, will far exceed that of last year. To accomplish this it is necessary that everyone in any way interested should report at once at the rehearsals. Last Thursday evening forty-six were present —more than were out at any time last year. Prof. Stolz desires as many more voices in order that this year Bucknell may have the best Glee Club in her history.

The Orchestra Organized

Already two meetings of the college Orchestra have been held and Miss Armstrong, the leader, is very optimistic as to the success of the organization. Last Monday evening twelve candidates reported. The number of candidates, however, is not yet sufficiently large. It is planned to have the Orchestra work in conjunction with the Glee Club this year, and several joint entertainments are being planned. Practice is continually going on and the utmost is being done to give the students that which they need along musical lines. The student body, remembering the great work of these musical organizations last year, will look forward with eager anticipation to the treat in store for them this year.

Band Active Too.

Leader Fahringer, of the college band, put that organization through a rather strenuous pace the past week. To say nothing of its two regular practices, the band attended the cheering practice on the athletic field last Wednesday afternoon and made possible an enthusiastic parade upon the occasion of the departure of the football team for Pittsburgh last Friday.

This paper is published once a week during the college year by the Orange and Blue Board, representing the student body of Bucknell University. Subscription $1.25 per year. $1.00 if paid before January 1 of the college year. Communications addressed to the Orange and Blue, Lewisburg, Pa.

ELECTION INTEREST.

As the time for the November election approaches it will be of general interest about the college to know the politics of Bucknell students. Campaign buttons identify a few of the students with their preferred parties but the general attitude is for the most part unknown.

In order to forecast the outcome at Bucknell of the political struggle now of such intense interest, the Orange and Blue will assume charge of a straw vote to be polled this week at the college. In order that the vote may be a success it is imperative that every student of the college respond. Considering, too, that equal suffrage has a no unimportant bearing on the presidential campaign, a vote will be taken at the Woman's College.

To facilitate the collection of votes the following plan has been offered. The members of each of the student organizations are to give sealed votes to the representative here mentioned. Non-organization men will give their votes to McKeague, '13. The votes of the Woman's College are the be left at the office of Dean Edwards. The voting completed, the votes will be counted by Secretary Goehring of the Y. M. C. A. and the editor. The result of the vote will then be announced in next week's edition of the Orange and Blue.

These men are to represent their respective organizations: Jackson, '13; Weston Smith, '13; Kelly, '13; Schnure, '14; Hawkins, '13; Beck, '13; Shaffer, '13; Richardson, '13; Steele, '13, Howard Goehring, '13.

ORGANIZED CHEERING.

In last week's Dickinsonian, the weekly journal of Dickinson College, the editor commented as follows on the cheering at the Dickinson-Carlisle football game of the week before. The instance cited bears on the cheering at our own or any college. The Dickinsonian says:

One of the most attractive features of our game of football with the Indians, and the thing which doubtless played a great part in gaining the victory for them ,was the excellent manner in which the Indians did their cheering. We shall not make the most out of that game unless we learn among other things how to improve our cheering. The Indians did not learn to cheer as they do in a single game, but what we noted on Biddle Field is the result of a great deal of practice. They did not indulge in any promiscuous or individual cheering such as we engaged in, but instead each and every Indian followed the cheer leader and kept silent except when the cheer leader directed that a certain cheer be given. We would do well to follow their example.

SUITS FOR BAND.

As announced in the Orange and Blue several weeks ago, subscription papers will be passed soon to every student and professor at Bucknell, in order to display the general interest in the excellent work of the college band and to assure its permanence in the future. The primary use to be made of the sum subscribed will be to purchase suits for the organization.

Subscription lists will be arranged by Secretary Goehring of the Y. M. C. A. and the editor of this paper. These lists will be placed in the hands of representative men of the college and will be presented individually to every member of the University. It is believed that this means of raising the needed money will be effective.

ADMIRABLE ATTITUDE OF BAND.

We have witnessed a no more hearty display of enthusiasm for a long while than that which the college band displayed the past week. Over and above the several regular practices, the band appeared three times in public the past week; at cheering practice Wednesday afternoon, as an attractive factor in the parade Friday afternoon, and as an enlivening part of the demonstration Saturday night. The student body, to say the least, is mindful of this admirable display of spirit.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor Orange and Blue:

Now one of the first things the Freshman hears after he has registered is some individual with a taste for aphoristic announcing in round convincing tones that the college man learns more from his associates than from his instructors. The next young gentleman he meets admonishes him to "do something." It doesn't make much difference what it is, no one is expected to have time to reason out just what achievements are good and what bad. Only, "do something!" He must get "into things," have his name before the college public, be a "big man." Classes and classics are dismissed as secondary; the faculty as a necessary and not wholly objectionable evil.

Rubbish, all of this, rubbish pure and simple. Not but that training in athletics, in executive work, in journalism, is valuable. But to place these first in importance ignores the very fundamental reasons of a university's existence. Service on a peanut committee, or even in some such august body as a decoration committee, is not equivalent to class work under the direction of able instructors. The faculty is "bigger" than the "biggest" regular in the university, and for anyone who is conscientious enough to think [illegible] I can only say that I admire his nerve ,but distrust his judgment.—Journalist.

COMMENTS ON PITT GAME.

The Pittsburgh Dispatch made the following comments on the game:

"Provided with little other than the suits they wore, the football players who are supposed to represent the University of Pittsburg, were played off their feet yesterday at Forbes Field, Bucknell defeating them, 6-0.

Only the most desperate work on the part of the Pitt line kept the boys from upstate scoring three more of the touchdowns. Thrice did Bucknell work the ball to within a few feet of the local goal line, and thrice did the Pitt line hold. All praise to the line for holding.

"Bucknell was expected to offer resistance. It did, even though its line was much lighter than that of the Blue and Gold. In fact the team was outweighted twelve or fifteen pounds to the man.

"Still the Lewisburg contingent played football. Bucknell was out to do or die, and the manner in which it worked rings around Joe Thompson's men was painful to behold.

PITTSBURG SUCCUMBS TO BUCKNELL ATTACK.

a forward pass to Sturgis, who got it in the open, but McElroy nailed him on the 20-yard line. Gdaniec picked up five yards at end. Another forward pass, Crulkshank to Topham, placed the ball on Pitt's nine-yard made five yards and Kaiser placed it on the two-yard line. Only two yards separated Bucknell from a touchdown. On the last trial Topham had the ball but Wagner got back of the line and tackled him for a loss of three yards. Pitt punted to safety and after some time Ward tried for a field goal from the 40-yard line, but Gdaniec caught it on the 15-yard line. Ward ran back Topham's punt 15 yards. Time was up just as Bucknell recovered the ball when Ward's kick was blocked.

Third Quarter.

Galvin kicked across the goal line Bucknell put the ball in play on the 20-yard line and in three line plays but seven yards were gained. Topham, on the last down, tried a fake kick, but was thrown behind the line Pitt got the ball but was held for downs by the Bucknell line. After the ball had been kicked up and down the field for some time Ward caught Bucknell's punt on the 20-yard line and was stopped by three Bucknell tacklers. Galvin returned the punt. The ball traveled straight to Aleshauckes, and Crulkshank, who is an outfielder, yelled, "Take it, you have plenty of room." But the youth with the long name misjudged it Coming to him were three Pitt runners, but Crulkshank cut across and secured the ball on the 37-yard line by making a dive, Kaiser gained six yards at end and the third quarter was over.

Fourth Quarter.

Bucknell was penalized five yards for offside, and when a forward pass was attempted Connelly intercepted it and ran 70 yards up the field along the side lines. He crossed the goal line but the play was called back and the ball put in play again at the place where it was started, because Pitt had been offside.

Jordan was on the Pitt's 40-yard line when Crulkshank threw a forward pass to him. The captain ran to the seven-yard line. They lined up again and again Crulkshank resorted to the forward pass. Jordan received it eight yards across the line and Bucknell had won the game. No goal was kicked. They had one more scrimmage and the game was over.

ABOUT BALLS
In any game where a ball is used in a competitive way, the official ball always bears the Trade-Mark of A. G. SPALDING & BROS.
America's National Game is Base Ball—and the Official Ball of the Game since 1878 has been Spalding's "Official National League" Ball.
Writing of the new Cork Center Ball, President T. J. Lynch says:
"I consider that the new Cork Center Ball that you are now furnishing is the best that the National League has ever used. It is a great step forward in base ball construction."
The Presidents of all organizations connected with Sports write likewise.

THE ORANGE AND BLUE

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOLUME XVII. LEWISBURG, PENNA., MONDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1912. NUMBER 4

ST. BONAVENTURE SEVERELY FLOGGED

VARSITY HAS LITTLE DIFFICULTY IN SCORING.

VISITORS FIRST TEAM TO CROSS BUCKNELL'S LINE

After Practically Another Team Was Substituted for the Varsity, Johnson Receives Pretty Forward Pass and Crosses Goal Line.

Although decisively defeated Saturday afternoon the football team from St. Bonaventure college had the honor of being the first team to cross the Bucknell goal line this season. The final score was 39 to 7.

The game was the first, as well as last, big contest of the season for the Varsity on the college gridiron and drew forth a great and gay assemblage of spectators who watched the mud-bespattered wearers of the Orange and Blue rip the offense of the St. Bonaventure team to shreds and repeatedly plunge through the defense of the visitors for large gains.

On account of the rain of the night before the field was covered with a thin layer of mud, enough to render it treacherous for Bucknell's speedy backfieldmen in making end runs and returning punts. It occurred several times that after Topham had outdistanced his pursuers and had an open field ahead that he would slip in the mud and fall, to be downed before regaining his feet. Overhead the weather was all that could be desired, and warm enough to be comfortable for the spectators.

After the first few plays it was evident that the visitors were not in the same class with the Varsity. The several shift formations used by Bucknell seemed to have the opponents bewildered and crossbucks were especially effective against them. Forward passes were also used to great advantage by our men.

In spite of a severely injured shoulder, quarterback Cruikshank started the game and handled the team in his usual effective manner until, in the second half, when he was replaced by Talbot. Richardson sustained an injury to his knee shortly after the beginning of the game, his place being taken by Reading. While straightarming an opponent in the third period Topham severely injured his left hand but continued playing his remarkable game in spite of the handicap. It is not likely that any of the injured men will be kept out of the game with Cornell next Saturday.

It was in the third period that the visitors scored, when substitutes had been sent in to replace practically all of the first-string men. After having gained considerable confidence by successfully working several forward passes for substantial gains, Regan sent all of his backfielders onto the line of scrimmage and passed the ball through the outstretched arms of several opponents into the waiting hands of Johnson, who dashed over the nearby goal line for the first touchdown scored against the Orange and Blue this season.

Before time was called the substitutes had carried the ball almost the length of the field and were on the St. Bonaventure five-yard line when the whistle blew.

Line-up:

Bucknell.		St. Bonaventure.
Jordon	Left end	Johnson
Hearn	Left tackle	Murphy
Teamer	Left guard	Conway
Shaffner	Center	Eustace
Richardson	Right guard	Pronto
Dunkle	Right tackle	Weidel
Sturgis	Right end	Dolphin
Cruikshank	Quarterback	O'Neil
Gdaniec	Right halfback	Regan
Topham	Fullback	Barry

Substitutions—Bucknell, Reading for Richardson, Talbot for Cruikshank, Fitzpatrick for Kelser, Aleshouckas for Gdaniec, Hill for Hearn, Sanders for Dunkle, Whited for Shaffner, Baer for Sturgis, Felton for Teamer, Becker for Baer; St. Bonaventure, Connor for Barry, Kownacki for Weidel, Philphin for Conway. Referee—Sauters, Lafayette. Umpire—Church, Bloomsburg. Head linesmen—Goedring, Melott and Philbin. Touchdowns—Kelser, 2; Topham, 2; Gdaniec, Cruikshank, Johnson. Goals from touchdowns—Jordan, 3; Eustace. Time of quarters—12 and 15 minutes.

SIGMA CHI ENTERTAINS.

The local chapter of the Sigma Chi fraternity entertained the chapters of Phi Gamma Delta and Kappa Sigma at an informal dance in the Lewisburg armory last Friday evening. The Grange orchestra of Muncy furnished the music.

STATE SECRETARY THOMAS TELLS OF Y. M. C. A. WORK

SAYS IT IS LARGEST UNDERGRADUATE ORGANIZATION AND MEANS MUCH.

Thomas, ex'11, who is the new Students' State Secretary, addressed the Men's Christian Association Thursday evening. Mr. Thomas noted in his opening remarks the splendid progress he said that the Y. M. C. A. did during the past few years. When he was a student at Bucknell five years ago he said that the Y. M. C. A. did not amount to much. Now it is one of the big things of the Institution. There is yet room, the speaker suggested, for improvement. The Y. M. C. A. is the biggest undergraduate organization in the college world. It should be the center of all college activities. It can unify college life and inspire college spirit as can no other organization.

The Association offers to the college man an opportunity to develope that quality of character which is exactly what the business world is going to demand of him when he gets into actual business life—the spirit of service. It was his unselfish spirit of service that made Lincoln such a great character. The degree to which the spirit dominates a man's life determines largely his success in life.

The speaker said that it was impossible for the college man to get this spirit of service by keeping pace with the political affairs and current events of the day. Mission study and Bible study are not merely religious but educational as well, making a man broader in his sympathies and thereby giving him a larger spirit of service.

T. R. AHEAD IN STRAW VOTE TAKEN AMONG COLLEGE MEN

RESULT WAS IN DOUBT UNTIL LAST WHEN TARDY ROOSEVELT VOTE DECIDED.

The straw vote the past week taken under the auspices of the Orange and Blue met an enthusiastic response from the men. The final outcome of the vote was always in doubt and was only decided a few minutes before the publication of this article by a tardy vote from the Roosevelt ranks which turned the outcome from a tie to a victory for Roosevelt. The final outcome is Roosevelt 122, Wilson 121, Taft 22, Debs 4, and Chaplin 3.

The standing of the different fraternities and the non-organization men was as follows: D. T. U., Roosevelt; Forum, Wilson; Kappa Sigma, tie vote between Wilson and Roosevelt; Sigma Chi, Roosevelt; Kappa Delta Phi, Roosevelt; Non-organization, Roosevelt; Phi Kappa Psi, Wilson; S. A. E., Wilson; Alpha Sigma, Wilson; Phi Gamma Delta, Wilson; Demosthenians, Wilson.

HEARTY RESPONSE AT BIG MEETING

ENDOWMENT SERIES OF 1911 AUGMENTED.

ADDRESSES BY DR. HARRIS AND EX-JUDGE M'CLURE

Prof. Hare Assumed Charge at Close of Addresses and Called for Contributions.—Students, Faculty and Friends Responded.

Twenty-one years ago in the Methodist church of Lewisburg the recent endowment movement of Bucknell University, had its beginning. Last evening in an enthusiastic meeting in the Lutheran church the culmination of the fund was celebrated. On July first, 1914, when all the pledges are to be paid, the endowment fund of Bucknell will be $1,000,000.

Dr. Harris Opens Meeting.

Dr. Harris opened the meeting with a splendid, scholarly address on Christian Education. Christian Education has its basis and ground in the Incarnation.

The Word became flesh. Every man is potentially a son of God. Man is a being of infinite worth. While training makes the thing trained subject to the will of the trainer, education develops self-reliance and initiative. In the Orient the monarch was educated. Among the Greeks, a few were educated,—the aristocracy. But in Christianity every one is to be educated. Universal literary education draws its strength from the Reformation through the doctrine of Justification by Faith.

In addition to the religious basis for education there is also a political ground. Always in the world, rulers are educated. The men of the schools are educated to serve not self but the world. Man serves!

Judge McClure Speaks.

Ex-Judge McClure then spoke on the benefits of the University to the town. He said that the educational opportunities for the young people of Lewisburg were increased by the college. The campus beautifies the town, and every individual in the town derives a direct pecuniary benefit from the college. Over $250,000 is spent here annually by students and professors.

Prof. Hare, who was in charge of the rest of the services, announced four large contributions—one of $25,000 and three of $10,000 each. He quickly succeeded in raising $5,000, the amount expected from the people of Lewisburg.

Call for Contributions.

When Prof. Hare called for large donations from the audience, the first to respond was President Harris, who started the endowment fund twenty-one years ago, and who deserves most credit for its completion. In addition to being himself a most liberal contributor through all the years, he has been a powerful factor in securing bequests. Not only Dr. Harris but members of the faculty responded, many giving $100. The business men are also entitled to a full share of credit. They showed willingness to do their part in the maintenance of the college. Although the canvass of the students has not been completed, the amount pledged at present was reported at $350. About $50,000 of the fund is yet to be raised from outside sources. Prof. Hare gave assurance that it will be forthcoming.

Y. M. C. A. TO MEET EARLY.

On account of the mass meeting and dance to be held in the gymnasium Thursday evening, the time of meeting for the Y. M. C. A. on that evening has been changed to 8 o'clock, at which time Prof. Davis will address the fellows. The stunt in the gym. will begin at 9 o'clock.

BULLETIN SEES TROUBLE

The following comes from to-day's Morning Bulletin, of Milton, in regard to the alleged action of Bucknell students on the evening of the Pitt victory celebration:

"When the Bucknell students were searching for wood to feed the big bonfire on the college athletic field, on Saturday, October 12, to celebrate the victory of the varsity football team over University of Pittsburgh, they visited the Lewisburg bridge and carried away several signs placed there by Milton merchants.

"These signs cost the Milton merchants money and were placed there on space rented for advertising purposes. The act of the students in carrying them away is not relished by the merchants of this place, whose signs were taken and an investigation is being made in the hope of finding out the students who made the raid. If they are detected arrests will likely follow."

BAND CONCERT AND STUDENT FETE IN GYM THURSDAY

INFORMAL DANCE ON EVE OF TEAM'S DEPARTURE FOR CORNELL.

The great event of the present social season at Bucknell will be the much-heralded dance in the Tustin gymnasium next Thursday evening at 9:00 o'clock. The unusual features of next Thursday evening's event will be the absence of ladies as the attractive feature. In fact, the magnet of all attention will be the newly organized and thoroughly efficient band.

Those in charge of arrangements for the stellar event have a twofold object. In the first place next Friday witnesses the departure of the Varsity football team for Ithaca where it will meet the big "red" team of Cornell on the following day. Students in general are enthusiastic at the prospects of a Bucknell victory, and are eager to assert their confidence in the team's ability by assembling at some point and demonstrating their interest. The big fete in the gymnasium next Thursday is such an opportunity, bearing with it the flavor of the extraordinary. Finally the committee in charge of the dance see therein the opportunity to benefit Bucknell's popular band. With this in mind, the insignificant sum of ten cents per man will be charged in order that the band may become an even more efficient organization. The free list for that evening has been suspended.

As to the concert and dance itself, Director Fahringer has arranged a program which cannot fail to be a popular one. All of the late music secured the past week will feature the event, to say nothing of the more "classical" pieces which have been employed by the organization since its reorganization the past college year. This music has been given a place on Thursday's program in community with the tastes of the more conservative music lovers. Concert-Meister Fahringer also wishes to make public the fact that Mr. Fisher, '13, the popular trombone player and soloist, has lately purchased a new instrument and that both Mr. Fisher and his instrument will be attractive features of Thursday's event.

The dance is to be a masquerade without any masks, that is, each man indulging in the rhythmic rhapsody of terpsichore is expected to wear some apparel other than that in which he would ordinarily appear. More minute directions are left to the individual's taste and originality. It might be added that Floor Director "Peachy" Kling has consented to withdraw the ban lately placed upon the newest types of dancing. The object is to further a free flow of convivial good-fellowship.

Attend Thursday night's concert.

ACTIVE YEAR IN DRAMATICS

THE DEPARTMENT MAKING BIG STRIDES.

TWO STUDENT DRAMATIC SOCIETIES PLAN PLAYS

Cap and Dagger to Appear in "The Cricket on the Hearth," and Frill and Frown in Ingomar.—Miss Fearless and Co. a Success.

Among the departments maintained by the University, that of Elocution and Dramatics has risen rapidly the last few years and has come into great prominence through the general excellence of its productions. It has been the custom of the department to present two public productions each year in addition to several small plays and dialogues in private.

Two Dramatic Organizations.

This department, as now conducted consists of two distinct organizations, Frill and Frown, and Cap and Dagger, in addition to the regular private students in Elocution. Encouraged by the increased interest on the part of all the students, by the splendid material that has just entered college, and by the rapid and promising development of former participants in dramatics, each of these organizations is now planning, not only to continue its work of past years, but also to enlarge its scope. The new idea is to include all who desire to take part in public productions as well as to please faculty, town people, and students in the character of the plays presented.

Good Productions Planned.

Accordingly Cap and Dagger will during the present term produce a comedy—The Cricket on the Hearth. In the Winter term, Frill and Frown will present Ingomar, which has already been thoroughly studied. Cap and Dagger will also present a classical play, probably Julius Caesar, or The Rivals.

Miss Fearless and Co. Good.

A second production of Miss Fearless & Co. was given on Friday evening by the Frill and Frown Dramatic Club in the Seminary school room before an appreciative audience of about a hundred and seventy-five. The play, which was given last year, lost nothing in repetition. The proceeds, amounting to over forty dollars, will go to the benefit of the Y. W. C. A. and the Dramatic Club. The cast was as follows:

Margaret Henley, an heiress,	Ruth Lenington
Euphenia Addison, her chaperon,	Edna Whitam
Sarah Lovejoy, from the Lost Nation,	Olive Cooper
Katie O'Connor, Miss Henley's servant.	Rachel Davis
Barbara Livingstone,	Marion Harmon
Bettie Cameron,	Joletta Arthur
Marion Reynolds	Winifred Miller
"Just Lizzie," the ghost,	Florence Goetz
Miss Alibi,	Jane Irey
Miss Alibi	Helen Eede

MR. POPE TO SPEAK.

Mr. Ralph W. Pope, of New York, honorary secretary of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, will deliver an address to the engineering students in Bucknell Hall this evening at 7.30. The subject of Mr. Pope's address will be The Personal Element in Engineering.

John Paul Jones, the world-famous runner, has been unanimously elected president of the Senior class at Cornell.

LOCAL ENDOWMENT INTEREST.

The interest shown in town and at the college in the 1911 endowment series is added evidence of a more general enthusiasm the past few years in the welfare of the college. No end of credit is due those who have had charge of the campaign to increase the endowment fund, for their indefatigable labor to accomplish this end. Again the substantial contributions on the part of Lewisburg residents, is an excellent register of the friendly feeling between town and gown.

THURSDAY NIGHT'S GATHERING

The two-fold object in assembling the student body in the Tustin gymnasium Thursday evening, ought to result in the presence of every man student at that gathering. In the first place the concert has been arranged to take the place of a mammoth mass meeting of the students proceeding the Bucknell-Cornell game. It is believed that such an event will be an attractive departure from the customary mass meeting preceeding an important game. Finally the band as it is to-day is an organization worthy of the students' support. The concert of Thursday evening was arranged with this thought in mind, namely that every student will tender the band his financial support. It is hoped that the response will be general.

WOMEN AS VOTERS.

The straw vote taken the past week met with a general response from the men students at the college. Considering the equal-suffrage movement throughout the country, it was thought that the women at Bucknell would have interest enough in this question, of such momentous interest to the country and women in general, to respond eagerly to the call for a vote at the college. Saturday morning the last vote was received from the ranks of the men students, who responded almost to a man at the call. The committee in charge of the election, anticipating an interesting outcome at the Woman's College, was surprised to chargin to find that not a woman had voted.

Now, we believe the movement for equal suffrage all too worthy to condemn it for this attitude of Bucknell women, thus using one of the very most potent arguments in the hands of the anti-equal suffrage advocates. Again we are prone to hesitate to believe that Bucknell women are at all behind their kind to have no interest in the great movement of today which certainly concerns them. We are distinctly on the fence when we seek to explain this disinterest. Will someone enlighten us?

LYCEUM SEASON OPENS FRIDAY WITH "THE RAWIES"

FIRST NUMBER OF Y. M. C. A. COURSE WILL PICTURE LIFE IN SOUTH SEAS.

The Lyceum Committee of the Y. M. C. A. has arranged a strong course for the present season. The course consists of five big attractions. Formerly there have been six numbers, but this year it was thought wise to have fewer and at the same time higher class entertainments.

The season will be opened next Friday evening, October 25th, by "The Rawies," a company of native New Zealanders. The entertainment will consist of a kind of Polynesian play, picturing the old, wild life of the savage tribes of the South Seas, in sharp contrast to the present day civilization of the same people, who now boast of the best government under the sun.

The play is so cleverly and artistically done and is so full of the interest of novelty and wonder, that it compels the utmost enthusiasm. It is captivating to the last degree, full of delightful surprises that follow one another in bewildering procession, charming the eye and the ear, provoking outbursts of laughter, melting to tears, enlisting the sympathies completely. One is held under a spell of fascination by the wierd ballads, the love songs, the canoe choruses, the war chants and incantations, the quaint descriptions of the native customs and the numerous beautiful pictures of the marvelous island scenery.

SIGMA ALPHA'S HOLD DANCE.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity held an informal dance in the armory, Saturday evening, about thirty couples being present. The Stopper and Fisk orchestra, of Williamsport, furnished the music. Among the guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. Zahn, and J. A. Tyson, '11, of Williamsport; Mrs. Fowle and Miss Glover, of Erie; and the Misses Post, of Montgomery; Housel, of Watsontown; Eckert, of Sunbury, and Reber, of Winfield. The patronesses were, Mrs. Leroy Butler, Mrs. W. S. Wilcox, Mrs. R. S. Koser, Mrs. Enoch Perrine and Mrs. Wm. E. Martin.

ALUMNI JOTTINGS

Harry C. Seiler, '08, a former instructor in the Milton schools and now a teacher in the Franklin, Pa., schools, was married on June 25 to Miss Bessie Merrith, of Binghampton, N. Y.

Miss Amy J. Park, '10, and Clarence Bernhard, '07, a prominent Pittsburgh attorney, were married at the former's home at Montandon on June 26. President Harris, of the University, performed the ceremony.

On September 10, at Elizabeth, Pa., Miss Margaret Pangburn, '08, and Rev. John H. Mathias, '09, were married. The maid of honor was Miss Sue R. Weddell and the best man Al. Mathias, both of Philadelphia. The bridesmaids were Misses Olive Richards, of Philadelphia, Margaret Weddell, of Dover, Del., Georgia Weddell, of West Newton, and Julia Orr, of Lincoln, Neb. The ushers were David Mathias and the three brothers of the bride, John W., Weaver W. and Edward Pangburn. An interesting fact of the event was that ten of the wedding party are graduates of or students in Bucknell University. Rev. and Mrs. Mathias are at home at Knoxville, Pa., after October 1, where Rev. Mathias is pastor of the Baptist church.

J. Brown Martin, son of Dr. and Mrs. William E. Martin, and for several years instructor in music at the Des Moines college, Iowa, has resigned to accept charge of the music department of the State Normal college at Natchitoches, Louisiana. Mrs. Martin will also be an instructor in the vocal department of the institution.

HILL GOSSIP

Hillman, '14, entertained his brother over Sunday.

Bates, '15, is spending this week at his home at Blossburg.

Lukens, '16, entertained his brother of Mt. Carmel on Saturday.

Snyder, '14, witnessed the St. Bonaventure game on Saturday.

Rishel, '15, was at his home in Hughesville Saturday and Sunday.

Hilbish, '11, drove up from Northumberland in his automobile Sunday.

Keep in mind the dance and "pep-fest" in the gymnasium Thursday night.

Osterly, '16, entertained his brother and friend of Woodstown over Sunday.

Middleton entertained his brother and Mr. Jones, of Plymouth, on Saturday and Sunday.

The Ministerial Association had its first meeting on Wednesday evening at the home of Prof. Phillips.

Dr. Davis will speak to the student body Thursday evening of this week in Association Hall at eight o'clock.

Duff, '11, and Rockey, '12, visited their D. T. U. brothers over Sunday, attending the football game Saturday.

LeRoy Coleman, of Worcester Technical School, spent Saturday and Sunday with his brother, Charles Coleman, '14.

The regular meeting of the Euepla Literary Society will be held this evening in Euepla Hall at eight o'clock.

Thomas, ex-'07, and a 1912 graduate of Princeton, gave a very interesting talk in the Y. M. C. A. last Thursday evening.

The political headquarters which has opened in the Saturday News building on Market street is proving a rendevouz for a large number of students interested in politics.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Zahn, of Williamsport, were over-Sunday guests of the latter's brother, Wendt, '13.

Mr. and Mrs. Tod Lose, both of the class of 1911, were in town for the St. Bonaventure game Saturday.

ACADEMY NEWS

Emerson Heckert and Donald Hayes were home over Sunday.

Harold Wilson accompanied the team to Williamsport Saturday.

Berwick High will meet the Academy here next Saturday afternoon.

Carlos Caballe has returned to school. He spent the summer traveling in Spain.

John L. Davis has returned to school after being home for several days on account of sickness.

The Literary Society was well attended Friday evening, the attendance having been made compulsory.

George Middleton addressed the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening and his talk was much appreciated by all present.

Prof. Pangburn's sister, Miss Jessie Pangburn, of Elizabeth, Pa., visited him on Friday and Saturday of last week.

J. M. Connor spent Saturday and Sunday with his brother, "Pattie" Connor, who is teaching in Berwick High School.

J. Heberling was not able, to be in the Williamsport game Saturday, having hurt his leg in scrimmage practice last week.

Last Saturday afternoon the Prep football team met Williamsport High School on the latter's grounds. The score was 0-0. The Williamsport team had not been defeated this year, yet was forced to play hard to keep the Prep team from scoring. In the first quarter the Preps got to within four yards of the home team's goal, but were unable to score. As the Preps have a very heavy line, the Williamsport team gained most of their ground on end runs, while the Prep's team gained most of their ground on line plunges. The Williamsport team was sure of repeating last year's victory, but were surprised at the Prep's strength, and more so when they failed to get within 20 yards of the latter's goal during the whole game

"MATTY" BATTLES FOR GAME.

After many years of sensational pitching, Christy Mathewson, '02, of the New York Giants, met defeat Wednesday at the hands of the Boston Red Sox in the deciding game of the world's championship series, by a score of three to two, ten innings.

The following description of "Matty's" work in the game, which appeared in the Philadelphia Press, was written by Ty Cobb, the famous ball player:

"To see the wonderful Matty, who was absolutely the whole New York team in today's game, out there working, grinding away with grim determination stamped in every feature, straining on every ball pitched, shutting the Sox off from scoring for six innings, while the Giants couldonly secure one run for him, and then after the Sox had pushed a fleing runacross the plate, Matty battling that much harder, hanging on like a prize-fighter who is receiving punishment, not giving an inch, but always boring in, was painful. The word "quit" is something foreign to him.

"Matty battled the Red Sox down, being caught in some tight holes by the baseness of his support, but he never showed displeasure and plunged right back into the fight and battled all the harder."

HELD CORNELL TO CLOSE SCORE

FIRST DEFEAT OF THE SEASON FOR VARSITY.

MUDDY FIELD AND LOSS OF TOPHAM PROVE FATAL

Bucknell Made Most Gains Through the Line but Lost Much on Penalties.—Attempt at Field Goal Failed.—Keiser the Star on Defense.

Outweighed more than fifteen pounds to the man and handicapped by the loss of Fullback Topham, who is nursing a broken hand, the 'Varsity was defeated Saturday for the first time this season by Cornell on a field covered by several inches of soft mud. The score was 14 to 0, the touchdowns coming in the first and fourth periods.

A three day rain had soaked the gridiron, handicapping both teams, especially Bucknell which was much lighter in weight. Considering the wretched conditions, however, both sides handled the ball cleanly, there not having been a fumble or a muffed punt. The backfieldmen experienced great difficulty in getting started in the mud.

The Orange and Blue was the most consistent gainer through line plays, Captain Jordan and Sturgis repeatedly taking the ball through centre on delayed passes for five and ten yard gains. The long forward passes, usually used so effectively by Bucknell, failed utterly against the big red team, only one 20 yard one to Sturgis being successfully completed. Twice Bucknell rushed the ball into the Cornell territory but penalties for offside playing forced them back and the big opponents would tighten up in time to prevent further invasion.

Keiser was the particular star of the Varsity, especially on defense, where he worked like a Trojan, stopping the attempts to break through the Bucknell line and assisting the ends in stopping end runs.

The big Red team is credited with having played a far better game Saturday than they have been putting up during the earlier part of the season and for that reason the Bucknellians who accompanied the team to Ithaca and saw the game, give the Varsity much credit for having held their big opponents to such a small score.

Cornell scored first in the middle of the first period. The Red team gained the ball on the 20-yard line and after a short plunge failed. The oval was given to O'Connor, Cornell's star left-half, who fought, slid and ran his way 50 yards for a touchdown, shaking off three Bucknell tacklers on the way.

For the balance of this period and for the next two, neither team got near enough to the other's goal line to prove dangerous. Both punted well, Sturgis holding his own with the Cornell men. Bucknell gained quite often through the line, but they could not keep it up.

In the second period Bucknell played mostly on the offensive, gaining much ground but losing it through several big penalties. In this quarter the Varsity got near enough to the Cornell goal to try a place-kick. Captain Jordan booting the ball, which unfortunately fell wide of the goal posts.

In the fourth period, starting at midfield, the Ithicans went down to the Bucknell 1-yard line, fighting for every inch on the last four downs. The Bucknell line held like a stone wall and when the Varsity gained possession of the ball Sturgis punted out from behind the goal line. Tabor received the punt and returned it ten yards. On tackle and end bucks Cornell gained ground until they were on the 8-yard line. Cornell tried a play through center which was stopped as soon as started. O'Connor then shot a forward pass over the line into the 10-yard zone behind the goal to Fritz, who scored Cornell's second touchdown.

The line-up:—

Cornell.		Bucknell.
Munns	Left tackle	Hern
Larrowe	Left guard	Teamer
J. S. Whyte	Center	Schaffner
Weidenthal	Right guard	Richardson
Williamson	Right tackle	Dunkle
O'Hearne	Right end	Sturgis
Smith	Quarter-back	Cruikshank
O'Conner	Left half-back	Keiser
Fritz	Right half-back	Gdaniec
Hill	Full-back	Aleshouckas

Substitutions—Cornell: Reese for Eyrich, Tabor for Smith, Trainer for Tabor; Bucknell: Baer for Aleshouckas. Touchdowns—Hill, 2. Referee—Marshill, of Harvard. Umpire—Booth, of Princeton. Head linesman—Weymouth, of Yale. Time of periods—10 minutes.

BAND PLAYS AT THEATRE

The college band offered its services to Mr. Ralph Koser, owner of the Orpheum where returns from the Bucknell-Cornell game were received last Saturday afternoon. Following a number of selections by the band, a collection was taken up by the management of the Orpheum and the treasury of the band received $11.18 in consequence.

STUDENT ENGINEERS HEAR TALK BY SEC. POPE

OFFICIAL SPOKE ON "PERSONAL ELEMENT OF THE ENGINEER."

At the first meeting of the local branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers in Bucknell Hall last Monday evening, Mr. Ralph W. Pope, of New York, the Honorary Secretary of that organization, delivered an address on "The Personal Element of the Engineer."

Mr. Pope divided his subject into the influence of the individual upon others, the influence of others upon the individual, and the ideas and impressions gained by change of environment. The acquaintance of Mr. Pope with many of the great electrical engineers of the age such as Edison, Dr. Steinmetz, Prof. Thompson, Prof. Kennelley, Dr. Bell and others, increased the interest of the engineers who heard him. It is the intention of the local branch of A. I. E. E. to obtain other speakers of Mr. Pope's ability the present college year.

FRESHMEN POST PROCS.

The last of the interclass scraps for the present college year followed the posting of procs by the first-year men last Tuesday morning. The sophomores having torn down the procs posted in the town proceeded to the Hill where the freshman were assembled about a number of the proclamations posted upon the observatory. A fierce clash between the underclassmen ensued with the result of victory for the sophs. Meanwhile some of the valuable equipment of the observatory was endangered, the battle raging at times in the very shadow of the costly equipment. The outward appearance of the dome of the building also suffered because of the procs.

WILSON CLUB TO ORGANIZE

All college men interested in the election of Woodrow Wilson as president are requested to assemble in Bucknell Hall Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock. At that meeting a Woodrow Wilson club will be organized. Arrangements have been made to have members of the faculty and leading Wilson men of the town speak.

GOOD COURSES FOR ENGINEERS

RESULTS COMPARE WELL WITH THOSE OF OTHER COLLEGES.

SEVERAL STUDENT SOCIETIES AUGMENT REGULAR WORK

Chemical and Physical Society And Local Branch of American Institute For Engineers Have Student Enrollment.

(Inasmuch as the Orange and Blue is somewhat an alumni as well as a student publication, the editorial board has been publishing a series of articles on the work of the different departments of the college for the information of those who are not intimately acquainted with advances made in these departments. Next week's issue of the Orange and Blue will contain an article treating of the work of the Department of Biology. Especial attention will be paid in this article to the work of graduates.—Editor.)

The Bucknell Department of Engineering offers four courses of four years each leading to appropriate degrees. These courses are as complete and as well carried out as the corresponding courses in the best universities and technical schools in the country. A large amount of apparatus has been provided for experiment and illustration, and careful individual attention is given to the student as well as to maintaining a high standard of requirement in the work.

The aim of the department is to lay a foundation of sound theory, sufficiently broad and deep to enable its graduates to enter understandingly on the further investigation of the several specialties, of the engineering profession; and at the same time to impart such a knowledge of the usual professional practice as shall make its students useful upon graduation, in any subordinate position to which they may be called. While the adaptation of theory to practice can be thoroughly learned only by experience, there are many matters in which the routine work of an engineering field-party, office, laboratory or drafting room can be carried out on a greater or less scale in a training school. The technical branches are under the direct care of those who have had professional experience as well as a full scientific training in their particular line of work. The instructors who have the several branches in charge aim to fit the students, as far as possible, for the requirements of actual practice.

Chemical Engineering is founded on the chemical relations of materials and deals with the great manufacturing processes dependent upon chemistry and chemical physics, as the production of iron, steel, and other metals, glass and pottery, cement, paper and other textiles, food products, soda-ash combustibles, illuminants, and explosives. The Bucknell Chemical Laboratory, erected in 1890, is a building forty-three feet in width and eighty-six feet in length, three stories high. This building provides for the teaching of chemistry to students in all departments of the University and for the technical work of the students in chemical engineering. In addition to a full supply of routine materials and apparatus for work in general, analytical, organic, physical, and technological chemistry, opportunity is offered for special study along these particular lines. The Chemical and Physical Society, composed of and officered by the students, holds meetings at which papers of technical interest are read, and reports made upon observations and experiments.

The Civil Engineering Course embraces the fundamentals of all branches of engineering and deals especially with the design and construction of static or stationary structures, the measurement of the materials and forces of nature, and the application of machinery to their utilization. The development of the courses in this branch is equal to the best offered anywhere.

The Electrical Engineering course treats of the generation and distribution of electrical energy and its utilization, and the apparatus in connection therewith, including the telephone and telegraph, electric railways, electric lighting, and electric manufacturing processes. This course received recognition from the American Institute of Electrical Engineers by the establishment of a branch of that Society known as the Bucknell University Branch. This branch, officered by the students, holds monthly meetings at which original papers are read and discussed. At convenient times during the year lecturers of prominence in the profession are obtained, and all engineering students given the opportunity of attending the meetings. The graduates of this course are successfully competing with those of all others in the field.

The mechanical engineering work has to do with the design, construction and operation of dynamic or moving structures embracing general and steam machinery, and particularly the heat engine in all its phases; and also with manufacturing processes. This is the latest of the engineering courses planned at Bucknell and the first class graduating from this course will be in 1914. The students entered in this course show by their interest that Bucknell's engineering reputation will be all the greater for its addition.

HILLMAN ACADEMY REVENGES ITSELF ON SCRUBS

DEFEATED BY VARSITY EARLY IN SEASON, WILKES-BARRE TEAM VICTORS.

On Saturday the scrub team journeyed to Wilkes-Barre, where they lost a hard-fought game to the Harry Hillman Academy by the score of 19-0. The scrubs were outweighed 25 pounds to the man, and this, together with the fact that the field was very muddy, put them under a great disadvantage. Smith and Glass played the best game for Bucknell, while Rotstein was the star for Hillman. The line-up follows:

Hillman	Position	Bucknell
Parrish	left guard	Smith
Weiss	centre	Hill
Balbach	right guard	Fulton
McKeehey	right tackle	Sanders'
Brown	right end	Lukins
Rutstein	quarter back	Mellott
Dubois	left half-back	Powell
Poad	right half-back	Samuels
Lauer	full-back	Glass

Touchdowns—Rutstein 2, Poad. Goals—Rutstein. Brown. Substitutions—Wittam for Lukins, Lukins for Glass, Markowitz for Whittam, Hill for Fulton, McCormick for Dubois. Referee—Coughnour, Bucknell. Umpire—Skelton, Villanova.

STAHL PRAISES "MATTY."

The sentiment that Christy Mathewson, 02, has reached the limit of his baseball prowess, was proved to be false last week when Jake Stahl, manager of the Red Sox and the man who piloted that team into the position of American League champions, declared that Christy Mathewson pitched the best games of any pitcher in the series. He said:

"I am glad we won the world's series, but want to say right here that in my mind Mathewson pitched the grandest ball I ever saw and it was too bad he did not win his game. I will say he did not get as good support as Marquard.

"In the games in which Marquard won there were two phenomenal catches which meant defeat for him had the balls not been caught. Mathewson pitched the best ball of any pitchers on either side."

BAND FUND, BEGUN, GROWS RAPIDLY

SUBSCRIPTION LIST IS NOW CIRCULATING.

THIRTY-FIVE DOLLAR MARK REACHED IN DAY AND A HALF

Three Organizations Subscribed This Amount.—Proceeds from Concert and Dance Last Thursday Augments Fund.

The financial campaign in behalf of the college band, which was announced in this paper two weeks ago, had its beginning last week in a manner that vouches for its ultimate success. Late in the week, following the first concert and dance by the band in the Tustin gymnasium, the subscription paper started on its travels about the college.

By Saturday afternoon, just a day and a half after the beginning of the campaign, the amount subscribed reached the thirty-five dollar mark. In order that the canvass of the college may be a thorough one, the subscription paper has been traveling slowly and but three of the student organizations had the opportunity up to Saturday to express their interest. Sixty-four men were approached in these organizations with the admirable outcome of but one refusal.

During the present week the subscription paper will reach the remainder of the student body and the faculty. It is hoped that the fund will reach its completion by the beginning of next week.

Use for Fund.

The band fund completed, the proceeds will be employed in procuring necessary paraphernalia for the band. The most urgent needs are those of uniforms and the repair and purchase of instruments. Two alto horns and a new base drum are needed that the organization may parade its talents to the full. The effort is being made to procure uniforms for the entire organization before the Bucknell-Gettysburg football game at Harrisburg on Nov. 22.

Concert a Success.

The first of the concerts by the band was held in the Tustin gymnasium last Thursday evening. Over a hundred students attended which made the proceeds of the entertainment $11.90. Aside from the standpoint of financial income, the event was an unprecedented success. The program of a dozen numbers was pleasingly arranged and presented and met with the most enthusiastic applause on the part of the students who were surprised at the advances made by the college band the past week.

Coming Events Planned.

Owing to the success of the concert and dance last Thursday evening, the band will make this event a monthly occurance. The proceeds of these concerts will be employed to defray the running expenses of the organization inasmuch as the treasury will be depleted by the purchase of suits and the needed instruments. A joint concert by the band and the college musical and glee clubs will be arranged this term. Miss Schillinger, of the department of elocution, is in charge of the preparation for a play to be given within a month at which the band will appear. The proceeds of this play will go to the band.

DUDLEY PRESCOTT COMING.

The coming Saturday evening will witness a unique entertainment in Bucknell Hall when Dudley Prescott is presented. Mr. Prescott is at once a humorist, musical mimic, superior ventriloquist and impersonator. Those in charge of the arrangements for the entertainment look for an enjoyable evening.

TRUE SPIRIT.

Friends of the college were impressed by the display of loyalty on the part of Bucknell students when the news of Cornell's victory was received by wire Saturday afternoon. The band played cheerfully at the time and when the final result of the game was received the men gathered and gave a rousing cheer for the distant varsity.

COLLEGE LIFE.

The November number of Scribner's Magazine presents an article by Paul van Dyke on College Life in which the author demonstrates the fallacy of the popular delusion about the inefficiency of the "high-stand college man in real life." Mr. van Dyke's conclusion is reached after a thorough presentation of the subject which includes statistics from five prominent American colleges.

COMPETITIVE MANAGERSHIPS.

Most of the leading American colleges employ competition as the most satisfactory method of selecting athletic team managers. The old method of popular election has been found inefficient because of the tendency toward factionalism and is becoming obsolete in consequence.

The many divisions in the undergraduate body of the college makes election without caucus almost impossible. As a result the caucus preceding athletic elections has arisen. The caucus virtually decides the outcome of the election which therefore becomes a mere matter of form. To regulate the caucus fairly, without regard to factionalism, and to the satisfaction of all the students, has brought to the surface so many difficulties and so much genuine dissatisfaction, that the competitive system has arisen in its place.

The competitive system has for its most attractive characteristic, its maxim it might be said, WILLINGNESS TO SERVE. Following the announcement of the competition those students who are eager to contend for managership honors report for duty to the authorities or to the committee in charge of the competition. After a stipulated time, during which the candidates perform to the best of their ability the duties assigned to them, the result of the competition is announced and the student body has its most capable and efficient representative as manager of the athletic team of whatever nature. The successful candidate embraces the duties of assistant-manager at once and after a year in this capacity assumes the role of manager.

One of the most evident benefits of the competitive system is that which is derived by the athletic association of the college in which this system is in vogue, from the services of the competing candidates. It is the duty of these men to advertise according to their ideas the various athletic contests, to care for details in preparation for such contests, to do all in their power for the comfort of visiting athletic teams,—in fact to make themselves as useful as they know how.

Finally the competitive system places its approval upon capability and willingness to serve. It secures for the college more efficiently managed athletic teams than under the old election system. And what is more important, it guarantees satisfaction to all the students.

Assistant-managerships of athletic teams are to be filled at Bucknell this year. The competitive system would undoubtedly be a more satisfactory means of choice for these offices and at the same time aid in augmenting college spirit.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor Orange and Blue:—

The Bible has it that "Money is the root of all evil." At Bucknell, however, this is not true. How could it be? Nobody has any money. No, the real root of all evil here is thoughtlessness. Although hell may be largely payed with good intentions, it seems to me that there is a strong probability that a number of the streets in that lurid region are laid out in thoughtlessness. I honestly believe that the average undergraduate is such a moral and upright youth that in nine cases out of ten if he only stopped to think he would do the right thing. However, he doesn't stop, or if he does that much, he at least doesn't think. Whenever one of our sturdy football players departs from the code of true sportsmanship and slugs anybody, it is always because he has become temporarily unbalanced by a species of rage and doesn't stop to think. It is the same way with the students who, carried away by honest enthusiasm, tear down sign boards to aggrandize a bonfire after an athletic victory. In such event, undoubtedly, the degree of reflection on the part of the students is nil. Not that I have any special love for Milton merchants, but rather because of the consequent unfavorable sentiment against the college as a whole. Just last week a Milton paper lamented this action on the part of the students. To most of us the reputation of Bucknell is a thing most dear. Yet last week the respectable name of the college was dragged into the newspapers in connection with a thoughtless hazing episode. But a few days previous, college property was thoughtlessly maltreated in the annual clash between the underclassmen. Had they thought of damaging college property they would not have done it. But do they think? Not they! Now I look at it in this way. Are we animals acting upon instinct, or are we rational human beings? Most of us will agree that we are the latter. Well, then, why not prove it? A Senior.

PROF. DAVIS ON SOCIAL EVIL.

The weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was addressed by Prof. Davis of the faculty last Thursday evening. As always the announcement that Prof. Davis was to speak filled the Y. M. C. A. halls to overflowing. Prof. Davis spoke on the social evil. He said every man should know himself and conditions around him and should make his relation to society of the best character. Prof. Davis stated that each individual should have an elevating influence on those around him." He admonished the men to guard every seam of weakness so that full control of the powers might be maintained. The individual, he said, owes such control to himself, to his friends, and to society.

In Tuesday evening's meeting of the Y. W. C. A., Miss Helen Ede spoke on the subject "Why and How to Pray". She defined prayer as the soul's sincere desire. She said we pray because God wills it, because Jesus prayed, and because we can only know Jesus by praying. The manner of our praying demands our attention also. Since God is supreme, we should come to Him reverently and with only the thought of Him in our minds. Miss Ede said our utterances should be simple and repetition should be avoided.

The Y. M. C. A. meeting was addressed by William Goehring, Secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., on Thursday evening.

The Preps had no difficulty in defeating the Berwick High school team on the Varsity field Saturday. The score was 75-0. The Berwick team evidently lost their nerve at the beginning of the game. In the first half six touchdowns were scored while five were scored in the second. Nine goals were kicked out of eleven. Two touchdowns were scored after the first down from kick off. Time and again ten and fifteen yard gains were made by line plunges. The Preps had the ball most of the time as the Berwick team very seldom made a first down. Though most of the Prep's line was substituted in the second half, the visitors could not keep the mighty Preps from scoring.

COLLEGE GETS FURNITURE.

The Woman's College is rejoicing in a new set of parlor furniture which Mrs. E. A. Bush, of East Orange, N. J., nee Mary A. Peck, Institute, '92, presented as an anniversary gift to her Alma Mater. In addition to the mahogany set of eight pieces, the gift includes curtains, a fern and jardiniler. The Woman's College is generally interested in and thankful for the excellent gift.

Velvet

THE SMOOTHEST TOBACCO

OFT in the moony night with pipe and Velvet—that's enjoyment enough for some of us.

Velvet tobacco—the finest leaf in the great tobacco country—hung in big warehouses for over 2 years—a mellowing process impossible to counterfeit—only time, little by little, can change the leaf—eliminate the harshness (you call it bite!). Every puff of Velvet takes over 2 years to produce—no wonder it's good.

Try it. At all dealers.

"BC[U]PPERCLASSMEN SHOULD ADD DIGNITY TO CHAPEL"

ST[U]D DECLARED THE SENIOR PRESIDENT TO THE Y. M. C. A. LAST WEEK.

[M]iddleton, president of the present [s]enior class, conducted the weekly [m]eeting of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday [n]ight. In opening the meeting, the [s]peaker emphasized attendance at [c]hapel services.

[T]The primary purpose of the Asso[c]iation is the religious development [o]f its members. If it fails in this, [it] fails in its first duty. Every member of the Y. M. C. A. should therefore look upon chapel attendance as [o]ne of the means of furthering this [h]ighest purpose of the Association. [N]o chapel should not be attended merely for the mark on the report, but for [t]he good received therefrom. No man [w]ho is honest with himself can deny [t]hat he receives something of value [f]rom chapel attendance. You will get [w]hat of it just what you put into it. [C]ome with the right purpose and you [w]ill receive some benefit. The only [w]ay for our institution to begin [e]ach day's work is by a public acknowledgement of the sovereignty of [G]od. Upper-classmen should especially add dignity to chapel attendance. Under-classmen will follow [t]heir example."

Several other speakers treated the [p]rogress of the Association and its [n]etwork and made suggestions as to [h]ow it could further its field and [s]ervice.

[B]rierley, treasurer, in a few remarks [c]alled attention to the dues. He said [n]othing can be done without financial support and asked that the men [b]e ready and willing to meet this [n]eed when the committee approaches [t]hem.

[A]lthough the interest shown [t]his year in the Association has been [g]reat, yet there is room for improve[m]ent," said Brush, '13. "More [p]rospects ought to attend the College Bible Class and the church services in [t]own. The fact that so many [m]en regret they did not take any interest in this line of activity during [t]heir college work is proof that it is [o]f important for the all around development of the college man.'"

PAY BAND SUBSCRIPTIONS.

[M]r. An effort is to be made to collect all the student subscriptions to [t]he band this week. Each of the organizations has a collector and Mc[C]league, '13, will be in charge of other collections. VOLUME XVII. LEWISBURG, PENNA., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1912. NUMBER 6

ORANGE AND BLUE NOT AT ALL EASY

LAFAYETTE UNABLE TO DUPLICATE PENN VICTORY.

BUCKNELL CRIPPLES EXCEL AT EVERY POINT OF GAME

Varsity Frequently Within Striking Distance of Lafayette Goal But Severe Penalties Saved Eastonians.—Topham Reenters Game.

The Bucknell team, crippled more than at any time during the season, but filled with the determination to do its best for "The College on the Hill," played Lafayette to a scoreless tie Saturday before one of the largest crowds that has seen a football game on Marsh Field this year. The Maroon and White team, flushed with a recent victory over Penn, anticipated making no less than three touchdowns against the Orange and Blue; events, however, soon proved that this was a delusion, and that instead of having a walk-over, the Lafayette team would have to exert itself to the utmost to escape being beaten. In every quarter it was easily seen that Bucknell possessed the superior team, and only several severe penalties for the Orange and Blue when they were near the Lafayette goal saved the Eastonians from a humiliating defeat.

From the time the ball was put into play until the final whistle sounded both teams tried every means in their power to score, but without avail. Bucknell tried eleven forward passes, but only one was successful. Lafayette tried ten, and six of these were failures. In the last quarter four attempts at field goals were made by Capt. Jordan and Topham, but not one crossed the bar, and the game closed with both goals uncrossed and the ball in the centre of the field.

A comparison shows that Bucknell was superior to Lafayette in every stage of the game. The Orange and Blue made 180 yards gain from straight football to 40 yards for the Maroon and White. In the first half Bucknell made four first downs, while Lafayette did not succeed in making one. During the first half Lafayette was compelled to punt frequently, as they could do nothing with the stone-wall defense of Bucknell. A list of those who starred for Bucknell would make it necessary to name every Bucknell player. Every man proved his worth to the team, and all deserve the same credit. To the onlookers it seemed that Lafayette's opponents were one strong machine, instead of a group of individual players. Lafayette on the contrary lacked the power to make consistent gains. Several times they made gains of ten or twelve yards, but could not repeat the performance. The result was that the ball was in Lafayette's territory practically during the entire game, while Lafayette did not get beyond the Bucknell 35-yard line once with the ball in their possession.

In the last half Lafayette came back stronger than in the first, but the same strong defense was there to hold them as powerless as before. At the end of the third quarter Sturgis broke away from the Maroon and White tacklers and carried the ball from the centre of the field to Lafayette's 17-yard line. Here was Bucknell's best opportunity to score. Tip Topham, who has been out of the game for two weeks with a broken hand was rushed in. Jordan tore up the Lafayette line for a five yard gain, but on the next play Bucknell received a heavy penalty for holding and the chances of the Orange and Blue for a touchdown were shattered. Jordan tried a goal from placement, but it went wide and the Maroon and White rushed the ball to the centre of the field.

During the last quarter Bucknell made several unsuccessful attempts to kick a field goal. Jordan tried three from placement, one of which was from the 55-yard line and went a yard under the bar. Topham tried a drop kick, but a strong wind carried it less than a yard to the left of the goal post. With three minutes to play Bucknell rushed the ball to Lafayette's 10-yard line, but again a heavy penalty took the ball to the centre of the field where it was when the whistle blew.

NOVEL ENTERTAINMENT BEFORE HARRISBURG TRIP

GYMNASIUM TO BE SCENE OF FARCE, "SHE WOULD BE A WIDOW."

What promises to be a most unusual and attractive feature of the present college year, is the novel entertainment being arranged for the evening of November 21, two evenings before the departure of the student body for Harrisburg to witness the Bucknell-Gettysburg game. A farce-comedy by capable players, music by the popular Bucknell Band, and the usual combination of college cheers and football speeches, are expected to make the evening's entertainment a novel one.

Those arranging the event have a three-fold object: to benefit the Y. M. C. A. and the Dramatic Societies financially, to replace the customary mass-meeting before a college game, and to show the college women how the men bear themselves at such gatherings. Miss Schillinger of the Dramatic Department, who is in charge of the presentation of the farce-comedy, says that there is greater interest among the women this year in the success of college athletics and she believes that an evening of this nature with the college women as witnesses will increase the season ticket sales at the Woman's College next year.

The farce-comedy, "She Would be a Widow," will be presented by a most capable cast of college men. Messrs. Lyne, Fischer, Howard Goehring, Irland, Lowther, Cook, Winter, McCombs, Michael, Stevenson, Bernhardt, Richards, '14, and Earle, are hard at work on their respective parts.

The cheering in the course of the evening will be in charge of Cheer-Leader Fetter, who is also arranging an attractive program of speeches concerning the Harrisburg game on November 23.

PACKARD HERE TO-MORROW.

As a special number of the Bucknell Lyceum course, Alton Packard, the greatest American cartoonist will appear in the M. E. church on Tuesday night, November 5th, at 8.00 o'clock. Packard is the man who has never failed to please. He can draw the best pictures and draw in the shortest time of any cartoonist on the Lyceum platform.

Although Packard is a high priced man, costing $100 for the evening, yet the committee has decided to put the attraction in the regular course. Season tickets will be good for admission. Single admissions are fifty cents.

DR. WAITE PLACES BUCKNELL TO THE FRONT.

CAREFUL PREPARATION ESSENTIAL TO SUCCESS

Requirement for Admission to Medical Colleges Raised the Last Twenty-five Years.—Full College Course the Best Preparation.

The Biological Course at Bucknell is designed to give a broad, comprehensive study of the principles, facts and methods of organic science. It is a cultural course and as such aims to develop in its students an open mind, trained to careful thinking, instructed in the methods of Biological Investigation and acquainted in a general way with the thought of past generations along its own special line. All studies are liberal and disciplinary, not narrow or special.

Under Bucknell's system the college does not demand one invariable set of studies of every candidate for the first degree, but allows the student the privilege of selection or election of those that will best prepare him for his chosen line of work. If the student's taste, capacity and ultimate goal incline him to select the Medical preparatory sciences, as a part of his course, he will elect Physics (one year), Chemistry including Qualitative, Quantitative and Organic, Osteology, Human Anatomy, Histology, Embryology, Physiology, Neorology and Bacteriology. If the student completes his Medical Course he will be studying these as applied sciences the rest of his life.

Twenty-five years ago the requirement for admission to most of the American Medical Colleges comprised less than is covered in the first two years of a High School course and no Medical College exacted more than a diploma from a four-year High School. This continued until about seven years ago when the rulings of the Board of Medical Examiners made the Medical Colleges strengthen their courses.

Since that time the American Medical Colleges have gradually increased their requirements. Some, as Johns Hopkins, Harvard and Western Reserve now require a student to be a college graduate before he can enter upon his medical studies, and a majority of the best Medical Colleges require four years of High School plus two years of college work. Not that this is the ideal requirement but simply the very minimum of preparation with which the young man can afford to take up the study of Medicine under the present conditions.

Medicine is fast becoming an exact science. The study of Medicine in the past history of the world has been almost purely emperical, with a very little of scientific basis. Amid the vagueness and confusion of such half mystical hypotheses as Homeopathy emerged the more tangible and definite "germ theory of disease." Certainly in the past twenty-five years, since "germs" have been studied, more has been done to solve the problems connected with disease than ever before. In order to keep up with the time a physician needs a broad liberal training.

The absolute essentials of premedical training including Physics, Chemistry, Biology and German, now regarded as indispensable by most medical experts, cannot be covered in less time than two years. The maximum amount of time which one may devote to such preparatory work is merely a question of how much time a student can afford to give to it. It seems obvious that there is no limit to the amount of education, and of knowledge which one might, with ad

BIG MASS MEETING WEDNESDAY.

A mammoth mass meeting of all the students will be held in Bucknell Hall on Wednesday evening at 9.00. It is hoped to make this gathering the largest of the year in order to show the appreciation of the student body for the excellent work of the crippled team at Easton Saturday. Concert-Meister Fahringer will assemble his band of viritable virtuosos for that occasion. Captain Jordan will tell why Lafayette could not duplicate their victory over the University of Pennsylvania. Other things of genuine interest to Bucknell students are being planned for the meeting.

TO PRINT SONGS AND YELLS.

A movement is on foot to collect the best Bucknell songs and yells and put them in book form. There are many Alma Mater songs wholly unknown to the present undergraduate student body and it is the plan of the Committee to collect these with their music and to bind them in such a way that every student and alumnus can get them at a reasonable price. In the near future a canvass will be made by the student body to find out if the Committee can go ahead with arrangements already made.

WILSON CLUB, ORGANIZED, HOLDS LIVELY MEETING

STUDENTS ADDRESSED BY PROFESSORS COLESTOCK, HAMBLIN AND PERRINE.

For the purpose of systematising their efforts and creating a greater interest in to-morrow's presidential election, about seventy-five students met in Bucknell Hall on Wednesday evening to organize a Wilson club. Reiley, '14, was elected president of the organization and Bachman '14 secretary and treasurer.

After the business of the club had been transacted, Prof. Colestock gave a very interesting discussion on the principles of the Democratic party. He followed the party from the time of Jefferson up to the present showing wherein its principles meet the vital issues of the day. He also said that an income tax was not needed but a reduction in the expenses of the government was imperative in order to reduce the taxes.

Prof. Hamblin took the floor and explained in what way the complexity of the Legislature of New Jersey prevented Wilson from breaking up the trusts in the state. Almost everything, he said, is under the control of the trusts, even the banks are in an organization which under the trust controls, making it difficult for a private person to borrow money to establish an enterprise injurious to the trusts.

Dr. Perrine next addressed the club. Since he knew Wilson personally, he was able to give a vivid description of his private life. He said that Mr. Wilson was the best qualified, physically, intellectually and socially of the three leading candidates for the presidency. He furthermore pointed out the duty of every American citizen in the responsibility of suffrage.

"SHE WOULD BE A WIDOW."

Tickets for the farce-comedy to be given in the Tustin gymnasium on the night of Nov. 21, will be offered for sale by a number of students on the Hill next week. Prices for the evening's entertainment are to be twenty-five and thirty-five cents. The reserved seat board will be in charge of Dr. Heiser in the town. Exchange tickets will be sold by students on the Hill. These tickets when presented to Dr. Heiser will secure a reserved seat.

BAND PLAYS FOR WILSON.

The Bucknell Band was a prominent factor of the big Woodrow Wilson rally in the court house last week. As a reward for its services the treasurer of the organization received $21.25. Ten dollars of this sum was donated by H. Eyer Spyker and J. F. Reber, business men of Lewisburg.

"TO HARRISBURG" NOW THE CRY

ARRANGEMENTS FOR A SPECIAL TRAIN.

EFFORT TO BE MADE TO CARRY THREE HUNDRED

Bucknell Band Will be an Attractive Feature in Capitol City on November 23.—Trip May be Made for Small Outlay.

With the Bucknell-Gettysburg football game at Harrisburg but three weeks off, preparations for the big special train, which is to conduct Bucknell students and their friends to the Capitol City, have been begun. Late the past week word was received from the Pennsylvania Railroad that it will provide such a train. This communication also quoted a rate. Manager Darlington of the Orpheum has consented to take charge of the arrangements for the special and will proceed much as he did last year with the special train to Reading on Thanksgiving Day. The round-trip rate received by Mr. Darlington for the Harrisburg train provides for the presence of one hundred persons and is $1.50. Inasmuch as he expects three hundred students and town people to attend the game, Mr. Darlington has written for rates on this basis and expects to secure the round-trip price of $1.50.

Train Leaves Nov. 23.

The special train will leave Lewisburg from the Pennsylvania station early in the morning of Saturday, November 23. The return trip from Harrisburg will be made late that night. Mr. Darlington has written to the Harrisburg theatres to secure information as to performances on that evening. It is likely that the entire Bucknell representation will attend one of these theatres as was done at Reading last year. The train will leave for Lewisburg after the theatre.

Band to Go, Too.

The college band will accompany the Bucknell representation to Harrisburg. It is expected that the new uniforms for the band, for which purpose the student body is now subscribing, will feature the occasion. As soon as the special arrives in Harrisburg, the Bucknell representation, headed by the band, will parade the city, ending at the hotel where the Varsity is to make its headquarters. At other times the representation will parade to and from the game, which is to be played at Island Park, and between the halves of the game at the park. Inasmuch as the Gettysburg representation is also to go to Harrisburg by special train, it is unlikely that Bucknell students will be the only ones to make the Capitol City a lively one that day.

The Trip Inexpensive.

It is estimated that, providing Mr. Darlington secures the nominal rate of $1.50 to Harrisburg, the trip will be an unusually inexpensive one. Seats in the Bucknell cheering section may be secured for the mere price of admission, fifty cents. Inasmuch as the train is to leave Lewisburg in the morning and to return in the evening, it will be possible for any student to witness the Bucknell-Gettysburg game upon the expenditure of three dollars.

S. A. E. ENTERTAINS AT PARTY.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon house was the scene of a pretty Hallowe'en event last Thursday evening. The entire first floor was turned into a cornfield for the occasion, large pumpkins, corn shocks and autumn leaves producing the effect. Three large pumpkins, carved to represent the heads of the three presidential aspirants caused no little amusement. Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Butler of town acted as chaperones.

This paper is published once a week during the college year by the Orange and Blue Board, representing the student body of Bucknell University. Subscription $1.25 per year. $1.00 if paid before January 1 of the college year. Communications addressed to the Orange and Blue, Lewisburg, Pa.

APPRECIATION.

The student body is profoundly proud of the men who are representing it in the football world. The game of last Saturday, anticipated by the students and friends with discouragement, knowing the crippled condition of the team, reached its admirable result from the sheer grit and determination of the men. The student body is mindful of such an effort to say the least.

BEST MEDICAL PREPARATION.

The decision of Dr. Waite of the Association of American Medical Colleges, placing Bucknell to the fore, front of the colleges which aim to prepare students for the professional colleges in medicine, is a matter of pride to every student and alumnus of the college. Dr. Waite reached this decision after visiting all the medical preparatory schools in this country and Canada.

THE HARRISBURG TRIP.

Now that the special train to Harrisburg for the benefit of students and friends of the college is a certainty, the effort is to be made to receive a glad response and to make the outing an unprecedented success. Without considering the genuine enjoyment which will be reciprocated upon the outlay of a very small sum, the presence of a big Bucknell representation at Harrisburg on November 23 should be the aim of the student body as a register of its interest in the tireless work of the football squad. The outlook of meeting some of the foremost college teams on their own territory without the presence of our own student body, which means so much as a factor of encouragement, is not a very encouraging one to the squad. With a big constituency, however, at the Harrisburg game, something of the bleakness of the future will be lost.

CELEBRATE FOUNDER'S DAY.

The Founder's Day banquet of the Kappa Delta Phi fraternity was held at the Cameron House last Saturday evening. Beside the active members and pledges of the fraternity, a representative number of the alumni attended.

F. O. Schnure, '14, acted as toastmaster and introduced the following who responded to toasts: Earl B. Armstrong, '14, H. B. Musser, '14, Lyman L. Lister, '12, L. H. Coulter, '14, Edgar T. Clapp, '15, John N. Arndt, '13, H. B. English, '12, Oliver DeLancey, '12, and A. M. Sherwood, '10.

MEDICAL COURSE BEST IN COUNTRY.

Concluded from 1st page.

vantage, use in the study and practice of Medicine.

The best preparation for Medical study certainly demands a college training. The conviction is growing that under prevailing conditions the exaction of a baccalaureate degree for admission to the four years' Medical Course is becoming a necessity.

One cannot study the application of any branch of learning until he has a fairly comprehensive knowledge of the branch itself. A blunder has been made by the Medical Colleges in attempting to teach medical Chemistry, for example, to young men who know no Chemistry. Last year at the University of Pennsylvania, twenty-five freshmen failed in their examination in Physiological Chemistry because they do not know Organic Chemistry. To this faulty method is due to the fact that so few physicians can read intelligently much of the present day medical literature with its constant reference to modern Chemistry and its application to Medicine.

It is believed that the physicians of the coming generation who have had their training on the broad, thorough line of the college or University will experience less difficulty in this regard. To students thus trained in the sciences, so fundamental to Medicine, it is believed the applied sciences will have a deeper meaning and a broader significance. The important thing is that the spirit and the method of instruction shall possess that breadth of view and insistence on thoroughness and exactitude which has surely in past experience been more commonly found in the college than in the medical school.

Bucknell prepares for the best medical colleges in the United States. Of last year's Senior class two Medical students entered John Hopkins, one entered Harvard Medical, two the University of Pennsylvania and one the Medical Department of the University of Chicago, and all entered without conditions.

Dr. Waite of the Association of American Medical Colleges, after visiting all the Colleges in the United States and Canada, reported that Bucknell offered the best medical preparatory course.

Last year a student, on being refused admission to the freshman class of the Medical Department of the University of Pennsylvania, asked the Dean where he could get the best medical preparatory course and his reply was, "Bucknell."

(This article treating of the work and aim of the Medical Department is the fourth of a series on the different departments of the University. A fifth will appear at an early date. —Editor.)

BAND MEASURED FOR SUITS.

The twenty members of the college band were measured last Saturday for suits to be purchased with the money now being raised by subscription among the students. The suits will likely be composed of orange and blue "blazers", a blue cap bearing the letters B. B., and blue trousers. The effort is being made to secure the suits before the Bucknell-Gettysburg game at Harrisburg on Nov. 23.

"BOOSTERS" MEETING BRINGS GOOD SUGGESTIONS

STUDENTS DISCUSS MEANS OF BENEFITTING BUCKNELL AND BUCKNELL MEN.

The "Boosters Meeting" held in the Y. M. C. A. Hall Thursday night was a good one in spite of the fact that the attendance was small, due to the Wilson meeting in the court house and fraternity functions.

Fetter, President of the Association, opened discussion by pointing out the big influence the college men can exercise upon the boys of the town. In his own words: "The town boys are bound to imitate the college fellows and the kind of lives the latter live will determine largely the character and type of men these youngsters will become."

The trip to Harrisburg on the day of the Gettysburg game was discussed by Wendt, '13. The speaker said that arrangements were being made for a special train on the Pennsylvania railroad and that the band would accompany the team to the State Capital. He said further: "Aside from the standpoint of selfish enjoyment; over and above like considerations, we Bucknell students owe this expression of interest to the team which is toiling daily for the athletic prestige of the college."

Manager Smith of the Varsity squad, made a plea for Bucknell men to attend the summer conference of the Y. M. C. A. at Eagles Mere, to be held in June. "A man not only has a good time; he not only meets a number of other college men, but he obtains some knowledge of what other colleges are doing and brings this experience back with him the following year and puts it into practical use in the local Association work and college activities." Plans are being arranged to rent a cottage at Eagles Mere during the Conference and an unusually large number of men is expected to represent Bucknell next spring.

Bible and Mission Study was presented in a clear manner by Richardson, '13. "Rich" pointed to the fact that a college man to be educated must know something about the Bible and the great changes taking place among the foreign countries. "Just as soon as possible Bible and Mission Study Classes will be started on the Hill and as a text-book for the latter, the "Chinese Revolution" has been selected. This text considers the economic, social, educational and religious changes which are ushering in China's new era."

Several other suggestions were made by those present as to how to boost Bucknell and Bucknell men.

The annual Hallowe'en party at the Woman's College was a decided success last Thursday evening. The dining room where dinner was served was beautifully decorated with leaves, flowers and pumpkin heads. Each table had an individual arrangement of place cards, favors and decorations. The girls were dressed in fancy costumes representing gypsies, Japanese girls and other characters. After dinner the party adjourned to the new gymnasium where the evening's entertainment had been provided by the girls of Frill and Frown. After the various booths had been visited dancing was begun. The evening closed with a grand march led by Miss Schillinger and the Frill and Frown girls.

Mr. Henry Wharton Shoemaker of New York City, the author of the several volumes of "Pennsylvania Stories," and a recognized authority in the Folk-Lore of his native state, and his friend, Mr. Thatcher of McElhatten, Pa., paid the college a visit on Saturday. They were greatly pleased with the Natural History collection, the Gernard collection of Pennsylvania Indian Archaeology, and the Carnegie Library.

Harry McCormick, the great pinch hitter on the New York Giant baseball team, visited in Lewisburg last week. He figured in world's series with the Boston Americans, and that his team lost the championship in the tenth inning of the deciding game was hard luck. He famed at Bucknell as a general all-round athlete, and after leaving college entered the professional baseball world. He quit the game for several years only to resume it last spring and again join the Giants.

NAVY DEFEATED IN HARD BATTLE

BUCKNELL FIRED THE BROADSIDE IN SECOND QUARTER.

MIDSHIPMEN OUTPLAYED IN ALL PHASES OF THE GAME

Cruikshank and Sturgis Executed Forward Passes That Bewildered Opponents and Brought Victory.—Jordan Kicked Field Goal.

It was against a larger and by far more formidable looking host that the warriors of Old Bucknell did battle Saturday, but stature was of no avail and the Navy was forced to bow to defeat by a score of 17 to 7 in the scrappiest game that the midshipmen have had the opportunity to see this season. The Navy was outplayed in every phase of the game by the Orange and Blue, and in only one quarter, the third, were the sailors, nine of whom were on the team that defeated the Army last year, able to gain any ground at all through the stone-wall defense of Bucknell.

Every man on the collegian team played his many aggressive game and the team-work, which has characterized Bucknell football this year, was perfect. As Trainer Coughanour has said, "It was a well oiled machine that beat the Navy."

From the first siren of the referee's whistle it was evident that the Navy had met its gridiron superior although Bucknell was weakened bythe absence of Topham while the midshipmen presented their strongest line-up. The day was an ideal one for football and the field was in good condition in spite of the heavy rains of the day before. A small gale continued to blow across the Navy field which gave the team facing it a decided advantage.

Captain Jordan lost the toss and was forced to return the kick-off in the face of the wind. The Navy line was the most stubborn and powerful that the Orange and Blue has run up against this year and Bucknell was soon forced to punt, Sturgis doing the kicking. On this and another similar occasion a few minutes later the Navy receiver fumbled the ball and it was recovered in each case by a Bucknell man. Throughout the quarter the ball see-sawed back and forth in the center of the field, neither team being able to advance it for consistent gains.

In the second quarter, with the wind at their backs, Bucknell resorted to the forward pass, victory being secured by means of it. Quarterback Cruikshank threw the ball with deadly aim and the speedy ends, Jordan and Sturgis, were handling it perfectly. Several successful short passes were negotiated over the center of the line for substantial gains. When on about the forty-yard line a wide formation was made and Cruikshank threw the oval far up the field and into the flying arms of Sturgis, who evaded several opposing tacklers and placed the ball within the shadows of the goal posts. Jordan kicked the goal. It was near the end of the period that the wide formation was again used and another long pass was completed to Sturgis who was over the goal line before being brought to the ground by an embryo admiral Jordan kicked the goal from touchdown, placing Bucknell in the lead 14 to 0.

The Navy "came back" to a limited extent in the third period and after a series of line plunging on delayed passes by Ingram and Harrison placed the ball on Bucknell's five-yard line. Here the Collegians held them for downs and punted out of the danger zone. Topham, who had entered the game at fullback, permitting Shipman to take the place of Sturgis who was injured, did the punting. It was not long, however, until the Navy attempted a forward pass which was intercepted by Keiser. The latter unfortunately did not have a secure grasp on the ball and it bounced into the hands of a sailor, who carried it several yards before being downed. A few more rushes and Navy had crossed the line. A successfully kicked goal caused the score to be 14 to 7 in favor of the Orange and Blue.

The fourth quarter decidedly belonged to Bucknell for not only did Topham circle the Navy ends several times for considerable gains but the opposing line became demoralized under the terrific onslaughts of Keiser and Gdanlec, those sturdy warriors rushing through time and again for five or ten yards. Rather than attempt to rush the ball the remaining distance to the goal line Bucknell chose to try a field goal and for that reason did not advance nearer the Navy goal than the fifteen-yard line, although the ball was in Navy territory during all of the period. A successful fair catch of a punt by Cruikshank gave Jordan the opportunity to try for a placement kick from the forty-yard line which fell but a few inches wide of its mark.

BLOOMSBURG EASY FOR SECOND STRING MEN

HEAVY NORMAL TEAM UNABLE TO COPE WITH ITS LIGHTER OPPONENTS.

On Saturday afternoon the scrub team played against the strong Bloomsburg State Normal team, and, although outweighed over twenty pounds to the man, won the game by the score of 20-2. Neither side was successful in the use of the forward pass. Gubin and Glass made touchdowns by means of line plunges, while Samuels, by intercepting a forward pass attempted by Bloomsburg, eluded the grasp of the whole Normal School team and ran 80 yards for a touchdown.

The line-up::—

Normal.	Reserves.
Welsh .....Left end.....	Markle

THREE ALUMNI REACH CONGRESS

LAST WEEK'S ELECTION WORKS THIS RESULT.

SENATOR DAVIS, AN ALUMNUS, MAY SUCCEED GOV. WILSON

Is Spoken of as Possible Choice of President-Elect to Fill Unexpired Term as Governor.—Other Alumni in Last Eelction.

Last Tuesday's election was an unusual one from the viewpoint of successful achievement on the part of Bucknell alumni. Three graduates were successful candidates in their districts for the House of Representatives and another, Senator John W. Davis, '96, is spoken of as the likely choice of President-elect Wilson to fill his unexpired time as Governor of New Jersey after his inauguration as President on March 4th next. Several other alumni were unsuccessful candidates for responsible offices.

J. Thompson Baker Strong.

The most notable was the election of J. Thompson Baker, '69, of Wildwood, N. J., in the second district of New Jersey, where he defeated Congressman Gardner, a stand-patter who has served twelve terms in a district that has from ten to twelve thousand Republican majority. Mr. Baker has been taking an active interest in New Jersey politics during the past decade that he has been a resident of that state. When President-elect Wilson was nominated by the New Jersey Democrats for Governor, Mr. Baker made one of the nominating speeches. Mr. Baker was induced to enter the Congressional fight and landed the Democratic nomination. He entered into the fight with great energy and the people of the district rose enmasse and followed his leadership. He swept every one of the four counties in the district that always rolled up a big Republican majority and defeated Gardner by nearly four thousand. It was a most stinging defeat. Mr. Baker will be a valuable aid to President Wilson in Congress.

Hon. M. W. Shreve Prominent.

Reports indicate the success of the Hon. Milton W. Shreve, '84, of Erie, who was a candidate on the Republican ticket for Congress in the 25th district. Mr. Shreve has held many prominent political positions in the state. When he was District Attorney of Union City, Mr. Shreve was nominated and elected to the Assembly of Pennsylvania from the Erie City District. Since then he was re-elected for three successive terms. At Harrisburg he was a member of important committees and acted as chairman of the Judiciary General Committee, the most important committee in the assembly. Upon the death of Speaker Cox, Mr. Shreve succeeded to the Speakership.

Other Alumni in Election.

John V. Lesher, '97, was elected to Congress by a big plurality in the district composed of Northumberland, Montour, Columbia and Sullivan counties.

Dr. Elton S. Corson, '92, was defeated for the New Jersey Assembly on the Progressive ticket. Dr. Corson's home is in Bridgeton.

Alfred Hayes, Jr., ex-'95, professor of law at Cornell, was defeated on the Progressive ticket for the Supreme Court of New York.

ALUMNI TO CHEER TEAM.

The entire body of alumni and ex-students of the college who are at present located in Philadelphia, will attend the Bucknell-Swarthmore football game at Swarthmore next Saturday. A cheering section will be set aside for the Bucknell contingent and it is expected that half a hundred men will occupy it.

STUDENTS CELEBRATE VICTORY.

Last Saturday night the campus was the scene of a big bon-fire and student celebration following the signal victor of the Varsity over the Navy. The entire student body began preparations for the celebration early in the evening. Underclassmen with the aid of several wagons assembled a huge pile of wood and rubbish upon the athletic field. Everything made ready for the celebration, the student body headed by the college band marched toward Montandon to meet the returning team. At the celebration following, Captain Jordan and other members of the team told of the game. The celebration, from the standpoint of enthusiasm displayed, was a most successful one.

MINSTREL SHOW AT HARRISBURG

Manager Darlington of the Orpheum has secured the information that Niel O'Brien's Minstrel Show will appear at the Majestic theatre at Harrisburg on Nov. 23, the night of the Bucknell-Gettysburg game in that city. The Bucknell representation will no doubt attend this performance in a body.

PHILADELPHIA ALUMNAE CLUB HOLDS MEETING

WOMEN ESTABLISH VALUABLE SCHOLARSHIP AT RECENT MEETING.

The Bucknell Alumnae Club of Philadelphia held its first meeting of the year at the home of one of its members, Mrs. Willets, of Philadelphia, on Oct. 29. About fifty members, graduates and the wives of graduates of Bucknell, were present. The business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Suter, president of the club, was called at twelve o'clock noon. Among other business matters transacted was the establishment of a $1500 scholarship at Bucknell, the second to be given to the college by this active alumnae organization.

A delightful luncheon was served at one o'clock, followed by an interesting and instructive program. Mrs. Anna E. Dreisbach, of Lewisburg, who was the guest of honor, addressed the meeting on the subject of "Loyalty to Bucknell." Papers were read by Miss Groff, Mrs. Matlack, and Miss Stewart, all of Philadelphia.

LAFAYETTE PAPER COMMENTS.

The Lafayette, the weekly student publication of Lafayette college makes this impartial comment on the Bucknell-Lafayette game at Easton.

"March field was again the scene of a great disappointment for the Lafayette enthusiasts. The team was over-confident from the great victory wrested from Penn last Saturday. Bucknell, however, entered the game with but little hopes of holding their opponents to a low score, in that a great number of the'r men were crippled in the Cornell game last week.

"Bucknell fought desperately from the first. Throughout the entire game their line was a regular stone wall On the defense time after time, they completely baffled the whole Lafayette team."

GEOLOGY CLASS SEES CAVE.

Professor Davis and his class in geology went to Penn's Cave last Saturday where they studied the interesting features of cave formation. The entrance into the cave was made in boats. Acetylene lights were used and brought out beautifully the fantastic forms of the limestone formation.

PACKARD PLEASED AUDIENCE.

Packard, the Cartoonist, pleased a large house at the M. E. church last Tuesday eve. He held his audience throughout the evening with his wit and clever cartoon work.

Ex-Gov. Hoch of Kansas will give a lecture Dec. 4th. This number will be the third of the Lyceum Course.

"TO HARRISBURG" STILL THE CRY

FINAL ARRANGEMENTS MADE FOR SPECIAL TRAIN.

MANAGER DARLINGTON TO PLACE TICKETS ON SALE TO-MORROW

Round Trip Price is $1.95 to the Bucknell-Gettysburg Game.—Students and College Band to Have Marching Practice Friday.

Tickets for the special train which is to bear the Bucknell contingent to Harrisburg on Nov. 23 to witness the Bucknell-Gettysburg football game, will likely be put on sale to-morrow. The round trip fare to the Capitol City will be $1.95, at a rate of a cent and a half a mile. The rate will be stationary regardless of the number, over one hundred, of persons who make the trip. Manager Darlington of the Orpheum, with a student committee to assist him, will be in charge of the sale of tickets.

Outlook For Game.

If the work done thus far during the football season by the Bucknell and Gettysburg teams, is taken as a register of the outcome of the game between the two colleges at Harrisburg, the Orange and Blue will no doubt emerge the victor. The Gettysburg team has always had more than its share of good fortune in meeting Bucknell on the gridiron. This year, however, Coach Dickson's warriors expect to eliminate any element of luck which might result in a victory for the Gettysburg players, by running up an overwhelming number of points against their opponents. Coach Dickson will take a large squad on the trip and will no doubt make use of the special train which is to bear the Bucknell representation.

To Practice Marching.

Next Friday afternoon the varsity leaves to meet Swarthmore in one of the hardest games of the local season. Cheer-leaders Fetter, Lowther and Criswell are making the effort to go beyond the usual "send-off" on Friday and to have the student body present en masse at the station. Following the departure of the team, a parade and marching practice is to be held.

This practice is essential in order to make the marching of the Bucknell contingent at Harrisburg most effective. The full college band will lead the parade on Friday inasmuch as Concert-Meister Fahringer is eager to have that organization ready for its engagement in the Capitol City on Nov. 23. Orders have been placed for suits for the band and the members will appear for the first time in their characteristic uniforms at the Bucknell-Gettysburg game.

PICTURES EXHIBITED.

Among the pictures selected for exhibition this winter at the Wanamaker galleries in Philadelphia are two which were executed by Miss Georgiana Scott, teacher of Art at the Institute. The subjects of the two paintings, which are done in the Japanese style, are "Iris" and "Larkspur." The fact that Miss Scott's pictures have been accepted for exhibition is a high tribute to her work and ability. The exhibition opened November fifth, and will continue for several weeks.

ALUMNAE CLUB TO MEET.

The regular monthly meeting of the Bucknell Alumnae Club of Lewisburg will be held in the Institute parlors to-morrow evening at 7.30 o'clock. An interesting program has been arranged including anecdotes of Lewisburg ancestors by Miss Bates, Mrs. Shorkley, Miss Dreisbach and Mrs. Bourne. The Misses Clingan and Hopper will appear in costume in "The Song of Ye Olden Time."

NAVY SHIP SUNK.

It is with the most hearty feelings of gratitude that we noticed the foundering of the Navy ship at Annapolis, Saturday. The Bucknell squadron with impregnable zeal, upheld its remarkable capacity for victory and as Coach Dickson said at the station Friday, "brought home the bacon," which expresses well the outcome though not congrous with the figures of ships and squadrons.

THAT MEMORIAL FLAG.

Our communicant, "Vox Populi," though treating a theme of probable less universal significance than his nom de plume suggests, rightly questions the incompletion of last year's memorial gift. We are indeed able to inform "Vox Populi" of the whereabouts of his flag, and gladly at that. At this writing the flag, a magnificent big banner, is in the possession of Mr. H. F. Donehower, with whom the order was placed by last year's graduating class. Now with no definite prospects of collecting the purchase price, some $36, Mr. Donehower declines, and rightly, to deliver the goods. Meanwhile, as "Vox Populi" imparts, the gaunt steel flag pole stands unadorned and the object of its existence is nil.

OUR NEXT CELEBRATION.

Considering the signal strength of the Varsity players, another victory celebration is an entirely probable event of the future. Bon-fires have been more plentiful this year than usual, for which we are profoundly thankful, and the town and vicinity have been most thoroughly combed in the effort to secure material for these fires. With more bon-fires in view, a reasonable question is, it seems to us, where to get the wood? After two such celebrations as have had place this year, Lewisburg rubbish is not at all plentiful. The use of other than worthless inflammable material must needs result in protest and dissatisfaction on the part of local residents. Inasmuch as, in the main, Bucknell students are altogether peace-loving humans, we are certain that any rupture of the present peaceful relations with the townspeople will be entirely unwelcome to the student body. With this in view, it is well not to include the customary bon-fire in our next celebration.

STUDENTS START MISSION.

General Secretary Goehring of the Y. M. C. A. with five students of the college went to Chillisquaque on Sunday to start a mission in the small chapel located in the village. With the help of the Bucknell Quartette the first meeting was a success. It is the intention of the committee in charge to conduct a Sunday school every Sunday afternoon at 2:30 Boyer, '14, chairman of the Social Service Committee of the Y. M. C. A. will superintend the school and under his leadership good results are expected.

At present there are three missions similar to that founded at Chillisquaque last Sunday, in charge of Bucknell men. The school at "The Marsh" is led by Clarke, '15, and the classes at Judd's Chapel are superintended by Newman of Bucknell Academy.

TO OBSERVE WEEK OF PRAYER.

The International Committee of the Young Men's Christian Association of America has set aside the week of Nov. 10-17 as the week of Prayer for 1912. The Y. M. C. A. will observe the week at its meeting Thursday evening when Rev. Miller will speak and at the special meeting Sunday afternoon at 3.30 when Rev. Francis, of Sunbury, will give a talk. Both meetings will be held in the Association Hall and special music is being arranged by the committee in charge.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor The Orange and Blue:

That the gaunt steel flagpole which was erected near the entrance of the campus last spring as a memorial to the class of 1912 was intended for some other purpose than that of ornamentation is evident not only from its name, but from its appearance, for in itself it is not a thing of beauty. But why, may I ask, does it not bear on its halyard the flag of Old Bucknell which, it was understood at the time, was presented by the class of 1912 to the University, or else why do not the glorious Stars and Stripes flaunt in the autumnal zephyrs that waft over the heads of several hundred students of the truest type of American manhood?

The flag which the class of 1912 purported at the time to have purchased, was to have been a large affair bearing in large letters "Bucknell" and in one corner, in smaller characters, "1912." According to the agreement made upon its presentation it was to be unfurled at the top of the pole on all holidays, days of special celebrations, and during all athletic contests. All of us know that this has never been, and in the minds of many students is the same question as in mine, "Why?", and we patiently await the day when the great steel skeleton will bear some other ornament than the great big brass ball on its top, which glistens as a fading spark in the setting sun.

Vox Populi.

Concluded from first page.

Two more attempts at placement kick were made by Jordan, one of which the ball was placed squarely between the uprights from the 45-yard line, making the score 17 to 7, which was final. The quarter ended with the ball in the possession of Bucknell deep in Navy territory.

The score:—

NAVY.	BUCKNELL.
Vaughan	Left tackle..... Hern
Howe	Left guard..... Teamer
Perry	Center..... Schaffner
Brown	Right guard.. Richardson
Redman	Right tackle.... Dunkle
Gilchrist	Right end..... Sturgis
Rodes	Quarterback.. Cruikshank
Leonard	Left halfback.... Keiser
Ingram ...	Right halfback.... Gdaniec
Harrison	Fullback..... Shipman

Touchdowns—Sturgis, 2; Rodes. Goals from touchdowns—Jordan, 2; Brown. Goals from the field (placement)—Jordan. Substitutions—Naval Academy: Hall for Howe, Howe for Hall, Nicholls for Leonard, Failing for Ingram, Ingram for Failing, Bates for Harrison: Bucknell: Topham for Sturgis, Sturgis for Shipman. "UPPERCLASSMEN SHOULD ADD DIGNITY TO CHAPEL"

SO DECLARED THE SENIOR PRESIDENT TO THE Y. M. C. A. LAST WEEK.

Middleton, president of the present senior class, conducted the weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Thursday night. In opening the meeting, the speaker emphasized attendance at chapel services.

"The primary purpose of the Association is the religious development of its members. If it fails in this, it fails in its first duty. Every member of the Y. M. C. A. should therefore, look upon chapel attendance as one of the means of furthering this lofty purpose of the Association. Chapel should not be attended merely for the mark on the report, but for the good received therefrom. No man who is honest with himself can deny that he receives something of value from chapel attendance. You will get out of it just what you put into it. Go with the right purpose and you will receive some benefit. The only fit way for our institution to begin each day's work is by a public acknowledgement of the sovereignty of God. Upper-classmen should especially add dignity to chapel attendance. Under-classmen will follow their example."

Several other speakers treated the progress of the Association and its work and made suggestions as to how it could further its field and service.

Riley, treasurer, in a few remarks called attention to the dues. He said nothing can be done without financial support and asked that the men be ready and willing to meet this need when the committee approached them.

"Even though the interest shown this year in the Association has been good, yet there is room for improvement," said Brush, '13. "More fellows ought to attend the College Bible Class and the church services in the town. The fact that so many men regret they did not take any interest in this line of activity during their college work is proof that it is important for the all around development of the college man."

PAY BAND SUBSCRIPTIONS.

An effort is to be made to collect all the student subscriptions to the band this week. Each of the organizations has a collector and McKeague, '13, will be in charge of other collections. In order to secure the suits for the band ordered for the Harrisburg game, a large sum must be received within the next week.

John W. Clark, '09, paid the Academy a visit Saturday evening. He is now a senior in the University of Pennsylvania.

The Bellefonte game will be called on Saturday at 10 A. M. The support of all college men will be thoroughly appreciated by the members of the local team.

Prof. Wilcox and Prof. Pangburn, accompanied by seven of the students, walked to Dale's cave and back on Saturday. Dinner was cooked in the open by Prof. Wilcox and Rynkiewicz.

The Preps were defeated Saturday by Dickinson Seminary by the score of 32-0. Though outweighed on a very muddy field, the Preps were the most consistent gainers through line plays, while Dickinson Sem. was strong on end runs and forward passes. The latter proved fatal to the Preps. This week the team will be put through thorough drill by Coach Zehner for Saturday's big game with Bellefonte.

QUAKERS, LUCKY, BEAT BUCKNELL

ATURDAY'S GAME A HARD ONE TO LOSE.

'ARSITY HAD FIVE CHANCES TO WIN EXCITING CONTEST

Swarthmore Goal Line Continually Threatened But Bucknell Passes Failed and Field Goals Were Missed by Inches.

The better team did not win in the nnual Bucknell-Swarthmore game ıturday. That is the fact not only aimed by the Orange and Blue layers and adherents but acknowledged by the Quaker eleven, their oaches and the spectators. Luck, hat goddess who plays such an imortant part in all affairs of life, would not shine upon the warriors of the Orange and Blue, and the re sult was that Swarthmore received he long end of a 14-13 score.

It was a game replete with thrills nd the large crowd on the Swarthnore field was kept continually on its et by the brilliant playing of both eams. In the first half Bucknell did not appear to fight with its customary aggressiveness but in the second period it "came back" and played rings about the Garnet team, gaining much more ground and keeping he ball in the enemy's territory. Two touchdowns were made in that session but the failure to kick one of the goals gave Bucknell the smaller score. The Orange and Blue had the chance on five occasions to score and win the game, but at the opportune moment something would go wrong and the opportunity, with the ball, would be lost.

A clear crisp day, a large crowd of alumni, students, and friends cheering for both the Garnet and the Orange and Blue, and two of the fastest football teams in the country today—all united to furnish everything to be desired at a great gridiron struggle.

Although Bucknell was defeated, the Swarthmore coaches and players were a unit in saying that the best team lost, and that for a good example of losing just because of real hard luck, Bucknell would easily take the medal. Three times toward the end of the game was the ball funnelled by Bucknell players in back of Swarthmore goal on attempted forward passes; twice did Jordan kick field goals by less than six inches. Bucknell gained more ground and played far more consistent football than did Swarthmore. The Garnet made very few first downs after the first half, while the Orange and Blue pushed the ball almost at will in the last half of the game. For Swarthmore, the stars of the game were Gregg, the Garnet captain and right-halfback, who made most of the ground for his team, and Cline, whose wonderful kicking staved off several Bucknell touchdowns. The Orange and Blue team played consistent football throughout, Topham and Jordan playing especially brilliant games. The backfield, which was not very strong on the defense in the first half, came back strong in the second, and Swarthmore could not get within thirty yards of the Bucknell goal with the ball in their possession.

Over 75 of the loyal alumni, students, and friends of Bucknell were on the game to cheer on the team, and their support added much to the fine showing of Bucknell. On Friday night the alumni of Philadelphia to show their appreciation of the team that could outplay what is considered by many to be one of the best teams on the gridiron this year entertained the members of the team and at the Forrest Theatre, Philadelphia, where the Pink Lady was played.

First Quarter.

Swarthmore won the toss, and Cline started the game by kicking the ball over the Bucknell goal line from the kick-off. During the first ten minutes of play the ball was kept near the centre of the field. Two pretty tackles by Gieg and Melick forced Topham to call for a punt. The ball was blocked by Melick, and Durburow, receiving it, ran 50 yards for a touchdown. MacKissick kicked the goal.

Second Quarter.

In the second quarter, after the ball had been see-sawing back and forth for some time, Bucknell advanced it to Swarthmore's two-yard line. On the next play it was advanced a yard, but there the Swarthmore defense stiffened and the ball was lost on downs. Swarthmore, by a series of forward passes and line plunges, rushed the pigskin to the Bucknell 20-yard line, where a forward pass enabled Cline to put the ball over the line for the Garnet's second and last touchdown. The half ended with the ball near midfield and the score 14-0 in the Quaker's favor.

Third Quarter.

In the third quarter the Orange and Blue team, filled with the determination that brings success, came back with a rush and played Swarthmore off their feet. During the remainder

WINTER SEASON TO BEGIN WITH FANCY DRESS BALL

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION TO BENEFIT BY A COMING NOVEL EVENT.

What promises to be the most novel event of the coming winter season at Bucknell will be the fancy dress ball in the Lewisburg Armory on Friday evening, January 10. The Athletic Association of the college is to benefit by this event.

Arrangements for the ball are as yet in the making. The Bucknell Band of twenty-one pieces will furnish the music. Concert-Meister Fahringer and the other authorities of the band will order the latest dance music at once for the ball and will begin work on an attractive program.

Prof. Griffith and a student committee are to take charge of the arrangements for next term's ball. A prize will be given for the most unique and original costume and other features will characterize the event.

SUN PAYS TRIBUTE TO TEAM.

The Baltimore Sun commented on the Navy game as follows:—"Bucknell is the greatest machine that has played the Navy in years. They are little but oh! my! Navy can consider themselves lucky to get away with such a low score defeat."

STUDENTS NOW TO REGISTER REGARD

TO FOLLOW TEAM TO-NIGHT IN BIG PARADE.

HARRISBURG TRIP NOW MORE POPULAR THAN EVER

Saturday's Remarkable Game With Swarthmore Has Tended to Increase Interest in the Bucknell-Gettysburg Game This Week.

Out of deference to the 'varsity players and as a partial recognition of their admirable work during the present football season and in Saturday's game in particular, the student body will assemble this evening at seven o'clock before the Lewisburg postoffice and will march in a mammoth parade to be headed by the college band. The 'varsity are to proceed the parade in automobiles

At the time of writing, the plans for this evening's event are incomplete. Following the story of Saturday's game from the lips of several of the deservedly victorious team and a final report by Manager Darlington of the Orpheum on the Harrisburg trip of Friday this week, the student-body will march to the "old college on the Hill" where the parade will disband. It will not be an event of long duration or as pretentious as the jubilee bon-fire, which would now be entirely out of keeping with the disappointment of the 'varsity players, but it will be an impressive register of the regard of the student-body for an effort, though not ultimately successful, yet of sufficient whole-heartedness to gainsay defeat.

With Saturday's wonderful game now a matter of reflection, the attention of the student-body is being centered on its exodus from Lewisburg town the coming Saturday. Instead of creating the apathy which sometimes follows an expected or even an unexpected defeat, as certainly was Saturday's, the outcome of the Swarthmore game has tended to heighten the enthusiasm of Bucknell men to proceed in a body to Harrisburg and there to see their team in action which is drawing such favorable comment from the athletic press of the country. Disinterest is now strictly not in vogue at Bucknell.

TEAM HAS TRAVELED FAR.

To date Bucknell has traveled over 2000 miles on the five trips which it has taken. When the season is over the total will be close to 3000 miles or equal to the distance from New York City to San Francisco.

THE NEW PHI KAPPA PSI FRATERNITY HOUSE.

The local chapter of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity purchased the Wolfe residence on Third Street from the Lewisburg Trust and Safe Deposit Company last Friday. The house will be vacated April 1, but owing to proposed improvements both on the interior and the exterior of the building, the fraternity will not occupy its new home until the latter part of May. The residence was built by Charles S. Wolfe, '66, a member of the fraternity at a cost of $32,000.

ALPHA SIGMAS ENTERTAIN.

The Alpha Sigma Literary Fraternity entertained a number of town and out of town girls at an informal reception on Friday evening last. Refreshments were served in the rooms which were decorated in fraternity and Bucknell colors.

HARRISBURG READY FOR GAME.

Harrisburg on Nov. 23 will present a gay appearance according to the papers of that city. Immense streamers advertising the Bucknell-Gettysburg game on that date are displayed on a number of the streets of the Capitol city.

BAND SUBSCRIPTIONS DUE.

In order to assure the presence of the Bucknell Band at Harrisburg next Saturday it is necessary that all students who have subscribed to the fund for the benefit of the college band pay at once. The suits for the band are expected on Wednesday of this week.

BAND ADMITTED TO GAME.

The local athletic association which has been corresponding with the Gettysburg management concerning the free admittance of the bands of both colleges to the Bucknell-Gettysburg game, received a favorable reply to-day.

REV. FRANCIS DELIVERS INTERESTING ADDRESS

POINTS OUT SOME IMPORTANT ELEMENTS IN CHARACTER BUILDING.

Rev. Francis, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Sunbury, gave a very helpful address before the Y. M. C. A. last Sunday afternoon. Rev. Francis took as his subject "Character Building" or "The Foundation One Should Lay for Life." By a very forceful illustration the speaker showed how important it is that the foundation which is to support a great superstructure shall be properly laid.

One of the first and most important things to be included in the foundation, he said, is faith in religion. "Stick to the faith of your parents. Don't allow yourself to be thrown off by any one's skepticism. Have faith in the right and then have courage to live up to it. The greatest blessing God has ever bestowed on the world is a man—a man game enough to stand for his convictions. Such a man was Jesus Christ." Another element which should go into every character is courtesy. It always pays to be courteous. Courtcousness should not be confused with politeness for the former is an inborn quality while the latter is merely a cultivated outward thing.

Cheerfulness is also a valuable attribute of character. The world is irresistably drawn to a cheerful man. Moral cleaness is another essential of a good character foundation. The crowning and unifying element in a good character foundation should be consecration. Humanity needs more consecrated men.

QUAKERS DO NOT CELEBRATE

The Swarthmore students, although wild over the victory felt somewhat sadly impressed at Bucknell's vain attempt to win. There was no great rejoicing after the game as is the custom there. The students marched but once around the field headed by their band, and then quietly dispersed.

ALUMNI CHEERED HARD.

It is said that the old Bucknell men who attended the Swarthmore game did not know any of the yells but the "Bucknell-el-el". This they gave with all the old spirit behind it. Worrilow, '14, who attended the game was cheer leader for the Bucknell section.

"She Would Be a Widow" in the gymnasium on Thursday night.

Y. W. C. A. OBSERVED WEEK OF PRAYER

MISSIONS SUBJECT OF PRAYER THROUGHOUT WORLD.

LOCAL ORGANIZATION HELD MEETING EVERY NIGHT

The Various Phases of Missionary Work in Different Parts of the World Treated by Interesting Speakers at Woman's College.

The week just passed was regarded throughout the Christian world as the week of prayer for missions and was observed by the local Y. W. C. A. at the Woman's College.

Last Sunday evening, Rachel Davis, the president of the organization, began the week when she took charge of the regular Sunday evening song service. She read a paper, "The Spirit of Womanhood," and explained the purpose of the world-wide movement by pointing out the spread of Christianity everywhere.

The following evening Miss Sayenga told of the work of the Y. W. C. A. in Africa.

The regular meeting Tuesday evening was in charge of Ruth Lennington. Her topic was "Missions in America." She was assisted by Rachel Davis, who spoke of the need of missions among the rural population. Miss Sayenga told of the problem of the city.

The services in the schoolroom on Wednesday were omitted in order to give the girls an opportunity to hear the talk on the Mexicans by Miss Hayes in the Presbyterian church. She pointed out the fact that there are many people here in the United States who cannot speak the language. These are Mexicans who have settled in New Mexico and the surrounding district. The need of teachers for these people is pressing for the presence of these foreigners might be a menace to the country.

Miss Hayes addressed the girls on Tuesday evening in the schoolroom. She gave a brief survey of conditions in Utah, Alaska and several other districts in the far west. Her appeal was to the college girls for help in meeting this vast field for missionary activity. Miss Hayes impressed all with her personality and the imperativeness of her words.

Mable Boyer led the meeting on Friday evening. She discussed conditions in Russia and showed the work that the Y. W. C. A. is doing there. A considerable portion of the time was taken up in prayer, a very fitting culmination of the week's meetings.

SOPHOMORES OUTCLASSED IN ANNUAL INTER-CLASS GAME

FRESHMAN BACKFIELD PROVES TO BE EXCELLENT SCORING MACHINE.

The annual Sophomore-Freshman game on the campus Saturday afternoon resulted in an overwhelming defeat for the second-year men by the score of 34-0. Only once during the entire game was the Freshman goal in danger.

The stars of the game were Gubbin, Glass, Luckens, Becker and Corrin for the Freshmen and Samuels, Whittam, Rossin and Smith for the Sophomores.

THAT SWARTHMORE DEFEAT.

We have always endeavored to give athletic contests an impartial treatment in our columns and in to-day's story of the Bucknell-Swarthmore game we have continued our endeavor toward fairness. In bringing to the front the regreatable features of Saturday's game it has not been our intention to excuse defeat but rather to assert our righteous superiority.

"BOOSTER" IS RIGHT.

In an editorial "Competitive Managerships" of Oct. 28, we preceeded our communicant "Booster" in advocating the choice by means of an honest competition of the managers for athletic teams at the college. We then said, in short, that such a system would place a premium upon capability and willingness to serve and what is more important would guarantee satisfaction to all the students in the choice of managers. With "Booster" we dislike to think of any other than the best method of choice of athletic managers at Bucknell for reasons entirely upon the surface.

OF WHICH WE ARE PROUD.

The incident in the dining room at Swarthmore when the matron approached Captain Jordan of the 'varsity squad before the departure of the team for Philadelphia after the game, saying without solicitation that the Bucknell players were the most gentlemanly in their actions seen at Swarthmore this year, certainly confirms the pride of the student body in the team. The Bucknell men in their turn report the most courteous treatment during their stay at the Quaker institution.

A MESSAGE FROM KANSAS.

Ex-Gov. E. W. Hoch, of Kansas, who will appear in Lewisburg on Wednesday evening, December 4th, besides being one of the most eloquent men on the lecture platform, has behind him a wonderful record.

Drastic measures are being used at the University of North Carolina to stamp out hazing. The action results from the death of a student who fell and cut an artery while being hazed.

Statistics compiled by the United States Bureau of Education show that there were 4556 foreigners enrolled as regular students in the universities of the United States during the year 1911-1912.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor Orange and Blue:

Another Bucknell Election Day is drawing near and the question naturally arises:—How are we going to elect a manager? In practically every up-to-date college in the country the Competitive System is in vogue and is working successfully. Why can't Bucknell have the same System of electing it's managers?

When factions control politics, college spirit is broken-up and the fraternity is placed before the Alma Mater. Isn't it breaking all laws of common horse sense when men belittle themselves by pushing the true college life in the back-ground because of prejudice and factional spirit? The arguments for Competitive System are many but the two following ones are most important: (a) The best man gets the job; the man earnest in his work, true to his college and a representative of the whole student body; (b) Alma Mater is considered first above any faction or fraternity.

A Booster.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor Orange and Blue:—

It is almost the universal opinion of the students of the students of the college that the Bucknell Trophy room in Main College should be thrown open to the students. The trophies and other articles in this room are the common property of the college, not to be placed under lock and key. Why, then, may we not have this room put in suitable condition and opened to the free inspection of all who may care to see the things that are there?

Student.

of the game the, Garnet was powerless before the array of fierce line plunges and forward passes by the Orange and Blue. By a series of line bucks the ball was rushed from the Bucknell 30-yard line to the Swarthmore goal for a touchdown. Jordan failed to kick the goal.

Then began some of the most exciting and heart-rending football that has ever been seen on any gridiron. The Orange and Blue rushed the ball almost at will, but at the crucial moment something would go wrong and the ball revert to the other side. Three times was the ball advanced to within 18 yards of the Quaker goalposts, and each time forward passes thrown to Bucknell men beyond the goal line were unsuccessful.

Fourth Quarter.

The fourth quarter was practically a repetition of the third. In a short time, by receiving a forward pass, Sturgis scored a second touchdown for Bucknell and Jordan, by kicking the goal, brought the score up to 14-13.

After the kick-off to the Garnet, who soon were forced to punt, Jordan made 20 yards on a forward pass and then attempted a placement kick. The ball hit the cross arm of the goal posts and bounded back into the field. The ball was put in play on the 20-yard line. Geig hit the line for a gain and Clime slipped through for 25 yards. Bucknell then held for downs and when forced to punt Dunkle recovered the ball near the 30-yard line. Jordan then tried another field goal but missed it by inches. Time was called when Swarthmore recovered a punt on the Bucknell 30-yard line.

HILL GOSSIP

A mass meeting will be held between the acts of "She Would Be a Widow," Thursday evening.

Every newspaper that comments on the Bucknell-Swarthmore game says that Bucknell played rings around the Garnet team.

A cast of college men will give a playet "She Would Be a Widow" in the Tustin Gymnasium this Thursday evening at 8 o'clock.

Trainer Coughnour said Saturday.—"The machine was well oiled and not a slip occurred during the entire game, only luck was against us."

That "jinx" that followed the Phillies around last year must have taken a trip to Swarthmore on Saturday and acted as mascot for Bucknell.

It is said that after the Swarthmore game in the Bucknell dressing room there was not an Orange and Blue player who did not have tears in his eyes.

Coach Brook of Swarthmore said after the game "the team that deserved the victory did not win. Bucknell has a remarkable team and should have won without a doubt."

It is rumored that Swarthmore would consider an offer equal to Bucknell's guarantee at Swarthmore, to play on the Bucknell campus the Saturday after Thanksgiving.

The Bucknell game was considered the big game of the year on Whittier field. At all other games, including Lehigh, the admission price was fifty cents. For Saturday's game the admission price was one dollar.

Old Bucknell men as well as the students who attended Saturday's game were tearful when Jordan's placement kick hit the upright, bounded over on the cross bar, and then fell back into the playing field.

Among the Bucknell Alumni who witnessed the Swarthmore game Saturday were: Frendenberger '01; Baker, '11; Farquhar, '12; Waltz, '12; Nicely, ex-'14; Tyson, ex-'14; Crawford, ex-'14; Francis, ex-'14; Hean, '12; Leiser, '09.

The following students made the trip to Swarthmore and saw the game there Saturday: Glover, '13, Whitz, '13, Markle, '14, Fulmer, '14, Cathrall, '14, Golightly, '14, Worrilow, '14, Coughnour, '15, and Thompson, '15.

The following is from the Pittsburgh Gazette Times of Sunday Nov. 10:—Maybe there were extenuating features to the defeat of Pitt at the hands of Bucknell after all. Bucknell beat Navy 17-7 and last Saturday tied with Lafayette though crippled at the time. The early hullaballoo about Pitt's 1912 outlook came with the Bucknell setback, but succeeding events have proved that Bucknell was among the worthiest foes on the Blue and Gold schedule this season.

The football team plays their last game of the season with Sunbury High school at Sunbury on Saturday.

The feature of the Literary Society on Friday evening was the debate. The subject discussed was "Should Capital Punishment be Abolished." The negative side won.

J. L. Davis has returned to school after several days absence occasioned by illness. While home he was injured by having some hot lead blown into his face.

The members of the football team and all the students of the Academy want to express their hearty appreciation to all the college men for their earnest support at the Bellefonte game on Saturday. This kind of support gave fighting spirit to the team and it was only through hard luck that the victory was not brought back to the dear old Orange and Blue.

Although outplayed at every point of the game, the heavy Bellefonte Academy team managed to nose out the local academy team from a well-earned victory when Decker, the heavy Bellefonte fullback broke loose and ran half the length of the field for a touchdown. Twice during the game the Bucknell team was within striking distance of the Bellefonte goal, once during the first quarter when they were held for downs on the latter's three yard line and again in the last half when the call for time prevented a score.

In the second quarter Bellefonte rushed the ball to the local three yard line where they were held for downs. Bucknell scored first in the third quarter when Sullivan, their clever quarterback, kicked a field goal from the twenty yard line. Bellefonte scored in the third quarter following a pretty end run. Both teams scored a touchdown in the final period. Bucknell as a result of consistent ground gaining and Bellefonte when Decker broke loose for his big run. With but a few minutes to play, the local team marched down the field, bewildering their heavy opponent by a series of forward passes, and were only prevented from a score by the call of time.

For the preps Sullivan was easily the star although the entire team played football to a man. The fact that they gained twice as much ground as did Bellefonte speaks for the superiority of the local men. The final score was 14-10.

GETTYSBURG GAME EASY VICTORY

BATTLE-FIELD ELEVEN OUTPLAYED BY SPEEDY 'VARSITY.

MANY STUDENTS AND ALUMNI WITNESS HARRISBURG GAME

Spectators Mark Wonderful Speed and Playing of Fullback Topham.—Bucknell Bewilders Opponents by Fast, Open Play.

Encouraged by the plaudits of half a thousand fellow students, alumni and friends the 'Varsity easily defeated Gettysburg Saturday at Island Park, Harrisburg, by the score of 35 to 0. Successful forward passes, telling line plunges and brilliant end runs figured conspicuously in the victory.

It was a gay and noisy trainload of Bucknell students and supporters that rolled in to the Capitol city on Saturday morning and which, a few minutes later paraded through the principal thorofares, headed by the college band, resplendent in their new blazer coats and hats. Everywhere along the line of march the cheering, prancing contingent was greeted with cheers. The parade terminated at the Columbus hotel, which the 'varsity made its headquarters.

Island Park was the chosen field of battle and over two thousand gaily dressed followers of the game were assembled in the stands before the opening whistle sounded. The South bleachers, nearest to the playing field, were occupied by the Bucknell adherents, and a noisy crowd it was, joining vehemently in the cheers as led by cheerleaders Fetter, Criswell and Lowther. In the large stand across the field was the Gettysburg student body, which also journeyed to Harrisburg in a special train. The bands of the two schools were stationed in their respective stands and vied with each other throughout the afternoon in discoursing martial strains.

The Bucknell following assembled at the Columbus hotel at 2 o'clock and marched to the field, arriving first. When the Gettysburg students paraded into the grounds and across the field they were welcomed with several cheers.

Bucknell took the field first at exactly 2.55, the second team preceeding the 'varsity and running through signals for several minutes before the appearance of the Orange and Blue warriors. Both teams were greeted with wild cheering. Gettysburg followed shortly after. It was immediately apparent that both teams were about an equal physical match although the Battle-field collegians seemed to have the advantage of a heavier backfield.

From the very kickoff Bucknell played with a determination and fighting spirit that could not be denied. Every man played without an ounce of reserve, intent on piling up a big score against the ancient rival. "Tip" Topham was easily the star of the game, his work at times bordering on the sensational. Time after time he circled the opposing ends for long gains, running like a deer and dodging those who sought to interrupt his progress, with the agility of the same animal. "Tip's" punting was also of a high order. Captain Jordan and Sturgis played whirlwind games at ends. The latter had the misfortune to have his shoulder bruised in the first play of the game but remained in the fray with bulldog tenacity until the end of the period, during which time he had received a long forward pass and dashed over the goal line for Bucknell's second touchdown. Half backs Keiser and Gdaniec played their usual stellar games on both the offense and defense and demonstrated the important parts they play in one of the fastest backfields in the East. To Cruikshank belongs the honor of being the "Generalissimo" of the victorious eleven for it was he who directed and called the plays and his skill in throwing forward passes that were directly responsible for several touchdowns. Too much cannot be said in praise of the linemen for it was they who opened the holes through which the Orange and Blue backs plunged for long and repeated gains and it was they who formed the bulwark that was practically impregnable to the Gettysburg onslaughts.

First Quarter.

Gettysburg won the toss and Captain Jordan kicked off. On the third play Bucknell recovered a fumble and after a series of rushes advanced to the Gettysburg 35 yard line. Topham made 5 yards around the end and then Cruikshank passed the ball to Jordan who made 20 yards before being downed. Several rushes brought the ball close to the goal line and Cruikshank went through for the first touchdown, exactly four minutes after the game started. Jordan kicked goal. Sturgis received the kick-off and after several first downs had been made he took the ball on a cross-buck and ran 40-yards for a touchdown, in spite of the fact that his shoulder had been

PITTSBURGH ALUMNI ARE PREPARING GREAT BANQUET

GRADS WILL ENTERTAIN VARSITY AT FORT PITT HOTEL THANKSGIVING DAY.

There have been banquets and banquets for winning Bucknell teams but the reception and banquet being arranged by the Pittsburgh Alumni Association Thanksgiving night bids fair to be the event par excellence of its kind. The entire Alumni body of the Smoky City, according to a letter received last week from Abraham, '10, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the event, is entering with wholehearted interest into the banquet.

The banquet proper will be held at the Fort Pitt hotel at 8.00 o'clock Thursday evening, following the game with the strong Washington and Jefferson team in the afternoon. Notices were sent last Wednesday to two hundred and fifty persons and many replies have been received assuring a crowd of between fifty and a hundred persons.

In the afternoon many of the alumni will attend the game at Washington, Pa., for which place a train leaves the Union Station of Pittsburgh at 10:50 A. M. A special section has been reserved for the Bucknell contigent at the game.

Lewisburg people who attend the banquet at Pittsburgh Thursday should send their names at once to P. J. Abraham, 824 Wallace Ave., Wilkinsburg, Pa.

W. & J. EXPECTS HARD GAME.

According to word received from P. J. Abraham, '10, last week, W. and J. expects next Thursday's game with Bucknell to be a hard one. Mr. Abraham said: "Quite a crowd saw W. & J. play Pitt last Saturday and while it must be admitted that W & J. has a fast bunch, yet they feel that they must put forth their best efforts if they want to beat Bucknell. I have talked to several W. & J. fellows and they say that their fellows are expecting it to be the hardest game on their schedule."

PAN HELLENIC DANCE SOON.

The annual Pan Hellenic Dance this year will be held Dec. 6. An earlier date had been set but it was postponed in order to give the football men a chance to be present. The Grange orchestra of Muncy will furnish the music. The committee is as follows: Parmeter, Bliss, Criswell, Still and Lyon.

BIOLOGY COURSE FOR TEACHERS

SECOND COURSE OFFERED IN THIS DEPARTMENT.

OBJECT TO LEARN ORDER OF NATURE IN LIVING WORLD

Big Part of Work Requires Observation and Lewisburg Offers Material for The Study of Birds and of Botany.

(Following this article on the work of the Biology Department in preparing students for the teaching of Biology, the Orange and Blue will present another treating of the work done by Bucknell graduates in the law profession.—Editor.)

Among the many sciences that are occupied with the study of organisms there is no particular one that may properly lay exclusive claim to the name of Biology. The word is a generic term applied to a large group of biological sciences dealing with animal and plant life, all of which are alike concerned with the phenomena of life.

The general object is to learn something of the order of nature in the living world. The forms of living things are diverse. To solve the problem of the forms of living things is the aim with which the biologist of to-day comes to his work. How have living things become what they are and what are the laws which govern their forms? We inquire into the nature of the existing forms and study their structure or anatomy. We inquire into the function of the various parts or organs and study their physiology—but anatomy and physiology are really inseparable, and the distinctions between them have largely disappeared.

The rapid progress of discovery in the last few years has created a very general interest in biological problems and the investigator by observation, experiment and comparison is trying to gain a better understanding of the living organism, whether regarded as a group of existing phenomena or as a product of evolution. The "kinship" of life is studied in its various aspects.

The motive of science is to regulate man's conduct. His relation to animals and plants is ever before us. Birds and their relations to man—insects and their relations to man—micro-organisms and their relations to man. The inter-relations of all these show us that man is the one of many. The biologist of to-day views these problems as something about which he is deeply concerned. These relations have been in operation since life began.

And the laws of life are valid throughout the living world. The same laws control the life processes of man, those of the lower animals, and those of the plants. The general phenomena of life are the same in all organisms, assimilation, growth, differentiation, metabolism, inheritance, and variation. We try to find out the causes of growth—the causes of differentiation,—the causes of variation. Intrinsic and extensive causes are studied and compared.

As far as possible, in the laboratory work, knowledge is gained by direct observation. Drawing constitutes a very important part of the records kept. In the study of specimens we have something that we may see and touch. It is not enough to study a book alone; this may be an aid, but the specimen is, after all, the main thing. Louis Agassiz, the famous naturalist, said "study nature, not books." In Biology the great "out of doors" makes the most useful field of work.

For the study of birds there is no better place in the United States than in and around Lewisburg. Neither too far north nor south, but in direct line to get the spring and fall migrations. Shore birds are in great abundance along the Susquehanna.

In Botany an abundance of material is always at hand, and trips are made each week into the surrounding country.

Bucknell has graduates teaching Biology in High Schools, Normal Schools and in Colleges. The demand for good teachers of Biology is steadily increasing.

BAND THANKFUL FOR SUITS.

The band is generally grateful to the student body for the new uniforms, worn for the first time last week, which were purchased as a result of the collective gift of the students, managed by the Orange and Blue. Concert-Meister Fahringer of the band, in behalf of his organization, wishes to express thanks to the students and other contributors.

STUDENT BODY IN PICTURE.

A panorama of the entire student body of the college, including all the buildings of the quadrangle, was taken Friday, by a photographer who is seeking like views from all the principal colleges. Dr. Harris ordered classes excused for the occasion. The picture will be put on sale at an early date.

REV. HALL, ALUMNUS, IN CHARGE OF COLPORTAGE BOAT

CRAFT TO PLY ABOUT COOS BAY, OREGON, AND WILL FILL LONG-FELT WANT.

The Baptist Publication Society has placed Rev. G. LeRoy Hall, '07, in charge of the new Baptist Colportage boat, which is to cover the isolated districts about Coos Bay in Oregon. The colportage boat is a new idea and is intended to take the place of the colportage wagon which has been found impracticable in that part of the state. Roads are practically unknown in this country and all traveling and transportation is on the waterways tributary to Coos Bay and the Coquille River. Due to the obstacles to travel there are no churches or Sunday schools for miles, and the boat will fill a long-felt need.

The greater part of the money needed for the purchase and up-keep of the boat was pledged by members of the Marshfield Baptist church, where Rev. Hall has been serving as pastor. The lumber was furnished by two lumber companies in the vicinity. Complete, it will cost about $3,000. It will be a modern craft in every respect, fitted both for the convenience of Rev. Hall and his family and to accommodate neighborhood meetings, which will make it a welcome visitor in whatever waterways it may ply.

UTAH TRIES COMPETITION.

The Utah university weekly comments as follows on a competition recently inaugurated there:

"This year for the first time Utah is trying a competitive managing system. Instead of an assistant athletic manager, appointed on recommendation, and duly inheriting the coveted position of manager in the following year, a system whereby two qualified juniors compete in the office of assistant manager for one year, the responsibility and honor of the big job going to the man who shows greater ability and interest.

"Apparently this system is by no means extensive; in fact a glance at the copious methods in the bigger colleges emphasizes the simplicity of a two-man one-year competition. The move is, however, undoubtedly a forward stride. It is bringing encouraging results. From all indications it will eventually mean an extensive elimination system of competition subject to strict requirements, embracing a big field, and starting in the sophomore year. The value of competition in such branches and its various forms opens a big field for thought and action."

STUDENT PLAY WELL RECEIVED

"SHE WOULD BE A WIDOW" PRESENTED THURSDAY NIGHT.

PROCEEDS OF PLAY TO GO TO Y. M. C. A. AND DRAMATIC CLUBS

Lowther, Michael and Richards in Prominent Roles Make Favorable Impression.—College Band Assists In Well-Rounded Program.

Sixteen Bucknell men, as the caste of the farce-comedy, "She Would Be a Widow", made a quite favorable impression before a good-sized audience in the Tustin Gymnasium last Thursday evening. Miss Schillinger of the Dramatic Department coached the players and considering the short period in which the play was in the making her efforts met with the usual success. The Bucknell Band of twenty-one pieces and Edgar Campbell who recited well "Mr. Dooley Talks on Football", assisted in the program.

The play itself has an interesting plot and the many laughable situations were well brought out by the cast. Lowther, '14, acting as Benjamin Butternut, did real well in his role as an invalid and scored frequent laughter from his audience. Michael, '15, as the widow, played a good second to Lowther and received favorable comment. Richards, '15, and other members of the cast acted well.

The Bucknell Band which appeared for the first time this year in the uniforms purchased from the fund recently subscribed by the student body, made a great impression. The program arranged by Band-Master Fahringer was always received with applause.

The proceeds of "She Would Be a Widow", as announced will be given to the Y. M. C. A. and the Dramatic Club. Secretary Goehring of the former and a student committee succeeded in turning the gymnasium into a comfortable play-house, with the probable result that the gymnasium will in the future take the place of Commencement Hall as the scene of student plays.

The program and the caste of the play were as follows:

Benjamin Butternut, an unworthy plumber, W. C. Lowther
Dr. Phelix Syrup, a good-for-nothing physician J. R. Cook
Willie Goodfellow, Geo. Fanshaw's ardent lover who gets left, W. J. Jeffries

MORE CAUSE FOR PRIDE.

The words of Station Agent Huling of the Pennsylvania R. R., to the effect that the railroad authorities consider the Bucknell contingent the most orderly football crowd handled by them this year, speaks better than anything else for the bearing of the Bucknell student body as a whole. Harrisburg people expressed a like opinion.

TO HEAR FROM COLLEGES.

In order to inform Bucknell students of election systems and student customs at other colleges, we are now engaged in gathering such information from some of the leading colleges of the East. In the near future several special articles, one on the working of the competitive system for choice of athletic managers and a second treating of student usages at these colleges, will appear in this paper.

BAND FUND NOW COMPLETED.

The band fund which has been raised by subscription on the part of the student body, has now practically reached completion. As yet a number of collections are to be made but it is expected that the last of the sums pledged will be paid before the Thanksgiving vacation this week.

As a result of large expenditures for the band's uniforms and the Harrisburg trip, the band fund is now depleted and it is necessary that the organization realize all its assets. With this in mind it is hoped that pledges will be paid at once.

Subscriptions to the band fund additional to those already published are as follows:

GETTYSBURG GAME EASY VICTORY.

injured earlier in the game. Jordan kicked goal, Keiser received the next kick-off and soon made 10-yards through the line. Gdaniec followed with two gains of 5 and 7 yards. Jordan then tore off ten, after which Cruikshank made a long forward pass to Sturgis who drew it in with one arm and raced over the line for another touchdown. Gettysburg secured possession of the ball for the first time when Topham was forced to punt, and they made one first down before the period ended.

Second Period.

After an exchange of punts Bucknell regained the ball and attempted several passes that failed. Both teams suffered several penalities in this period, the Orange and Blue being usually accused of having more than one man in motion when the ball was put in play. Gdaniec tore off 10 yards through the line and another gain of 7 yards on a fake kick. Jordan bucked the line for two gains netting 10 yards. Several passes were attempted, the last of which was intercepted by Gettysburg on their own 20 yard line. Bucknell held and Hoar punted to Cruikshank. Three more unsuccessful passes were made by Bucknell before intermission was called.

Third Period.

Bucknell received the kick-off and Topham followed with a beautiful run to Gettysburg's 45 yard line. Jordan ripped through for 10 yards when Bucknell was penalized 25 yards. A long pass to Topham netted 30 yards and first down. Jordan tried a placement kick that was blocked. "Tip" recovering for a 30 yard loss. Gettysburg secured the ball on downs but was forced to punt. A pretty pass to Topham advanced the ball 20 yards, and another to the same player netted 5 yards more. A costly fumble gave the ball to the opponents who had it on their own 20 yard line when the quarter ended.

Fourth Quarter.

Gettysburg was forced to punt, Cruikshank receiving. A pass from Cruikshank to Topham put the ball on the 25-yard line after which Keiser made three yards and a forward pass put Bucknell on the 3 yard line. After three rushes Keiser took the ball over for the fourth touchdown Jordan kicked the goal. Score: 28 to 0. On the next kick-off Gdaniec returned the ball 10 yards. Topham then circled the end for 25 yards and then advanced to the 35 yard line on a forward pass. Jordan then pulled down a high pass and planted the oval on the four yard line. A penalty lengthened the distance five yards but a successful pass to Topham sent him over the line for the last touchdown of the game. Jordan kicked goal.

Jordan kicked over the goal line and play was begun on the 20 yard line. Bucknell held and Gettysburg was forced to punt from behind their own goal line. The first attempt to kick was blocked by Reading but the second trial sent the ball to Topham. "Tip" then made 20 yards on a pass, and soon tried a drop kick from the 35 yard line which went a short distance wide of its mark. Gettysburg was being thrown for losses on its own 20 yard line when the game was called. Score: Bucknell 35—Gettysburg 0.

EX-GOV. HOCH HERE SOON.

Ex-Gov. E. W. Hoch, of Kansas, will appear in Lewisburg next Wednesday evening, December 4, as one of the foremost numbers of the Lyceum course. While governor of Kansas, Mr. Hoch accomplished many needed and talked of reforms.

The following are some of the things which he accomplished while governor of his state.:

1. Oil legislation which has made possible in three years the establishment of nineteen successful independent oil refineries, where only one nearly bankrupt institution existed before, and an annual saving of one million dollars to the consumers of coal oil alone in Kansas.

2. An entire change of management in state institutions, putting them on a civil service business basis, resulting in wonderful increase in their efficiency.

3. The enactment of a series of railroad laws unequalled in number perhaps, and in far reaching effectiveness by the laws of any other state.

4. A fine state printing plant, complete, the cost of which (one-hundred thousand dollars) has already been saved.

5. A depository law for state funds, yielding nearly two thousand dollars per month to the state.

6. An anti-pass law.

7. A drastic pure food law.

8. A radical change in assessment and taxation laws.

9. A judicial parole law that will restore many adult offenders to good citizenship.

10. A juvenile court law that is saving many incorrigible boys and girls from jail stains and criminal careers.

11. The enforcement of the prohibitory law, which has made Kansas the freest from saloons and the soberest, as it is the most prosperous, state in the Union.

12. Two cent railroad fare.

13. A state-wide primary election law.

14. Valuable amendments to banking laws.

BUCKNELL BIG ATTRACTION.

The Washington Daily Reporter of Washington, Pa., points to the Bucknell-W. and J. game there on Thanksgiving day as the premier football attraction of Western Pennsylvania. The Reporter says: "The premier football attraction of Western Pennsylvania on Thanksgiving Day will be staged in Washington when Washington and Jefferson college and the Bucknell university football teams clash and indications are this contest will draw a crowd.

"Bucknell has a great following in Pittsburgh and the graduates of the university located at Lewisburg are making arrangements to have a special section of seats reserved for them."

ACADEMY NEWS

Hayes and Heckert spent the week end at home.

McHenry and Steele accompanied the team to Sunbury Saturday.

Danowski, Seipel, Johnson, Prof. Pangburn, Dunkle and Weber Gerhart went to Harrisburg Saturday.

A. C. Conner, college, '12, now professor of mathematics in Berwick visited his brother J. M. Conner Sunday.

Sullivan sprained his ankle last week while scrimmaging with the varsity scrubs.

The Y. M. C. A. was addressed by Prof. Perrine on Wednesday evening. It was well attended and his address was much appreciated.

The Literary Society Friday evening offered a most excellent program. The feature was a Thanksgiving story, told by Prof. Pangburn.

Yeaton, Harris, Caballe, Lewis, McConnell and Prof. Wilcox walked to the top of Montour ridge. Caballe enlivened the trip by taking a swim in Chillisquaque creek.

With a patched-up team the Preps met the Sunbury High School eleven on Saturday and were defeated by a score of 19 to 14. In the first quarter the Preps took the ball down the field with great speed and scored the first touchdown, while Sunbury scored two in the second quarter. In the fourth quarter the Preps scored another touchdown, thus making the score 14 to 13 in their favor. Then Sunbury managed to score another touchdown on a forward pass. With five minutes to play the Preps marched down the field bewildering their opponents by a series of forward passes but lost the ball by a fumble on Sunbury's five yard line. The game ended with the ball in the middle of the field.

WOMEN'S COLLEGE

Louise Trescott, '16, spent the week-end in Northumberland.

Alberta Bronson, '12, was a guest at Women's College on Sunday.

Ruth Mattern, '16, spent the week-end with friends in Watsontown.

Dr. and Mrs. Harris were guests at the Woman's College at dinner on Friday.

Frances McNall will lead the Harvest Home meeting on November 26. All are invited.

Rita Bittenbender has gone to her home in Wilkes-Barre to spend the Thanksgiving vacation.

Mrs. J. L. Kalp, of Mt. Pleasant, nee Martha Wolfe, '05, and son were the guests of Miss Kalp at dinner on Friday.

Helen Eede and Marion Shivers have been sent to Princeton to represent Bucknell at the Student Volunteer Conference of the Y. W. C. A. on November 22-24 inclusive.

"Our Lives as Harmonies" was the subject of Ramona Lennington's talk on Tuesday evening at the Y. W. C. A. She compared the seven notes in music to the seven harmonies of our lives. These were ability, belief, courage, duty, energy, friendship, and godliness. Rachel Davis recited "The Jasmine Flower" to soft music and Ruth Lennington and Louise Trescott played a violin and piano duet.

DEFEAT MARKED SEASON'S CLOSE

VARSITY DID NOT PLAY WITH ITS USUAL AGGRESSIVENESS.

REMARKABLE SEASON CLOSED WITH W. & J. ON "TURKEY" DAY

Many Alumni From That Section Witnessed the Game.—Brother of Cruikshank Played for W. & J.—Bucknell Scored in the Last Period.

A defeat by the score of 22 to 7 at the hands of W. & J. college at Washington on Thanksgiving day marked the close of the Bucknell football season of 1912.

A crowd of 5,000 people witnessed the contest, including several hundred Bucknell alumni and friends now located in Western Pennsylvania, who occupied one section of the grand stand and kept up an almost continuous cheer for the Orange and Blue warriors.

The game was the most spiritless one that the Bucknell team has played this season and the men did not enter the fray with the fight and determination that characterized their work in previous games. But the accommodations given the team at Washington were not conducive to the best results. When the players arrived in the college town they found that no reservations had been made at the hotels and they were compelled to eat lunch in restaurants and then go directly to the athletic field.

Although W. & J.'s team was composed entirely of big men they had difficulty in making any consistent gains through the Orange and Blue line. End runs, however, proved to be their long suit and Bucknell was seldom able to break up the interference and tackle the runner until after he had made ten or more yards. The forward pass, which had always proven a good ground gainer for Bucknell in previous games, was the especial object of W. & J.'s attack and the frequency with which the latter team broke them up bespoke their familiarity with the plays.

Throughout the greater part of the game the ball was in the center of the field and only once, in the latter half, did Bucknell get it within striking distance of the opponent's goal. Possession of the ball was secured in the Orange and Blue's own territory and a rapid march was made down the field until in the shadow of the goal-posts, but there it was lost before the crucial punch could be delivered.

One of the features of the game was the fact that the two Cruikshank brothers were playing against each other. Frank being quarter-back for Bucknell, while Burleigh played center on the W. & J. eleven.

Washington and Jefferson started the scoring three minutes after the opening whistle blew. Bucknell received the kick-off under its goal and after several unsuccessful attempts to gain Topham stepped back over the goal line to punt. Schafner then made the first bad pass since playing center and tossed the ball over "Tip's" head. Topham fell on the ball, giving W. & J. a safety and two points. It was a peculiar play and one very seldom heard of in collegiate football. Before the period was over the Red and Black had rushed the ball down the field and sent Young over the line for a touchdown. Fleming failed to kick goal.

During the second period Bucknell took a brace and while they kept W. & J. from scoring, did not succeed in pushing the ball far enough up the field to tally.

Shortly after the third period began W. & J. rushed the ball down the field on a series of end runs and Young carried the leather over for a touchdown. Fleming kicked goal. Near the end of the session the big Red and Black team tried without success for three downs to make the necessary 10 yards when on Bucknell's 15 yard line, and then on the last down Kaufman scored on a short forward pass from Moser. Fleming kicked goal. Topham tried a field goal in this period but the ball went wide of its mark.

The seven points scored by Bucknell were made in the fourth quarter. Topham punted to Moser, who fumbled the ball. Cruikshank, of Bucknell, recovered the oval and ran 25 yards for a touchdown while the crowd of Orange and Blue rooters went wild with joy. Captain Jordan kicked the goal.

COLLEGE MACHINE SHOP RECEIVES VALUABLE GIFT

YOUNGSTOWN SHEET AND TUBE CO. DONATES STEEL PLANER TO COLLEGE.

The second vice president of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company recently presented a steel planer valued at several hundred dollars to the Bucknell machine shops. The gift came to the college through Thomas James, '16, assistant in shop work, who was in the employ of this company at its mills in Sharon, Pa., for several years before he entered Bucknell.

A machine of this kind makes a valuable addition to the equipment of this department of the shops. Work hitherto done on a shaper can be more easily handled, especially such pieces as engine bases, motor bases, tail stocks and head stocks for wood lathes. It will also make many new pieces possible and the building of larger engines and motors.

The planer arrived during the Thanksgiving vacation and already has been set up in the shops. It will be ready for use at the opening of the new term.

PAN-HELLENIC CLUB DANCES.

The second annual winter dance of the Pan-Hellenic Association occurred last Friday evening in the Lewisburg Armory. An unusually large number of out-of-town guests attended and the floor was comfortably filled. The Grange Orchestra of Muncy furnished the music. The following committee was in charge of arrangements: J. R. Criswell, Louis F. Lyne, Ralph Still, Robert Parmenter and H. H. Bliss.

J. T. BAKER GUEST AT BANQUET.

The Lewisburg Club banqueted about two hundred of its members and their guests at their club house Thursday evening and Hon. J. Thompson Baker, ex-'69, of Wildwood, N. J., was the guest of honor. Col. Wm. R. Follmer, '77, president of the club, acted as toastmaster.

MISS JOHNSON OFF TO MEXICO

GIVEN CHARMING FAREWELL BY HER FRIENDS.

BUCKNELL GRADUATE TO ENGAGE IN MISSIONARY WORK

Will be Stationed in the City of Pueblo, the Headquarters of the Missions of the Methodist Church in Mexico.—Experienced in the Work.

Miss Katerine Mott Johnson, daughter of Professor and Mrs. B. R Johnson, of Lewisburg, sailed from New York, Dec. 5, for Pueblo, Mexico, where she will engage in missionary work under the auspices of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church. Miss Johnson was tendered an impressive farewell reception by the missionary societies of Beaver Memorial church, Wednesday evening, Nov. 27.

Miss Johnson, who will enter soon upon her important mission in a distant land, was graduated from Bucknell in June, 1901, with the degree of A. B., and three years later, that of A. M. She will find little embarrassment in entering upon her new line of work, for following her graduation from Bucknell, she spent some two years in missionary work in Salt Lake City, Utah. Later Miss Johnson, while engaged in library work in the Washington, D. C., Public Library, was a resident worker at the Rosedale Mission, and as six years of her life was spent in that Denominess settlement, she is especially fitted to take up the Evangelistic work which will be assigned to her in Mexico. She is fortunate in the position assigned to her in her new field. She goes to the City of Pueblo, the headquarters of the Missions of the Methodist church in the Republic of Mexico.

ALUMNI BANQUET TEAM.

After the game Thanksgiving day at Washington, the Varsity was taken into Pittsburgh where the Bucknell Alumni Association of that city entertained the men at a banquet and reception at the Fort Pitt Hotel. The affair was a success in every detail and the team is grateful indeed to Chairman Abraham, '10, and the thirty or more alumni who were present, for their thoughtfulness and generosity. The following men were called upon by Toastmaster Wassel, '00, and responded with appropriate remarks: Abbott Bucher, Prof. Griffith, '99, Hague, '13, Captain Jordan, '13, Manager Smith, '13, Coulson, '13, and Coach "By" Dickson.

VARSITY "B'S" AWARDED AND NEXT CAPTAIN ELECTED

TWELVE MEN RECEIVE COVETED LETTER.—KEISER TO LEAD TEAM NEXT YEAR.

At a meeting of the Executive Board of the Bucknell Athletic Association Monday evening the following men were awarded the coveted Varsity "B" in football for the season of 1912: Captain Jordan, Hern, Teamer, Schafner, Richardson, Dunkle, Sturgis, Cruikshank, Gdaniec, Keiser, Topham and Reading. Smith was awarded the manager's "B."

Willmon Keiser, '15, of Mount Carmel, was elected to the captaincy of the football team for 1913 at a meeting of the Varsity football "B" men Saturday morning. Keiser's great work at half-back on the eleven this season truly earned him the honor of leading the Bucknell warriors through the conflicts on the gridiron next fall. In many of the games his work was of a sensational order and he frequently responded to his signal by tearing through the line for substantial gains. His work was especially good this season on the defensive, making him a big factor in the season's success.

Keiser prepared at Mt. Carmel high school, where he, playing beside Joe Gdaniec, his present fellow halfback, starred in football circles of that section. "Pat," as he is known on the Hill, entered Bucknell last fall and gained a permanent berth on the Varsity at once, playing a hard and consistent game throughout the season. Captain Keiser considers the prospects bright for leading one of the best teams that has ever represented Bucknell on the gridiron.

TO ELECT ATHLETIC OFFICERS.

The fall election of the Athletic Association will be held in the Tustin gymnasium, Saturday, Dec. 14, at 2.00 P. M. The following officers will be elected: President, Vice President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Assistant Manager of Football. Only those students holding a season ticket are entitled to vote.

COMPETITION MAY BE ESTABLISHED

TO PRESENT QUESTION AT ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MEETING.

COMPETITIVE SYSTEM NOW IN VOGUE AT BROWN

Managers of Athletic Teams Hold Office After They Demonstrate in Contest Their Capability and Willingness to Serve.

With the regular fall election of the Athletic Association scheduled for Saturday of this week, an effort will be made to have the student body pass favorably upon a system of competition for the future choice of athletic managers. The solution of this question will no doubt preceed the announced election of assistant football manager for next year and should the competitive system receive favorable consideration from the student body the selection may proceed under the new method.

In order to present a possible system of competition in place of the present unsatisfactory method of choice, the Orange and Blue has secured information concerning the system of competition now successfully in vogue at Brown University. Mr. Giblin, of the Brown Daily Herald, writes as follows:

"At the beginning of the year the majority of students purchase what is called a Blanket Tax season ticket. This costs the students eight dollars, four dollars at the beginning of each semester. It admits to all athletic contests. Those who purchase these tickets are considered members of the Brown University Athletic Association."

In the spring term of each year the class presidents of the three lower classes, at different times during a certain week, call a meeting of the representatives of the various organizations within the student body; each of these is allowed two men who hold athletic tickets. Mr. Giblin again says:

"The freshmen delegates nominate two men who have purchased Blanket Tax Tickets, the sophomore representatives nominate six, and the juniors ten. Then these eighteen are voted on by members of all classes together, provided each voter has become a member of the Athletic Association by purchasing his ticket. Five juniors, three sophomores, and one freshman are selected in this way to form what is called the Brown University Athletic Board. The next year when school commences the board consists of five seniors, three juniors, and one sophomore. In the hands of this board is the choice of managers of the athletic teams following competition.

"Up to this year the system was as follows: When the football season started all sophomores who wished to enter the competition for football manager handed their names to the Athletic Board. The board had the Dean approve of the names, and then the board had the Athletic Association, the members of all four classes who had purchased Blanket Tax tickets, vote for three men out of the list of names submitted. The three men elected then did "scut" work during the football season. At the close of the season the three "scuts" handed in typewritten reports of the work they had done. The Athletic Board carefully reviewed these reports and chose the man from the three to be assistant football manager in his junior year and then football manager in his senior year. The choice does not rest wholly on the "scut" work done, the board is free to choose which one of the three it pleases and generally chooses the one who has done the most "scut", but is not absolutely bound to do this. The system works fine." Mr. Giblin is heartily in favor of the competitive system.

AND THE SCRUBS, TOO.

In praising the work of the Varsity players during the past season, we must not forget the work of the men who labored faithfully throughout the season, upon the second Varsity team, without great reward other than the satisfaction which comes with service. To them belongs, in part, the credit for the season's attainment.

COACH DICKSON'S WORK.

The work of Coach Dickson at Bucknell the past two years has been eminently satisfactory to the student body and the athletes of the college. The gentlemanly game presented by the Bucknell team this season brought with it a reputation for that same quality in Bucknell students wherever the team appeared. We must turn to Coach Dickson in seeking to place credit for this system of fairness. He sought to teach the men football and nothing else. The result of the season bespeaks his success. It is the general hope of the student body that next year will again see Mr. Dickson at Bucknell.

WE MISS THE BANQUET.

Last year the banquet following the close of the football season was regarded as the first of a series of similar events to mark the close of subsequent seasons. In other words, a new custom promised to be established at the college depending, of course, upon the willingness of the student body to accept it this year. No one will argue that Bucknell is overladen with student customs and college traditions aside from the greatest one embodied in the standard of scholarship set by Bucknell men in the past. The opportunity now presents itself to establish a new custom and to register the regard of the student body for the admirable work of the squad during the season just closed.

An effort will be made to hold the football banquet the coming Saturday evening and steps have been taken to secure the presence of Mr. Graham, Sporting Editor of the North American, as speaker and guest of honor. Mr. Graham consented some time ago to attend the banquet, providing it does not conflict with a previous engagement. His ability as a speaker was demonstrated here last year.

AND AGAIN WE SAY.

From the Orange and Blue of Oct. 26:

"The many divisions in the undergraduate body of the college makes election without a caucus almost impossible. As a result the caucus preceding athletic elections has arisen. The caucus virtually decides the outcome of the election which therefore becomes a mere matter of form. To regulate the caucus fairly, without regard to factionalism, and to the satisfaction of all the students, has brought to the surface so many difficulties and so much genuine dissatisfaction, that the competitive system has arisen in its place.

"The competitive system has for its most attractive characteristic, its maxim it might be said, WILLINGNESS TO SERVE.

". . . The competitive system places its approval upon capability and willingness to serve. It secures for the college more efficiently managed athletic teams than under the old election system. And what is more important, it guarantees satisfaction to all the students."

In view of Saturday's possible adoption of the competitive system for athletic managers, we again present the above which we still believe to be a just summing up of the situation.

WHY NOT AT BUCKNELL?

The occasional occurrence of disagreeable features following hazing episodes at the college ought to occasion serious thought on the part of seniors and other leaders within the student body, when the following newspaper article, taken from the Chester Morning Republican, is given careful consideration. The action of the students of Swarthmore college, noted in this article, was followed by favorable newspaper comment in various journals throughout the country showing the viewpoint taken by the outside world regarding college hazing. There is probably not a Bucknell student who would will anyother than the good name of the college and yet that name has been compromised several times the past two years by the unthought of outcome of hazing episodes.

The Chester Morning Republican says:

"No more hazing at Swarthmore College—at least such regulations have been adopted by the students at that institution, but for all of that, it appears that the student body, in frowning upon hazing, provided a nice little "joker" which will permit of the "horsing" of those who in the opinion of the upper classmen need such treatment in the interests of proper deference to class traditions.

"At Swarthmore the students govern themselves, so long as they do it to the satisfaction of the faculty, and it may be said also that the faculty hasn't interfered for several years. Hazing, however, has caused considerable controversy at the institution and a meeting of the students was called to put a ban on the practice. Rules and regulations were adopted which will allow the quietly behaved freshman the privilege of leaving his or her room with a reasonable assurance of safety except when a committee of upper classmen, in solemn and executive conclave, has decided that the green grows too abundantly in his or her vicinity. Then the order will go forth and the entire student body may take a hand at reducing verdure to a more subdued hue."

"MESSAGE FROM KANSAS" AND E. W. HOCH WELL RECEIVED

RENDERED GREAT SERVICE TO HIS STATE DURING TERM AS GOVERNOR.

E. W. Hoch, the silver-tongued ex-Governor of Kansas, who accomplished much for his state during his term of office, held the largest audience that has attended the Bucknell Luceum Course this year spell-bound for an hour and a half at the M. E. church, Wednesday evening. Mr. Hoch brought a message of faith and hope as well as encouragement from the middle west to the people of Pennsylvania.

During his address, Mr. Hoch paid high tribute to the women of America, upon whom the future of the country depends. Since "the hand that rocks the cradle controls the destiny of the country", the speaker claimed that to women belongs the right of suffrage. "If the fact that she often pays taxes is not sufficient, surely she should be allowed to help free the country from every vice so that her children may be reared in a wholesome environment".

Mr. Hoch told of Kansas dissolving the great Standard Oil Trust, together with many other combinations within her borders. As a result, he said, many millions of dollars have been saved for the people of Kansas.

Mr. Hoch expressed honest pride because of the stand of his state on the matter of prohibition. In an interesting manner he presented facts favoring prohibition and also argument against the claim that prohibition is an undesirable reform.

During his address Mr. Hoch paid a tribute to our own state. He made a plea that Pennsylvania break the shackles which hold it fast and which held Kansas thus for many years. He thinks that this to a large extent can be done by the young men. The time of the poor boy succeeding is not past, said Mr. Hoch, and now any boy, no matter how poor, can succeed if he has the grit and ambition.

HILL GOSSIP

Lloyd, '11, was the guest of friends on the Hill over Sunday.

W. H. Henszly and H. W. Thompson, both of Philadelphia, and former Penn men, visited Jordon, '13, over Sunday.

Jordan, '13, and Topham, '15, spent the Thanksgiving vacation with Sturgis, '15, and Coughanour, '15, at their homes in Uniontown.

Those wishing a picture of the student body taken by the Thompson Photo Co., can get the same by leaving orders at the Y. M. C. A. office.

Prof. Hamblin gave an interesting and instructive talk on "Woodrow Wilson and What He Stands For," at the regular Y. M. C. A. meeting, Nov. 1.

Dr. and Mrs. Enoch Perrine left last Thursday for Hightstown, N. J., where Dr. Perrine delivered several addresses before the students of Peddie Institute.

Work on the Bucknell song book is progressing slowly. The committee will appreciate any Bucknell songs either old or new. Leave them at the Y. M. C. A. office.

Miss Marie L. Leiser became the bride of Roy G. Bostwick, '95, at the former's home on St. George street, on November 28th. Mr. Bostwick is located at Pittsburgh where he is engaged in the practice of law.

Elkanuah B. Hulley, '07, of Pittsburgh, was an arrival in Lewisburg last Wednesday afternoon to spend a few hours among old friends. He is conducting an advertising agency in the Smoky City along with his duties as editor-in-chief of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity magazine.

Dr. Mary Wolfe, '96, who had been spending a vacation of several months with her mother in Lewisburg, departed for Philadelphia last Wednesday and will take charge of her sanitarium at Stonyhurst, near that city. Since resigning as superintendent of the State hospital for the insane at Norristown several years ago, Dr. Wolfe has been conducting a private hospital. She is widely quoted as an authority on nervous diseases.

PROF. LINDEMAN TELLS OF SOCIAL SERVICE WORK

CALLS ATTENTION AT Y. M. C. A. THURSDAY TO THINGS UNNOTICED BY COLLEGE MEN.

Prof. Lindemann addressed last week's meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening, dealing with the subject, "Social Service in the United States." He called attention to a number of things which were demanding the attention of the people but which he believed to be unnoticed by college men.

Among the many activities of national bodies for the uplift of humanity, Prof. Lindemann mentioned and explained the child labor problem; the fight against the white plague, and the white slave traffic; the work of the national committee on prison labor to better prison conditions; the play-ground movement; the Baptist Social Service, headed by S. Z. Batten; the Smoke Nuisance Association; the Remedial Loan Association, etc.

Mr. Lindemann gave a clear explanation of the work and success of these various organizations and pointed out how a clergyman can be a help to society in working for these bodies which are headed by some of the leading men of the country.

DEBATORS TO BEGIN WORK.

The first meeting of the Inter-Collegiate Debating Club will take place Wednesday evening in the Theta Alpha room at eight o'clock. The purpose of the meeting is to arrange a suitable date for the annual debate between Bucknell and Gettysburg and to discuss debating matters. All who are interested in debating are urged to be present at this meeting.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS.

TRUSTY JANITOR FLED TO FREEDOM

MR. CHARLES BELL, WELL KNOWN NEGRO, FLED FROM SLAVERY.

DEATH CAME MONDAY AFTER FORTY YEARS AT BUCKNELL

Mr. Bell Came to Lewisburg After His Flight to Canada.—Thrilling Story of Escape Told in His Own Words.

Charles R. Bell, happy, congenial and trustworthy, for forty years known and respected by Bucknell students, during which time he served as a janitor at the institute, an escaped slave from the south in 1851 and a cultured gentleman at his home on West St. George street, a week ago tonight at 11:30 o'clock Mr. Bell was in the service of Bucknell since 1867 until seven years ago when, stricken with paralysis, he was retired upon a pension as a partial recognition for his faithful services.

Mr. Bell was born at Rumley, W. Va., Dec. 11, 1827, and was therefore aged eighty-five years. He and his wife escaped from southern slavery in 1851. Their oldest son, Mr. Wm. F. Bell, now a janitor at the college, was born at Moorheadsville, near Erie, on the couple's way to Canada. The father entered the services of the college in 1867.

The following account of Mr. Bell's flight to freedom was obtained before his death, last Monday, from Mr. Bell himself. He related:

From Slavery to Freedom.

"I was born a slave. My master was James H. Inslip, a West Virginia planter. I had never known what it was to be a slave, for my master was very kind to me and treated me just as a servant. I tended to the fires, acted as waiter and helped about the kitchen, learning good manners and also how to read and write. As I grew older, I became very strong and sturdy. I was sent to labor in the fields and on account of my strength was considered very valuable.

"Just as I was reaching manhood my master died. At the time I was away at work, having been 'farmed out.' In order to settle up his estate, the slaves had to be sold. Accordingly I was sent back to my master's plantation for appraisal. The appraiser said that on account of a broken jaw, which I had received in an accident, I was worth $800. However at the sale I brought $1,050. After the sale my new master, a Mr. Marner, took those of us he had purchased away to his plantation. Then for the first time in my life I fully realized that I was a slave. I shall never forget how my mother looked when I left her. 'Good-bye, mother,' I said to her. 'Good-bye,' she answered, and turned away. As she covered her face with her hands, I heard her say, 'My poor boy is gone.' That was the last time I saw her till after the war.

"Mr. Holmes was very harsh with me, allowing no liberties whatever. When he found out that I could write, he was at first very much astonished and then very angry. He told his brother, Joe, that he would sell me. Joe told William Kerns, a planter who had been very kind to me. Mr. Kerns came out to the grain field where I was cradling and said to me, 'Keep wide awake, and don't let him get his hands on you.'

"The former master had a son whose name was also James H. Inslip. Like his father he was very kind to us negroes. At heart he was an abolitionist, though of course, he kept his sentiments to himself.

"One night my master told me to go to the station to meet a man from Georgia. The minute I set eyes on him I knew he was a slave trader and had come to buy me. I drove him home to the plantation and that night I ran away. I went straight to my old master's son. He talked to me for a long time about Canada and about my running away and going there. He told me how to get there and what to do on the way. He said my wife could go with me—she was still his property.

"That night, a Sunday in August 1849, my wife and I left Romney. We walked thirty miles to the Potomac River. We followed the river until we came to a bridge and before daylight were outside of the State of West Virginia. We made straight for the mountains, never stopping until we reached them. Rain had been falling all day. For a week it poured. We had no shelter nor a way to keep ourselves dry. During the day we rested as best we could under some thick tree or overhanging rocks, which sheltered us a little from the rain. At night we traveled. As soon as it was dark we worked our way down to the highway and all night long we stumbled along in the mud. Alone either one of us would have

BASKET-BALL SCHEDULE IS COMPLETED AND RATIFIED

MANY IMPORTANT GAMES TO BE PLAYED AT HOME.—DIXON MAY COACH TEAM.

The basket-ball schedule, as arranged by Manager Cathrall, was approved by the Athletic Executive Board at a recent meeting and bids fair to be one of the best Bucknell has had in years.

A noticeable feature of the schedule is that eight of the games will be played on the court in Tustin gymnasium, which will be glad news to holders of Season tickets. The eighteen contests that the 'varsity is scheduled to play is also a larger number than in previous seasons.

The game here with Allegheny college and that at Harrisburg with the Harrisburg Collegians have not been completely arranged for by Manager Cathrall but the contracts will doubtless be signed in a few days. No definite date has been set for the Alumni game but it will probably be played in March, a month in which all the games now scheduled are away from home.

Captain "Sal" Fisher has not yet issued a call for candidates for the team but will do so as soon as school resumes after the holiday vacation Captain Fisher, ex-captain Zehner and Schafner, of last year's Varsity, will form an excellent nucleus around which to build a fast team. Gdaniec, Fetter, Keiser, Prescoll and Jordan, of last year's squad, are good men from which to fill the other positions. Thompson, of Uniontown High school, and Corrin, of Franklin high school, are fast players in the Freshman class that will make strong bids for the team.

An effort has been made by those in charge of college athletics to have "Hy" Dickson, who coached the football team through its splendid season, to return to coach the basketball squad. Mr. Dickson has expressed his willingness to return for the indoor sport but, on account of business interests, may have to decline.

The schedule is as follows:

January 9, Bloomsburg Normal at Lewisburg; January 17, Lebanon Valley at Lewisburg; January 24, Susquehanna at Lewisburg; January 29, Gettysburg at Lewisburg.

February 1, Susquehanna at Selinsgrove; February 6, (pending), Allegheny at Lewisburg; February 15, Seton Hall at South Orange; February 14, Pratt Institute at Brooklyn; February 15, (pending), Harrisburg Collegians at Harrisburg; February 20, University of Pittsburgh at Lewisburg; February 22, Lehigh at South Bethlehem; February 28, Albright at Lewisburg.

March 7, Albright at Myerstown; March 8, Franklin and Marshall at Lancaster; March 12, Georgetown at Washington, D. C.; March 14, Mount St. Mary at Emmitsburg, Md.; March 15, Gettysburg at Gettysburg.

MANY GRADUATES NOW IN LAW

BUCKNELL PRESENTED PROMINENT MEN TO PROFESSION.

LAW COURSE FITS STUDENTS FOR LEGAL AND PUBLIC AFFAIRS

The Course in Jurisprudence Was Established Many Years After the Founding of the College and Yet Has Accomplished Great Results.

In view of the fact that the course in jurisprudence was established at Bucknell many years after the founding of the college, and also considering that it has always been the aim of the college to give the student a general education before specialization in law, Bucknell has contributed a great many famous and successful men to the legal profession. The present course in jurisprudence fits men for the legal profession, for a business career, or for engaging in public affairs. In all of these fields Bucknell men have been eminently successful.

Many of the older lawyers who graduated at Bucknell are now dead. Two, however, deserve special mention for their distinguished standing and for the influence they have exerted in the profession. They are Simon P. Wolverton of the class of 1850, and Jonathan Follmer Striehy of the class of 1875

Clay Oldest Alumnus in Law.

The oldest living graduate in law is Henry Gibbs Clay, '55, of Philadelphia, who is famous as a politician. Thomas Rockefeller Jones, '62, is Vice Pres. of the National State Deposit Savings and Trust Company, Washington, D. C. Andrew A. Leiser, '69, is known throughout the state. Freeman G. Teed, '73, is prominent in Los Angeles, Cal. Being a member of the Republican party he has in turn been City Auditor, City Clerk, President of Council, Acting Mayor and Collector of Internal Revenue.

Noted Men of '77 Class.

The class of '77 furnished four noted men. Eugene Emley, '77, of Patterson, N. J., has been a member of the State Legislature, member of the Constitutional Convention of 1904, Prosecutor of the Pleas for Passaic County for ten years, the last an office to which he was appointed by the Governor. Col. William R. Follmer is a prominent lawyer of Lewisburg and in 1911 received the nomination of his party for Judge. Harold M. McClure served as Judge of Union and Snyder counties for twenty years. Edmund H. Reppert is Judge of the Court of Common Pleas in Fayette County, Pa.

Other Graduates Active.

Harry O. Newcomb, '78, of Millville, N. J., was distinguished in financial circles. Howard H. Baldridge, '84, is prominent in Omaha, Neb. For four years he was Asst. U. S. District Attorney, later District Attorney, State Senator, Chairman of the Republican State Committee in 1904 and was admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of the U. S. in 1902. Milton W. Shreve, '84, was a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature for many years and was recently elected Congressman from the Erie district. He was also District Attorney and Director of the Peoples' National Bank at Erie, Penna. Ernest L. Tustin, '84, is an ex-senator, and Recorder of Deeds in Philadelphia. Lincoln S. Walter, '86, is an ex-Judge of Northumberland county, Pa. Edwin H. Gule, '89, is a State Senator in Washington, and speaker of the House of Representatives. John Warren Davis, '96, is a senator in New Jersey. Albert W. Johnson, '96, is Judge of Union and Snyder counties. Willard M. Bunnell, '97, is Register and Recorder in Scranton, Pa. John V. V. Lesher, '97, is a Congressman in Sunbury. Amos K. Deibler, '99, is ex-District Attorney of Northumberlond county. Louis W. Roby, '04, is an associate of George Wharton Pepper in Philadelphia, and Lecturer on Contracts in the Univ. of Penna.

Other famous graduates in law, not distinguished for official position, are Henry H. Bliss, '70, of Washington, D. C.; Frederick Bertolette, '72, of Mauch Chunk; Edwin Paul, '87, of Milton, Pa.; Charles Koone, '92, of Youngstown, Ohio; Andrew Gregg Loomis, '95, New York City; Marion A. Carringer, '00, of Tionesta, Pa.; Harry B. Wassell, '00, of Pittsburgh; John W. McCracken, '02, of Rochester, N. Y.; and Reese H. Harris, '02, of Scranton, Pa.

DEMOSTHENEAN CARD PARTY.

The Demosthenean fraternity entertained a number of girls from the Woman's College at a 500 party in their rooms, Saturday afternoon. Refreshments were served at Mrs. Huth's.

WEST COLLEGE ALARMED BY MYSTERIOUS BLAZE

OPPORTUNE ARRIVAL OF STUDENT PREVENTS SERIOUS DAMAGE.

West College was the scene of great excitement and many water buckets this morning when a fire, started in some unknown manner, was discovered on the fourth floor of that building. The damage, despite the enthusiastic application of water, was not serious.

The blaze started in a room occupied by Lindberg, '14, and Affron, '13. The former was taking an examination at the time while Affron was busy visiting a friend in an adjacent room. But for the arrival of Stuart Henry Brownell, of Williamsport, a sophomore who happened to drop into the room for the purpose of borrowing some article of student paraphernalia, the fire might have had serious results. As it was Brownell lustily spread the alarm and in a few minutes several hundred students gathered to assist in drenching the fire, the room and its contents with water. An odd feature of the conflagration was the fact that while most of the hangings of the room were destroyed, the blaze skillfully avoided the pictures of Hooker, '13, and Bliss, '13, which were hanging on the wall.

LITERARY OFFICERS ELECTED.

The Theta Alpha Literary Society held its last meeting of the fall term last Monday evening and elected officers for the winter term. The meetings this year have been especially well attended, with an average of eighteen members at each meeting. The literary programs have been carried out with much interest and enthusiasm and all signs point to a most successful year. The officers elected were: President, Cross, '15; Vice President, Stevenson, '16; Secretary, Lewis, '16; Treasurer, Bachman, '14; Critic, Geiger, '15.

HEINEN—COLVIN NUPTIALS.

The marriage of Katherine Heinen, '09, to Dix DeWitt Colvin took place at seven o'clock last Thursday evening at the Methodist church of Milton. The wedding was one of the prettiest affairs of the season. Among the guests present were Walter Moore, '08, Mrs. Joseph Shultz, nee Hannah Mervine, '09, and Helen Cliber, '09. Mr. and Mrs. Colvin will live at Milton.

PARIS WILL HEAR DR. HILL.

Dr. David Jayne Hill, '74, ex-president of Bucknell and recent ambassador to Germany, is to be one of the lecturers this winter at the Theatre Michel in Paris. Dr. Hill has been secured for this engagement by the France-American committee. He is at present located in Paris at work upon his monumental History of Diplomacy, volumes of which have already appeared.

DR. COLESTOCK IN HELPFUL ADDRESS

MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION HIS GUESTS LAST WEDNESDAY.

STUDENTS PLEASED WITH "THE PAINS OF GROWTH"

Speaker Dealt With the Religious Difficulties of College Students and Offered Some Helpful Suggestions For Their Solution.

Dr. Henry Colestock of the college faculty addressed the members of the Ministerial Association at his home last Wednesday evening. The religious difficulties of the college student formed the basis of Dr. Colestock's remarks and the ministerials consider the talk one of the most helpful which they have yet received.

College students, upon entering an environment in which the scientific and genetic viewpoint has come to be the predominent factor, said Dr. Colestock, soon learn to subject their own primitive and traditional ideas to the standards set before them. He said, they become progressive, no longer clinging to a past misconception, when they find a new method of theory better adapted to known facts. This tendency toward advancement, he continued, is not generally applied to their religious beliefs; they allow their religious life to remain at a standstill.

Dr. Colestock said further it is clear that there can be no such deep-seated change in one's mental attitude without a change in one's religious beliefs, and there is no reason for refusing to subject these views to the same scrutiny that we apply in other realms. The life of every thoughtful man must be a unit, he said, religion being on an equal basis with other interests.

Speaking of the change from traditional to scientific ideas of religion, Dr. Colestock said this change is no indication of a loss of faith, but rather an evidence of progress in religion as along other lines. This transitional stage, he said, should have no evil effects on one's religious life, since religion does not consist in holding ideas, but in maintaining a vital, filial relation of the soul toward God. Doctrines and beliefs are only opinions as to the nature of this relation. Dr. Colestock said, and much precious time an energy have been expended by the various Christian denominations in bitter warfare on the questions of the explanations of belief instead of emphasizing the necessity for a vital relation to God. The emphasis is only beginning to be rightly placed, he said, and this is only among the leaders of religious thought.

Dr. Colestock said an attempt to cling to the still popular unscientific views of religious truth, in spite of a clear need of restatement, can result only in a mental revolution. He declared that the intellectual life and rapid growth of the true college student cannot but lead to greater liberality of thought and reasonable beliefs, unless it leads to chaos.

In conclusion, Dr. Colestock said that students of religion need not be afraid of progress for such can only establish the place of religion more firmly in the end. They are not to be alarmed at their loss of interest in the old conceptions, the speaker concluded, since these, like the leaves of a tree, fall away only to make room for a more glorious springtime.

L'AGENDA PICTURES REQUESTED

The manager of the L'Agenda requests that all pictures of members of the Junior class be handed to Eyster, '14, at the college office, on or before January 10. Any delay on the part of members of the class will retard the work of the management of the year book.

CHRISTMAS GREETINGS.

The Orange and Blue extends Christmas and New Year's greetings to faculty, students and subscribers. The next issue of the college paper will appear the second Monday of the coming term.

A GOOD MOVE.

The formation of the Luzerne County Bucknell Club the past week and the arrangements made for a banquet during the holidays will prompt the organization of like clubs in the future, it is hoped. There is no kind of activity which appeals to prospective students more than that on the part of present students of the college. What is more the alumni in the section where the above-mentioned banquet is to be held will undoubtedly be pleased with the opportunity to attend a gathering of students of the college.

TRUSTY JANITOR FLED TO FREEDOM

given up. However we encouraged each other and although we were wet and hungry and foot-sore, we never lost our determination. We knew that if we went back or were captured, we should be sold 'down the river.' For four weeks we kept to the mountains. After we had been traveling for a week or two, we came down to the highway, but almost the first thing we saw was a poster, nailed to a dead tree, describing me and offering a reward for my return. That frightened us so that we never again ventured on the highway in the daytime.

"Only once, in all four weeks, did we speak to anybody. One day we came in sight of a little farmhouse in a clearing. We were very hungry and decided to go down to the house and try to get something to eat. There were two women there. We asked for some food. The women looked us over and said they had nothing to give us then, but if we would come back a little later they would have something for us. That made me suspicious at once. My wife and I went back among the trees and hid ourselves. Presently we saw one of the women leave the house and hurry over to some men on the hillside. She talked with them for a minute and then the men dropped their tools and came over to the house. We knew they intended to try to catch us and we hurried away as fast as we could go. By this time we were so used to traveling in the woods that we could go very fast. The farmers never overtook. That lesson was sufficient. After that we neither ventured out in the daytime nor spoke to another person. When we got into more open country we were able to find a little green corn. This corn and the berries we gathered on the mountains were the only things we had to eat during the four weeks it took us to reach Pittsburgh.

"We had endured many hardships in the mountains, but we were really safe there. Now came the most dangerous part of our journey. We might very easily be captured and taken back; it depended on whose hands we fell into in Pittsburgh and we had to trust to luck and take our chances. We were very fearful when we entered the town. It was two o'clock in the morning. The first person we met was a market man. We asked him if this was Pittsburgh. He said it was but that it was against the law for anyone to enter before four o'clock in the morning. He told us to go down a street he pointed to and remain there. We came to a brick yard. There we hid ourselves and stayed until four o'clock. Then we walked back to Pittsburgh. We had hardly gotten into town before we saw a man standing in the doorway of a shop. 'Where are you from?' he asked us. 'From Southern Pensylvania,' I replied. 'No, you are not a Pennsylvanian,' he replied, 'you come from over the mountains.' 'You are a Virginian, I know. Don't be afraid of me.' Then he called an old colored man. 'Take those folks and get them a place to stop,' he ordered. 'I'll be responsible for their board.' Our guide took us to a place where there were a good many colored folks. Aunt Nellie Tokus, who had run away from Romney a long time before, was one of these people. She introduced us to them all. That is why we had so many friends there.

"The president of that part of the Underground Railway was 'Squire James Marshall. The Underground Railway people had wagons and carriages of their own. These were covered all over with canvass. They used to carry fugitive slaves in them. The wagons were closed up tight and then when they got out of the city, were opened so that the inmates could have fresh air. Just as soon as possible 'Squire Marshall sent us away in one of these wagons. We went to the farm of Wm. Bickel, an Irishman who lived at Bakerstown, about fifteen miles north of Pittsburgh. He had a farm of about 500 acres. He was an abolitionist. I dug 1200 bushels of potatoes for him. We stayed there all winter. My wife worked in the house and I did the chores.

"In the spring there was an opportunity for us to go on. Bickel gave me $30 and 'Squire Marshall offered the same amount. It was all in paper money, however, and paper money was not good in Canada. So 'Squire Marshall took my paper money and gave me $50 in gold. We went to Moorheadville, 12 miles north of Erie, a trip of 100 miles in the covered wagon.

"We lived in Moorheadville for about a year. A railroad had just been completed along the lake and upon this road we again took up our journey. We got off the train at Manchester, quite near to the old suspension bridge across the Niagara river. Getting into a stage coach at this point, we found ourselves at about three o'clock in the afternoon, crossing the great and famous bridge. The driver of the stage coach guessed that we were runaway slaves and at the middle of the bridge, turning to me, he said quietly, 'Now you are in Canada and as free as anybody.' The stage coach carried us through to St. Catherines, a town perhaps twelve miles from the river. I got off here, at the American House, a freeman, safe, under the British Lion's paw. Thus ended my journey to freedom."

DEBATING CLUB MEETS.

At the meeting of the Inter-College Debating Club held last Wednesday evening the following officers were elected: Pres., L. H. Shattuck, '14; Vice Pres., Jesse Riley, 14; Sec.-Treas., Bachman, '14. Committees were appointed to confer with Dr. Phillips to arrange a suitable date for the debate with Gettysburg, and to arrange for a letter or some other suitable mark of recognation for those men who make the debating team. The next meeting of the club will be held the second Wednesday of the next term.

SECRETARY GOEHRING TELLS HOW TO BOOST BUCKNELL

MAKES SOME HELPFUL SUGGESTIONS AT LAST MEETING OF Y. M. C. A. THURSDAY.

The last regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. for the present term was held on Thursday evening. The meeting was addressed by General Secretary Goehring. He took as his subject, "How we may boost Bucknell." Several very practical ways in which every student can boost the institution were suggested.

The speaker said in part: "This fall we have undoubtedly had one of the best terms of the past few years and to my mind the basis of it all is found in the success of the football team. Too much credit cannot be given Coach Dickson and the fellows who worked to bring respect and attention to Bucknell from people over the state and country. Although the spirit has been good and the various college activities have been carried out successfully, yet there is room for improvement.

"All of us will agree that the men who should fill the positions of managers should be representative of the entire student body and should be chosen irrespective of party or fraternity.

"The success of the football team leads us to mention another thing which is important in obtaining the right results—the spirit of democracy! Very few of us can boast of having more knowledge or more money than the rest of us, and yet isn't it reasonable to say that bigger things can be accomplished and better college life obtained when men work in harmony for one purpose? Let us be democratic! Let us mix together in our dining halls and let us not forget that Bucknell comes first even at the sacrifice of personal or fraternity ambitions. One of the best means of fostering the right kind of attitude among people outside is by showing respect to visiting teams.

"If ten or fifteen men attend the College Men's Conference at Eagles Mere it would mean a bigger awakening along all lines of college activities. These men would meet other college men and learn of their problems and how they met them and they would then come back in the fall with a bigger ambition to do something for the college and for themselves.

ACADEMY NEWS

The Preps lost to Danville High School quintet on Friday evening by the score of 17 to 14. The playing of Chropuvka attracted particular attention.

The largest attendance this year was seen at the Y. M. C. A. meeting on Thursday evening when Prof. Lindemann addressed the students on Christian settlement work.

On Thursday morning a meeting of the Athletic Association was held for the purpose of electing new officers for the coming year. "B. A's" were awarded to the football men. Reed was elected captain for next year's team.

FORUM FRATERNITY BANQUETS.

The Forum held their annual Founder's Day banquet in their dining halls on Tuesday evening upon the occasion of their ninth anniversary. The halls were fittingly decorated for the occasion with the fraternity and college colors. Dr. Enoch Perrine who gave a very interesting address and Mr. Harold V. Lesher, '05, of Sunbury, were the guests of the evening. Mr. G. F. Reiter, '12, acted as toastmaster. The following responded to toasts: J. L. Gehman, '14, S. M. Davenport, '16, J. J. Bartlett, '15, L. E. Jackson, '13, W. S. Crouse '16, E. S. Teed, '15.

LUZERNE CLUB ORGANIZES.

The students from Luzerne county, Pa., met in Bucknell Hall the past Friday afternoon for the purpose of organization. George Middleton, '13, was elected president and S. M. Davenport, '16, secretary. It is the intention of the Luzerne County Club to hold its first annual banquet at Wilkes-Barre during the holidays and it is expected that a number of the alumni from that section will attend.

CURTAIN CLOSES ON MOST SUCCESSFUL SEASON

TO COACH DICKSON BELONGS MUCH PRAISE FOR THE WINNING TEAM.

The game with W. & J. Thanksgiving day brought to a close a football season that will go down in the annals of Bucknell as one of the most successful in the history of the grid iron sport at the college.

The students, alumni and townspeople have not been slow in showing their appreciation of the work done by the Varsity eleven this season and not in many years has there been as much enthusiasm and college spirit prevalent on the Hill. Mass meetings were held frequently with overflow attendance and every time that the team went away it was given a rousing send-off at the station by several hundred students. The alumni in every locality in which the Varsity played showed their loyalty and interest by turning out in large numbers to see the team play, from forty to fifty being present at every game.

Eight of the men who composed last year's Varsity returned this fall and the three vacancies were filled by men who were substitutes on the first team last season. Too much cannot be said of the work of Coach "Bo" Dickson whose skill and patience in handling the men and his knowledge of the fine art of the game has truly "put Bucknell back on the football map," and in a position in collegiate athletic circles among the biggest schools of the East.

But three defeats were suffered by the Orange and Blue this year, and one of them, to Swarthmore, should by all rights have been a victory for Bucknell. Another game in which the Varsity was kept from winning only by the poorest kind of luck, was that with Lafayette. In the matter of points scored as against those tallied by opponents Bucknell ranks thirteenth among the colleges of the East, having made 207 points to its opponents' 64.

Following is a list of games played and points scored:

Bucknell 41; Hillman Academy 0.
Bucknell 49; Wyoming Sem. 0.
Bucknell 6; Univ. of Pitt. 0.
Bucknell 39; St. Bonaventure 7.
Bucknell 0; Cornell 14.
Bucknell 0; Lafayette 0.
Bucknell 17; Navy 7.
Bucknell 13; Swarthmore 14.
Bucknell 55; Gettysburg 0.
Bucknell 7; W. & J. 22.

OFFICERS ELECTED AT ASSOCIATION MEETING

ADVANTAGES OF COMPETITION FOR MANAGERS DISCUSSED SATURDAY.

The regular fall meeting and election of officers of the Athletic Association was held in the Tustin gymnasium Saturday afternoon. Lindberg, '14, was elected president for the coming year; Baker, '14, was elected vice pres., and Golightly, '14, secretary. Rawson, '15, was elected assistant football manager.

The advantages of the competitive system for the election of athletic managers was discussed by Wendt, '13. He said that a committee of students would investigate the system thoroughly early next year and seek to present to the student body a system of competition which will embody the best features of like systems in other colleges. He said further that such a system of choice would do much to clear up political difficulties at the college and would increase the interest of the student body in the work of the Association. An open discussion of the merits of the competitive system was then held.

DR. E. D. WARFIELD TO SPEAK HERE

LAFAYETTE PRESIDENT COMING JANUARY 17.

IS RECOGNIZED AS EDUCATOR AND LECTURER OF NOTE

Following a Meeting of the American Historical Association in Boston, Dr. Warfield Will Come Direct to Lewisburg.

Dr. Ethelbert D. Warfield, President of Lafayette College and a noted educator and lecturer, will speak in Bucknell Hall next Friday evening at 7.15 o'clock. It is indeed an unusual opportunity for Bucknell students to hear a man of Dr. Warfield's ability and the speaker will undoubtedly appear before a crowded hall.

Following graduation from Princeton and Columbia, and two years spent at the University of Oxford, England, Dr. Warfield began the practice of law in Louisville, Ky. In 1891 he was called to the Presidency of Lafayette and since that time has become famous as an educator and lecutrer. Later he was ordained to the ministry of the Presbyterian church where he combined such qualities in his liberal education as are rarely found. President Warfield comes to Bucknell direct from a meeting of the American Historical Association in Boston.

"THE FOUR ARTISTS" ARE COMING HERE SOON

"The Four Artists" will appear in Lewisburg Friday evening, Jan. 24, as the fourth number of the Lyceum Course. This company is now making a transcontinental tour and is highly recommended as a musical organization.

The following is a brief sketch of the parts taken by the members of the company:

Mr. Frederick W. Kickbusch, who was appointed consul to Stettin, Germany, during Cleveland's administration, took up voice work at the Stettin Conservatory and was a pupil of Dr. Carl Pohl. Mr. Kickbusch's wonderful baritone voice was at once recognized and he did extensive singing in Germany, Denmark and Sweden. His first appearance in grand opera was at Stettin. He has sung all the baritone parts in all the German operas and has eighteen operas in his repertoire.

Miss Clara Marie Len is a well equipped pianist and plays with authority and musical tone. In addition to Miss Len's work before noted clubs and in concert work, she has also been a teacher in the Fine Arts Building, Chicago.

Mr. Jacob Reuter is the violinist of the company and has been pronounced by critics to be marvelously gifted in his work.

Miss Klare M. De Vine, soprano, has appeared with Walter Damrosch and the Chicago Philharmonic Orchestra, the Thirteenth Regiment Band of Ontario and other notable organizations.

TO LEAD IN GYMNASIUM.

Jordan, '13, will have charge of the underclassmen gymnasium classes this winter and freshmen have been ordered to report to him Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday afternoons at 4.15 o'clock.

"SECRET OF ATTRACTIVENESS."

"The Secret of Attractiveness" was the topic of Edna Whittam's talk on Tuesday in the Y. W. C. A. She pointed out that love and kindness are the chief essentials.

JUNIORS PREPARING "PROM"

PLANS BEING MADE FOR JUNIOR WEEK EVENTS.

The Junior "Prom," the last word in upperclass social functions, is already being arranged for by the class of 1914 and the plans of the committee in charge of the event indicate that it will be equally as successful as any of former years. The function will be held in the Twelfth Regiment Armory. The committee has not yet definitely decided upon the date but it will likely be on Friday, February 21st, which will make the "Prom" the crowning event of Junior Week. The Pitt basket-ball game is scheduled for the 20th and the Junior smoker will doubtless be held Saturday evening, the 22nd.

The Junior "Prom" is customarily a function for upperclassmen. A limited number of underclassmen may attend upon invitation.

The committee for the event is as follows: Nichols, Chairman; Reading, Lanning, Moore, Linberg, Golightly, Bachman, Schnure, Keech, Caris, Coleman.

LEAVES LEWISBURG FOR WEST.

The Lewisburg Journal prints: "Abbott G. Bucher, of this place, well and popularly known here and one of the best salesmen in the state, left last Saturday for Omaha, Neb., where he assumed charge of the business of Bayuk Bros., of Philadelphia, manufacturers of the "Havana Ribbon" cigars. His territory will include the states of Iowa, Nebraska and the Dakotas."

The removal of Mr. Bucher will be especially regretted by the football men of the school, he having accompanied the team on all but two trips during the past two seasons. The best wishes of hosts of friends on the Hill accompany him to his new field.

Basket-ball Captain Fisher.

Captain Fisher, of the Varsity basket-ball squad has been unable to enter the game as yet this term because of illness. His absence was materially felt in the first game of the schedule last week.

DEATH OF J. C. LEWELLYN.

James C. Lewellyn, ex-'12, died at pneumonia Dec. 19, at Pittsburgh. Dr. Phillips, of Bucknell, conducted the funeral services, which were held at Nanticoke, Pa., Mr. Llewellyn's home. Mr. Llewellyn spent two years at Bucknell and was a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity.

KAPPA DELTA PHI BANQUET.

The alumni and active members of the Kappa Delta Phi fraternity met in the English Room of the Y. M. C. A. building, Philadelphia, on January 4, and held their annual informal banquet. Jack Kresge, '10, acted as toastmaster.

ATTENDED SCHOOL IN BERLIN.

John F. Long, Academy '12, who during the past term was a student at the Institute Tilly, Berlin, Germany, joined the freshman class at the opening of this term.

NEW BASKET-BALL MATERIAL REPORTS

LAST WEEK'S GAME SHOWS NEED OF SPIRITED COMPETITION.

MANY FOOTBALL MEN TAKE PART IN WINTER SPORT

New Material and the Return of Captain Fisher Hoped to Eradicate Weakness Revealed in the First Contest on the Schedule.

Although the showing made by the Varsity basket-ball team last Thursday evening was not the kind that makes a student's chest swell with pride, the game should not be taken as a criterion of what the team can be expected to do in the coming games inasmuch as the disadvantage under which it played is but a temporary one.

The loss of Bartholomew and Fulmer, of last year's Varsity, is one that is severely felt and regardless of the fact that there are numerous candidates for the two forward positions, none has yet shown the aggressiveness that characterized the playing of these men, and players to fill their places will have to be developed.

Three of the 1912 Varsity are left to form the nucleus of this season's team. They are Captain Fisher, '13, who played an excellent game at center last year; ex-Captain Zehner, '12, who has been a mainstay of the team for three years, and Schafner, '15, who evidenced his worth on the Varsity last year.

From among the large number of candidates who are now practicing daily in Tustin gymnasium, several are sure of making regular berths on the team. Fetter, '13, one of last year's substitutes is a hard and consistent player who will make a strong bid for a forward position. Jordan, '13, is another likely candidate who substituted on the Varsity five last season. Keiser, '15, and Gdaniec, '15, Bucknell's star football halfbacks, are again making a lively fight for Varsity positions. The good work of these men as substitutes last season and in the game last Thursday night was proof of their worth. Buffington, '15, although not on the squad last year, has marked ability on the floor but labors under great disadvantage on account of light weight.

Topham, '15, and Crulkshank, '15, have decided to add the winter sport to their list of athletic conquests and are showing remarkable proficiency. Coughanour, '15, Bell, '14, and Baer, '15, are among the promising material. From among the freshmen Thompson, of Uniontown high school, Corrin, of Franklin high school, and Davenport are the most likely candidates.

While the number of candidates for the Varsity is not small yet the opportunity for a good player to gain a berth on the team is still a good one and any man in the school who has ability to play the game is urged to come out for a trial and is assured of a good chance to make the team.

"B'S" FOR DEBATERS, MAYBE.

The Debating League will meet in the Theta Alpha room Wednesday evening. The first try-out of the inter-collegiate debating team will follow soon and the exact date will be decided Wednesday. Steps are also been taken toward obtaining a debating letter for members of the Varsity team who are successful in the annual joint debate with Gettysburg. All men wishing to try for a place on the debating team should attend Wednesday evening's meeting of the Debating League.

Ex-Captain and Coach Zehner.

NEW TELEGRAPH CO. THROWS ITS HAT INTO THE RING

EAST COLLEGE STUDENTS FORM COMPANY AS YET NOT INCORPORATED.

East College is now the scene of many ticks and much painfully deliberate conversation since its new telegraph company, not incorporated, sprang into existence last week. As yet the organization is in the making although the number of stations is five and quite a few applications for stock have been received by the management.

The present stockholders of the East College Company are Messrs. Richards, Stetler, Rooke, Steele and Hoke. These same men are telegraph operators and janitors in the services of the organization. Bressler acted in the capacity of chief engineer of the company until he made the assertion that dry batteries are useless unless they are wet. His resignation followed. The system itself is quite extensive, connecting as it does with its five stations the fourth and second floors of the East College building. No move has been made as yet by the Telegraph Trust to absorb the youthful organization.

The Water Street Mission needs clothes and you ought to help.

Note From Mathewson Keeps Girl Busy Student in School

SHE WAS IN LINE FOR EXPULSION, BUT "BIG SIX" SAVED HER.

Through the benevolence of Christy Mathewson of Bucknell fame, famous pitcher of the New York Giants, a well known Pueblo, Colorado, society girl has been saved from the wrath of a school principal, for having deserted her classes to see him pitch. The girl in the case is Miss Edwina Yories, daughter of Attorney Harry P. Yories.

She is attending Bemis Hall academy in Boston and during the world's series received a telegram from her father, who is an ardent fan, telling her to attend one of the games when Mathewson was scheduled to pitch. She cut several classes and proceeded to follow her father's advice. When information of her attendance at the ball game became known, she was in line for exulsion from the school. In some manner the attention of Mathewson was called to the incident and by writing a personal letter to the head of the school, he had her excused.

While she was home from school for the holidays a brief note arrived from the great pitcher, telling how he had explained the incident for her and enclosing an autograph postal card.

"TED" MERCER MAKES APPEAL

WRITES LETTER REQUESTING AID OF BUCKNELL MEN.

CLOTHING NEEDED BY FAMOUS WATER SRREET MISSION

As a Consequence Secretary Goehring and Committee Will Begin Work of Collecting Gifts of Clothing Within a Few Days.

The following letter from "Ted" Mercer was received at the Y. M. C. A. office this week:

"I have just received a letter from Mr. John H. Wyburn, Superintendent of the Old Jerry McAuley Water St. Mission, 316 Water St., New York, with the following appeal in it:

"'Would it be possible for you to make an appeal to the college men for clothing? We are very much in need just at present, and it is a great problem as to what to do with the men when they come here. As you know, they are mostly ragged and need everything in the way of clothes and I shall appreciate it very much if you would appeal to the men in the colleges which you visit.'

"I will appreciate it if you would see the editor of your college paper, says Mr. Mercer in his own appeal, and have my letter published in it. Any articles of clothing could be left with you and when they are gathered together you could put them in a dry goods box and express them C. O. D. to the Old Jerry McAuley Water St. Mission. I do trust that you may be able to make this contribution to the splendid work which is being done by this mission of international reputation."

With best wishes, believe me to be

Cordially and sincerely,

C. E. Mercer.

Secretary William Goehring of the College Y. M. C. A. has appointed a committee in answer to Mr. Mercer's request and the work of gathering the needed apparel will begin in a few days. The Jerry McAuley Water St. Mission has done great work and Secretary Goehring hopes for a liberal response from the Bucknell men.

MR. STEWART SPOKE TO MEN

MADE SOME HELPFUL REMARKS AT LAST Y. M. C. A. MEETING.

Owing to the basket-ball game on Thursday night, the weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was held Wednesday evening at nine o'clock. Prof. Stewart gave the address on the subject, "The College Man and His Work." His talk was heard by a large number of the men. Mr. Stewart said in part:

"When a youngster the college man had the idea that he could enter any occupation in life and make a success of it after he had obtained an education, but it is only after he reaches the stage of Senior or graduate that he realizes he has limitations physically, mentally and morally. Some cannot enter the field of agriculture because they do not possess the muscular vigor necessary for that work. Some lack the keen intellect and others the moral stamina for responsible positions.

"With all these limitations, however, there is a niche in life for every man. There are no two personalities alike in the world. Each one has certain powers, certain abilities, which no other man possesses. Every man is adapted for some certain work.

"With the help of associations with strong men, with the knowledge of the best books and the Unseen Power, a man can develop himself to accomplish the most."

NEW METHOD NEEDED.

The dilemma in which the present Senior class finds itself, faced as it is by a debt of over five hundred dollars incurred by the failure of last year's number of the L'Agenda to support itself and the consequent refusal of the college authorities to graduate the class until its liabilities are met, enforces the need of some new method by which to meet the expense of the Junior clas book. A similar outcome for a number of years, resulting in the departure from college of classes without honorably discharging the debt incurred in the production of their class annual, is proof that the management of last year's L'Agenda is not necessarily responsible for the present situation. In fact Manager Hawkins has kept a careful account of the financial status of last year's book and it is conclusive that the present method of financing the L'Agenda is inadequate.

It is true that a large part of the present indebtedness of the Senior class is due to the failure of the different classes and organizations within the college to fulfill their indebtedness to last year's L'Agenda. Yet when all assets are realized there will be a shortage of $174.40. With the present system another outcome is well nigh impossible. How then to remedy this undesirable outcome?

At some of the leading colleges the class year book is supported to a large extent by the class itself. Each member of the class pledges himself to purchase two or three numbers, as suits the case, of the class annual. With this support assured the financial outcome is unquestionable. Here at Bucknell, however, no such method is pursued and in consequence Manager Hawkins reports a hundred unsold books purchased by the class and therewith a consequent disheartening debt.

With the lesson of past failures in mind the present Junior class must pursue some new method in caring for its year book. A committee to investigate past L'Agenda records, to estimate as nearly as possible the expense of the coming year book, and to devise some method of meeting this expense, ought to begin work at once. Otherwise the situation facing the graduating class next year will not be unlike the presnt predicament.

THE BASKET-BALL SITUATION.

The beginning of the basket-ball season last Thursday with a defeat at the hands of a team of the preparatory school class is a bit disheartening though not entirely discouraging. We assume this hopeful attitude inasmuch as Friday's game was played under circumstances which were not at all conducive to victory despite the fact that defeat came as an utter surprise. The Varsity squad for some reason did not begin work the preceeding term as should be the custom but rather practiced seriously only the forepart of the past week. The absence of Captain Fisher at center was another handicap to the Varsity players.

The defeat at the hands of this preparatory school team did one thing however—it enforced the need of serious work on the part of the basket-ball squad that it may uphold the past records of the college in the basket-ball world. There seems to be a wealth of good guard material and with Captain Fisher at center that position is well filled. The forward positions, however, as was shown in Thursday's game, must be materially strengthened before a strong team can be developed.

VARSITY QUINTET MEETS DEFEAT

STRENGTH OF OPPONENTS PROVES A SURPRISE.

LACK OF NEEDED PRACTICE PROBABLE CAUSE OF TROUBLE

The Absence of Captain and Center Fisher, Who is Confined at His Home Because of Illness, Was Materially Felt.

Bucknell basket-ball stock took a decided drop Thursday evening when the Varsity lost the first game of the season in Tustin gymnasium to the Bloomsburg Normal quintet by the score of 23 to 12. A large crowd witnessed the contest.

The Varsity was outplayed in every department by the prep. school aggregation, especially during the second half. Little more was expected, however, by those who knew that the team had been practicing for but three days preceeding the game. The absence of Captain Fisher, who is sick at home, was a material weakness to the Orange and Blue.

Ex-Captain Zehner and Schafner were the only veterans of last year's Varsity who were in the game and each did his best to stave off the inevitable defeat. Jordan, ex-football captain, took the place of Captain Fisher at center, while Fetter and Gdaniec occupied the other two places on the team. In the second period Buffington took the place of Fetter, Keiser relieved Zehner, and Baer substituted for Schafner.

The first score of the game was made by Bucknell and another basket which soon followed made the score 4 to 0 in favor of the Orange and Blue. The visitors then succeeded in caging the ball a number of times and when the half ended they were in possession of the big end of a 7 to 6 score. The second period was played under National rules which permit a two-handed dribble. This proved an advantage for the visitors and they succeeded in tossing the ball through the net eight times for twice that number of points.

WESTERN COACH UPHOLDS 1912 FOOTBALL RULES

SAYS THEY MAKE POSSIBLE BEST GAME EVER PLAYED BY COLLEGES.

Praise for the 1912 football rules, with the statement that they "made possible the best game of football ever played by American colleges," was expressed by Henry L. Williams, coach of the University of Minnesota football team, in his report before the National Collegiate rules committee. The association, with delegates from nearly ninety colleges and universities present, met here for its annual session.

Mr. Williams told of the difficulties that had to be overcome, and of the many radical changes that were made all of which, he said, proved most fortunate. For several years back, he said, the proper adjustment of the balance between offense and defense, with just the right equilibrium between these forces, has been a serious problem. The advantage, he contended, had been on the side of the defense, and it had been well recognized that as the goal line was approached the defense became stronger through the drawing in of the backs to support the line, so that the scoring of touchdowns by equally-balanced teams was exceedingly difficult. For these reasons, he said, the rules were changed to give four downs in ten yards, instead of three, a change which he characterized as the most important and beneficial introduced since the ten yard rule was adopted.

The elimination of the on-side kick was another change which he said was most important for the best interests of the game, and was made because the committee felt that the advantage of the attack over the defense might be too great; because of the decided danger to the defensive backs and because of the decided element of chance and luck in the play.

THE ORANGE AND BLUE

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

VOLUME XVII. LEWISBURG, PENNA., MONDAY, JANUARY 20, 1913. NUMBER 13

LEBANON VALLEY BOWS IN DEFEAT

ORANGE AND BLUE QUINTET "CAME BACK" STRONG.

IMPROVED TEAM WORK AND SHOOTING MARKS PLAYING

Several Changes Made in Personnel of Varsity During the Week and Men Play Positions Well.—Varsity Outclasses Opponents.

The Varsity has at last hit its stride. The defeat handed Lebanon Valley college by the Varsity basket-ball team Friday night in Tustin gymnasium demonstrated that the local five have in some measure "come back" from the lethargy that caused their defeat by a prep. school last week. After the last ball had been thrown the score stood 31 to 20 in favor of the Orange and Blue.

While the practice of last week wrought much improvement in the playing of Bucknell's quintet, a greater degree of perfection in passing and goal shooting will have to be reached before the team will be able to cope with the stronger teams which they are scheduled to meet during the balance of the season, such as Allegheny, Pittsburgh, Lehigh and Georgetown.

The personnel of the Varsity has changed during the week, but whether or not the fact aided to bring about Friday's victory is for others to judge. Bell, '14, was given his first try-out in Varsity basket-ball at a forward position and played with the speed and aggressiveness of a veteran. He covered the floor well and dropped in several goals from difficult angles. Joe Gdaniec was shifted to a guard position and did his work well, also sharing in the scoring. Captain Fisher returned to school last week after a protracted illness but was not sufficiently recovered to take part in the game and Jordan played the center position, getting the jump on his opponent at nearly every toss-up and showing improved floor work. Kelser was at his position at guard and handled himself with customary aggressiveness. Of the work of ex-Captain and Coach Zehner too much cannot be said. He took one of the forward positions and fully convinced the followers of the game that he was at home in that position. He ran the ball from one part of the floor to the other with ease, dodging and evading opponents. He threw goals from foul without a failure.

The game, which interlinked with the Academy game, started off in a fast manner but it was not until four minutes had passed that the first score was made. Kelser scored the basket with a long shot from the center of the floor. Gdaniec soon followed with a tally and Zehner repeated the feat. Both teams succeeded in scoring several times before the period ended, the standing at the end of the half being 14 to 10 in favor of Bucknell.

Kelser was the first player to try a goal from field in the second half, and almost gave the opponents two points for he momentarily lost his bearings and tossed the ball at the Lebanon Valley basket. Fortunately his aim was poor and the result was nil. It was not long until Gdaniec dropped the ball fairly into the net and Zehner and Bell followed by scoring at close intervals. Jordan at so figured in the scoring of this period. During the half Cruikshank made his debut in collegiate basketball, substituting Bell and played a hard and fast game. In the second period Bucknell made 17 points while Lebanon Valley tallied 6, making the score for the game, B. U., 31; Lebanon Valley, 20.

The line-up:

Bucknell.		Lebanon Valley.
Bell	Forward	Strickler
Zehner	Forward	Dearolf
Jordan	Center	Miller
Gdaniec	Guard	Snavely
Kelser	Guard	Schmidt

Goals—Bell 2, Zehner 4, Jordan 2, Gdaniec 4, Kelser 1, Strickler 4, Dearold 2, Miller 1, Snavely 1. Substitutions—Cruikshank for Bell, Schaffer for Gdaniec. Foul goals—Zehner 5 out of 5, Dearolf 4 out of 8. Referee—Church, Bloomsburg. Time-keeper—Cathrall, Bucknell. Scorer—Golightly.

MR. FOLLMER HONORED.

Mr. Follmer, of Milton, has received his commission as Assistant District Attorney for Northumberland county. His appointment was made by Frank H. Strouss and he will succeed John V. Lesher, '97, of Sunbury, who resigned after he was elected to Congress from the Sixteenth District to succeed the late John G. McHenry, of Benton. Mr. Follmer is a graduate of Bucknell and Harvard Universities.

LEWISBURG AN OASIS SAYS EX-GOVERNOR HOCH

FORMER EXECUTIVE OF KANSAS REFERS TO IT IN HIS "WANDERER'S NOTES".

Under the head of "Wanderer's Notes," ex-Governor E. W. Hoch of Kansas on his lecture tours writes to his home paper the Marion, Kansas, Record. In a recent issue he writes as follows about his visit to Lewisburg during his lecture trip in Pennsylvania:

Like an oasis in a desert was Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, to me. So many Pennsylvania towns are smoky, dirty and dilapidated that Lewisburg with its clean streets, handsome churches and refined, cultured people furnished a refreshing change. Lewisburg is a college town, and looks it. It is the home of Bucknell University, with academy and seminary attachments—a fine old institution, with many students and a large faculty, and a Y. M. C. A. which was responsible for my appearance, but I hope they can live it down. The meeting was in the Methodist church, an unusually large, fine edifice, and it was about full of patient, long-suffering people.

TO DEBATE WITH GETTYSBURG.

The Debating League met last Wednesday evening and decided to hold the annual inter-collegiate debate with Gettysburg College on the evening of March 14th. The question for debate has not yet been acted upon. Notice of the date of the first debate and the question will be posted in a few days. Debaters may choose either side of the question at the try-outs.

CELEBRATE FOUNDER'S DAY.

On Friday evening the Demosthenians held their annual Founder's Day banquet at the Baker House. The guests of honor were Dr. Ethelbert D. Warfield, President of Lafayette College, Dr. Harris and Prof. Hamblin Toasts were responded to by Dr. Warfield, Dr. Harris, L. J. Ulmer, '02, and Kelly, '13. L. W. Robey, '04, acted as toastmaster.

PROF. OWENS TO LECTURE.

Prof. Owens will give a lecture in the chemical laboratory on the Yellowstone National Park, Thursday evening of this week. The lecture will be illustrated by lantern slide views showing many scenes of interest and beauty in the park. An admission charge of fifteen cents will be made for the benefit of the Civic Club.

RECENT GRADS. MARRY.

Miss Hester Pyles and Walter Duff, a Bucknell football player, both of the class of 1911, were married at Washington, D. C., on Dec. 31. Mr. and Mrs. Duff are living at New Castle, Pa., where Mr. Duff is engaged in engineering work.

Y. M. C. A. BEGINS BUSY SEASON

DR. HEIM TO ADDRESS REGULAR MEETING YESTERDAY.

SIX MISSION STUDY CLASSES STARTED YESTERDAY

Fraternities and Boarding Clubs Commence Work with Enrollment of One Hundred.—Books Needed for Library.

Prospects are unusually bright for an active season at the Y. M. C. A. this term. As yet little work has been done at the regular meetings of the organization because of conflicting dates with other college activities. Last week the regular meeting was postponed because of the tuberculosis lectures in the Court House Thursday evening. This week Dr. Heim will address the meeting in the Association Hall, Thursday evening.

Mission Classes Started.

Yesterday six mission classes were started at the various boarding houses and fraternities. The texts: "The Challenge of the City" and the "Chinese Revolution" are being used this year. The former takes up the problems of the city and endeavors to give a practical answer, justified by reason and facts, to those who are asking for a solution of the problem. The latter explains the cause of the Chinese Revolution; the intellectual awakening and educational progress; the constitutional development and social reform; and the opportunities of the republic and the influence of the western countries.

At present there are one hundred men in the classes. Anyone not enrolled and desiring to be a member of one of the discussional groups is urged to see the General Secretary.

Books Now Desired.

The college carpenter, Mr. Crabb, has completed the bookcase for the Association office and it is now ready for books which members and friends of the organization desire to give. Secretary Goehring is desirous of making the Y. M. C. A. office a meeting place for Bucknell students and he believes that the establishment of a library there will work toward that purpose. The Orange and Blue will place its weekly exchanges from other colleges in the Association office and students desirous of reading them will find them there.

Other Noteworthy Events.

"The Four Artists" will appear at the Methodist church Friday evening, Jan. 24, at 8 o'clock. This is the fourth number of the Lyceum Course of the Y. M. C. A.

Phillips A. Swartz, the Traveling Secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, will be on the Hill, Feb. 1-3. Many who remember Swartz, will be glad to meet him again.

In the near future Bucknell students and the people of Lewisburg will have the opportunity to hear Madame Blye and A. W. Martin at a musical.

PROF. OWENS TO LECTURE.

Prof. Wm. G. Owens on Thursday, Jan. 23d, at 7:30 will give an illustrated lecture in Bucknell Chemical Laboratory, showing views of Yellow Stone Park. The lecture will be for the benefit of the Civic Club, and an admission of 15c will be charged. Tickets can be secured from Mrs. Owens. The public is invited.

CONNIE MACK AFTER WYCKOFF.

J. Weydon Wyckoff, who pitched sensational ball last spring on the Varsity, has received a letter from Connie Mack, notifying him to report at Harrisburg, February 24th, to take the train for San Antonio, Texas, with the team as it passes that point.

Susquehanna here Saturday.

TUBERCULOSIS EXHIBIT.

Bucknell students and instructors availed themselves of the opportunity to attend the exhibit and lectures given by the State Department of Health in Lewisburg last week. The exhibit is one of the largest ever prepared. One of its main features was an enormous relief map of the South Mountain Sanitorium for tuberculosis at Mont Alto, Franklin county, showing every detail of this great institution where 4,000 patients have been admitted for treatment since it was taken over by the Department of Health in the past three years. There were various detail models of the cottages and tents and many interesting photographs of the scenic beauties of the surrounding section.

ATHLETIC BALL AFTER PROM.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the Athletic Ball advertised for this term has decided to hold the event sometime after the Junior Prom which comes on Friday evening, February 21st.

REAL CONCERT PLANNED BY THAT BUCKNELL BAND

THERE WILL BE OTHER FEATURES, TOO, ON THE NIGHT OF JAN. 31.

Bucknell Hall will be the scene of the presentation of a greatly varied amusement program on the night of Friday, Jan. 31. The Bucknell Band, however, will be the center of interest and is to profit by the event.

Concert-Meister Fahringer and the members of the college band have been working for a long time on numbers for the coming concert. It is probable that no other Bucknell band has attempted such difficult selections as the present organization is ready to render.

Then, too, besides the band, there will be quite a few other attractions at the coming concert. Miss Schillinger is preparing a farce-comedy for the event. The Academy Quartet and several vocal selections will complete the program.

WANTS BETTER PATHS.

(Communication.)

The rainy weather which we have had the last few weeks has proved to us that Bucknell needs better paths on its campus. It is true that those leading to Main Building are subject to wash-outs because of the slope but surely something can replace the clay found on the path leading from the Chemical Lab to the 'Hill'.

GRADUATE TO TELL STORIES.

On Saturday afternoon, January 18, Miss Eliza J. Martin, '00, will resume her story telling to children at the W. D. Himmelreich Memorial Library. A slight change is made this year in the time given to the different groups. Stories for the younger children will be told between 2:15 and 2:45, and those for the older children between 3 and 3:30 o'clock.

ENTERTAIN AT CARDS.

The Kappa Delta Phi fraternity entertained at cards in their fraternity rooms on Friday evening. The event was a progressive 500 party. Besides those from town guests from Milton, Watsontown and Sunbury attended. Mrs. Kelser and Mrs. Spyker acted as chaperons.

SUSQUEHANNA ON SATURDAY.

The basket-ball game scheduled here for next Friday will be played on Saturday evening, Jan. 25th, because of a conflict with the fourth number of the Lyceum Course.

MRS. SCOTT TO LECTURE HERE.

Mrs. Anna B. Scott, the North American's food economist and cooking expert, will lecture at the Women's College next Friday, Jan. 24.

Give a book to the Y. M. C. A. library.

BASEBALL GAMES LOOK GOOD

TWENTY CONTESTS SCHEDULED IN SPRING SPORT.

LEHIGH HERE IN MID-SEASON ON STRAW HAT DAY

Manager Edward's Schedule Ratified by Executive Committee of A. A.—"By" Dickson to Coach Team as Last Year.

The schedule for next term's baseball season has been completed by Manager Edwards and was ratified by the executive board of the Athletic Association at its meeting last Monday evening.

An exceptionally strong schedule has been arranged for the spring term sport including in all twenty Varsity games, ten of which will be played on the Bucknell campus. This is the largest number of games played here for many seasons and holders of season tickets will get the worth of their money many times over in this one branch of college sport.

Several good teams not played last year are to be found on this year's schedule. Among these are Albright, Lehigh, Georgetown and Swarthmore. Much satisfaction will no doubt be voiced by Bucknell students over the mid-season game with Lehigh arranged for the Bucknell campus. This will be Lehigh's first appearance on the local diamond and as Straw Hat Day will mark the appearance of the summer headwear at Bucknell. The Harrisburg Tri-State game while scheduled for Harrisburg will in all probability be brought to the campus. Manager Cockill of the Tri-State team has given the Athletic Association his assurance that the game will be brought here if such arrangement is at all possible.

With a good schedule of games and practically the whole of last year's winning team in college, baseball prospects look very bright. Ex-Captain O'Brien, Wyckoff and Logan are the only men of last year's team not in college this year. Besides the veterans there is some good material in the freshman class that will strengthen the team. Captain Worrilow is pleased with prospects and hopes to equal or surpass last year's record of thirteen victories.

Coach "By" Dickson who developed last year's successful nine, will again have charge of the coaching.

The following is the scedule as arranged:

April 5, Bloomsburg Normal, at Lewisburg; April 12, Albright, at Lewisburg; April 26, Harrisburg Tri-State, at Harrisburg or Lewisburg; April 26, Albright, at Myerstown; May 1, Catholic University, at Washington, D. C.; May 2, Georgetown, at Washington, D. C.; May 3, Susquehanna, at Selinsgrove; May 10, Lehigh, at Lewisburg (Straw Hat game); May 17, St. Bonaventure, at Lewisburg; May 24, Lebanon Valley, at Lewisburg; May 28, Army, at West Point; May 29, Seton Hall, at South Orange, N. J., May 30, Delaware, at Newark, Del.; May 31, Swarthmore, at Swarthmore; June 7, Susquehanna, at Lewisburg; June 14, (pending) Lafayette, at Easton; June 16, (open) at Lewisburg; June 17, Alumni, at Lewisburg.

TELEGRAPH COMPANY GROWING

The new East College Telegraph Company is making big strides. Six stations now make up the company's lines to say nothing of four applications for stock received the past week. One of these applications is from Main College and another from the West College building. The following officers were lately elected: Bressler, Pres.; Steele, Vice Pres.; Stetler, Controller; Hoke, Supt.; and Rooke, Gen. Manager.

CONTINUE THE CONCERTS.

The first concert planned by the college band to be given in Bucknell Hall a week from Friday is a reminder of what a great factor that organization might become in the social life of the college. We suggest that a series of three evening concerts be arranged and delivered on the college campus during the delightful months of the coming spring term. The college band, the Oratorio Society and the Mandolin Club might take part in each of the concerts and a single ticket could be sold for the entire series.

BASKET-BALL OUTLOOK BETTER.

The hopeful attitude taken by the Orange and Blue last week as to the ultimate development of a representative basket-ball team bids fair to be about right. The Lebanon Valley victory proved the presence of real ability in the Varsity squad and the return of Captain Fisher to the game sometime soon will no doubt place Bucknell basket-ball stock considerably above par.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor Orange and Blue:

The excellent spirit which the freshmen are showing in regard to wearing their green caps is certainly worthy of commendation. As the wearing of such a distinctive form of headgear is an old tradition of the college nothing can be more pleasing than the attitude which the members of the class of 1916 have assumed. Moreover, this is a custom which is not only prevalent at Bucknell, but has long been in use throughout the college world. The freshman should regard his green cap as a symbol of his college spirit and not as an evidence of oppression or humiliation. It is the sincere hope of all upperclassmen that such stringent measures as have been adopted in former years will not be found necessary in enforcing the Freshman Rules.

Michael Danowski was called home last week upon the death of his mother.

The Literary Society will hold its first meeting of the term Friday evening. No meeting was held last week because of the basket-ball games.

A Mission Study Class has been formed under the direction of the Academy Y. M. C. A., and will hold weekly meetings. Everyone is invited to attend.

The Academy basket-ball team was defeated Friday evening by Williamsport High. The score was 35-15. The next game will be played with Berwick High at Berwick, Wednesday afternoon.

The Lewisburg Crescent basketball team is making a good showing this year. The game last Saturday against the Bucknell Academy was looked upon as being one of the hardest of the schedule, as the Crescent enjoyed a clean record, but they were humbled by a score of 19-8. Dechtel who is playing a fine game at forward, has been handicapped by a bad knee, and he was unable to play Saturday and his goal shooting was missed.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

The average age of members of the Freshman class of Lehigh on September 18th, the opening day of college, was 19 years, 2 months, 21 days.

Lee Talbot, the former Cornell University wrestler and weight thrower, may join the professional ranks and go after the heavyweight wrestling honors this fall.

According to statistics recently compiled, the average cost of a four years' academic education at Yale, twenty years ago, was $1,210; While the average today has increased, owing to the high cost of living, to $1,472.

Woodrow Wilson does not take kindly to the custom of Presidents shaking several thousand hands at every public function. He believes the President of the U. S. can devote his time and energies to better advantage. Woodrow is right again.

J. Pierpont Morgan has given $50,000 to his alma mater, George August University, Gottingen, Germany, in order to enable it to maintain its reputation of having the best equipped library of American and English literature in Continental Europe.

Resolutions were adopted by the pan-hellenic council of the national fraternities and organizations of Illinois University several weeks ago which are intended to put a stop to hazing and intimidation of Freshmen. It is the intention of the council to do all in its power to cause this form of activity to be looked upon as something below the level of a gentleman.

The annual report of the U. S. Bureau of Education contains some interesting information. It states that only five out of every hundred high school graduates enter college, and that less than two per cent. of the students who enter college receive a degree. During the last year, the facilities of the colleges of this country have grown 61 per cent., while their student bodies have grown 67 per cent.

Of the many undergraduate organizations of which Yale is proud, there is none which has more claim to perfection in its line than the Yale Daily News. The News is advertised as being the "oldest college daily." Started in the latter '70's more in the shape of a handbill than a newspaper, it has now developed into a six-page daily with a circulation of 2,000 copies. The editorial staff of the News is one of the two or three groups of undergraduates who receive financial compensation for their labors.

Judge Johnson Entertains.

The following party from Williamsport was entertained at a six o'clock dinner last Friday evening at the home of Judge A. W. Johnson: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krape, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Klinger, Miss Krape, Bodo Ellis, the Misses Emily, Lucretia and George Ellis and Miss Ruth App.

BUCKNELL UNIVERSITY.

BUCKNELL'S SPURT BEAT OPPONENTS

VARSITY PLAYED WITH VIM IN SECOND HALF.

SUSQUEHANNA DISPLAYED UNEXPECTED STRENGTH

Game Was Nip and Tuck from Beginning to End and the Outcome Was Always Doubtful.—Fisher Still Unable to Enter Game.

One of the most exciting and interesting basket-ball games that have been played on the court in Tustin gymnasium was that staged Saturday evening between the Varsity and Susquehanna University. Neither team could gain a lead of more than a few points until the closing minutes of play when Bucknell's quintet accepted the crisis and rapidly scored two baskets and a foul, winning the game by the score of 26 to 22.

With the first toot of the referee's whistle both teams entered the fray with aggressiveness and speed that indicated clearly that the game would be closely contested. The visitors presented their strongest line-up while Bucknell was severely handicapped by the continued absence from the game of Captain Fisher, who is again confined to his room by illness. The line-up of the Varsity was the same as in last week's victory over Lebanon Valley, with the exception of Schaffner, who played guard.

Among the spectacular plays of the evening were two by Bucknell players that won the plaudits of even the most cynical observer. The first was in the initial period when Bell threw the ball at the goal from the middle of the floor while on a dead run, the sphere dropping into the cage without touching the sides. The other was negotiated in the second half by Jordan when he tossed the ball back over his head and squarely into the basket.

Susquehanna Scores First.

It was not until several minutes after the game started that Follmer, of Susquehanna, successfully caged the ball for the first basket of the evening. Bucknell followed with a similar feat a few minutes later, tying the score. The visitors were next to score and from then on until the end of the period retained the lead, but never, however, being more than three points to the good. Both sides tallied four field goals in the first half but Bucknell was the chief aggressor in fouling and Middleworth, for Susquehanna, was able to drop in three more goals from foul than did Zehner, for the Varsity. The score at the end of the first half was 15 to 12 in favor of Susquehanna.

Varsity Takes Lead.

The opponents from Selinsgrove had increased their lead over the Orange and Blue by two points in the second half before the appearance of the material results of Bucknell's determination to win. Jordan was the instrument whereby the Varsity was to do most of its scoring. "Al" dropped the sphere into the cage four times, one of them being a backward overhead shot of the prettiest variety. In this period Bell was substituted by Fetter, and Schaffner by Keiser, the latter adding two points to the score by a goal from field. The visitors had nine fouls called on them in this session, while Bucknell was found guilty of but two infringements of the rules. The score for the period was 14 to 7 in favor of Bucknell, making the final score 26 to 22, in favor of Bucknell.

The line-up:

Bucknell.		Susquehanna.
Bell	Forward	Follmer
Zehner	Forward	Middleworth
Jordan	Center	Whitmer
Gdaniec	Guard	Hoskin
Schaffner	Guard	Shannon

Substitutions—Bucknell: Fetter for Bell; Keiser for Schaffner. Susquehanna: Swope for Whitmer. Goals from field—Jordan 4, Bell 2, Zehner 1, Gdaniec 1, Keiser 1, Follmer 4, Middlesworth 2, Swope 1. Goals from foul—Zehner, Bucknell, 8 out of 14; Middlesworth, Susquehanna, 8 out of 11. Referee—Church, Bloomsburg, and Schoch, Pennsylvania.

PASTOR FALLS FROM PULPIT.

The congregation of the Baptist church was thrown into a panic yesterday morning when Dr. John Judd, the pastor, upon beginning his sermon, pitched headlong from the pulpit. Fortunately he was not badly injured. For sometime Dr. Judd had been ill and yesterday his strength failed him after stating his text for his sermon. He said afterwards in speaking of his experience, "I felt as if I were making a touchdown in a football game."

CAPTAIN HOBSON, NAVAL HERO, COMING TO LEWISBURG

WILL SPEAK HERE ON FEB. 8 UP. ON PROBABLE SUBJECT, "THE ERA OF UPLIFT."

The Bucknell Lyceum Committee has decided to accept the offer of the Lyceum Bureau to send Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson here for the evening of Feb. 8.

Mr. Hobson is a congressman from Alabama, and has won distinction as a naval expert; as an orator; an author and a statesman. While in the naval service he traveled throughout the world and was a careful observer of the life of nations. On his retirement from the navy in 1903, he waged a successful campaign in the sixth district of Alabama against a powerful political leader and won a seat in the Sixtieth Congress. In congress he has been a fearless champion of arbitration and international peace and a strong advocate for American supremacy among the nations. He has promoted the boy's corn club idea with demonstration farms in his own and southern states. He has aided in improving the educational system of the south.

Capt. Hobson is a polished Southern gentleman, manly, modest, handsome, of nilitary bearing, an orator of the first rank, with an earnest helpful message. He is fighting for the purity of the American home, for all that is good in our American national life, and he is not afraid to lead in any crusade of real reform.

Mr. Hobson's three lectures are: "An Era of Uplift," "The Destiny of America," and "The Great Destroyer." He will probably speak on the first subject. As this number will be an extra one, season tickets will not be acceptable.

FAUST LECTURE HERE TO-NIGHT

PROF. MOORE, OF COLGATE, HERE FOR SECOND TIME.

Prof. Moore, of Colgate University, is to address the Deutscher Verein and its friends in Bucknell Hall this evening at seven o'clock. His subject is Goethe's Faust and the lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides.

This is the second appearance of Mr. Moore at Bucknell. Two years ago he talked to the Deutscher Verein upon Schiller's "Wilhelm Tell." Those who heard him then anticipate a valuable lecture to-night.

ALLEGHENY DATE DECIDED.

Allegheny College will play basket-ball here on Friday evening, Feb. 7, instead of Feb. 6, as first announced. The date for the Alumni game has also been changed and the old grads will be here during the second week of March instead of on Feb. 8.

LAWYER REIMENSNYDER COMING

Lawyer Reimensnyder, of Sunbury, will be the speaker at the regular weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on February 19th.

LO, LEHIGH IS LANDED IN TRACK

DOWN-STATE ATHLETES HERE MAY 7.

TWO YEAR AGREEMENT ENTERED WITH BROWN AND WHITE

Another Meet May be Scheduled With Colgate University at Colgate.—Al Jordan Will Coach Candidates in Track Work.

After a year's suspension of intercollegiate track and field contests at Bucknell, the Executive Board of the Athletic Association has decided to resume this branch of college sport. Manager McKeague has scheduled a meet with Lehigh to be held on the campus May 7. A two year agreement has been entered into by the two colleges under which Lehigh comes here this year and Bucknell goes to South Bethlehem in 1914.

Other Meets in View.

While no other meets have been definitely arranged, negotiations are under way with Colgate University for a field and track meet at Hamilton, N. Y., on some date later in May. No definite date has as yet been decided upon.

It is also thought probable that Bucknell will again be represented in the Penn Annual Relay Races on April 26 at Philadelphia. No team has been sent to these races from Bucknell since 1910, and an entry this year would do much toward arousing the old time enthusiasm in track work here. A strong effort will at least be made to develop a team for entry later even though none is sent this spring.

Varsity Material in College.

Owing to the fact that no Varsity team was developed last year it is difficult to say just what material of Varsity calibre is at hand. Of the 1910 and 1911 teams, Jordan, Hooker Teamer, Bogart, Glover, Bullard and Drake are the only men still in college. The spirited record in the inter-class meets of last spring brought out other promising candidates.

Al. Jordan to Coach.

Physical Director A. Jordan will have charge of both field and track coaching this year. No track captain was elected last year so that a meeting of the track men will be held at an early date to fill this vacancy.

ENTERTAINMENT PLEASED.

The entertainment given by "The Four Artists" Friday evening was appreciated by the largest audience of the season. Each member of the musical company rendered his part in a pleasing manner.

DR. HARRIS TO SPEAK.

The President will address the weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. in the Association Hall on Thursday evening. Dr. Harris has not yet given the subject of his address.

STUDENTS GIVE LIBERALLY TO AID FAMOUS MISSION

CLOTHES COMMITTEE MEETS WITH SUCCESS IN RESPONSE TO MERCER'S APPEAL.

The clothes committee under the leadership of "Cuddy Coughanour and "Tip" Topham met with true success last week when it made the rounds of the college buildings in search for clothing requested by "Ted" Mercer in behalf of the famous Water Street Mission of New York.

East College contributed a barrel of clothes for the use of the unfortunates during the cold seasons. The other college buildings also responded well. The committee in charge of the collection was: Coughanour, chairman; Topham, Richardson, '16, Rehman and Glass.

DR. HEIM DID NOT SPEAK.

Contrary to the announcement in last week's Orange and Blue, Dr. Heim did not address the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening. Dr. Heim was under the impression that the date for his talk came a week later. In spite of the disappointment in not hearing Dr. Heim, a good meeting was held. He will address the Association at a future date.

FREDERICK BERTOLETTE, ESQ., IS AN ACTIVE ALUMNUS

Mr. Frederick Bertolette, Esq., of Mauch Chunk, is a Bucknell alumnus whose loyalty to the institution is prized by every undergraduate. Mr. Bertolette is president of the class of 1872. Upon the occasion of the twenty-fifth reunion of his class, Mr. Bertolette brought with him the Mauch Chunk band at his own expense and banqueted his classmates and a large number of their friends in Bucknell Hall. At the fortieth anniversary of his class last year he hired the Sunbury band again at his own expense. Mr. Bertolette is widely known as a successful practictioner of law.

MUSICAL TREATS WILL MARK WEEK

BAND AND ORATORIO SOCIETY IN CONCERT.

"THE HAUNTED HOUSE" TO TEEM WITH GHASTLY GHOSTS

This Is One Number Which the Band Will Render in Bucknell Hall Friday.—Gaul's "Holy City" by the Oratorio Society Thursday.

The present week promises to be an interesting one in college music circles. The Oratorio Society is to make its first appearance of the year in concert Thursday evening when it will execute "The Holy City" by Gaul in the Lewisburg Baptist Church. Friday evening the Bucknell Band will be the main feature of a varied program to be presented in Bucknell Hall. A silver collection will be taken Thursday evening.

First Oratorio of the Year.

The execution of Gaul's "Holy City" in the Lewisburg Baptist Church, Thursday evening, marks the first appearance of the Oratorio Society. The organization is under the leadership of Prof. Paul Stolz of the Music Department. Thursday's oratorio will be given with piano and organ accompaniment and begins at 8 p. m.

Friday's Program Interesting.

The program to be given in Bucknell Hall, Friday evening, will be an interesteing one. Those who attended the concert given by the college band three years ago recall the interest aroused by one number, "The Haunted House." The same selection will be rendered again Friday with several new hair-raising accompaniments. Folks who do not enjoy the gibbering and squealing of ghastly ghosts, the clanking of chains and the rattling of bones had better keep away from Bucknell Hall Friday evening.

The new steamboat whistle will make its first appearance in "A Day in a Cottonfield." This is a characteristic southern selection which portrays the life in the southern cottonfields. It introduces sand jigs and other specialties.

Between the selections by the band, several vocal solos will be rendered by local talent. A sweet singer from Sunbury, Mr. George Feldges, is to sing at the concert and students from the Dramatic Department will present a ludicrous farce-comedy entitled, "The Piper's Pay." An admission of twenty-five cents will be charged.

"The Piper's Pay."

The program of the farce comedy to be given by the Frill and Frown Society under the direction of Miss Edith Schillinger is as follows:

Mrs. John Burton, (Peggy), the hostess who is in society—Blanche Woods.

Mrs. Chas. Dover, (Mable), a bride who loves Charley and lets the world know about it—Lucile McGee.

Mrs. Hereford Carr, the haughty, calm society leader who is sure of herself—Olive Cooper.

Mary Clark, a detective, who causes all the mischief and detects too much—Helen Ott.

Evelyn Evans, a society reporter whose pen strokes strike fear in all the society set—Marie Harer.

Katie, the maid—Helen Ede.

DISCUSSES THURY SYSTEM.

Rooke, '13, addressed the meeting of the local branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers in the electrical laboratory Wednesday evening. He discussed "the Thury System of Continuous Currents." After telling the advantages and disadvantages of the system, the speaker compared it with the high tension alternating current system.

A LIMITLESS QUESTION.

The local debators who are trying for positions on the Varsity team which is to meet Gettysburg College soon in a joint debate are finding much difficulty in coping with the question for discussion proposed by their opponents. The question, which according to the agreement between the two colleges is for Gettysburg to propose, states, Resolved: That the present scientific trend in education is opposed to the principles of social and political progress and stability.

The question proposed is limitless. It is strangely in contrast to the definite question set by Bucknell last year. What is meant by the scientific trend in education; the tendency toward vocational training or that toward scientific research which has effected the conflict between science and some theologians? Do not our Gettysburg friends mean the materialistic trend? What are the principles of social and political progress? Are there set principles which will be unquestionable in the minds of both sides? Does stability go arm in arm with social and political progress? Surely there is great vagueness in the Gettysburg question. Some further agreement will have to be made if the annual debate with Gettysburg is to be as interesting and satisfactory to both sides as it was last year.

MEANING OF TRACK REVIVAL.

Bucknell students are indeed glad to learn that track athletics are again to be revived at the college. In years past track was one of the leading activities of the college and winning teams were of frequent occurrence. Several times at the great relay races at the University of Pennsylvania, the Bucknell representatives covered themselves with glory. The problem at present is how to attain the level of past standards.

If Bucknell is to cope successfully with Lehigh, in the wake of a period of track inactivity, work will have to be begun at once. With faithful work and careful coaching here the Brown and White may meet with defeat upon the occasion of its appearance here on May 7.

BAND WANTS TO HELP ITSELF.

The band is making an admirable effort to help itself and to remove the deficit which has resulted because of the failure of a number of students to fulfill their pledges to aid the organization to pay for the suits purchased last term. Friday evening's concert promises to be a good one; an interesting program has been arranged and the band has been working faithfully on its numbers since the beginning of the year. This honest effort should meet with a hearty response from the friends of the band.

"NEW FIND" SAYS LYCEUM BUREAU OF PHIDELAH RICE

POPULAR IMPERSONATOR WILL APPEAR IN LEWISBURG ON FEBRUARY 3.

Phidelah Rice, the impersonator, will be in Lewisburg Monday evening, Feb. 3, as the fifth number of the Lyceum Course. It is but a few years ago that Phidelah Rice was introduced to the public by the Lyceum Bureau as a "new find", an artist who would set a standard all his own for careful, painstaking work, and one who could be well recommended to any audience.

Some of Mr. Rice's subjects are the following: "David Garrack"; "The Man of the Hour"; "The Taming of the Shrew"; "Great Expectations", etc.

In 1909 H. P. Harrison wrote Leland T. Powers, the great impersonator, asking Mr. Powers for his candid estimate of Mr. Rice's work. It follows: "I am an enthusiastic admirer of the impersonation work of Mr. Phidelah Rice. It has the characteristics of masterliness. It is spontaneous and virile and full of splendid human nature and truth. At the same time Mr. Rice is no haphazard performer; he knows the technique of his profession and the purpose and message of his play are brought out with the most careful judgment as to the artistic value. Knowing the man as I do, with his cultivated mind, his clean heart and clear head, served by a handsome physique and blessed by a winning personality, I do not wonder at the astonishing success Mr. Rice has met with in the last two years."

MAY BECOME SCRANTON'S MAYOR

WILLARD BUNNELL, ESQ., BUCKNELL ALUMNUS, CANDIDATE.

Willard M. Bunnell, Esq., '97, of Scranton, announced himself as Democratic candidate for Mayor of that city in yesterday's North American. Mr. Bunnell at present holds for a second term the position of Prothonotary of Lackawanna county. He is the first Democrat to hold that office.

SENIOR COMMITTEES APPOINTED

Middleton, '13, president of the senior class, recently appointed these committees: Invitations, Beck, chairman, Bressler, Brush, Dunkle, Eschleman, Fairchilds, Fetter, Sanders Miss Arthur, Miss Irey and Miss Mitchell.

Memorial Committee: H. M. Goehring, chairman, Griffith, H. W. Smith, Glover, Sanders, Still, Richardson, Shaffer, Bogart, Kelly, Hooker, Miss Galloway, Miss Maynard and Miss Hottenstein.

PLENTY OF NUMBERS FRIDAY.

In addition to the numbers at the band concert Friday evening printed elsewhere in the Orange and Blue, the following have been added: Declamation, Edward Clark; Vocal Solo, Miss Ruth Williams; Selections by the Academy Quartette; Vocal Solo, Miss Mildred Kirk; Piano Solo by Mr. H. E. Bloom, of Sunbury.

CONCERT FOR ATHLETICS.

The Lewisburg Choral Society, which appeared with great success at the Presbyterian church last week, will sing again in March for the benefit of Bucknell athletics. The entertainment will be in the form of a comic opera.

SWARTZ TO ADDRESS MEN.

Swartz, Traveling Secretary for the International Committee of the Y. M. C. A., will address the student body next Sunday afternoon at 3.45 in Association Hall.

A course in Scandinavian is included in the curriculum at the University of Minnesota.

The cabinet and members of the Y. W .C. A. greatly regret the departure of the president, Rachel Davis, from school the past week. She was very successful as president and did a great deal to improve the organization.

Last Tuesday evening the regular monthly meeting of the Young Women's Christian Association was held. The new chairman of the musical committee, Helen Wedekindt, conducted the choir. Helen Waite led the meeting and took as her topic, "The Single String." This is the one talent which each of us has to use and develop for the good of others and for the development of strength of character in one's own self. Miss Schillinger recited several selections taking as her single string, "smile." Mae Evans and Margaret Jacobs played piano solos and Ruth Williams sang. The meeting was one of the most interesting and inspirational of the year.

VARSITY SCORES TWO VICTORIES

ABILITY TO "COME BACK" WON BOTH GAMES.

GETTYSBURG AND SUSQUEHANNA WERE THE VICTIMS

Large Delegation Accompanied Team to Selinsgrove Saturday and Cheering Was a Feature.—Outcome of Games Always Doubtful.

The ability to "come back" at the crucial moment and to turn apparent defeat into victory has been demonstrated by many Bucknell athletic teams in the past in all branches of sport, but seldom has it been done as effectively and cleverly as in the two basket-ball games played by the Varsity during the past week. Gettysburg and Susquehanna were the two teams from which Bucknell thus won in the closing minutes of play, the former by a score of 33-26, and the latter by 21 to 18.

A large delegation of students accompanied the team to Selinsgrove Saturday evening to see the game with Susquehanna and they will never forget the excitement that ran riot throughout the Bucknell cheering section when the Orange and Blue quintet overcame the lead of their opponents and finally won the game by a narrow margin of three points. The first half closed with the score 12 to 4 in favor of Susquehanna and the students of that institution showed their overconfidence of winning by forming a snake dance and marching around the floor. A feature of the evening was the cheering of the Bucknell contingent, led by Cheerleader Lowther.

The speed and team-work which were shown by the Varsity in the games of last week far surpassed that of the previous games and augur well for victory in the games remaining on the schedule, especially that with Allegheny in Tustin gymnasium next Friday. The handicap under which the team labored in the first couple games, with but two veterans on the squad, is realized by the followers of the game and the present excellent playing of the team is for that reason the more appreciated.

Gettysburg Game.

The game with Gettysburg Wednesday evening contained in the second half more excitement per minute of play than probably any game ever played in the local gymnasium. The Several minutes of play had elapsed before Jordan volleyed the ball into the basket for the initial score, and following shortly after with another score. Bell executed a pretty shot from the center of the floor and gave Bucknell a lead of six points. Gettysburg then made its first tally. Both teams scored frequently in this period, Jordan and Bell caging all the baskets for the Orange and Blue, while Mahaffie put on the sharp-shooting work for the visitors. When the half ended Bucknell was in the lead three points, the score being 16 to 13.

It was in the second period that the Battle-field collegians slowly increased their score until when, about the middle of the period, the two teams were tie, 19 to 19. The Varsity then became aroused to the situation and played with increased determination and vigor that soon had its results. Keiser and Zehner caged baskets before Gettysburg could again tally. Jordan followed with a goal and Zehner dropped two more in the net. Gettysburg tallied two baskets and a foul goal during the next few minutes and the game was brought to a close after Zehner and Jordan had each thrown baskets.

The work of ex-Captain Zehner and Jordan in this game was up to the usual standard of excellence. Bell played a remarkable game at forward. The substitution of Fetter for Bell in the second half nevertheless had good results, for it instilled new blood, so to speak, into the men and Fetter's floor work kept the ball almost continually under the Bucknell basket. Keiser and Gdaniec also did good work at the guard positions.

Final score, 33 to 26.

Bucknell.		Gettysburg.
Bell	Forward	Mahaffie
Fetter.		Livingstone.
Zehner	Forward	Ikler
Jordan	Center	Witherow
Gdaniec	Guard	Scheffer
		Mahaffie.
Keiser	Guard	Beegle

Field goals—Jordan 7, Zehner 4, Bell 3, Keiser 1, Mahaffie 5, Ikler 2, Livingstone 2, Beegle 1. Foul goals—Zehner 3 out of 7; Mahaffie 3 out of 6; Witherow 3 out of 4. Referee—Hagy. Timekeepers—Phillippi and Catherall. Scorer—Golightly.

FAHRINGER, '15' TO WHOM BUCKNELL OWES ITS BAND

Frederick Harrison Fahringer

The bulk of credit for the present success of the College Band is due to Mr. Fahringer who reorganized it completely last year and who is now serving his second term as director. He also plays cornet. Under the efficient leadership of Mr. Fahringer the band has grown and developed until now it is the largest and best in its history.

CAPTAIN HOBSON, NAVAL HERO, TO SPEAK SATURDAY

NOTED FIGHTER AND ORATOR TO LECTURE ON "THE DESTINY OF AMERICA."

Captain Hobson will lecture in the Beaver Memorial Church on Saturday evening at 8.15 o'clock. Hobson is a man who has done things. When there was a ship to be sunk in Santiago harbor he did it. When there was a ship to be raised from the bottom of Manila Bay, he was the expert called in by the government for the task. When the Oregon ran on a shoal in the Yellow Sea he patched her up and sent her safely across the Pacific. When public sentiment demanded direct election of President, Vice President, and Senators, he was the man who led the movement in Congress. He will deliver his wonderful oration on "The Destiny of America" on Saturday evening.

TO HOLD SMOKER JUNIOR WEEK

JUNIORS TO ENTERTAIN SENIORS IN TUSTIN GYMNASIUM.

The Junior Smoker, the annual function at which the Seniors puff the flower of Havana at the expense of the next oldest class, will be held on the evening of Tuesday, February 18, in Tustin gymnasium. All favorite species of "smokes" will be supplied by the Committee, as well as an abundance of good things to eat. An effort is being made to have the Bucknell Band present to furnish music for dancing. The committee in charge of the Smoker is as follows: Swenson, chairman; Baker, Lyne, Harris, Glover and Everall.

WANT A WOMAN AS A TRUSTEE

PHILADELPHIA ALUMNAE ASSOC. STARTS MOVEMENT.

WOMAN GRADUATES WANT TO HELP GOVERN COLLEGE

Association to Help Raise Bucknell Endowment.—Woman Who Addressed the Meeting Incites Tears by Vivid Descriptions of War.

A movement has been set on foot by the Bucknell Alumnae Association of Philadelphia to have a woman appointed on the board of trustees of Bucknell University, according to the Philadelphia North American, which reports such a motion having been made at the regular meeting of the Association held at the College Club in that city Saturday.

It was argued by former women students in the Institute and college that as the institution is co-educational and a large percentage of the students and graduates are women, it is in keeping with the progressive trend of the day to give the women a voice in making the rules and framing the policies that govern the university. A motion to have the Association placed on record as in favor of a woman being appointed on the board of trustees was passed at the meeting.

The movement which has been made by the Philadelphia organization will probably be brought before the Trustees of the college at their next annual meeting, which will be held during Commencement week, and as that body is a self-perpetuating one, it will remain for the men who compose it to say whether or not suffrage will be given to women graduates and one of them made a member of the board.

This effort which is being made to increase the endowment fund of Bucknell University was also discussed at the meeting of the Alumnae Association and the members were urged to render all possible assistance in the project.

The Association was addressed by Mrs. Edward Biddle, of Carlisle, who urged the women present to join the Pennsylvania Arbitration and Peace Society. Her vivid descriptions of the horrors and sufferings of war are said to have brought tears to the eyes of many of the members.

The members elected the following officers to serve during the ensuing year: Dr. Mary M. Wolfe, president; Mrs. I. H. O'Hara and Miss Hannah Goodman, vice presidents; Miss Letitia Mathews, recording secretary; Miss Catherine Englehart, corresponding secretary.

DISCUSSED MAKING OF SODA

PROF. BROWN GAVE ADDRESS TO CHEMICAL SOCIETY.

The Chemical Society held its initial meeting of the term in the lecture room of the Chemical Laboratory last Thursday afternoon. Prof. Brown made the address to the society and gave a practical talk on the history and development of the soda industry, taking up particularly the Le Blanc, and Solvay processes.

The large attendance at the meeting Thursday showed increased interest in this organization and an effort to have regular bi-monthly meetings throughout the remainder of the year at which practical chemical processes will be discussed. The next meeting will be Thursday, Feb. 13th, at 4.15 P. M., in the Chemical Laboratory.

PHIDELAH RICE TO-NIGHT.

Phidelah Rice, the impersonator, will appear as the fifth number on the regular Lyceum Course in the Beaver Memorial church this evening at 8.15 o'clock.

BUCKNELL BAND MAKES DEBUT.

The Bucknell Band made its formal debut in concert work this year when it appeared as the main feature of a varied program in Bucknell Hall, Friday night. The organization worked conscientiously in preparation for its part of the program and appeared at its best in three numbers, "The Mignonette," "The Haunted House," and "A Day in a Cotton-field."

The Frill and Frown Society of the Institute also did well in its farce-comedy, "The Piper's Pay." Mr. H. E. Bloom, of Sunbury, rendered several piano solos. Vocal solos were sung by Miss Mildred Kirk, Miss Ruth Williams and Mr. George Fedges of Sunbury. Edward Clark, '15, recited well from the Merchant of Venice.

DR. HARRIS TO SPEAK.

On account of the basket-ball game the Y. M. C. A. did not have its regular meeting on Thursday evening. President Harris will speak at the meeting this week—Thursday evening, at 9.00 o'clock.

JUNIOR PROM WILL HAVE ORCHESTRA FROM SHAMOKIN

STUDENTS FROM ALL CLASSES IN COLLEGE INVITED TO THE FUNCTION.

The Committee on the Junior Prom has completed practically all arrangements for that event of events, which will be held in the Lewisburg armory Feb. 21st. The Thomas orchestra of eight pieces has been engaged to furnish music for the dancing and that fact is assurance that the musical program will equal any ever presented in this place. The ban previously placed upon underclassmen has been removed this year and students of all classes in the University and in the Academy, and alumni, are invited to attend the function.

The patrons and patronesses for the Prom have been selected and are as follows: Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Griffith, Mrs. William Forster, Dr. and Mrs. Lelser, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Lindemann, Mrs. H. G. Dreisbach, Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. B. K. Focht, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Baker, and Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Linn.

DEBATORS WHO WILL MEET GETTYSBURG ARE SELECTED

KEEN COMPETITION FOR HONORS IN VARSITY FORENSIC CONTEST.

By means of a competitive tryout in Theta Alpha room Wednesday evening the personnel of the Varsity debating team, which will meet Gettysburg March 14 in a double debate, was decided upon. In spite of the difficulty and lack of definiteness of the question as submitted by Gettysburg, a spirited rivalry to secure the coveted positions was evinced, and many strong arguments were produced on both sides of the question.

Six men were selected to compose the team: Richards, Riley, Gehman, Lotte, principals; Bachman, Walter, alternates. These men will begin work at once on the question to be debated, and will form two teams, one to debate at Gettysburg and the other in Bucknell Hall, both to be on the same evening.

No other debates have as yet been scheduled, but it is quite likely that another college will be met. Efforts have been made on the part of Gettysburg to form a three-school league, composed of Gettysburg, Bucknell and Rutgers. If this is done at least one other debating contest is assured.

VOCALISTS GIVE FIRST ORATORIO

MUSICAL TREAT BY DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC.

GAUL'S "THE HOLY CITY" DELIGHTFULLY RENDERED

Large Audience Entertained With Composer's Masterpiece Friday.—To Present Mendelsohn's "Elijah" Commencement Sunday.

The Oratorio Society of Bucknell University made its first appearance of the season Thursday evening in the Baptist church when it presented "The Holy City," by Alfred Gaul. A large number of students and townspeople enjoyed the rendition. The theme, "Love Not the World," which the author wished to convey, was beautifully interpreted and emphasized by the performers.

The oratorio began with a prologue which was sung by a double quartet with a soprano solo by Miss Rice. The dramatic element which Miss Rice displayed in the solo was a delight to the listeners. Much of the prologue was sung unaccompanied and showed ability to retain the key pitch, without slighting expression.

After the prologue the accompanists, Miss Rice and Miss Hollingshead, played the introduction "Expectation," which prepared the people with the musical themes maintained throughout the composition. This performance together with the support given to the soloists was of a high order. Special mention is made of the instrumental duet "Adoration," the entire suggestion of which is prayer. The accompanists excelled in their ability on this selection.

The soloists taking part in the oratorio were: Miss Sheep, soprano; Miss Williams, contralto; Van Osten, tenor; Parmenter, bass; Miss Kercher and Miss Soper in duet work.

"These Are They," the soprano solo by Miss Sheep, was well delivered. Miss Williams sang her two contralto solos with ease and tonal beauty. "Come Ye Blessed" won the favor of all.

The two tenor solos by Van Osten proved both power and delicacy in their performance. "To the Lord Our God" deserves worthy mention. Parmenter, the bass soloist, who proved himself capable of doing most excellent at a few days' notice, sang the bass role assigned to Lloyd, '11, who, on account of sickness, was unable to take part. Parmenter sang "And I Heard a Great Voice" in a charming manner. In this piece the chorus sang the "Sanctus" as a frequent refrain.

Too little mention cannot be made of the successfully performed trio "At Eventide"; it was followed by "The Cherubic Host," by a ladies' quartet and chorus with soprano and bass obligato by Miss Sheep and Mr. Parmenter. The rendition showed delicate shadings, the result of conscientious training.

The choral work was conducted in a masterly manner by Prof. Stolz, Director of the School of Music. The excellent interpretation of the difficult passages of Gaul's masterpiece was largely due to the thorough training which the singers had undergone and their response to the movements of the leader's baton.

The Oratorio Society will at once take up Mendelsohn's "Elijah," which will be presented by the organization Commencement Sunday.

FOOD EXPERT TO LECTURE.

A WOMAN AS TRUSTEE.

To have the women graduates of a co-educational college take steps to have one of their number given a place on the Board of Trustees is a unique situation, indeed, but that is now the condition of affairs here at Bucknell. A movement urging that a woman be appointed as a Trustee of this college was started at a meeting of the Philadelphia Alumnae Association at its meeting in that city Saturday. What action, if any, that will be taken by the august body that shapes the destinies of this institution at their next meeting in June will be awaited with keen interest not only by the alumni and friends of Bucknell, but by all interested in co-educational schools throughout the country.

The Bucknell Alumni Club of Lewisburg will hold its annual meeting this evening but it is not thought that any action advocating a change in the Board of Trustees will be proposed.

"FAUST," BY PROF. MOORE, DELIGHTS LARGE AUDIENCE

MEMBER OF COLGATE FACULTY LECTURES SPLENDIDLY IN BUCKNELL HALL.

Prof. Moore, of Colgate University, delighted the audience which filled Bucknell Hall to its fullest capacity last Monday evening when he delivered his illustrated lecture on Goethe's Faust. This was the second appearance of Prof. Moore at Bucknell inasmuch as he lectured on "Wilhelm Tell" here two years ago. Prof. Moore came to Lewisburg last week under the auspices of the Deutscher Verein.

By way of introduction, Prof. Moore sketched briefly the life of Goethe. The poet's unfortunate love affair with Friederike von Sesenheim, he said, influenced his subsequent literary productions. Court life at Weimar, Prof. Moore said, also had much to do with Goethe's work.

Considering the story of Faust, Prof. Moore said that the theme was a very old one, having existed for centuries among the Teutonic peoples, but that of all the many versions of the story from the pens of countless writers only three worthy of note have survived: Marlowe's "Dr. Faustus;" Gounod's opera, "Faust," and Goethe's "Faust." Prof. Moore then related the story of "Faust," showing at the same time appropriate illustrations.

Mephistopheles failed, the speaker said, to claim the soul of Faust. The story of "Faust" as told by Prof. Moore together with the pictures shown made a matchless combination which won the favor of his audience.

ALUMNUS, STATE ENTOMOLOGIST, DOES GREAT WORK

HAS SPECIALIZED IN ORCHARD DEMONSTRATION WORK AND ISSUES REPORT.

Charles H. Baldwin, '08, State Entomologist of Indiana, has recently made to Governor Marshall the fifth annual report of that office. The report comprises over three hundred pages of printed matter, and is illustrated by numerous cuts and photographs showing many species of plant diseases and the methods of suppressing them.

After completing his course here, Mr. Baldwin had charge of the science department for three years in the Goshen, Indiana, High School. During the last two years at Goshen he was employed as one of the deputies of the State Entomologist, and spent his Saturdays in orchard demonstration work. Mr. Baldwin consistently refused to leave Indiana for offers of more remunerative positions elsewhere, and upon the election of Governor Marshall he was rewarded for his able and conscientious work by appointment to the position which he now holds.

Orchard demonstration was then in its infancy in Indiana. The last two years has been a period of great growth. The importance of insect control is now fully recognized, and larger appropriations are made by the state for its support year after year. At present the State Entomologist has under his immediate direction ten or more deputies who devote their entire time to this work.

Susquehanna Game.

The victory over Susquehanna University at Selinsgrove Saturday night was a hard fought one throughout. That team was backed by a large following of rooters and entered the fray with a strong determination to retrieve their defeat at the hands of Bucknell at this place a week ago. The Orange and Blue varsity did not display much speed and aggressiveness until in the second period, when it "came back" with a vengeance and won the game by three points.

The game opened with lots of snap which rapidly developed into rough playing on the part of the home team. The Bucknell five refrained from tactics of that nature in the hope of allowing their opponents to wear themselves out, and in the second half the Orange and Blue played Susquehanna at their own game and won it.

Keiser, of Bucknell, was the first man to score in the game when he executed a sensational shot from beyond the center of the floor. That was the only field goal made by Bucknell in the first half, the other two points being made by Zehner on goals from fouls. Susquehanna lost no opportunities to tally, however, and when the period ended was at the big end of a 12 to 4 score.

In the second period Bucknell made a spurt that netted 9 points and brot the score 17 to 13. In the middle of the half Gdaniec was substituted for Schaffner and before his advent had been realized by the opponents he tossed the ball into the net for another tally. With but two minutes to play Bucknell tied the score and a successfully shot goal from foul put them in the lead by one point. Susquehanna then had an opportunity to tie the score when a foul was declared on Bucknell, but Middlesworth missed. A few seconds before the game was ended Jordan caged the ball for an additional two points for Bucknell. Fetter played an exceptionally good game at forward, as did ex-Captain Zehner. Jordan was up to his standard at center while the work of Keiser, Schaffner and Gdaniec was consistent and commendable. Final score, 21 to 18.

VOLUNTEER MOVEMENT WORKER ADDRESSED MEETINGS.

MR. SWARTZ, TRAVELING SECRETARY, MET MANY STUDENTS AND PROFESSORS.

Swartz, Traveling International Secretary of the Student Volunteer Movement, spent the week-end at Bucknell. During his stay on the Hill, Mr. Swartz had personal interviews with about twenty-five of the college men. He also met and interviewed the professors who are heads of departments of the university. Special Cabinet and Committee meetings of the Y. M. C. A. were held and the secretary had many helpful suggestions to make.

On Sunday afternoon at 3.30 Mr. Swartz addressed a special meeting of the Y. M. C. A. in Association Hall. The speaker said in substance that the present is a time of great opportunity. We are living at a time when all races are moving ahead as never before. Wonderful dynamic forces are at work all about us. It behooves us to look around and see what some of the forces are which are moving the world. China is going through an educational, religious, and industrial revolution. In less than a decade changes have come to pass in China which it required centuries for other countries to pass through. The fact that changes are taking place so rapidly at the present time makes it a period of crises in many respects. Especially is this true in a religious sense. Bryce said "Unless the contact between the East and West becomes Christianized, there will be dire consequences to the world."

With the great commercial and educational changes of the age there are forces which tend to tear down all that is noble and good. The restraining and balancing power of Christianity is needed to insure that the commercial and educational forces of the heathen world be rightly used. Intellectualization without moralization is a dangerous thing. Natural morality cannot prevail where religion is not known.

In closing the speaker made an appeal for every man to get into the game. The summons, he said, comes from four sources: from the heathen world which is being literally ground down by the forces of sin; from the leaders of the church; from the men who are already on the foreign field, and, from Jesus, the Christ.

On Sunday evening Mr. Swartz filled the pulpit of the Baptist church and talked on the history and development of the Student Volunteer Movement.

Swartz is a man of commanding personality and a fine mixer among college men. It is certain that his visit to Bucknell has meant much to many of the men. It would be hard to estimate the good that may result from his personal talks with the men but it is safe to say that he has left a spirit of greater devotion in the lives of at least twenty-five.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

Dartmouth College has a gymnasium so large that a full-sized baseball diamond was laid out on its floor last spring and the men practiced on it daily.

Maroon and white rooter hats were worn by all the students of the University of Chicago at the football games. The women as well as the men wore these hats.

The newest fashion of the eastern college world is the formation of a "riding klub," made up of Columbia University students. Nearly fifty men reported for the "first practice."

Temple University, at Philadelphia, is to have a chair of household research, the purpose of which is to secure recognition for housework as a distinct and worthy profession.

The freshman-sophomore rush at Columbia took the form of tug of a war. A stream of water was kept playing over the starting point at the center of the rope in order to give the loser a drenching.

The students of Hobart College, New York, have signed a petition to be presented to the board of trustees requesting that the next president of that school have pre-eminently business ability. For the past ninety years the various heads of the school have been Episcopal church clergymen.

ALLEGHENY TAKES AN EASY VICTORY

PERFECT TEAM WORK AND SHOOTING WON GAME.

VARSITY COMPLETELY OUT-CLASSED BY VISITING TEAM

Quintet from Western Pennsylvania Gave Best Exhibition Seen Here In Many Years.—Bucknell Unable to do Much Scoring.

The 'Varsity basketball team went down to defeat Friday night before the quintet from Allegheny college, the fastest and cleverest team that has played on the Tustin gymnasium court in many years. At no time in the game was the Bucknell five equal to their opponents and the visitors piled up 46 points to 5 tallied by the Orange and Blue.

The defeat at the hands of Allegheny was not altogether unexpected, especially by those who were acquainted with the records made by basket-ball teams from that school during the past few years. This is the second season that all the members of the Feadville team have played together and their proficiency can in a large measure be attributed to that fact.

From the first toot of the referee's whistle Allegheny seemed to have the situation in hand and they tossed the ball in from all corners of the floor. Team work was their strong point and they passed the ball with speed and accuracy that baffled the Bucknell players. But even at that a hard luck jinx hovered over the Bucknell basket and only two of the many attempts made to cage the ball were successful. Zehner had particularly hard luck both in shooting field goals and those from foul, the ball twirling about the ring many times and then falling back into the playing field.

The first half had not been going long when Hawk, the stellar player for the Western Pennsylvania college, tossed the ball through the net. He soon followed with several other clever shots and from then on it was apparent that Bucknell was battling with a team far more than its equal.

The 'Varsity put up a gallant defense, however, against the swelling score of the enemy and stubbornly fought to guard its basket. The result of the continued effort was the prevention of a larger score for the Methodists.

BUCKNELL		ALLEGHENY
Fetter	Forward	Mates
Preiskel	Forward	Nichols
Jordan	Center	Hawk
Zehner	Guard	Graham
Schaffner	Guard	Thomas

Field goals—Hawk 7, Nichols 5, Limberg 3, Ramsey, Thomas, Mates, Cox, Fetter, Schaffner.

Foul goals—Hawk, 8 out of 14; Jordan, 1 out of 4; Zehner 0 out 8.

Substitutions—Gdaniec for Schaffner, Kelser for Preiskel, Cox for Mates, Ramsey for Graham, Limberg for Nichols. Referee—Ramsey, Timekeeper—Cathrall.

First Long Trip Thursday.

The 'Varsity basketball team leaves Thursday on its first long trip of the season, a three day one in the East. On this trip the Orange and Blue will meet Seton Hall, at South Orange, N. J., Thursday night, Pratt Institute in Brooklyn, N. Y., Friday night, and they will contest with the Harrisburg Collegians in that place Saturday night.

None of these teams were met by the Varsity last season in basket-ball but they are frequent adversaries of the Orange and Blue in baseball. Seton Hall has always enjoyed a reputation of turning out excellent basket-ball fives, while the quintet that represents Pratt Institute this year has been defeating most of the teams around in the Eastern metropolis and can be expected to give Bucknell a hard battle for the victory.

The game Saturday night on the last lap of the trip will be an interesting one in that two Bucknell alumni will probably appear in the line-up of the Harrisburg Collegians. Johnson, '04, who was one of Bucknell's best football and basket-ball players of his time, and Clausen, ex-'11, another former Varsity basket-ball player, have been playing on that team for several years and will doubtless take part in the game Saturday. All who have seen an annual game with the Alumni will remember the work of these men.

The list of those who will comprise the squad on this week's extended trip has not as yet been announced by Coach Zehner, but it is likely that seven or eight men will be taken on the tour.

PRESIDENT HARRIS GIVES TALK TO STUDENTS

CHARACTER BUILDING DISCUSSED AT MID-WEEK MEETING OF Y. M. C. A.

The regular Thursday evening meeting of the Y. M. C. A. was in charge of President Harris last week. Dr. Harris used as the basis of his remarks a passage of the Scripture taken from the 119th Psalm: "Wherewith-all shall a young man cleanse his way." The speaker called attention to the statement of Carlyle to the effect that youth is the last place a young man can afford to be thoughtless. Whatever he does then becomes a part of his character. Character, Dr. Harris said, is not formed by the addition of large quantities but is built up by infinitesimal increments. He said the formation of character is best understood from the point of view of the calculus which considers all quantities as built up by the addition of infinitely small units. But where-with-all shall a young man cleanse his way? By taking heed of God's word. Dr. Harris suggested that the scriptures should be studied for the examples of successful lives which they contain. This study, he asserted, may also be corroborated by reading biographies of men who have lived in more modern times. Every one should read the life of Lincoln. The habit of reading a verse or chapter from the New Testament, the speaker said, is also a good one. The teachings of Plato and Aristotle, Dr. Harris concluded, are not to be compared with the teachings of Christ.

SOPHS BANQUET AT SHAMOKIN

ANNUAL FUNCTION HELD AT HOTEL GRAEMAR FRIDAY.

USUAL CLASH WITH THE FRESHMEN DIDN'T OCCUR

Forty-seven Men Partook of Excellent Menu and Listened to Music and Toasts.—Patterson, Class President, Acted as Toastmaster.

Shamokin was the scene of another Bucknell banquet when forty-seven sophomores and their guests sat down to a feast prepared at the Hotel Graemar, Friday evening. The committee in charge of the function did its work so well that before the banquet began the entire expense had been defrayed. This is a new record for a college banquet.

The usual and expected clash with the first year men did not occur Friday. Unlike most banquets of underclassmen, the event was entirely devoid of any fights or kidnapings such as occurred last year.

The program of toasts was given in an interesting manner and was enlivened by music from an orchestra. Patterson, the president of the class, acted as toastmaster. The following toasts were responded to:

To-Night ..... "Judge" Teel
Class of 1913 .... "Rhetoric" Geiger
Response ..... Middleton, '13
Freshmen ..... "Bonehead" Speer
Class Scraps .... "Bloody" Whittam
Roughnecks ..... "Stew" Brownell
Class of 1915 ..... "Fusser" Cawley
Hazing ..... "Doc" Bell
Class Spirit ..... "Alice" Aleshoukas
Chickens ..... "Messie" Samuel
The Old College on the Hill "Count" Rawson
Good-Bye ..... "Deacon" Cline

Extemporaneous remarks were made by Preiskel, Frye and Coughanour. The committee in charge of the banquet was: Bell, Chairman; Frye, Brownell, Rishel, Samuel, Hamlin, Preiskel, Windsor, Earle, Sturgis and Clapp.

THETA DELTA TAU INITIATES

ANTICS OF SOPHOMORE FRATERNITY AMUSE SPECTATORS.

The annual initiation of the Theta Delta Tau fraternity, a Sophomore organization, was the cause of many laughs on the part of spectators in the streets of the town Saturday afternoon. The costumes of the initiates, ranging from that of a common, ordinary bootblack to the one worn by Patterson, '15, attired as a Roman gladiator, were unique. Keiser, '15, and Frye, '15, amused the crowd by their molasses fight. The following men were initiated into the fraternity: Bell, Beardsley, Jones, Affron, Hoke, Brownell, Kelser, Samuels, Paterson, Spear, Windsor, Golightly, '14, R. E. Bell, '14, and Frye.

SPEAKERS NOT CHOSEN.

As a result of the preliminary contest of the Freshman Class last week no decision as to all of the speakers could be made. A second trial will be held Wednesday afternoon at 4:15 when the following men are requested to appear: Hann, Ranck, Snyder, Switzer, Bryant, Crouse, Cooke, Davenport, Oesterle and Noble. The following women are also requested to be ready at 4:45: Misses Groff, Kurtz, F. Weddle and Lathrop.

INTER-CLASS GAMES.

Freshmen vs. Juniors—Feb. 15.
Juniors vs. Sophomores—Feb. 26.
Seniors vs. Juniors—March 5.
Freshmen vs. Seniors—March 8.
Freshmen vs. Sophs—March 14.

CAPT. HOBSON COULDN'T COME.

Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, the naval hero, who was to have spoken in the Methodist church, Saturday night, under the auspices of the Lyceum Committee of the Y. M. C. A., was unable to reach Lewisburg at that time and will appear at some future time instead. Captain Hobson sent the following telegram telling of his inability to fulfill his engagement: "Democratic Caucus has been called for Saturday night dealing with the question of a battleship in this year's appropriation bill. A vital matter of national defense. I regret exceedingly therefore that it is necessary to postpone my lecture."

SPEAKERS MUST REGISTER.

Volunteers for the annual contest of the Sophomore Class will hand in their names this week before Wednesday noon. In case more than the required number should volunteer, a preliminary will be held. The gentlemen will be restricted to orations in the final contest, and the ladies will be allowed freedom of choice.

STAGS TO DANCE AGAIN.

As a result of a great many requests for another stag dance, Concert-Meister Fahringer announces that his organization is prepared to furnish the music for another such event. The dance will likely be given in the Tustin gymnasium some time this term.

LEWIS THEISS AND WIFE TRAVEL 10,000 MILES

PICTORIAL REVIEW SENDS ALUMNI ON EXTENSIVE JOURNEY.

The Pictorial Review under the head of Big Features for March, announces the beginning of a series of articles in that number on Woman's Suffrage by Lewis Edwin Theiss, '02, and his wife, Mary Bartol Theiss, '94. Mr. and Mrs. Theiss have just completed a journey of 10,000 miles made in preparation for the series of articles in the Pictorial Review. In order to get the facts concerning the Woman Suffrage question first hand, the Pictorial Review sent Mr. and Mrs. Theiss on this extensive journey. They visited all the states where suffrage is already established and incidentally they found that two million women will vote this year. The first article of the series will deal with the experience of Mr. and Mrs. Theiss in California on Election Day.

L'AGENDA WILL APPEAR EARLY.

The L'Agenda staff has been busy the past month preparing the material for this year's college annual and according to Editor C. Walter Lotte, the copy for the entire book will be in the hands of the printers the last part of this week. It is the plan of the management of the L'Agenda to have the book on sale by May 1. The printing of the book is being done by the Champion Press of Columbus, Ohio, and the engraving by the Bureau of Engraving at Minneapolis, Minn. A larger number of leather bound books will be ordered this year owing to the popularity of this kind of work last year.

WILL INSTALL NEW COURSES

NEW CATALOGUE ANNOUNCES THIS FACT.

INSTRUCTION TO BE GIVEN IN DOMESTIC ARTS AND SCIENCES

New Courses to be Termed Arts and Crafts and Household Art.—Miss Anna B. Scott Will Lecture During This Term.

The increasing demand for instruction in the domestic arts and sciences is being met at Bucknell by the installation of two new special courses, open to ladies in the Institute and College. These courses will appear in the new catalogue as I. Arts and Crafts, Household Art.

The course in Arts and Crafts will be closely connected with the present course in art and will be under the supervision of Miss Georgina K. Scott of the Institute faculty. The work will include original design and construction in stencils, cut and tooled leather, pierced and hammered metal, basketry in raffia and reeds, and weaving. A comprehensive course in Ceramics will be given, covering design, molding, painting and dying of pottery, china and other ceramic ornaments.

Course in Household Arts.

The course in Household Arts will include among others the following courses.

1. Lectures—Theory of color, color matching, color harmony.
2. History of art.
3. Lectures—Home development from primitive times to our present day homes. Plans of homes, and selection of furniture.
4. Artistic table decorations, with menu and place cards, candle shades, etc.
5. Design and execution of artistic embroidery, draperies, etc.

In addition to and in connection with these subjects, courses in psychology, physiology, chemistry, and general cooking, covering four years' work will be given. These courses will be taken up especially in their relations to domestic science, and to the practical problems of the home and family.

Lectures by Mrs. Scott.

Lectures and demonstrations will be given to the students each term by specialists in domestic art. The lectures this term will be by Mrs. Anna B. Scott, of the Philadelphia North American.

ENTERTAINED SEMINARY GIRLS.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity entertained a party from the Woman's College at cards last Thursday evening. Miss Sallie McSparren won first prize for the highest score at 500. Light refreshments were served.

ALUMNAE CLUB SOCIAL.

The Bucknell Alumnae Club will hold its mid-winter social in the Bucknell Institute parlors, Tuesday evening, at 7.30 o'clock.

DR. EVANS SAYS HE DIDN'T REFUTE DIVINITY OF CHRIST

BAPTIST MINISTERS ALSO DECLARE CRITICISM OF BUCKNELL ALUMNUS UNJUST.

"I should as soon deny my own mother as to deny the deity of Christ," said Dr. Milton G. Evans, '82, in commenting upon his paper presented to the Presbyterian Ministers' Conference of Philadelphia recently for which the secular press announced that Dr. Evans had repudiated the doctrine of the divinity of Christ. Dr. Evans who is president of the Crozer Theological Seminary made the above statement denying any heresy on his part to a conference of Baptist ministers in Philadelphia the other day. He re-read his paper to the conference and it was this time cordially received and declared to be in common with the views held by the Baptists present. The conference then declared that Dr. Evans was orthodox.

NO MORE TOBAGGO FOR HIM, SAYS "GHRISTY" MATHEWSON

FORMER BUCKNELL ATHLETE DECIDES TO STOP USING THE WEED.

Christopher Mathewson, a former Bucknell athlete where he starred in football and baseball circles and the world's greatest pitcher, has decided to quit the use of tobacco according to a dispatch from New York recently.

Ever since he joined the Giants over a dozen years ago, "Christy" has smoked cigars and an occasional cigarette. Speaking of his resolution to sever connections with the weed the New York dispatch says as follows:

"In other years, between seasons, Matty has had a nasty complexion, that caused his friends and baseball fans to imagine that he was not enjoying the best of health. Matty knew that it was too much smoking that caused the trouble and, like the sensible, strong-minded fellow that he is and always has been, he decided to obviate the handicap to his physical well being.

A PARTIAL SUBSTITUTE.

In case the members of the Athletic Association do not consider that organization as yet ready for the innovation of the competitive system for athletic managerships, a system which is successfully in vogue at so many leading colleges, it is well to suggest a partial substitute for that system which will be one step in advance of the present method of election. This partial substitute for the competitive system is to require every man who contemplates running for a managership position to announce his candidacy some considerable time before the election.

As has been frequently pointed out, the present system of hasty caucus before elections is incompetent and results often in the election to a managership position of a man whose ability is little known and who enters into office as a result of the deference of the majority party to the factional caucus. Require the man to announce himself as a future candidate at a considerable length of time before the election and the pre-election caucus which works so many ills will be abolished. If the members of the Athletic Association fear to install the competitive system so successful elsewhere, they at least should see the benefit of abolishing the hasty partisan caucus which acts so feverishly before a pending election.

FOR PAYING CLASS DUES.

The task of the average class treasurer is no light one at best, and one of the hardest duties is the collection of back dues. The habitual attitude of many men is to postpone payment of class dues as long as possible; all of which causes the treasurer undue trouble, not infrequently runs the class into debt, and gains for the delinquent student no advantage thereby. In order to avoid the possibility of debt on the part of the class, each member of the graduating class should be required to pay not only the dues for the senior year but all back dues as well before he is allowed full senior privileges. If this requirement were made the underclassman who does not pay his dues each term or year would only lay upon himself the annoyance and inconvenience of paying the lump sum in his senior year. Perhaps then, his class obligation would receive his attention each year.

DR. NESBIT, NOTED PHYSICIAN, SPOKE OF HOMEOPATHY

BUCKNELL ALUMNUS ALSO TOLD OF HIS "POISON SQUAD." AND ITS PURPOSE.

Dr. Edwin Lightner Nesbit, '99, of the Hahnemann Medical College of Philadelphia, whose tests of the effects of poison upon the human system by actual application to a "poison squad" composed of students at Hahnemann have been watched with interest by the world at large, addressed a number of medical students in the Chemical Laboratory, Saturday afternoon. Dr. Nesbit's address treated for the most part of homeopathy although he spoke briefly of his "poison squad" and its purpose.

Homeopathy, said Dr. Nesbit, is a method of drug therapeutics, and deals merely with the application of drugs. It has limitations, he said, and there is no such thing as homeopathic biology or histology but there is such a thing as a homeopathic application of drugs. The question of dosage, said Dr. Nesbit, has always been associated with homeopathy in a ridiculous manner but to the homeopathist, he declared, it is only a minor consideration.

Dr. Nesbit said it was an earlier tenet of homeopathy to administer a drug singly instead of in the form of a prescription. That position is no longer the doctrine of homeopathy alone but the greatest thinkers in modern medicine to-day are monopharmacists. There is no difference Dr. Nesbit said, between homeopathy and modern medicine as is often declared.

In speaking of his "poison squad", Dr. Nesbit said that twelve men were put on a training table. A captain was elected and the men received their orders from him and he in turn received orders from the director of the squad. The tests upon these men were continued for thirty days. Periods of control or abstinence from the drug were a feature of the tests. The human subjects, however, were ignorant of these periods inasmuch as a substance similar in taste to the poison was substituted. Observations were made three times a day and were very thorough in their ... Psychological effects were noted including the effects upon the emotions, the imagination and the memory. The effect upon the senses was also kept track of.

The principal drug used, said Dr. Nesbit, in the tests was taken from raw coffee and was of caffeine nature. The object of the experiment was not so much to note the effect of the drug as it was to work out a technique by means of which the effects of drugs upon the human system could be tested without danger to the subject.

SMALL COLLEGE'S DAY COMING

AT LEAST THE CHICAGO HERALD THINKS SO.

The Chicago Herald says that the day of the small college is coming again. This thought is gathered from ... following article in the Herald:

The day of the smaller college is coming again. Of course the special inducements offered by state universities as public institutions will always make them popular; but may there not be some relief because of the preference which many people now express for small colleges? The country has scores of these colleges, and not a few of them enjoy an excellent reputation. They can give as fine a dicipline as any of the larger institutions, have the advantage of bringing faculty and students close together and are freer from distractions than the big rivals. A professor in one of those vast institutions told us some time ago that he would never entrust his son to it for training. To our question as to the ground for this strange remark, he said oracularly: "The gains are too little and the possible losses too great. I prefer the smaller college."

Sir William Ramsey, the noted British chemist, was presented with the degree of Doctor of Laws by Johns Hopkins University, on October 20. Doctor Ramsey's chief claim to fame lies in his discovery of the inert gas, argon. Since the discovery of argon, he has also discovered three other gases, including helium.

JANUARY WAS WARM.

According to the figures furnished by Prof. Owens, January had a peculiar variety of weather. The average temperature for the month was 36 degrees. The warmest day was on the 26th when the thermometer registered 58, while the coldest day was on the 9th, when the thermometer registered 17 degrees. The greatest change in any one day was 35 degrees. There were four inches of rain during the month, and only 1.5 inches of snow, this on the 29th. There were nine days clear, two fair, 20 cloudy during the month. There was thunder on the 3d, thunder and hail on the 18th. January 1913 was the warmest January in many years. In 1910 the average temperature was 29 9-10,; January 1911 the average was 31 9-10 and in 1912 it was 11 5-10.

"MATTY" FINED FOR SPEEDING.

Christopher Mathewson, ex-'02, was judicially declared too speedy by Magistrate Leach at Jamaica the other day, says the New York Times. The great pitcher was fined $10. He was running his automobile along the Hoffman Boulevard at Jamaica and was doing thirty-one miles an hour when he was timed by an officer. He appeared in court the next day in response to a summons and with the imposition of the fine was advised not to misplace his speed in the future.

The Campus of Allegheny College in speaking of the game with Bucknell last Friday said: "The second team which the Gold and Blue will meet on the trip will be the Bucknell five. The place which this university holds among the big eastern schools is enough in itself to warrant a fast game. Allegheny is exceptionally fortunate to place a team of this class on her schedule and has only been able to do this because of the reputation which former Allegheny teams have made in the East."

VARSITY DROPS THREE ON TRIP

FIRST JAUNT RESULTED IN THIS OUTCOME.

HARD LUCK OF BUCKNELL FIVE AIDED OPPONENTS

None of the Three Contests Was Lost by an Overwhelming Score.—Buffington Does Great Work on the Trip.

Misfortune and defeat was met in every game played by the Varsity basket-ball team on its three-day trip in the East last week; Seton Hall, Pratt Institute and the Harrisburg Collegians being the teams to which the Orange and Blue was forced to acknowledge supremacy. Although the scores of the games played on this trip do not give cause for rejoicing on the part of Bucknell students, yet the accounts of the contests are encouraging. It has been a good try-out for the basket-ball men and has given them an experience and training that will be of inestimable value in the game with University of Pittsburgh next Thursday night.

Among the features of the trip was the playing of Buffington who played on the team for the second time this season in the Seaton Hall game, in which he gave an excellent account of himself, scoring four of the Bucknell goals. In each of the other games he shot the same number of baskets. Most of the goals from foul were shot by him. Kelser featured in the Harrisburg game and brought the crowd to its feet three times with sensational shots from beyond the center of the floor.

Seton Hall Hall Game.

The game with Seton Hall, the first contest on the trip, was a hard fought battle from start to finish and the winner was not certain of victory until the last few minutes of play when Seton Hall tallied two fouls and two field goals, which gave it a lead that was insurmountable by Bucknell.

In the first half the teams battled nip and tuck and the score at the end of the period stood 9 to 8 in favor of the home team. All of Bucknell's scoring during this session was done by Buffington, who caged three field goals and two goals from foul.

Flaherty and Rogers were the stars for the New Jersey team, the former successfully shooting 8 out of 12 foul goals although he did not shoot a free basket.

The score at the end of the game was 22 to 16 in favor of Seton Hall.

Pratt Institute Game.

A superabundance of luck in shooting for the Pratt Institute team brought about the defeat of Bucknell's Varsity in the second game of the Eastern trip. The Pratt basket seemed to be a yard in diameter and every time the ball was thrown in that direction it went in. On the other hand, the Bucknell goal was impenetrable to the onslaughts of the Orange and Blue and but three field goals and four goals from foul could be scored by the Varsity during the first period. The half ended with Pratt men at the big end of a 30 to 10 score.

Bucknell outplayed Pratt in every department in the second half and scored eleven points more than the home team, but that was not enough to overcome the big lead secured by the latter during the previous period. It was another case of Bucknell's "come back" ability, mixed with characteristic Bucknell hard luck. In this period ex-Captain Zehner threw the goals from foul and caged 10 out of his 16 attempts.

The members of the Varsity team are loud in their praise of the treatment that they received at the hands of the Brooklyn team and the officials who had charge of the contest.

Final score, 41 to 32, favor of Pratt Institute.

"JAKE" NORTHROP AND MISS SNYDER MARRIED

BRIDEGROOM WAS ONE OF BUCKNELL'S MOST POPULAR BASE-BALL MEN.

Howard G. Northrup, '10, better known in baseball circles as "Jake" Northrop, and Miss Kathryn Snyder, daughter of Mrs. Netta Snyder, of Lewisburg, were joined in marriage Wednesday evening at the home of the bride's mother, the ceremony being solemnized by Rev. R. L. Gerhart, D. D., pastor of the Lewisburg Reformed church. It was while a student here that Northrup loomed up as a baseball star. He was an unknown quantity as a twirler until pitted against the strong Lafayette team during his sophomore year in college. The regular pitchers were laid up with injuries, and "Jake" being regarded as not even a good sub, was compelled to pitch the game. He held Lafayette to three scattered hits in nine innings, and from that day on Northrup took his regular turn in the box, and before ending his college career he was regarded the best pitcher Bucknell ever had, aside from the mighty Mathewson. After his graduation from Bucknell Northrup signed with the Reading Tri-State team, and it was through his magnificent pitching that the "Pretzels" won the pennant. At the close of the season he was sold to the Louisville team, and last fall was drafted by the Chicago Nationals. Mr. and Mrs. Northrup are now on a wedding tour, and will later go South when the big teams leave for their spring training.

JUNIORS WIN FROM FRESHIES

EXCITING GAME IN TUSTIN GYMNASIUM SATURDAY.

After having played the time agreed upon the Juniors and Freshman basket-ball teams were forced to play an extra period to decide the exciting class game in Tustin gymnasium last Saturday night. Welchons, of the Juniors, then caged a goal and won the game for the upperclassmen by the score of 29-27. The line-up:

SUNBURY LAWYER TO SPEAK

Lawyer Reimensnyder, of Sunbury, will speak at the Y. M. C. A. meeting Wednesday night at nine o'clock in the Association Hall.

JOLLY WEEK FOR JUNIORS

EVENTS BEGIN WITH SMOKER TUESDAY.

PROMENADE FRIDAY NIGHT WEEK'S MAIN FEATURE

The Thomas Orchestra of Shamokin Has Been Secured for the Big Event.—University of Pittsburgh Here Thursday Night.

This is Junior Week and the things that the jolly upperclassmen will do until the coming Saturday will be a plenty. To-morrow evening festivities will begin when the Seniors are to be the guests of the third year men at the annual Junior Smoker and from then on until the end of the week there will be no end of things to do.

Junior Smoker To-Morrow.

The smoker to-morrow evening in the Tustin gymnasium will be one of the best of its kind ever given a Senior class here by the third year men. This year the Bucknell Band is going to attend and that speaks for itself. Besides frequent selections from that organization the party will close with a dance. The committee in charge of the event has been busy for some time and along with music from the band, plenty of smokes and a dance, it promises the Seniors a good time.

"Pursuit of the Parson."

At the same time the Junior Smoker is in full swing the Bucknell Alumnae Club will be busy presenting its play, "The Pursuit of the Parson," in the court house.

The play was presented at the Woman's College last Tuesday evening by the Alumnae Club. Many persons, fortunate enough to see the play staged, were eager to again see it, and the players were overwhelmed with requests to present it to-morrow. Consequently the play will be staged in the court house Tuesday evening at eight o'clock.

In addition to the court trial which forms the basis of "The Pursuit of the Parson," Miss Edith Schillinger, teacher of elocution at the Woman's College, will recite some of her latest selections and there will be singing and instrumental music by Bucknell students.

Pitt Here Thursday.

The University of Pittsburgh sends its basket-ball representatives here Thursday night. The western team is desirous of squaring matters for the defeat in football by Bucknell last fall and the contest will no doubt be a spirited one. Thus far the Pitt quintet has had a great record, one of their victories being a close game with the University of Pennsylvania. The Bucknell Band will be present at the game in Tustin gymnasium.

Prom Crowning Event.

The big event of Junior Week is the Promenade to be held in the Lewisburg Armory. Judging from the number of tickets that have been sold thus far the Prom will be the crowning event of its kind. The Thomas orchestra of Shamokin has been secured and dancing will begin at nine o'clock following the grand promenade. Dancing will continue until a late hour and refreshments will be served.

Saturday evning will witness the close of Junior Week when several class teams will clash in Tustin gymnasium. The class contests are always hard fought ones and Saturday's game will no doubt measure up to the average.

MEDS. TO DISCUSS DISEASE.

The Medical Society was reorganized Friday and arrangements were made to discuss one of the common diseases at the weekly meeting of the organization. The following officers were elected: Redlin, president; Shearer, vice-president; Bullard, secretary, and Baker, treasurer.

"ABE" LINCOLN MEETING.

Last Thursday night the members of the Christian Association held an "Abe" Lincoln meeting. Reading, '14, read a paper which narrated the life of Lincoln, while Dr. Stevens, Baker, '14, and Golightly, '14, made remarks and read articles portraying the unique character of the martyred president.

CAPT. HOBSON NOT COMING.

Word has been received from the Colt Lyceum Bureau that Captain Hobson will be unable to come to Lewisburg while Congress is in session. All tickets purchased by the people of the town will therefore be returned this week by the Lyceum Committee. The committee expects to keep in touch with the Bureau and book Mr. Hobson after Congress has adjourned.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY MEETING.

The Chemical Society, which was recently reorganized, held its second meeting on Friday afternoon at 4.15. The society was addressed by Prof. Owens on the development and advances of photography. The following officers were elected: President, Prof. Brown; Vice-President, J. Leslie McKeague; Secretary, W. H. Eyster; Executive Committee, Keen, Armstrong, Prof. Brown and McKeague.

FRESHIES, NOT TO BE OUTDONE, BANQUET TOO

LIKE THE SOPHS THEY MADE SHAMOKIN THE SCENE OF THEIR ACTIVITIES.

Friday evening, following by a week their foes, the Sophomores, the members of the first-year class were guests at the Hotel Graemar in Shamokin where they held their first banquet. As was the case the week before with the Sophomores, the Freshies' gathering was attended by none of the class scraps which in the past were deemed a part of the class banquet. About forty-five men attended.

Besides the members of the first-year class, Criswell, '14; Stein, '12; Murray, '13, and Parmenter, '14, were present. Peters, the president of the class, acted as toastmaster. The following toasts were responded to:

Reminiscences	F. Hill
Athletics	Davenport
The Ladies	Follmer
Old Bucknell	Osterle
Lewisburg	Tripician
"1916"	Showers

The committee in charge of the banquet included Crouse, chairman; VandenBurgh, Corrin and Becker.

PENN NAMES RELAY DATES

ANNUAL RELAYS TO BE HELD ON APRIL 26.

The annual intercollegiate and interscholastic relay races of the University of Pennsylvania will be held on Franklin field in Philadelphia, April 26, and will be open to all the colleges and universities of the United States and Canada.

There will be three races to determine the college championship of America. One race will be for a mile, each of the contestants running the quarter. The second race will be at four miles, each member of the relay team running a mile. The third race will be for a distance of two miles, each runner going a half mile.

In addition to the relay races there will also be scratch events, open only to college men, graduate or undergraduate, in which the first prize will be a gold watch; 100-yard dash, 120-yard hurdle, high jump, broad jump, shot-put, hammer-throw, discus, and pole vault.

THE FORUM ENTERTAINS.

The Forum entertained a number of town and out of town girls at an informal reception in their halls on Thursday evening. The rooms were fittingly decorated for Valentine's Day.

COLLEGE GIRLS AND MEN MINGLE

WOMAN'S COLLEGE THE SCENE OF ANNUAL RECEPTION.

SEVENTY-FIVE MEN WERE GUESTS OF FAIR CO-EDS.

The Reception Room as a Result of the Efforts of the College Women Presented a Pretty Appearance.—Other Guests Attended.

Seventy-five college men or thereabouts were the guests of an equal number of young ladies at the Woman's College last Friday evening. The occasion for these festivities on Valentine night was the annual College Girls' Reception which is the big event of co-ed life here.

Perhaps the most striking feature of the reception was the decorations. From the main entrance of the building a long line of palms formed a winding path to the reception room on the second floor. This reception room was the surprise of the evening. Red hearts were seen everywhere; hundreds of them were suspended from the ceiling and others were appended to the pine trees which filled the corners of the room. And then there were valentines too which the chosen seventy-five men found covered with appropriate sayings; for it was Valentine night and red hearts and cards with appropriate sayings are permitted then. At one end of the room the decoration committee had fashioned a host of arches and trellises entwined with Alabama smilax; all of which gave those who chose the benches behind the arches and trellises a feeling of seclusion, which is also necessary for red hearts and appropriate sayings. About the entire scene shone green-covered lights and an orchestra of six pieces shed music over all.

Refreshments were served later in the evening. The dining room had also been a recipient of the marvel-working hands of the decorating committee and made a pleasant impression.

Besides the elected seventy-five college men, the faculty, Dr. and Mrs. Chas. Gundy, Mrs. Katherine B. Larison and Mrs. Bush were guests. A number of Seminary girls also attended.

The executive committee of the college women was Misses Hazel Galloway, Edna Whitam, Ramona Lennington and Esther McCormick. Miss Jane Irey was chairman of the reception committee. Miss Ruth Edwards led the committee in charge of the refreshments, Miss Jesse Oswalt led the decoration committee and Miss Olive Cooper was chairman of the invitation committee.

TIME FOR CLASS MEETS.

Now that track work is to be revived in earnest at the college, it is time to think of the inter-class meets which this year should be a prominent feature in the development of a Varsity team. In order to create as much interest in track work as possible before the Lehigh meet here early in May, it would be well to arrange for the usual inter-class meets before that date. Considering the Varsity material which will be brought forward in such contests, a two-fold benefit will be reaped.

PREP. MEETS DESIRABLE.

It is the practice at a number of colleges to offer their athletic fields for track and field meets among preparatory schools. In some cases an additional step is taken. Meets are arranged by the colleges themselves and the preparatory schools are invited to compete. Such a step serves not only to arouse the interest of the colleges in question in track work but also brings the college before the notice of prospective college students in the preparatory ranks. Bucknell could arrange such a preliminary meet with advantage.

VARSITY DROPS THREE ON TRIP.

among whom was "Ras" Clausen, ex-'11. Both teams battled with determination and aggressiveness for supremacy and it was but slowly that the team from the Capital City gained a lead over the Orange and Blue The Varsity was fatigned after its strenuous games of the two nights preceeding and soon lost its customary snap and fighting spirit. Harrisburg added seven points to its lead in the second half and won the game with a 42 to 27 score.

In the first period Keiser threw three surprises into the crowd with long sensational shots from beyond the middle of the floor, all of them going through the net without visibly touching the rim of the basket. The initial half closed with the score 23 to 15 in favor of the home team. Schaffner and Buffington also featured with several difficult executed goals. Final score: 42 to 27, favor of Harrisburg.

The score follows:

Bucknell.		Harrisburg.
Fetter	Forward	Gaffrey
Schaffner.
Buffington	Forward	Simmonette
Jordan	Center	Reed
Keiser	Guard	Clausen
Zehner	Guard	Reagen
Gdaniec.

Field goals—Buffington 4, Keiser 3, Schaffner 2, Fetter 1, Jordan 1, Gdaniec 1, Gaffrey 6, Reed 4, Reagen 2, Simmonette 2, Clausen 2. Foul goals—Zehner 1 out of 1, Buffington 2 out of 3, Gaffrey 8 out of 9. Referee—Taggert. Timekeeper—Cathrall.

DR. HARRIS GIVES FINE SERMON

COLLEGE MEN HEAR PRESIDENT IN BAPTIST CHURCH.

COLLEGE DAY OF PRAYER OBSERVED ON SUNDAY

The Bucknell Y. M. C. A. Arranged for the Services and Secured Dr. Harris to Speak.—Dr. Perrine Presided.

The day of prayer for colleges was fittingly observed yesterday by the Bucknell Y. M. C. A. with a splendid service in the Baptist church. Dr. Perrine presided and the sermon was delivered by Dr. Harris. The President said in part:

Lincoln declared "I will study and prepare myself and some day my chance will come." The first requisite in preparation then is physical health, Dr. Harris said. The body, he said, is the support of thought and is an important factor in the development of the world. In physical development, the speaker said, there are two extremes; one, the student who works not too hard, but too long; the other, the athlete who attains no great distinction in public life and dies at an early age.

Preparation in the second place, said Dr. Harris, is mental. This comes from years of continuous and rightly directed effort. Not without reason, he continued, have mathematics, language, and science a place in the curriculum of our schools. Through them, the speaker said, man becomes the heir of all the ages, and is able to know the world, himself, and his God. As the world advances, said Dr. Harris, there is a greater requirement for preparation. Preparation implies knowledge, he said. Knowledge, he declared, becomes power when transformed by personality. To every one of us, the speaker continued, come emergencies and opportunities, perhaps not so great as the crisis that came to Daniel Webster, but they come, and by persistent thought and effort we can prepare to meet them.

Dr. Harris said there is a necessity also for moral preparation. In moral preparation the will predominates. Character, he said, is a completely fashioned will. Its requisite is energy and tenacity, he declared. Man progresses not by reflecting upon the good, the beautiful, and the true, but by doing good in the church, community, and state.

There must be in the fourth place religious preparation. Dr. Harris continued. In paganism man is of little worth; in the philosophy of materialism and pantheism man is nothing, he said. Both of these are impossible to one imbued with the spirit of Jesus. In the preparation for service, Dr. Harris said, we need not an idea of God, but God himself. God in the soul is the essential in a life of preparation. The preparation must take in the whole man, the speaker said. Man prepares by thinking, resolving, and doing. Then, he concluded, when the call to service comes the wise man with full preparation will say, "Here am I; send me."

WOULD HAVE COMPETITION.

Editor Orange and Blue:

College politics have been a fruitful source of inspiration for many aspiring orators, essayists and reformers during many past years at Bucknell. Although the condition is undoubtedly far from being the utterly corrupt and deadly manhood-destroying element in our life that it is pictured to be by some who have attacked it, yet very few would deny that the college life and college spirit would be greatly improved were some of the phases of the conditions as they now exist cleaned up. As a step in the right direction, it seems that a proposal to place all responsible positions of student publications and athletic teams on a competitive basis should meet with a general approval. This is a matter which concerns the whole student body and everyone should feel free to make suggestions and to aid in creating a wholesale sentiment toward the movement.

BIG CONVENTION OF Y. M. C. A.

STATE GATHERING BEGINS AT WILLIAMSPORT FEB. 20.

The Forty-fifth Annual State Convention of the Pennsylvania Young Men's Christian Association will be held at Williamsport Feb. 20-23. The Lumber City is making elaborate preparations to entertain the five hundred men expected to attend.

The convention opens on Thursday, Feb. 20th, at 4.00, when Dr. J. R. Smith, of Harrisburg, will sound the keynote in the opening address, "The Call of the Church." Other subjects such as "The Call of the City," "The Call of the Country," "The Student Problem," etc., will be addressed by able men. The following are some of the program speakers: Gifford Pinchot, national conservator; Dr. Roberts, International Immigration Department; W. K. Cooper, Gen. Sec., Washington, D. C.; C. D. Hurrey, International Student Department; Rev. Charles Stelze, Bureau of Social Service, Presbyterian Church of the United States; Dr. Holmes, State College; George B. Landis, State Educational Secretary.

The Williamsport Association will furnish complimentary lodging for delegates, provided the "Advance Registration" card for each delegate is sent to H. J. Schmidt, Gen. Sec., Williamsport. These cards can be obtained at the local Association office.

KICKING RULE CHANGED

FOOTBALL PLAYER MAY NOW BOOT FROM HIS POSITION.

Hereafter it will not be necessary for a player to go five yards behind the line to get away a speedy kick, according to a change made by the football rules committee which met recently in New York. He now may kick from position.

Other changes in the rules for 1913-14 were a reduction of the penalty from fifteen to five yards when a new player fails to report to the referee before coming into the game and a provision for disqualification and the loss of half the distance to the goal for the illegal return of a player to the game. The committee decided that the game had been highly successful as played under the other rules during the last season and will make no more changes.

FRESHMEN DECLAMERS CHOSEN.

As a result of two preliminary contests the following speakers have been selected for the Freshman contest in declamation: Bryant, V. Lewis, Malin, Oesterle, and Snyder: Misses Embrey, Lewis, Lathrop, Park and Prescott. Rehearsals will begin the first week in April. Contestants will report their choice of declamations in order to avoid confliction.

MUSIC HERE FOR OPERETTA.

The music arrived last week for the operetta to be given by the Lewisburg Choral Society with the aid of Bucknell students. The proceeds of the operetta will benefit Bucknell athletics. The probable date for the event is March 14.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

The student body of the University of Virginia, of which President-elect Wilson is an alumnus, are formulating plans to march in the inaugural parade.

In order to put a stop to the snobbishness existing among underclassmen, the faculty of Yale have made provisions that all Freshmen must hereafter room in the new dormitories on the campus. York street, for the first time in years is deserted. On this street many private dormitories existed, which had come to be only the homes of the rich, places in which were handed down from year to year.

A. H. Ogle, editor-in-chief of the "Daily Illini," of Illinois University, was arrested two weeks ago for contempt of court. The charges against Ogle were preferred as the result of an editorial, entitled "A Mock Tribunal," which appeared in an issue of the "Illini." Ogle, as the paper's editor, is alleged to be in contempt of court because of the tone of the editorial in question, which sharply criticised the methods employed by the Grand Jury in pursuing their investigation of the recent student riot.

VARSITY LOSES TWO MORE GAMES

LOSING STREAK UNBROKEN LAST WEEK.

U. OF PITTSBURGH WON HARD FOUGHT BATTLE

Bucknell Men Lost Game Through Frequent Fouling.—Lehigh Had Little Trouble Beating Varsity Saturday.

Two games were dropped by the 'Varsity during the past week, Pittsburgh and Lehigh being the victors over the Orange and Blue. The game with the former team, which was played in Tustin gymnasium Thursday evening, was doubtless the most exciting that has been seen here this year and was won by the visitors in the last few minutes of play. An exceedingly large number of fouls were called on the Bucknell players and gave Pittsburgh the advantage. The contest with Lehigh at South Bethlehem Saturday night proved that team superior to Bucknell. This victory by a 48 to 17 score retaliated for the defeat administered to Lehigh in football two years ago by the Orange and Blue eleven.

Pittsburgh Game.

From the standpoint of merit and playing ability Bucknell should have won the game with University of Pittsburgh Thursday night on the local floor, for the visitors gained a victory through the large number of fouls that were called on the Orange and Blue players. Baker threw most of these fouls with success.

Both teams entered the fray with determination and aggressiveness that lasted throughout the entire game. Fetter was the first man to cage the ball after which Buffington threw a foul goal, giving Bucknell the lead of 3 to 0. Baker threw a foul for Pittsburgh and then Ochsenhirt, of that team, scored the two field goals made by the Westerners in the period. Jordan tallied two goals from the floor and Zehner negotiated a foul goal before the half ended. It was due to the five other goals from fouls called on Bucknell that at the end of the first half Pittsburgh was at the larger end of a 9 to 8 score.

Bucknell scored three goals from the field in this period as compared to but two made by the visitors.

Pittsburgh opened the second period with a run of seven points, but only two were made on field goals. Buffington and Jordan were responsible for the two baskets scored by the Orange and Blue in the last session, while Zehner added three points to the grand total by tossing that number of goals from fouls into the meshwork. The Smoky City players succeeded in caging five field goals in this half, three of them, together with a foul goal, coming in the closing minutes of play and giving them an insurmountable lead.

The final score was 25 to 15, and the line-up was as follows:

BUCKNELL		PITTSBURGH
Buffington	Forward	Straw
Fetter	Forward	Baker
Jordan	Center	Reese
Zehner	Guard	Ochsenhirt
Schaffner	Guard	Campbell

Substitutions—Gdaniec for Schaffner, Graham for Ochsenhirt, Graham for Straw, Heiner for Graham. Field goals—Jordan 3, Buffington 1, Fetter 1, Graham 2, Ochsenhirt 2, Straw 1, Baker 1, Campbell 1. Foul goals—Buffington, 1 out of 4; Zehner, 4 out of 8; Baker, 11 out of 12. Referee—Lose. Timekeeper—Cathrall.

COACH JORDAN ISSUES CALL FOR TRACK MEN

BUCKNELL, DICKINSON AND F. AND M. LIKELY IN A JOINT MEET.

A call for all candidates for the Varsity track team to meet in Tustin gymnasium Thursday afternoon at 3.30 o'clock has been issued by Jordan, '13, who will have charge of the coaching of the track men this year. It is Coach Jordan's intention to put the men into training and practice immediately in order that the revival of field and track athletics at Bucknell will find the school represented by the best team possible.

The joint meets with other colleges in which Bucknell will be represented by delegations this spring will be an incentive for a large number of men to report for try-outs on the squad. In addition to the meet in May the local track management is negotiating with the track authorities at Dickinson and Franklin and Marshall colleges in respect to the proposed triangle meet between the three schools to be held at Lancaster in the spring. These three colleges are about on a par in regard to the strength of track teams and a meet of the nature of the one proposed would be exceedingly interesting.

Report for track Thursday.

GOO-GOO EYES PARSON'S UNDOING

AT LEAST SO SOUGHT ALUMNAE CLUB TO SHOW.

MOCK TRIAL GIVEN THRTE TIMES WITH SUCCESS

"Pursuit of the Parson" Was First Given at Monthly Meeting of the Alumnae Club, and Then Twice Repeated for Public Last Week.

Goo-goo eyes owned by a fascinating young woman and used by her to enamor the village parson was the plot for the mock trial called "The Pursuit of the Parson," given by the Bucknell Alumnae Club of Lewisburg in the court house Tuesday and Wednesday of last week for the benefit of the Lewisburg Civic Club. The trial was first given before the monthly meeting of the Alumnae Club at the Woman's College the week before and made such a hit at that time that it was repeated twice last week.

Mrs. Valeria Myers presided at the trial and was adorned with the judicial wig and other professional garments. She was flanked on each side by her associates, Mrs. LeRoy T. Butler and Mrs. Weber L. Gerhart. The defendant, Miss Elizabeth Baker, and her attorney, Miss Hannah Bubb, acquitted themselves in a most commendable manner. Miss Helen Hare, representing the commonwealth, was also a figure in the success of the performance. The witnesses, Mrs. Anne Dreisbach, Miss Anne Dreisbach and Miss Elbina Bender, provoked many mirthful fits of laughter in their testimony. The witnesses for the defendant, Mrs. Harry S. Bourne, Miss Mildred Shaffer and Miss Eva Ginter, in their testimony for the defendant, took the opportunity whenever afforded to incite laughter by the tart remarks and comment concerning the plaintiff's witnesses. All the witnesses and representatives were attired in gowns in keeping with the characters represented. Miss Elizabeth Bates, as the sheriff, was kept busy in maintaining order in the court room. The notes of the trial were taken down by Miss Elizabeth Kremer, and the court records and oaths were administered by Mrs. Llewellyn Phillips as clerk of the court.

In the jury box sat the twelve who were to render a verdict, with Mrs. C. A. Gundy as forewoman. The other eleven were Miss Anna Judd, Mrs. W. A. Blair, Mrs. Walter Wilcox, Mrs. Wm. P. Difenderfer, Miss Mary Stanton, Miss Mary Thornton, Miss Dorothy Wolfe, Mrs. M. L. Drum, Miss Emma Beaver, Miss Margaret Kalp, and Mrs. Clifford Remer. After all the testimony had been heard and the judge charged the jury the arguments of the attorneys were made to the jury. The verdict of not guilty as announced by the forewoman was the signal for a disagreement with the twelve. Hats were crushed in, chairs overturned and a general commotion prevailed for the time being, which was finally quelled by the officers.

FRED M. KELLY, ALUMNUS, DIED AT ALTOONA.

WELL KNOWN BUSINESS MAN PASSED AWAY AT HIS HOME SUDDENLY.

Fred M. Kelly, '75, a well known business man, died at his home in Altoona one week ago yesterday afternoon. He was at his home when he was stricken with a sudden affection of the heart and passed away before a doctor could be summoned.

He was born in Shirleysburg, Huntingdon county in 1865 and was the son of a Baptist minister. He was graduated at Bucknell University in 1875 and went to Milton in 1879 where he acted as a clerk for the Milton Iron company. He was later made secretary for the company and in September 1888 was made the traveling agent. Later he left the Milton Iron company and went to Bloomsburg where he remained until his removal to Altoona where he became bookkeeper for the Altoona Mirror and was later made general bookkeeper and manager of the foreign advertising for the paper, which position he held until the time of his death. While in Milton he was a member of the Board of Trade and stockholder in the Milton Water Company. He is survived by his wife, his mother, Mrs. Fred Kelly, of Lancaster and a sister, Miss Lottie, of Bloomsburg.

JUNIOR PROM PLEASING EVENT

UPPERCLASSMEN HAD FINE TIME AT ANNUAL AFFAIR.

STUDENTS AND GUESTS DANCED UNTIL THREE

Popular Thomas Orchestra of Shamokin Furnished Fine Program of Music.—Armory Decorated With Taste for Event.

The letters p-r-o-m begin a number of words. For instance, the spirit which prompted the Junior class to hold such a promethean event as that of last Friday night promises wonderful deeds upon promotion to Senior prominence. But these same four letters stand for but one thing in student circles. The Junior Prom, the distinctly gorgeous event of its kind during the year, was held in the Lewisburg Armory with unquestionable success last Friday night.

The popular Thomas orchestra of Shamokin, furnished a fine program of waltzes and two-steps for the dancers who enjoyed themselves until three o'clock. Refreshments were served at intermission.

The following ladies acted as patronesses: Mrs. Thomas D. Baker, Mrs. B. K. Focht, Mrs. Philip B. Linn, Mrs. H. G. Dreisbach, Mrs. Nelson F. Davis, Mrs. William Forster, Mrs. B W. Griffith, Mrs. William Leiser, Mrs C. A. Lindemann, and Mrs. Joseph M. Wolfe.

The Prom Committee was as follows: R. F. Nicholls, Chairman, W. D. Reading, L. P. Lanning, C. O. Linberg, F. O. Schnure, T. E. Moore, P. A. Caris, C. E. Coleman, J. R. Golightly, and N. G. Bachman.

UPPERCLASSMEN ENJOY SMOKER

The Junior Smoker to the Seniors last Tuesday evening was the occasion for a general good time on the part of both upperclasses. The entertainment started with cards and "smokes", after which refreshments in the form of apples and pretzels were served. The Bucknell Band arrived later in the evening and played a program of dance music.

OPPORTUNITY FOR RUNNERS.

The invitation to participate in a "Round Lewisburg Meet" extended to the long distance runners of the college by the Playground Association of Lewisburg, will furnish an excellent opportunity for the varsity candidates to prepare themselves for the coming meet with Lehigh. Street races such as are being planned here for March 17 are growing in popularity throughout the towns and cities, and should meet the approval of the college runners, a number of whom, it is hoped, will enter the Lewisburg races.

BE SPORTSMANLIKE—HE SAYS.

Editor Orange and Blue:

About the poorest exhibition of real basket-ball that I have ever seen was given in the Tustin gymnasium last Saturday night. As a working model of 1912 football, however, the Senior-Sophomore game had virtue par excellence. I was also convinced from Saturday night's game that Bucknell could maintain a wrestling team with good promise of frequent victory.

Now it seems to me that the cultivation of such unsportsmanlike spirit as was manifested in Saturday's game is decidedly not in keeping with the good feeling among classes which is so essential for general interest and enthusiasm in the affairs of the college. If the class games tend to cultivate class spirit in opposition to college spirit, they certainly are worse than valueless. If two of our classes cannot meet in an athletic contest without a display of unsportsmanlike, rowdy-like ill-feeling, then let the class game become history.

Bucknellian.

STUDENT DELIVERED ADDRESS

MIDDLETON, SENIOR PRESIDENT, SPOKE AT WILLIAMSPORT.

Middleton, '13, president of the senior class, addressed about fifty college men of the state at a student conference held at Williamsport on Saturday afternoon. Middleton spoke on the subject: "The Service the Y. M. C. A. can Render to the College through the College Men." He said "The Y. M. C. A should include every man in college and should be of such character as to help develop vigorous Christian manhood."

TO TEACH AT BOSTON TECH.

W. C. Purdy, '99, professor of biology at Geneva College, has been called to take on the lecture work of Franz Schneider, Jr., instructor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and will become assistant in biology there. Mr. Schneider resigned to become sanitary expert to the department of surveys and exhibits of the Russel Sage Foundation. Mr. Purdy, who succeeds Mr. Schneider, taught science at the Slippery Rock Normal from 1904-07. He then took the chair of biology at Geneva which position he has just resigned.

SOPHS PLAYING BEATS SENIORS

SECOND CLASS GAME IN GYM SATURDAY NIGHT.

In a rough and tumble battle, more akin to football than basket-ball, the Sophomores managed to nose out the Seniors in the second inter-class game of the season in Tustin gymnasium on Saturday night. The game was hard fought from start to finish.

In the first half the Sophs were supreme in every department of the game and when the half ended with the score 13-5 in their favor, it looked as if the outcome would never be in doubt. In the second half, however, the Seniors came back strong and by hard, rough work, cut down the lead of the underclassmen. With a whirlwind finish the Seniors came near turning defeat into victory. The game ended 22-19 with the Sophs at the long end. The line-up:

Seniors.		Sophomores
Shaffer	Forward	Windsor Hern.
Harris.....	Forward....	Williams
Bernhart.		Coughanour.
Dunkle	Center	Hamlin
Teamer	Guard	Preisker
Richardson	Guard	Pangburn

JUNIORS TO SPEAK, APPROVED

UPPERCLASSMEN WILL GIVE ORIGINAL ORATIONS.

On a basis of merit for work done during the Freshman and Sophomore years in rhetoric and oratory, the following speakers for the Junior contest with original orations have been approved by the President: Boyer, Coulter, Caris, Hamblin, Lotte, Richards, and Wendt; Misses Lois Brown, Etzweiler, Reimensnyder and Whitam. The orations will be confined this year to the "Uplift Movement" in any phase at the will of the orator.

COLLEGE RUNNERS INVITED.

The Playground Association of Lewisburg has extended an invitation to the distance runners in the college to participate in a race about Lewisburg on St. Patrick's Day, March 17. The distance of the race will be a mile and a half. A prize is to be awarded the winner. Other races are being arranged by the Association for the same day in which students of the Lewisburg High School and Bucknell Academy will participate.

'VARSITY LOSES TWO MORE GAMES.

Lehigh Game.

The Lehigh team was one of the roughest aggregations that Bucknell has played this year and the exceedingly large number of fouls, twenty-three in all, called on its players, many of them being for pushing and shoving opponents while attempting to shoot baskets, netted eleven points for Bucknell. Jordan and Zehner were the only Orange and Blue players successful in scoring field goals in the first period, but Buffington added materially to the tally by caging 6 out of 11 trials at goals from fouls. The first half ended with the score 20 to 10 in favor of Lehigh.

In the second period Gdanlec was substituted for Schaffner and the latter failed to exercise the same amount of watchfulness over his opponent as did his predecessor, the result being that Crichton threw 7 baskets during the period. Gdanlec was the only man to score a field goal for Bucknell, however, during this period. Fetter, Zehner and Jordan played their usual strong games in this period, the last named keeping his opponent, Muhart, from scoring after the latter had made three baskets in the first few minutes of play. The score at the close of the game was 48 to 17 in favor of Lehigh.

GEORGE B. REIMENSNYDER, PROMINENT LAWYER, SPEAKS

SUNBURY BUSINESS MAN TALKED TO Y. M. C. A. MEN WEDNESDAY.

Mr. Geo. B. Reimensnyder, a prominent lawyer of Sunbury, spoke at the weekly meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Wednesday night. In a very forceful manner Lawyer Reimensnyder told the men some of his convictions which have gained for him the esteem of those with whom he associates. The speaker said in part:

"This college life is a wonderful opportunity for you men and there are many others that would be glad to have it. All of you want to become leaders of men, but the question is—do you wish to become so? Strength is needed for this big task and that which we all need is the Lord Jesus Christ, the biggest man of his time and for all time. Paul said: 'Through Jesus I have strength to do all things.'

"Paul was practically unheard of before he obtained the right of education—the knowledge of God. We want to find the source of power. Paul found it. He went to God in prayer and as a result he lived as Christ."

The speaker continued: "Have a system in your life! Study with all your might! Get into the game with all your might! Do everything with all your might! Do everything manly! Tempus fugit! We must make the most of the present and the future will take care of itself.

Give up the good for what is better, Give up the better for what is best!"

INTERCOLLEGIATE

All except four of the states are represented among the students of Wisconsin university.

The University of Munich is one of the few universities in the world to have a chair of Social Hygiene.

Rudolf Euken, professor of philosophy at the University of Jena, Germany, is lecturing at a number of universities in this country.

Nebraska university has taken a very decided stand against the song, "Hail, hail, the gang's all here," and any student who sings it hereafter will be expelled.

Co-eds of the University of Colorado gave a vaudeville performance which was a great success. The crowd of young men on the outside trying to get in was so large that policemen were kept busy.

The three Dartmouth students who show the greatest progress in physical development during the next four months will be awarded gold medals. The fifty men who have entered the contest will be allowed to adopt any style of training they see fit.

Students at Harvard, Yale, and Princeton who now occupy the rooms formerly used by Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson will meet togther at New Haven for the purpose of forming a club. Only future occupants of these rooms will be eligible to become members.

That newspaper writing should be taught in every Kansas high school is the recommendation of the department of journalism at the University of Kansas, which maintains that it is the best way for any student to learn the use of English and to cultivate accuracy of observation.

The engineering department of Missouri is organizing an employment bureau for its graduates. There are now 850 alumni, and in order to help every man who graduates from the school to obtain a good position, the Dean of the college is perfecting a system for keeping in touch with all of them.

Wholesale expulsion has been put in force at the State Agricultural and Mechanical College at Austin, Texas. President Miller has dismissed 492 students for hazing and insubordination. After 27 had been dismissed for hazing, members of the junior, sophomore and freshman classes, 466 in all, demanded that those dismissed be reinstated and said that they would attend no academic duties until the faculty complied with their demands. For insubordination these 466 were expelled also. The matter will be brought up before the House and the Senate of the state for settlement.

HILL GOSSIP

Rooke, '13, Stetler, '13, and Mensch, '15, walked to Williamsport, Saturday.

The Phi Kappa Psi fraternity will occupy its new home on Third street after April 1.

Howard Leibensberger, of Williamsport, was the guest of Wendt, '13, yesterday.

Parke, '12, was in Lewisburg for the Junior Prom. He left yesterday for Altoona where he is employed as an engineer by the city.

Christy Mathewson, of Bucknell fame, has gone to Texas with the New York Giants for spring training. He will remain in the South for six or seven weeks.

WOMEN'S COLLEGE

Elizabeth Heinsling, of Altoona who graduated in elocution at Bucknell Institute last year, is visiting her sister Ruth Heinsling, '13, and friends for a few days.

Sarah Hilbish,, '16, entertained the following friends at a Washington's birthday party on Saturday at her home in Northumberland: Emma Weddle, Florence Weddle, Grace Sutton, Blanche Woods and Amy Patterson.

The following girls were entertained by Marla Spyker at her home on Saturday: Helen Groff, Ruth Williams, Ruth Mattern, Eda Whittam, May Belle Lees, Elizabeth Heinsling, Rheda Bittenbender and Ruth Heinsling.

Departing from their usual custom of entertaining their friends at a reception, the senior class of the Institute held a banquet on the evening of February twenty-first at the Cameron house. The different departments of the Institute were toasted by the various graduates. The following were the guests of the class: Miss Bush, Sallie McSparren, Rheda Bittenbender, Katherine Clayton, Alma Thompson and Helen Wainwright.

ACADEMY NOTES

Judge Albert Johnson gave the Y. M. C. A. a fine talk on Thursday evening.

J. F. Long gave a very entertaining talk on his trip to Germany at the meeting of the Literary Society on Friday evening.

The basket-ball team journeyed to Williamsport Saturday and lost to Dickinson Seminary 42-21. Several new faces appeared on the "prep" team in this game, among them being Caballe and Danowski.

A TALK ON DIPHTHERIA.

The Medical Society met in the Chemical Laboratory last Friday and listened to an address by Bullard, '13, who talked about diphtheria. The toxins and anti-toxins of this disease were given special attention by the speaker. The subject for discussion at this week's meeting of the society is to be pneumonia.

SOPHS. CONTESTED HOTLY.

As a result of a hotly contested preliminary, the following sophomores were chosen for the oratorical contest: Bartlett, Clarke, Evans, Meredith, Schaffner and Teed. Selections will be presented for approval before the second week in April, when rehearsals will begin.

AT Y. M. C. A. CONVENTION.

Middleton, '13, Markowitz, '14, and Goehring, '12, attended the State Convention of the Young Men's Christian Association held at Williamsport, Feb. 20-23.

DR. PERRINE TO SPEAK.

Dr. Perrine will address the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening in Association Hall.

A thousand Princeton undergraduates are making plans to attend the inaugural ceremonies of President-elect Wilson in Washington. They will greet him with a rousing "locomotive" yell when he alights from the train in Washington on March 3. They will also have a very prominent position in the parade. It is expected that about two-thirds of the undergraduates will also be present, as the college authorities have agreed to allow "free cuts" on that day.

The Last Call at Clearance Prices

We have gone through our stock of Winter Coats, which we have assorted in two lots. The first lot will be sold at $7.50 each. The second lot at $10.00 each. These coats are all good, first-class stock; no seconds nor old styles in either lot, but genuine, unmatchable bargains in every garment.

Owing to the fact that our new line of Spring Coats is crowding in upon us, we are compelled to make room for them, by cutting the price on the above two lots of Coats, regardless of their cost, to a price that will compel them to find a new home.

We still have a few old Coats, in full lengths, in all wool materials; not damaged, but out of style; extra good thing for going to work or school—to be cleaned up at $2.50 each.

Any one desirous of buying an old style Coat at a small price—now is the time.

Furs and Fur Coats

During the month of February we will continue to sell our Furs of every description at a great saving.

Any one wanting a fine Fur of any kind, it will pay them big to make their purchase soon.

TRACK WORK SOON IN FULL SWING

COACH JORDAN MADE CALL FOR MEN THURSDAY.

TEAM TO REPRESENT COLLEGE AT PENN RELAYS

Eleven Men to Contest for Berths on Quintet Going to Philadelphia.—Teamer Likely Captain of Track Team.

Track activities at Bucknell are livening up with the approach of the spring season and that of several important meets with rival colleges. Coach Jordan issued a call for track candidates last Thursday afternoon and the spirited answer on the part of promising material in the college brightens the prospects for a credible team on the track this spring. The announcement that Bucknell is to be represented at the Penn Relays on April 26 is doing much to keep interest alive and thriving.

Team to Enter Relays.

For the first time in a number of years a Bucknell team will represent the college at the Penn Relays this spring. Bucknell relay teams have made in the past some excellent records and it is the earnest hope of the undergraduates that this year's team will preserve the standard set in the past.

Five men will be sent to Philadelphia on April 28. The expenses of the team will be partially defrayed by the students who, as is known, are interested in the revival of track at Bucknell.

The Bucknell team has already been allotted a place in the schedule of events. The teams against which it will compete are as follows: Washington and Jefferson, Lehigh, University of North Carolina, Massachusetts Agricultural College, Catholic University and the New York School of Law.

A silk banner will be given the winning team as a college trophy and each member of that team will likewise receive a trophy. To each member of the team in second place a silver cup will be given. Cups will also be given as third prizes.

Eleven men reported for the quarter mile at Coach Jordan's call last week. They were: Urbanowicz, Topham, Mellander, Sturgis, Lowther, Tripician, Gilpen, Becker, Whittam, Jordan and Bott. Hooker, '13, and Bogert, '13, are "B" men in this distance and it is expected that they will report for work.

Many Track Men Report.

In answer to Coach Jordan's call for track candidates last Thursday a big squad of men reported. From the number of men who will contest for track positions it is plain that spirited competition will result. The following men reported for these events:

100 yards—Lotte, Walters, Topham, Jones, Whittam, Glover and Jordan.

220 yards—Urbanowicz, Tripician, Samuels, Becker, Jones, Whittam, Lotte and Glover.

880 yards—Mellander, Butt and Bott.

Mile—Everett, Noble, Bott, Bullard and Fitzgerald.

Two miles—Everett, Noble, Butt, Bullard and Fitzgerald.

High hurdles—Buffington, Gdanlec, Gilpen and Dunkle.

Low hurdles—Gilpen and Dunkle.

Broad jump—Walters, Sturgis and Topham.

Pole vault—Drake, Buffington and Aleshoukas.

Discus Teamer, Hagen and Jordan.

Shot—Teamer, Hern, Keiser and Jordan.

Hammer—Teamer and Hern.

Teamer Likely Captain.

The article in the constitution of the Athletic Association regarding the election of leaders of the Varsity athletic teams stipulates that the captains are to be men who have won their Varsity letter the preceeding year. The "B" men in college are Teamer, '13, Hooker, '13, and Bogert, '13. Inasmuch as there was no track work at the college last year, this year's track captain must be a veteran from the season of 1911. Teamer is the only member of that team who still remains in college and will consequently captain this year's team.

NEW BASEBALL MEN REPORT.

Captain Worrilow had his first chance to look over the new baseball material when the battery candidates reported in the cage last Friday. Of the 1916 men, three pitchers and two catchers reported and all look promising. The entire squad will report this week. On Monday and Friday of each week, the rest of the term, the entire gymnasium will be turned over to the baseball men and all basketball will be discontinued on these days.

EUEPIA SOCIETY, OLDEST ORGANIZATION, DIES

AFTER SIXTY-THREE YEARS EXISTENCE SOCIETY MAY BECOME EXTINCT.

The old Euepia Literary Society, which was discontinued four years ago and revived again last year together with its old companion society and rival, Theta Alpha, after a few months of life has again given up the ghost and apparently this time for good. With the graduation of the present Junior class the society will close a record of having its members in every graduating class since the founding of the college. The old organization has some interesting facts connected with its history.

Beginning at the very founding of the college, the Euepia Society is the oldest organization of its kind at Bucknell. It was organized at the beginning of the school year 1850, three years before the beginning of regular work at the college, and the first meeting was held on Nov. 30, 1850. At this initial meeting a constitution was drawn up and adopted and sixteen men signed it as constituent members. Reeder McFish, of the class of 1851, the first class to be graduated from the college, was the president of the newly organized society.

It is an interesting thing to turn over the pages of the membership book, worn and yellow with use and age, and to look at the names of men who have done great things for the college and the country. Including the sixteen charter members, the society has 760 names on its roll of membership up to the time of its reorganization last year. Among these are those of such well-known men as Rev. Francis W. Tustin, Hon. John A. Mitchell, David Jayne Hill, Lincoln Hulley—men of whom the college is justly proud.

Another interesting fact to be noted about the old Euepia Society is that during the time of the Civil War the membership almost vanished. The old society, like every other organization of whatever nature in the country, felt the stress of the trying times. It was at this time that a student company marched out from Bucknell taking with it some of the most influential members of the society. The severe times which followed the beginning of the war were not conducive to active literary work. All this is reflected in the membership roll of the society.

JOINT DEBATE NEAR AT HAND

BUCKNELL AND GETTYSBURG TO CLASH ON MARCH 14.

QUESTION WHILE DIFFICULT IS AN INTERESTING ONE

Debators Will no Doubt Say Some Good Things About the Scientific Trend of Education.—Bucknell Hall Local Scene.

Resolved, that the scientific trend in education is opposed to the principles of social and political progress and stability, is the question for discussion in the debate between Gettysburg College and Bucknell to be held in Bucknell Hall, Friday evening, March 14, at eight o'clock.

Following the plan of last year, this year's debate has been made a joint affair, so that while Lotte, '14, Gehman, '14, and Bachman, '14, as alternate, are discussing the affirmitive of the question in Bucknell Hall, Riley, '14, Richards, '14, and Walters, '13, as alternate, will be sustaining the negative side of the question from the platform at Gettysburg.

Special interest attaches itself to the debate this year since last year Bucknell was victorious at home and was defeated at Gettysburg, making the final result a draw.

Plainly the question for the coming debate as well as being one which requires much thought is also one which vitally concerns Bucknell students inasmuch as all are a part of a great educational movement. It is expected, accordingly, that a large number of the student body will turn out to hear the debate. An admission of twenty-five cents, to defray the expenses of the debate, will be charged.

COLLEGE EDITORS TO GATHER AT NEW YORK

A conference of editors of Eastern college papers is being planned by the Cornell Daily Sun and the Williams Record. The conference will be held Friday, April 4, at Columbia University, New York City. Representatives of all the leading undergraduate dailies will attend. The program will be somewhat as follows: following an informal luncheon at which the delegates will be the guests of Columbia university, an afternoon session will be held which will be entirely an undergraduate affair. A permanent organization will be effected, and editorial opportunities and possibilities, news collection, makeup, etc., will be discussed. In the evening a banquet will be held at some down-town restaurant at which distinguished metropolitan newspaper men will make addresses. Here are some of the men who may be there: Dr. Talcott Williams, Director of the Pulitzer School of Journalism, Arthur Brisbane of the "Journal"; Rollo Ogden of the "Post"; E. P. Mitchell of the "Sun"; C. R. Miller of the "Times"; a representative of the Associated Press; Herbert Daly of the "Tribune". An endeavor is being made to secure the presence of Theodore Roosevelt.

Any Bucknell student, members of the Orange and Blue staff, who wish to attend the conference, will hand their names to the editor at once.

WILL NOT PLAY SWARTHMORE.

Swarthmore will not play Bucknell and the Navy in football next fall. "The Phoenix" of Swarthmore says that last year's difficult schedule was too trying on the football men and that it is the intention of making next fall's schedule less difficult. So Bucknell and the Navy will not meet Swarthmore in football next fall.

"CHIEF" RAN AWAY.

"Chief" Lipplatt, the popular guardian of the sacred premises of the Woman's College, sprung a big surprise on his friends last week when he forsook his place of duty for Shamokin where he was united in marriage to Mrs. Rose Stannert, also of Lewisburg. The Rev. Fischer, of Shamokin, performed the ceremony. "Chief" Lipplatt has resumed his work again and is receiving a host of congratulations.

CAPTAIN FISHER RESIGNS

Because of a weakened condition following a severe illness during the beginning of the term, Captain Fisher of the basket-ball squad has tendered his resignation to the Athletic Association. Since his illness Captain Fisher's health has been such that he cannot undertake active training Ex-Captain Zehner has lead the team thus far this season.

TO SHOW SLIDES.

The slides furnished by the State Educational Society on "Iron and its Manufacture," will be here about March the sixth and will be shown in the Chemical Laboratory by Prof Owens.

ACADEMY STUDENTS HOLD ANNUAL RECEPTION

ABOUT NINETY STUDENTS AND GUESTS ATTENDED PRETTY AFFAIR.

Bucknell Academy entertained a party of friends at its annual reception last Friday evening. About ninety Academy students and guests attended.

Owing to the efforts of the committee in charge of decorations, the reception room presented a very pretty appearance. Lattice work which covered the ceiling was interspersed with pretty red flowers. At one end of the hall several cozy corners were fashioned. Plenty of evergreens placed here and there gave a natural tone.

Following a short playet, "The Economical Boomerang," given by a cast of Academy students in the school room, refreshments were served.

The cast of "The Economical Boomerang" which was performed with talent was as follows:

Mr. Dappleton ..... Raleigh Felton
Mrs. Dappleton ..... John Heberling
Mr. Bird Plover ..... Chas. Reed
Mrs. Bird Plover ... Goeffrey Yeaton
Doctor ..... David Boswell
Maggie ..... Roy Strohecker

HELD INTERESTING DISCUSSION.

The Chemical Society held an interesting meeting in the Chemical Laboratory Friday afternoon. Zehner, '13, spoke on "Explosives." He said that Noble, the inventor of one of the most powerful explosives, arranged for the maintenance of a yearly sum for the man doing the most each year for universal peace. Zehner then discussed the manufacture of dynamite, nitroglycerine and guncotton. Keen, '13, gave some very interesting extracts from the Metallurgical Magazine of the American Chemical Society on "The Purification of Acids," and "A New Method of Filteration."

PHI KAPPA PSI MEN BANQUET.

The annual Founder's Day banquet of the Bucknell chapter of Phi Kappa Psi fraternity was held at the Hotel Milton last Wednesday evening. Of the fifty men who attended about thirty were alumni of the chapter.

Prof. John H. Frizzell of State College, acted as toastmaster and the following men responded to toasts: Dr. Cressinger, of Sunbury; Prof. Wilbur, of Bloomsburg; F. A. Godcharles, of Milton; A. B. Emerick, of Lambda chapter at State College, and Bright W. Beck, of the Bucknell chapter.

ACCOMPANIES PRINCETON MEN

Shattuch, '14, went to Princeton, Saturday, where he is visiting friends. He will accompany the special train of Princeton students to Washington to-morrow.

GREAT PEACE WORKER COMING

MR. HOLT, EDITOR OF THE INDEPENDENT, TO SPEAK HERE.

HAS INTERNATIONAL RENOWN IN PEACE MOVEMENT

Will Address Bucknell Students in Bucknell Hall April 11 on Subject, "The Federation of the World."—Admission by Ticket.

Hamilton Holt, LL. D., editor of The Independent, and one of America's most noted and zealous workers for universal peace, will speak in Bucknell Hall, April 11, on "The Federation of the World," one of his most forceful addresses.

Mr. Holt is admirably equipped for the task of lecturing on the peace movement. He has been connected inseparably with the growth of the movement and has brought much credit to the country by his efforts. In June, 1906, the Emperor of Japan conferred upon Mr. Holt the order of the Sacred Treasure for the work he did in promoting friendly relations between the United States and Japan.

Mr. Holt is personally acquainted with many of the world's peace workers, and is one of the founders of the New York Peace Society; a member of the Executive Committee of the First American Peace Congress, held in New York City, May, 1907—"the greatest unofficial gathering ever held in America"—and Chairman of its Press Committee; an official representative from the State of New York, appointed by Governor Charles E. Hughes, to the Second American Peace Congress, held at Chicago, May 1909, a speaker there and a member of its Committee on Resolutions; a speaker at the New England Peace Conference, held at Hartford, Conn., May, 1910; President of the Third American Peace Congress, held in Baltimore, May, 1911; a member of "Conciliation Internationale;" the American Peace Society; a director in The World Peace Foundation, founded with a million dollars endowment by Edwin Ginn, of Boston; a trustee of the American-Scandinavian Foundation; and an invited delegate to Albert K. Smiley's Lake Mohonk Arbitration Conferences. Mr. Holt is also the founder of The Mexico Society of New York, which was formed to promote peace and friendship between Mexico and the United States.

A Senior committee is to be in charge of the arrangements for Mr. Holt's address and owing to the limited seating capacity of Bucknell Hall admission will be by ticket. Tickets will be given by the committee to students who first apply for the same. The committee includes Stout, Talbot and Steele of the Senior class.

"MEDS" DISCUSS PNEUMONIA.

The Medical Society met on Friday afternoon at 4.15 and listened to a talk by J. Shearer, '13, on Pneumonia. He told of the different varieties of the disease and the fact that they are caused by the pneumococcus. An interesting description of this minute organism was given and the different symptoms of the disease discussed. The disease is contagious under certain conditions, the speaker said, and many of the cases occur in epidemics. Dr. Gundy will address the society on Friday the 7th. His subject will be Infantile Paralysis. A good turnout of the "medics" is desired.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

The engagement of Miss Dorothy Wolfe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wolfe, of Lewisburg, to Stephen Wells, ex-'14, of Bloomsburg, was announced at an afternoon party given for Miss Wolfe by her parents Tuesday.

FRATERNITY RUSHING.

Our communicant "Progressive" writes interestingly on an important question. That there is a vital connection between the amiable relationship of fraternities and the interest or enthusiasm of all the students in the activities of college life, there is no doubt. With this in mind should an interfraternity council and a regular system of fraternity "rushing" be deemed effective, an innovation of such a nature should by all means be made. We will welcome future communications on the subject.

DEBATE WILL INTEREST.

The local end of the joint intercollegiate debate with Gettysburg College promises to be interesting according to the reports of the debators who are daily at work upon the big question. The question dealing as it does with the scientific trend of education is of general interest. Because of the great breadth of the question there is doubt in both the Gettysburg and Bucknell camps as to the tactics their opponents will pursue. Consequently, the argument promises to be spirited.

CAPTAIN FISHER'S RESIGNATION

There is general regret among the undergraduates at the resignation of Captain Fisher of the Varsity basketball squad. Captain Fisher has been in poor health since a severe illness during the Christmas holidays and hoping always to break in the game he has withheld his resignation. Realizing a return to the game as impossible, his withdrawal follows to the regret of his student admirers.

FRATERNITY RUSHING REGULATION.

(Communication.)

At Bucknell and at other similar colleges, the attitude of the fraternities toward rushing is fundamentally wrong, for it is an unnatural one. The natural attitude is that the fraternity should be sought and not the seeker. Probably in some individual cases this has been so, but in the great majority of cases the attitude is properly expressed by the term "rushing," which signifies that the fraternity is the seeker. The natural attitude is that taken by one of the strongest fraternal organizations in the world, of membership through application rather than through invitation. The best way to deal with an unnatural situation is to change the conditions that make it unnatural.

For many years Bucknell has had no uniform method for fraternity rushing. Considering that other colleges have developed systems for rushing and pledging which are really effective, I deem the haphazard method at Bucknell obsolete.

The pledging of freshmen cannot be successfully regulated by depending solely upon the honor of the fraternities. Although I would not question for a moment the personal honor of members of fraternities, yet I firmly believe that men will do for their fraternity things that would compromise them personally. It is a great deal to ask that a fraternity member shall rush a freshman for a considerable length of time and not seek to make his own fraternity appear in the best light possible.

If the fraternities really desire to treat each other and the freshman squarely and to initiate men into their chapters who like other fraternities, but who join a certain one because they like it better than the others, why not adopt rules similar to the following:

Every fraternity shall be entitled to a visit of a stipulated length with each freshman before his pledge shall become binding to any fraternity. Any fraternity may waive its present interest in a freshman.

Every freshman shall be entitled to a fifteen minute visit with a member from each fraternity if he, the freshman, so desires.

All bids shall be distributed through an interfraternity council on a certain day, four weeks or some such length of time, after beginning of the fall term, and the answers shall be returned within three days after the bids are issued.

Any fraternity may pursue the old method of pledging men at any time, but the freshman may honorably withdraw his pledge anytime previous to the official announcement of pledged men by the interfraternity council.

No fraternity shall be allowed to "call for and deliver" a freshman to another fraternity during the four weeks rushing; that is, the freshman shall be allowed to visit when and where he pleases.

This plan it seems to me would tend to better interfraternity spirit and would practically do away with isolating any one man with a single fraternity. As far as the arrangement goes of having the man seeking the fraternity instead of the fraternity seeking the man, I realize that such system is not likely to be favored here at college although I believe it to be the ideal situation.

PROGRESSIVE.

AN HONOR SYSTEM.

(Communication.)

Now that examinations are approaching it might be well to say something about one phase of examinations as sometimes conducted here at Bucknell which goes against the grain of the average college man, i. e., the way in which they are administered. Upon entering the examination, the student is impressed by the close watch which some professors maintain over proceedings. The latter walk slowly up and down the aisles so that the student feels that he is being watched, and at times the idea intrudes that the challenge is being issued to him. Under these circumstances men have been known to obtain information from forbidden sources and to feel proud afterwards when they told their fellows of their defection.

A system which accomplishes such results is unfair to the faculty and the student. The professor is placed in a position where he seems to suspect the student and the student feels partly justified in stretching the moral point at issue when opportunity presents itself to live up to the professor's seeming estimate of him. It would be far more in keeping with the advertised training of the college man that some form of the honor system be introduced. In college a student should be thrown upon his own responsibility and he should be given every opportunity and incentive to develop dependence and reliability upon himself before he enters his life work. The sooner he is looked upon as a man of honor, the brighter will be his future.

LOSING STREAK AS YET UNBROKEN

ALBRIGT GAVE THE VARSITY ANOTHER BUMP.

BUCKNELL LED IN GREATER PART OF HARD CONTEST

During the First Half and Beginning of Second Period, the Orange and Blue Gave Promise of Victory.—Benfer, of Albright, Stars.

Although Bucknell's Varsity quintet outplayed and outpointed the team from Albright in Tustin gymnasium Friday night during the first half and the greater portion of the second period of an exciting contest, a spurt by the visitors near the end of the last half broke a 14 to 14 tie and gave them a lead that lost the game for Bucknell by a score of 25 to 17.

From the first toss-up both teams played with every ounce of strength and aggressiveness that they possessed and the game was resultingly rough, although at all times it was exceptionally devoid of unsportsmanlike playing for such a strenuous contest. Realizing the strength of the Albright team the Orange and Blue players went into the game prepared for a hard struggle and supplied with an abundance of determination.

Benfer, whose home is in Lewisburg, was the particular star for the visitors and succeeded in caging six goals.

Bucknell made the first tally of the game when in the first half Jordan tossed the ball into the cage on a pretty shot. Two fouls called on Albright players gave Zehner the opportunity to score two more points. Buffington made one of the most sensational shots seen on the home floor in many years during this period when he negotiated a goal from beyond the middle of the floor. Later in the first half Albright took a brace and the period ended with the score 12-9 with Bucknell at the long end.

On account of the strenuous character of the game and in order to give the players short rests, the second half was divided into three periods following an agreement between the contesting teams. In the second of these periods the visitors began to score more readily and soon overcame the lead held by Bucknell and tied the score at 14 to 14. Extreme excitement kept the crowd cheering for several minutes, urging the home team to tally and break the tie. A foul on Albright gave Bucknell the chance to score but Zehner missed the shot. Benfer, of the visitors, successfully caged a foul that was called on an Orange and Blue player a few minutes later and the Albright captain soon shot another basket that placed his team three points to the good.

With the score at 18 to 14 Fetter tallied a pretty goal that again brought Bucknell within winning distance, but Benfer's ability to shoot returned with the retirement of Zehner and he scored three baskets within a short time that gave the visitors the victory by a score of 25 to 17.

INTERCOLLEGIATE

An honorary society, "The Sphinx" has recently been organized at Pennsylvania and made up of members from the upper classes.

Massachusetts Tech begins its course in the principles of aviation with the second term. This will be the first of the kind in this country and will have for its initial feature a series of lectures by Albert A. Merrill, a pupil of Wright and an experimenter with apparatus for some eight or ten years.

Statistics taken from the physical examinations of the members of the freshmen class of Colgate University show that of 135 men in class only 29 per cent. have perfect vision, while 21 per cent. wear glasses. Only 16 students did not know how to swim and only 39 proved to be tobacco users.

Because of objections raised by some peculiarly minded individuals, a human body used for demonstration work at Lafayette college was removed from the college campus lately. Bucknell was the first college in the country, outside of medical institutions, to accompany its anatomy work by dissection of the human body.

Brown University is making plans for the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the founding of the institution, which will be held early in October, 1914. Brown's charter was granted by the General Assembly of Rhode Island and the Providence Plantation in 1764 and except for the name remains in force unaltered today.

The annual report of the U. S. Bureau of Education contains some interesting information. It states that only five out of every hundred high school graduates enter college, and that less than two per cent. of the students who enter colleges receive a degree. During the last year, the facilities of the colleges in this country have grown 61 per cent.

A club, which borders on the eccentric, has been organized recently at the University of Pennsylvania. It is the new Hardship Club, the object of which is to overcome pain, fatigue, cold and heat by a close association with these conditions. A schedule of hardships to be undertaken has been prepared such as many miles of walking before breakfast, sleeping on hardwood floors, etc.

Four hundred midshipmen, who violated Superintendent Gibbon's orders against betting on the recent annual inter-service football game at Philadelphia have been found out as the result of an investigation at the Naval Academy. It is alleged that the midshipmen raised a pool of $2000 which was covered by the West Point cadets. Superintendent Gibbons will assign punishment.

"By combining Rugby and American football the ideal game could be produced," says Coach Shaughnessy of McGill university. His principal change suggested in the American game is to place the line of scrimmage within certain limits. The passing or kicking of the ball while a run is in progress is another suggestion he believes would result in constant action.

JOINT MEET NOW A SURETY

DICKINSON AND F. AND M. TO OPPOSE BUCKNELL.

CONTRACT ALREADY SIGNED FOR MAY 24

Meet Will Take Place at Lancaster This Year and at Lewisburg in 1914.—Silver Cup Will Be Advanced as Trophy.

Negotiations with Dickinson and Franklin and Marshall, which have been under way for some time by the local authorities, have been completed and an annual tri-angular track meet between the three colleges has been arranged. The first meet will be held this year at Lancaster on May 24.

According to the contract, which was approved by the Athletic Association last week, the joint meet will occur annually. Following this year's meet in Lancaster the event will come to Lewisburg and will complete its rounds at Carlisle the year following.

Each of the three colleges is to contribute a sum towards a beautiful silver trophy which will ultimately go to the school winning the meet three times, not necessarily in succession. This stipulation means that the tri-angular meets will take place for a period longer than three years. The winner of the meet each year will take charge of the cup until the meeting of the colleges the following year when the trophy will be returned to the scene of the meet.

The contract calls for the regular fourteen events, eight track and six field. Two men from each team are to be allowed to enter an event although the teams may register three men before the meet, withdrawing one name at the time of entry. No stipulation is made as to the number of events a man may enter and he is consequently not limited.

Each of the teams will be required to enter at least ten men in the meets. Places in the different events of each meet will count five points for first place, three for a second, and one for a third. Besides the silver trophy spoken of, gold, silver and bronze medals respectively will be given the winners of the first three places in the events.

AFRICAN MISSIONARY ADDRESSED THE Y. M. C. A.

REV. C. W. GUINTER SPOKE ON SUBJECT "ISLAM IN THE SUDA."

Thursday evening, Rev. C. W. Guinter from the Sudan United Mission of Wukari, West Africa, spoke to the Y. M. C. A. on the subject: "Islam in the Suda." Mr. Guinter is a former Albright man and went to Africa in 1906 and at present is in this country on a furlough. He expects to return to his field of work next fall. The speaker said in part:

"For twelve and a half centuries Islam held sway in northern Africa. The Mohammadan gained entrance to this country as a trader and the result was that colonies of Mohammedans were established. The followers of the Koran held their daily classes in the market places and these attracted many of the pagan children, who are finally won to the Koran.

"In the Christian schools conducted by the English, French and Germans, the Koran is also taught and not until two years ago was the Bible read in these institutions. These governments also appoint many Mohammedans to govern the various tribes under their jurisdiction.

"Wherever the Mohammedan goes he is a missionary for the Koran. He is devoted to his faith. The critical place in the Mohammadan world today is in the Sudan."

DR. GUNDY SPOKE TO MEDS.

Dr. Charles Gundy, of the town, addressed the weekly meeting of the Medical Society last Friday afternoon, on the subject of Infantile Paralysis. He stated that the pathetic feature of the affliction is that the victims generally remain cripples throughout life. A peculiar feature of the disease is that there is scarcely ever pain attended with it. Dr. Gundy then discussed the definition of the disease, etiology, the cause, effects, diagnosis and the treatment. Next week the medical students will discuss typhoid fever.

FRESHIES GAVE GREEN PARTY.

The Freshmen girls gave a pretty St. Patrick's Day party in the gymnasium at the Woman's College last Saturday night. The decorations were in green and consisted principally of shamrocks. Green ice cream, cake with green icing, and green mints served in small Irish hats, were the refreshments. Miss Ruth Williams sang and Miss Blanche Weed recited.

UNDERCLASS GAME SATURDAY

Perhaps the most spirited game of the inter-class schedule will be played in the Tustin gymnasium next Saturday evening when the Freshmen-Sophomore game will take place. Reserved seats will be on sale Thursday. Admission will be twenty-five and fifty cents.

AIDA QUARTETTE WILL CLOSE LYCEUM COURSE

MR. C. POL BLANCHON, NOTED BARITONE, ACCOMPANIES ORGANIZATION.

The Alda Quartet and Mr. C. Pol Blancon will appear in Lewisburg on Wednesday evening, March 19. This is a well known musical organization from New York City which presents a program of high standard in violin, cornet, trumpet, and piano music. On its tour, the quartette will be accompanied by Mr. C. Pol Blancon, a noted baritone.

The fact that the Alda Quartette has appeared on the same program with such world artists as Schumann-Heinke, Bispham and others, speaks much as to the standing of this eastern organization.

The Alda Quartette is composed of Miss Edna White, the only solo trumpeter of her sex in the world; Miss Norma Sauter, violinist, a pupil of Franz Kneisel; Miss Cora Sauter, cellist, a pupil of Leo Schulz, and Miss Ruth Wolfe, a well known pianist.

C. Pol Blanchon, a relative of the world famous French basso, was born in France. He has been connected with the Boston Conservatory of Music and has had considerable experience in grand opera.

The entertainment to be given by this company will be the last of the present Lyceum Sourse season. Admission will be fifty cents.

DR. RIEMER LECTURED MONDAY

Dr. G. C. L. Reimer of the college faculty spoke in the auditorium of the Williamsport High School last Monday evening on "The Homes of German Kings." Dr. Riemer was secured to speak at Williamsport by the modern language department of the Williamsport High School. He was introduced by Rev. Weisshaar, a prominent German of Williamsport. Dr. Riemer's lecture was illustrated.

ONLY PRAISE FOR STUDENTS' PLAY

FRILL AND FROWN GIRLS PLEASED MANY FRIENDS.

"INGOMAR, THE BARBARIAN," PRESENTED WITH SUCCESS

"Classical Evening" at the Woman's College Friday Furnished Pleasant Relief From Frequent Farce-comedies.

It has become a sort of adage about Lewisburg that whatever the Frill and Frown Society of the Woman's College attempts in the line of dramatic productions is attended with success. "Ingomar, the Barbarian," a four act drama presented by the Frill and Frown girls last Friday evening when they entertained a large party of friends, measured up to the standard set in the past by the society. Miss Schillinger, under whose supervision the Frill and Frown Society prepares its productions, deserves credit for her contribution to Friday night's success.

"Ingomar, the Barbarian," was adapted from Friedrich Halm's "Der Sohn Der Wilderness." The play has an interesting plot which holds the attention until the final fall of the curtain. The scene is laid in Greece. Myron, a poor armorer in the town of Massalia has a wife and a single daughter whom he dearly loves. Because of his poverty, Myron toils daily tending his flocks on the hillside and labors at the anvil at night. Alleviation is offered, however, by the offer of Polydore, a wealthy merchant of Massalia, to take Parthenia, Myron's daughter, in marriage. Parthenia balks since she has cherished in her heart the thought of a marriage for love and Polydore, miserly and aged, is only the object of her contempt. So she refuses the marriage with the merchant, who swears revenge. At this point word is brought that Myron, while tending his flocks on the hillside, has been seized by the Alemanni, a savage horde from the mountains, and a ransom is demanded for his release. Myron's friends are unable to secure his release and Polydore refuses aid. Parthenia then goes to the mountains in search of her father.

In act two Parthenia is brought into the camp of the Alemanni by skirmishers of the band and offers herself in the place of her father, who she asserts, might then return home and earn her ransom. Her offer is accepted and her captivity begins.

Ingomar, the chief of the Alemanni treats her rudely at first but is tamed by Parthenia's unbroken spirit. The savage chief for the first time in his life is humbled by the captive girl. She commands him to do and he at once obeys. The tribe of Alemanni notices the change in its chief and becomes indignant. An attempt is made to kidnap Parthenia. Ingomar saves her from his friends and breaks with the tribe. He accompanys Parthenia to her home. There he begins the life of a Greek citizen, slave to every demand of Parthenia, who, despite his great sacrifice, refuses his offer of love.

In the last act the tribe of Ingomar believing him captive assails the city. The Timarch of Massalia offers Ingomar property and the hand of Parthenia if he will go out to the camp of the Allemanni and betray his friends by treachery. Ingomar refuses and is about to be ejected from the city when the Alemanni break through the walls. Ingomar intervenes, prevents battle and is rewarded by the Timarch of the city. Parthenia accepts him then because of his nobility and confesses that she has concealed her love for a long time.

Miss Jane Irey, as Ingomar, and Miss Joletta Arthur, as Parthenia, excelled particularly. Miss Florence Good, as Polydore the miserly merchant, could scarcely have done better in her interpretation of a difficult character. Miss Winifred Miller, as Myron, and Miss Blanche Wood, as Myron's wife, deserve praise. Miss Olive Cooper, as the Timarch, acted well as usual. The rest of the caste supported the leaders well.

The role of characters was:

REV. TEUFEL, ALUMNUS, SAVES CHURCHMAN

EIGHT PIECES OF SKIN TAKEN FROM HIM GRAFTED ON WORKMAN.

Rev. Charles M. Teufel, who won the title of "Ginger" at college for his ability to play baseball and who is now pastor of a Pittsburgh church where he has been located for the past several months, saved the leg and probably the life of a member of his congregation recently.

A. Metchan, a foreman at the one of the big steel plants in Pittsburgh, was burned when he fell into a vat of boiling liquid. His leg was parboiled to the knee. The physicians at a hospital decided that skin grafting was the only means to save the leg.

As all of Metchan's friends were actively employed in the steel works and could not impair their working ability for the length of time that would be required, Rev. Teufel, who had called at the hospital and learned that his parishioner was in danger of losing his leg, volunteered to submit to the skin grafting operation. Rev. Teufel was a former baseball player and noted athlete while in the college here and still keeps physically fit, so the doctors decided he was just the man for the occasion.

Eight pieces of skin were taken from his leg and arm and grafted on the leg of the injured man, and the latest word is that Metchan will completely recover. Rev. Teufel is not suffering much from the ordeal.

JUNIORS ARE NOW CHAMPIONS

WON FROM SENIORS LAST WEDNESDAY.

The Seniors and the Juniors contested for basket-ball honors in the Tustin gymnasium last Wednesday evening. Unlike the inter-class contests thus far, the game was never in doubt and the Juniors won by the score of 33-10.

This contest places the Juniors at the head of the class teams and since the Sophomores forfeited a game with the Juniors the week previous, the latter are the inter-class champions.

TO COMPETE FOR STAFF

SYSTEM OF LAST YEAR IN USE THIS YEAR.

COMPETITION WILL BEGIN NEXT TERM

New Editor Will Have Charge of the Competition.—Names of Candidates for Editorial Staff Wanted This Term.

Competition for Orange and Blue staff positions, which was begun last year in order to secure the most capable men for work on the paper and at the same time to vitiate the possibility of factional representation on the staff, will be resorted to again this year. Students desirous of competing for staff positions should send their names at once to the editor. Competition will begin with the opening of college next term and will continue two weeks when the new staff will enter into the office.

Advisors Pick Editor.

As has been the custom in the past the faculty advisors of the college paper, Drs. Perrine and Phillips, will select the editor for the coming administration. This selection will also be made on the basis of competition since the coming editor will likely be a member of the present staff and active work on the staff is the most grilling competition possible. The editorship will be announced in next week's issue of the Orange and Blue. The coming competition will be regulated by the new editor; the present staff serving until the new selection is made.

Staff Probably Smaller.

In order to make the coming competition as spirited as possible and to give positions on the staff of the paper a greater value in the minds of the students, the number of staff positions will probably be madesmaller. The members of the staff, it is believed, will take greater interest in the work if they are called on more frequently to contribute material. With a large staff frequent assignments to each member are impossible so that interest in the work is lost. With this in mind it is likely that the new staff will be diminished in size.

COURSE FOR ST. PARTRICK'S DAYS RACE MAPPED

RUNNERS FROM COLLEGE AND ACADEMY ARE EXPECTED TO COMPETE.

In order to bring the running on St. Partick's Day within the town as much as possible and to prevent delay by crossing the railroad too frequently the following course has been chosen: Beginning at the intersection of Third and Market streets the running will proceed down Market to First street, to St. Anthony, to Fifth, to St. George, to First, to Market, and thence to the starting point, a distance of twenty-four blocks.

Covering this course there will be teams from the grammar grades and intermediate grades of the North and South wards and teams from the high school. At Bucknell Academy more than a dozen students have signified their intention to compete if they can get the Freshmen of the college to contest against them. The distance to be run by each student is only three blocks. This contest will open a busy season of track work in the town and college.

FRESHMEN PRESENT PICTURE

A handsome steel engraving of Abraham Lincoln by Marshall has been placed upon the walls of the oratory room through the efforts of the members of the Freshmen class. Suitable presentation addresses were delivered by members of the class.

DEBATING EXPENSES GREAT.

While there is no doubt that Bucknell Hall will be filled this Friday evening when Bucknell meets Gettysburg College in the local end of a joint debate, there is evident need that the auditorium be taxed its fullest. The debators have but one source of revenue, the debate next Friday, and the expenses incurred by sending a team to Gettysburg along with sundry other outlays, is great. Friday evening's event will and should receive enthusiastic support.

DR. OMWAKE WAS HERE.

Another college president, Dr. Omwake, came to Lewisburg last week and Bucknell students were not fortunate enough to hear his address. Not long ago Dr. Warfield, of Lafayette College, came to Lewisburg to speak before a student organization but the students in general had no opportunity to hear him speak. Splendid opportunities were lost on both of these occasions when, instead of the whole college, separate organizations profited by the presence of these distinguished guests.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor Orange and Blue:

The invitation of the Lewisburg Playground Association for Bucknell men to participate in the street run on St. Patrick's Day, has not aroused the interest in the college that it should. Our athletes do not seem to know that the association is composed largely of graduates of this institution who are looking after the welfare of the college athletes as well as the town boys. Our students seem to have forgotten for the moment that the town to a large extent supports our athletics. When, therefore, an organization of townspeople invites us to participate in their sports we are more or less under obligation to support the movement by our presence in the meet. Graduate.

BASEBALL MEN ON TRACK.

The schedules for spring baseball and track have been so arranged that men proficient in both may have a double opportunity. A number of baseball men have reported for track as well and are among the most promising candidates for the different events.

Y. M. C. A. TO ELECT OFFICERS.

At this week's Y. M. C. A. meeting the association will hear reports of the work of the various committees and elect officers for the coming year. President Fetter appointed the following as nominating committee: Teamer, '13, chairman; Beck, '13, Goehring, '13, and Middleton, '13.

The Harvard Employment Bureau has obtained positions for 559 undergraduates at that university.

PRESIDENT OF URSINUS SPOKE

DR. OMWAKE ADDRESSED UNIVERSITY CLUB FRIDAY

"RESPONSIBILITY OF COLLEGE PROFESSOR" SUBJECT

College President Spoke in Familiar and Conversational Manner.—Prof. Rhodes and Brother Secured the Speaker.

President G. Leslie Omwake, Pd. D., of Ursinus College, addressed the University Club at their rooms, Friday afternoon, March 7, on the "Responsibilities of the College Professor." In familiar and conversational manner he discussed the responsibility for the truth,—its conservation and discovery; for the students' intellectual equipment and his moral character building; for the contact of scholarship with reality, and for the idealizing of the actual by the culture of the affectionate side of the student's nature. Incidentally the speaker illuminated many questions of present day emphasis among the college instructors, and gave impetus to many an idea just emerging in the teacher's consciousness. It was such an address as only an earnest man presents to earnest fellow-workers.

Dr. Omwake was the guest of Prof. and Mrs. Drum, and the club is indebted for the address to Professor Rhodes, of the college faculty, and his brother, Mr. E. N. Rhodes. Dr. Omwake will be sure of a hearty welcome whenever he returns to Lewisburg.

WOULD STOP NAUGHTY DANCES.

(Communication.)

Editor Orange and Blue:

During the last few years certain forms of dancing have been introduced which have brought forth expressions of disapproval from the general public. A few of the dances that have caused considerable comment are the Turkey-Trot, One-step, Bunny-hug and Grizzley-bear. While these dances are comparatively new, the more sensible and sane attitude of the people at the present time is one of opposition.

This expression of disapproval was brought out more forcibly recently in the House when the following bill was introduced:

"That the grant of permit to the committee on inaugural ceremonies for the use of the pension building for the inauguration ball is expressely upon condition and with limitation that for the prevention of acts of public indecency the following so-called dances are absolutely barred and prohibited: 'Grizzly-bear,' gyrations, 'Bunny-hug' tenderloin movement, 'Turkey-trot' contortions, and all similar forms of gymnastic convulsive movements suggestive of degenerate revelries of the segregated districts."

The Michigan Union Committee of [illegible] University has passed a number of resolutions placing a ban on all forms of indecent dancing. The Pan-Helenic Council of Ohio State has also taken measures to prohibit dancing of the repulsive nature. At Annapolis, Navy men are abiding by a new set of rules regarding this amusement. What shall be the attitude of Bucknell men toward our dances of the future? Shall we not take a sane and sensible view of the matter and by student regulation prohibit all forms of vulgarism and indecency at our public affairs? A Student.

JUNIOR DEBATE NEXT WEEK.

On account of the absence from college during the spring term of one of the Junior debaters the annual contest in debate will be held on Tuesday, March 18. As three of the debaters are listed for the inter-collegiate debate with Gettysburg, a lively contest is expected.

THAT HOODO STILL PURSUES

LOSING STREAK WAS UNBROKEN LAST WEEK.

ALBRIGHT AND F. AND M. VANQUISHED VARSITY

Despite Efforts of Basket-ball Men to Change Course of Luckless Season, Two Games Were Lost Last Week.

Two more defeats were added to the long string already gathered by the varsity basket-ball team this season on the occasion of its trip to the eastern part of the state last week. The game Friday evening with Albright at Myerstown, was lost by a score of 40 to 20 while that at Lancaster Saturday night with Franklin and Marshall closed the season for that college with a victory of 51 to 21 over the Orange and Blue.

The Albright Game.

During the early part of the first period Bucknell and Albright played with hair-raising aggressiveness and speed and the scores of each side were about even, but toward the close of the half the Myerstown collegians began to shoot with a precision that could not be denied and closed the period with the score in their favor 18 to 7.

Although Bucknell's quintet scored six baskets and a foul during the second half the thirteen points resulting were not sufficient to overcome the big lead that Albright was fast gaining. Benfer was, as usual, the chief scorer for Albright and succeeded in caging eight baskets in this period. In the first half he shot five goals. Hartman also distinguished himself in the scoring end.

The game ended with the score 40 to 20 in favor of Albright and the line-up was as follows:

Bucknell		Albright
Fetter	Forward	Hartman
Buffington	Forward	Benfer
Jordan	Centre	Powell
Zehner	Guard	Baker
Schaffner	Guard	Zinn

Goals from field: Fetter 2, Buffington 3, Jordan 2, Schaffner 1, Hartman 4, Benfer 13, Powell 1. Foul goals, Zehner, 0 out of 2, Buffington 4 out of 5, Hartman, 4 out of 13. Substitution, Gdanice for Schaffner, Referee, Hummel.

The F. and M. Game.

The second Waterloo that the team met on last week's trip was at Lancaster Saturday night when Franklin and Marshall put the Orange and Blue to rout with the score of 51 to 21. The home team started off with a whirlwind assault of the basket and ere many minutes had passed they had a lead of sixteen points before a Bucknell man was able to cage a single goal. To have such a decisive handicap from almost the very start of the contest took a lot of spirit out of the Bucknell players but they battled bravely until the end of the game and in the second period held the Lancaster quintet down to only eight goals.

Hostetter was a stellar performer for F. and M., while Brenner and Diehl vied with him for honors. In regard to the playing of the Orange and Blue men the Philadelphia Press says: "The one redeeming feature of the Bucknell playing was the work of Zehner." Fetter also played a good game and in the second half shot the most sensational shot that was ever witnessed on the Lancaster floor, tossing the ball with one hand over his head and into the basket from the centre of the floor.

The first half closed with the score 30 to 9 in favor of F. and M., while at the end of the game it was 51 to 21.

The line-up:

Bucknell		F. & M.
Fetter	Forward	Brenner
Buffington	Forward	Hostetter
Jordan	Centre	Diehl
Schaffner	Guard	Leibach
Zehner	Guard	Jones

Goals from field: Fetter2, Buffington 1, Jordan 3, Zehner 1, Brenner 5, Hostetter 7, Diehl 3, Leibach 3, Jones 4. Foul goals: Zehner 6 out of 10, Buffington 1 out of 1, Hostetter 7 out of 10. Substitution, Keiser for Buffington. Referee Ranck.

Oxford University takes pride in the fact that at least one-half of every cabinet that has been formed in England for the past hundred years has been composed of Oxford men.

Statistics recently compiled show that while the large Eastern universities have made only moderate gains in numbers, the state universities of the west have increased enormously within the past few years.

The Cornell Musical clubs number fifty-four members. New York, Savannah, Atlanta, Birmingham, Memphis, New Orleans, St. Louis, Chicago, and Toledo were visited in the annual trip.

By a radical change in the rules of the Cornell Honor system, a man must be found guilty of unfairness in examinations twice before being expelled. The penalty for the first offense is now simply to repeat the course. Moreover, the same pledge as is used in Princeton, must now be signed at the end of the examinations.

WOMAN'S COLLEGE RENOUNCES SLEEP

SUCH WAS RESULT OF MISS COOPER'S APPEAL.

STUDENT GOVERMENT FORMALLY ADOPTED

Momentous Question to Women Decided at Big Mass Meeting Last Tuesday.—System Has Faculty Sanction.

Student Goverment, a past dream at the Woman's College, was formally adopted last Tuesday evening at a big mass meeting of the college women. Such enthusiasm as was displayed at the meeting has not stirred the Woman's College in years. The excitement of the brief half hour in which the movement was acted upon was intense. Miss Sallie McSparren presided at the meeting and Miss Olive Cooper presented the proposed innovation, Student Government, which has faculty sanction, will go into effect on March 31.

Following a stirring appeal for Student Government by Miss Olive Cooper, remarks were made by a number of the women. Even those famed as skippers declared their willingness to forego that pleasure for the sake of the concessions they were about to obtain. Remarks and questions came from all sides, applause was constant and the spirit of the meeting was gratifying to the leaders and the college women in general.

A second meeting was called Friday evening and the following officers were elected: President, Olive Cooper; Vice-Pres., Sallie S. McSparren; Sec., Ramona Lennington; Helen Davis, Mary Brown and Marion Harmon. Miss Stanton is to act as advisory member from the faculty. It was then announced that Student Government at the Woman's College will go into effect Monday morning, March 31, at 8 A. M., under the rules decided upon.

Miss Cooper's Appeal.

The appeal made by Miss Olive Cooper, President of the Executive Committee, follows in part:

"To some of us Student Government is a matter of mere indifference; to some of us Student Government is a vague notion of a system of policemen and a body of spying detectives, who, though our own friends, run around to detect the slightest misdemeanor. To a few of us, however, Student Government has long been the dream of a long needed reality.

"To those of you whose main objection is misunderstanding let us explain. Student Government in other colleges consists of a group of upperclassmen who constitute an Executive Committee. This committee co-operates with the faculty in the maintenance of decorum on the streets and quiet in the halls during study hours. To expedite matters, a proctor who is responsible for her section is placed over each hall. She reports to the Executive Committee questions which she cannot settle. The committee's decisions and administration of punishment is then final. It is a mistaken idea to feel that every girl is a self-appointed committee to patrol the halls or scour the highways in search of delinquents. No one but the proctors and the head proctors, who constitute the Executive Committee, is responsible for anyone's conduct but her own.

"A few weeks ago a representative committee framed a group of concessions which it thought legitimate and adequate to serve as a basis for student government and we have the permission now of the faculty to institute such an organization. Hereafter all questions of rules and laws will be decided in a general mass meeting of the girls themselves and anything within reason, will stand."

Rules Are Liberal.

1. Study hours, when quiet shall be maintained, shall be from 8-12 A. M.; 2-4 P. M.; 7-9 P. M., and after 10 P. M. There shall be no quiet hours on Saturday but general quiet shall be maintained on Sunday.

2. Students may go down town any day except Sunday until 6 P. M. They may also walk on Sunday until 5 P. M. Seniors, members of the Executive Committee and proctors may go down town in the evening until 9 P. M. without permission; Juniors with permission of a member of the student Executive Committee; underclassmen accompanied by a Senior or Junior and with the permission of a member of the student Executive Committee.

3. Students desiring to go to Milton and Watsontown may do so by registering the times of departure and return, in a book provided for the purpose. They must return to college by 6 P. M. unless chaperoned by a

HAS BEEN SECURED TO APPEAR HERE ON THAT DATE WITHOUT FAIL.

Capt. R. P. Hobson, who was to have appeared in Lewisburg some time ago has been secured for Saturday evening, March 29. The Lyceum committee of the college has assurance from Captain Hobson that the date fixed will be filled without fail. Canvas for tickets will be started in a short time. Any tickets sold for February 8, which have not been redeemed, will be honored on March 29.

Capt. Hobson delivered his well-known lecture on temperance in Milton some time ago to an audience of one thousand persons, and just as many were turned away from the building where he spoke. A large number of Lewisburg residents were fortunate enough to secure tickets to hear him upon his visit to Milton. He should have a large audience in Lewisburg when he makes his appearance here. For tickets address the Lyceum Committee, Box 161, Lewisburg.

Wohelo, Wohelo, Wohelo for love; sang the Chilliquaque Camp Fire Girls in the Seminary parlors last Friday evening. Then they sat listening intently while their guest, Miss Martin, told them stories about the Indians of Susquehanna Valley.

Thirty girls have united to add power of organization and the charm of romance to work, health, and play. They will learn and practice many things in Health Craft, Home Craft, Nature Lore, Camp Craft, Hand Craft, Business and Partiotism. The Dean has given them a room for their work but during spring term most of it will be out of doors.

APRIL MONTH OF OPERETTA.

The operetta Sylvia which is being prepared by college students and Lewisburg friends for the benefit of the Athletic Association will be ready for presentation next month. About thirty-five singers, the best in the college and the town, will make up the caste. Costumes are to be obtained from the city. The operetta will likely be given in the court house.

JOINT DEBATE AGAIN A DRAW

BUCKNELL WON HERE AND LOST AT GETTYSBURG.

SCIENTIFIC TREND IN EDUCATION, THE QUESTION

Some Timely Phases of Important Question Dealt With Last Friday.—Both Contests Were Spirited and Close.

For the second consecutive year Bucknell and Gettysburg met in joint debate without either side being victorious in both contests. Last Friday night, as last year, Bucknell was superior at Lewisburg and Gettysburg college received the decision at Gettysburg. Both contests were spirited and some interesting material on the scientific trend of education was presented by the opposing teams. The question was, "Resolved that the present scientific trend in education is opposed to the principles of political and social progress and stability."

Bucknell Victorious Here.

Bucknell upholding the affirmative side of the question, Resolved, that the present scientific trend in education is favorable to the principles of social and political progress and stability, easily outclassed Gettysburg in the annual inter-collegiate debate held in Bucknell Hall last Friday evening. Hon. Harry M. Showalter, assemblyman from Union county, presided, while Rev. W. T. L. Kieffer, of Milton, Prof. William W. Spigelmeyer of Mifflinburg and Prof. D. N. Dieffenbacher, of Danville, acted as judges.

Bucknell was represented by C. W. Lotte, '14, and John L. Gehman, '14. Mr. Lotte interpreted the question as follows; that the tendency at the present time to emphasize the natural sciences to the neglect of the classical and humanitarian studies is opposed to the principles of social progress. He said that in the man who does not intend to pursue science for life, the scientific trend develops the faculty of observing small details. This faculty, known as the scientific method, he applies in the study of the humanities. Thus the factors in the humanities that make for social progress are neglected. Thus in the man who intends to pursue science for life the present scientific trend has a tendency to develop individualism. Individualism gives us the theory of the survival of the fittest. This theory applied in the economic realm causes industrial injustice.

Mr. Gehman said: The increasing tendency to exclude the humanities from the scientific courses in our universities, colleges and high schools, is opposed to the principal of social progress, namely, personal development. The purely scientific man does not reach the development necessary for social progress, and there is a tendency to exclude the humanities from the scientific courses.

Gettysburg was represented by Frank E. Smith, '13, and John C. Haberlain, '13. They contended that individual efficiency is the essential of social and political progress. The scientific trend in education gives this efficiency, because science is highly cultured, supplementing the philosophical and classical studies, because it enlists the interests of the students in the various fields of activity, and because it is conducive to the highest ideals.

The debate as a whole was very satisfactory. The question was no doubt very difficult, but the debaters acquitted themselves in a commendable manner. The music of the band and the excellent selections by Misses Wedekindt and Reinhardt added in no small way to the evening's enjoyment.

Gettysburg Won at Home.

While one division of the Varsity debating team was opposing in Bucknell Hall, the present scientific trend in education, the other division, composed of E. J. Richards, '14, and Jesse Riley, '14, was upholding this trend before a large audience of students and townspeople in Brua Chapel, Gettysburg.

The Gettysburg team was composed of Mr. J. E. Gross and Mr. R. G. Heim, both members of the senior class at Gettysburg. Mr. Gross, who opened the debate, outlined the development of education from the time of classic Greece to the present day, pointing out the repeated encroachments of science upon culture, and the supplanting of idealistic philosophy by materialism.

Mr. Heim, in a forceful speech, pointed out the evils of materialism, showing wherein it is inconsistent with social progress and stability, and making an effective plea for a return, in part at least, to the old idealism.

In defending the negative of the question, Mr. Richards classified all students as those who will pursue a scientific profession and those who will not. Considering those who do not enter upon a scientific profession,

FRESHMEN PLAYERS PROVE SOPHOMORES' SUPERIORS

Twenty-eight points to twenty was the final score of the spirited inter-class game in the Tustin gymnasium last Saturday night when the Freshmen vanquished their proverbial rivals the Sophomores in basket-ball. For the most part there was a pleasing absence of the ill-tempered playing which has marred some of the inter-class games this year.

At the end of the first half the first-year men lead by four points, the score standing 15-11. In the second period skillful playing on the part of the Freshmen increased their lead. For the Sophomores Hamlin and Coughnour excelled whereas Corrin, Switzer and Gilpin starred for the Freshmen. The line-up:

Gilpin	Forward	Crulkshank
Tuthill	Guard	Coughnour (Becker)
Corrin	Center	Hamlin
Switzer	Guard	Pangburn (Davenport)
Thompson	Forward	Williams (Switzer)

BUCKNELL TO MEET PRINCETON

FOOTBALL SCHEDULE INCLUDES TIGERS.

MANAGER KEECH COMPLETES LIST OF OPPONENTS

Next Year's Football Team Will Face Difficult But Well-Arranged Schedule.—Four Games to be Played at Lewisburg.

Four home games, Princeton, Lebanon Valley and Muhlenberg added, and Swarthmore and Lafayette dropped, tells the story of the football schedule for next fall as completed by Manager Keech. Considering the number of difficult games on the list, the schedule is well arranged.

A contract with Princeton signed last week means that the Tigers will again meet Bucknell after a number of years. This game will perhaps be the most difficult one during the coming season. Swarthmore, believing it advisable not to attempt such a difficult schedule as last year, has decided to drop Bucknell and the Navy from its list of games. Muhlenburg, a new addition to the schedule, will meet the Orange and Blue at Lewisburg on Nov. 27.

Another game with the University of Pittsburgh has been arranged for Nov. 1 at Pittsburgh. The game comes at the middle of the season when both teams will probably be at their best. The game last year was played early in the season and was won by Bucknell.

The Bucknell-Gettysburg game at Harrisburg last year was such a success in every particular that a similar game has been arranged for at the Capitol City on Nov. 15. Both colleges sent special trains full of students to see the game last year.

The complete schedule as announced by Manager Keech follows: Sept. 27, Wyoming Seminary, at Lewisburg; Oct. 4, Lebanon Valley at Lewisburg; Oct. 11, Princeton, at Princeton, N. J.; Oct. 18, Cornell, at Ithaca, N. Y.; Oct. 25, St. Bonaventure, at Lewisburg; Nov. 1, University of Pittsburgh, at Pittsburgh; Nov. 8, Navy, at Annapolis, Md.; Nov. 15, Gettysburg, at Harrisburg; Nov. 22, Muhlenburg, at Lewisburg; Nov. 27, Washington and Jefferson, at Washington, Pa.

WILL COACH DICKINSON.

Dickinson College has secured the services of Paul G. Smith, '05, as football coach next fall. Mr. Smith was a student at Dickinson several years before coming to Bucknell. He is well known in athletic circles and coached Dickinson several years ago.

STAFF COMPETITION SOON.

A number of names of students who will compete for staff positions on the Orange and Blue have been received by the editor. Competition will begin next term and names should be handed in at once.

KAPPA DELTA PHI DANCE.

The Kappa Delta Phi fraternity gave a dance in the Armory last Thursday evening. A number of out-of-town guests were present. The Deitz orchestra of Milton, furnished the music.

MARKING THE MEMORIALS.

Even though "Student" who decries the practice of marking the class memorials in the course of advertising student activities is a bit severe in his attitude, there is yet some food for thought in what he says. Undoubtedly the last offense of this nature was committed thoughtlessly although in support of a college event. Thoughtlessness, however, should not be a part of the make-up of a college man and thus far "Student" is right.

SCHEDULE WELL ARRANGED.

The football schedule as announced this week by Manager Keech is well arranged considering the number of difficult games. The addition of Princeton to the schedule will undoubtedly be hailed with delight by the undergraduates. Then too there is an additional home game on the list.

NEW STAFF SOON.

The day's of the present staff of the Orange and Blue are numbered. Following the first issue of the paper next term, the new editor will take charge. Under his supervision and that of the faculty advisory committee, a new staff will be chosen by means of competition.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor Orange and Blue:—

In advertising a recent event, the brownstone memorial bridge that spans the run near the Chemical Laboratory, was marked with chalk. Such a desecration of a class memorial is exceedingly regrettable and should not be repeated. It is high time that we take at least a little pride in the buildings and handsome class memorials that adorn the campus.

I do not believe that the defacement of the memorial bridge was deliberately done but I think that the action was one of haste and the chalking was done without much use of the gray matter which Bucknell students ought to possess a little.

It is to urge every student to keep the beautiful class memorials on the campus free from future defacement that I ask you to publish this letter, and I trust that never again will it be necessary to lament a similar deed as that committed last week.

DEFEATS MARK END OF SEASON

VARSITY LOSES THREE CONTESTS ON TRIP EAST.

SUDDEN SPURTS OF OPPONETS WIN GAMES IN SECOND HALF

Fast Passing and Hard Playing Characterize Games but Ability of Georgetown and Mt. St. Marys to "Come Back" Wins.

The three-day trip which the Varsity basket-ball team took last week was the last one of the season and the game at Gettysburg Saturday afternoon brought to a close a schedule of which Bucknell has won but four games and has lost thirteen. The last twelve games played have resulted in victories for opponents. It is generally acknowledged that the Orange and Blue squad has been forced to labor under a severe handicap in regard to material and the loss of Captain Fisher. The record of defeats this past season makes a vivid contrast with the victorious season of last year.

The games played at Washington, D. C., with Georgetown, and at Emmittsburg, with Mt. St. Marys college, last week, were characterized by the usual amount of the usual type of hard luck, for in both contests the Orange and Blue was ahead of its opponents at the conclusion of the first half but was nosed out in the closing minutes of play and forced to accept the defeat.

At Gettysburg Saturday, Bucknell did not have a great chance to win as in the contests of the two days preceeding for the floor on which the battlefield collegians play the winter indoor sport is hardly large enough for a basket-ball game. The victory for the Gettysburg team no doubt gives them revenge for the decisive defeat administered to that organization in Tustin gymnasium early in the season.

The Georgetown Game.

Fetter started the scoring in the Georgetown game with a clever shot from the center of the floor. Fired with determination to break the losing streak, Bucknell's men played with every ounce of energy in them and when the first half closed were ahead by a score of 20 to 12. Four of the goals were tallied by Jordan, who shot several of them after receiving the ball on passes from Zehner, who ran down the entire length of the floor, evading and side-stepping all who sought to intercept him. The passing of the Orange and Blue quintet was almost perfect and was a revelation to the audience.

Neither side was able to score for almost five minutes after the second half had started, and even then Bucknell benefited by three successful foul goals that nearly equaled the total tallies made by Georgetown and which kept Bucknell in the lead. In the last two minutes of play, however, Georgetown made a spurt and through the improved shooting of Waldron gradually forged ahead and won out, 34 to 23.

Georgetown.		Bucknell.
Campbell	Forward	Fetter
Kelly	Forward	Preiskel
Waldron	Center	Jordan
Foley	Guard	Zehner
Wetzel	Guard	Schaffner

Substitutions—Gdaniec for Preiskel, Buffington for Zehner. Goals from floor—Campbell 4, Kelly, Waldron 6, Foley, Wetzel 2, Fetter 2, Preiskel, Jordan 4, Schaffner. Goals from foul—Campbell 2, Waldron 2, Zehner 6. Referee——Hughes. Time of halves—20 minutes.

The Mt. St. Marys Game.

Fast and accurate passing and exceptionally good playing by Schaffner and Gdaniec characterized the game with Mt. St. Marys college at Emmittsburg Friday afternoon. It was another of Bucknell's numerous hard luck battles in which the Varsity secured an advantage of score in the first period but failed to "come back" with sufficient aggressiveness in the latter half and thus permitted the home team to win.

DEFEAT MARKS END OF SEASON

Concluded from second page.

The Orange and Blue lead with a score of 7 to 6 at the end of the first half but in the next session could cage but one field goal and two fouls, while Mt. St. Marys negotiated four goals and one foul, giving them the game 15 to 11. Bucknell men missed a number of easy chances to score in this period.

Fetter and Jordan for Bucknell played well, the latter invariably having the jump on his opponent at center. Leary and Breslin were the stellar players for the home team.

The score and line-up:

Bucknell.		Mt. St. Marys.
Fetter	Forward	Costello
Preiskel	Forward	Phillips
Buffington.		Breslin.
Jordan	Center	May
Gdaniec	Guard	Malloy
Zehner.
Schaffner	Guard	Leary

Field goals—Fetter 2, Jordan 1, Gdaniec 1, Costello 2, Phillips 1, May 1, Malloy 1, Breslin 1. Foul goals—Fetter 2 out of 3, Buffington 1 out of 1, Leary 3 out of 8. Referee—Liddy.

The Gettysburg Game.

Fatigued after the two previous strenuous games and severely handicapped by the small floor at Gettysburg, the Bucknell five were not able to present their usual game with the college at that place Saturday afternoon. However the contest opened with much spirit and determination on the part of both teams so that the passing and playing was exceptionally fast. Gettysburg slowly secured a lead over the visitors and when the first half closed was ahead 13 to 8.

In the second period Bucknell scored one more field goal than did the Lutherans but the five goals from fouls that the latter tallied caused their lead to be increased three more points, making the final score 26 to 18 in favor of Gettysburg. In this game Bucknell lost many easy chances to score. Fetter and Preiskel played excellent games for the visitors. With the exception of the first two attempts at goal from foul, Mahaffie shot every one scored by Gettysburg.

The score:

BUCKNELL		GETTYSBURG
Fetter, Zehner	Forward	Mahaffie
Preiskel	Forward.....	Ikeler
Jordan	Center.....	Monks.
		Witherow
Gdaniec	Guard.....	Scheffer
Schaffner	Guard.....	Beegle

Field goals: Fetter 2, Preiskel 2, Gdaniec 2, Jordan 1, Mahaffie 3, Monks 4, Ikeler 1, Beegle. Foul goals: Fetter, 2 out of 5, Zehner 0 out of 1. Mahaffie 8 out of 10.

The University of Washington held an all-week pageant last week. The cadet regiment held a splendid ball in the gymnasium, at which a good many officers of the U. S. army and of the state were present. A wireless was erected in the Gym and the Governor transmitted the first message.

The mid-winter exams at Harvard proved the Waterloo of thirty-one students this year. About half of these were already on scholarship probation, and the rest are requested to discontinue their studies for a number of different reasons pertaining to class standing. Ninety other students were placed on probation for the first time.

The Honor system is in force at [illegible]arton School of the University of Pennsylvania. Referring to a recent case brought before the committee, Brenton Wallace, chairman ofthe committee said: "The trial before the Honor Committee will determine whether five freshmen are to stay in college. Three of them are accused of cheating in examinations and two of copying reports. Trials of this nature are very rare in the Wharton School and seldom occur more than once a year."

FIRST BASEBALL GAME A VICTORY

BLOOMSBURG NORMAL DEFEATED WITH EASE.

PITCHER HAGAN KEPT OPPONENTS AT HIS MERCY

Veteran Twirler Showed Mid-Season Form and Struck Out Ten.—Good Support Given by Orange and Blue Team.

A decisive victory over Bloomsburg State Normal school marked the opening of the Bucknell baseball season Saturday. A large crowd of students and townspeople witnessed the contest which was brought to a close early in the seventh inning in order to permit the visitors to take the afternoon train for Bloomsburg. The final score was 14 to 2.

Viewing the facts that this was the first game of the season for both teams and that the 'varsity had been practicing for only a little over a week, the game was exceptionally well played and augers well for a successful season. The contest furnished an opportunity for Coach Dickson to try-out several of the new men who are candidates for positions on the team, and he is well pleased with the showing that they made.

The majority of the work for Bucknell was done by Bob Hagan, the veteran pitcher of the 'varsity, who struck out ten men and permitted the visitors to touch him up for but four safe hits in the closing innings of the game. With the exception of a few cases of bad throwing, which will be eliminated by practice, the support given by the Bucknell team was almost without a flaw. The Bloomsburg nine played a very creditable game but were unable to cope with Hagan's pitching.

Through two errors one of the visitors got on base in the first inning after Davis, the first man up, had been thrown out at first base by Coughanour, but Hagan retired the side by fanning the next two men that faced him. With Bucknell at bat, two bases on balls and sacrifice by Sturgis brought Topham across the home plate with the first score of the season for the Orange and Blue.

But three men went to bat for the visitors in the second period, after which singles by Gdaniec and Campbell and two base drives by Hagan and Worrilow permitted four Bucknell men to tally.

Only three Bloomsburg men stepped to the plate in each of the next three innings, all three being struck out in the fifth. With one man out in the third Fisher knocked the ball into right field for two bases and proceeded to the third station on a wild pitch but was unable to reach home as the next two players were out on infield flies.

Bucknell enjoyed a swat fest in the fourth in which three hits, two errors and a base on balls allowed five men to circle the stations. Sturgis, Coughanour and Gdaniec were those who made the bingles.

In the latter portion of the fifth Topham and Worrilow raced across the plate after being passed to first. "Tip" stole two bases in his circuit of the infield. Sturgis got to first on an error and reached third with safety but was caught at the plate while trying to score.

The visitors made their first hit off Hagan in the sixth, Gordon doing the trick for two sacks, and scoring on a subsequent two base drive by Davis. The latter died on second when Clemens and Brown flied out to Gilpin. In the latter half of the inning Baer singled, Gilpin was hit, and Hagan clouted the ball far into right field for two bases that brought the two other players home. Two strike-outs closed the inning.

Two singles, a stolen base and an error permitted Bloomsburg to score another run in the seventh. But two men were out when the game was called.

Five substitutions were made in the Bucknell line-up, Baer going in for Fisher in the fifth, Miller for Gdaniec in the fifth, Gilpin for Campbell in the fifth, Armstrong for Coughanour in the sixth, and Angstadt for Topham in the seventh.

AGGIES TO JOIN GRANGE.

The third meeting of the recently organized Agricultural and Sylvicultural society was held the day following the reopening of school when an interesting talk was given by John H. Wingert, '72, on the aims and advantages of the State Grange. Following the meeting half of the members of the society made application for membership in the Grange. Several of the college men were already members of that organization. The next meeting of the Society will be held in the Chemical building Thursday afternoon at 4:15 o'clock when Prof. Owens will speak on "Ways and Means." All persons interested are invited to attend.

NEW EDITOR FOR ORANGE AND BLUE ANNOUNCED

EDITORIAL STAFF TO BE SELECTED AND ANNOUNCED NEXT WEEK.

According to the faculty advisors of the Orange and Blue in their decision made the last of the past term, William Dean Reading, of Franklin, is to serve as the next editor of the Orange and Blue. Mr. Reading assumes charge with this issue.

WILLIAM D. READING, '14.
The New Editor.

The new staff will be selected by means of a competition similar to that conducted last year. Names of competitors must be handed to the new editor at once and following the competition the selection of a staff will be made on a basis of merit by the faculty advisors in conjunction with the editor.

B. U. PITCHERS MAKING GOOD.

"Jake" Northrup and Wyckoff, former Bucknell pitchers, were pitted against each other in a game at Louisville, Kentucky, recently. Northrup twirled for Louisville, and Wyckoff for the Philadelphia Athletics and both pitchers are making good in the faster set. Neither team was able to score on the former Bucknell men. Wyckoff recently won for his team the first game in the pre-season series between the Athletics and the Phillies.

COLLEGE MEN TO HELP GIVE 'SYLVIA'

ATHLETIC ASSO. TO SHARE IN PROFITS OF OPERETTA.

CATCHY MUSIC AND AMUSING PLOT COMPOSE THE PLAY

Scene is Laid in a Rustic District of England and Parts of Operetta Will Be Sung by Local Talent.—Will Play Two Nights

For the benefit of the Bucknell Athletic Association and the Lewisburg Choral Society the operetta "Sylvia" will be produced on next Thursday and Saturday evenings in the Lewisburg high school building. The character, will be portrayed by a number of musically talented students and members of the choral society.

"Sylvia" is a musical comedy of the highest order, the score being by Rhys-Herbert and the words by Miss Elizabeth Inch, and will be presented by special permission of the authors and publishers. All who have heard the music for the production acclaim it to be exceedingly attractive and pretty, and the plot of the operetta is said to be very amusing. The chorus consists of thirty voices, among them being those of the best vocalists on the Hill. Coughanour, '15, and Irland, '15, are among those taking the principal parts.

The scene is laid in a rustic district of 18th century England. Sylvia, a court lady, and Betty, a farmer's daughter, grow tired of their lovers, and contrive, by the magic influence of a rare flowers said by an exchange of costumes, to exchange lovers. The humorous situations arising from such procedures are presented in bright dialogues, solos, duets, trios, and choruses.

It is hoped by those who are in charge of the production that the students by attending will give the Athletic association their full support.

The operetta has been in preparation since mid-winter so a finished production is assured. Don't miss it. The admission is 25 cents.

The cast of characters:

"Sir Bertram de Lacey," the court poet—H. M. Wiest.

"Prince Tobbytum," a man of consequence—A. B. Coughanour.

"William," an honest farmer—Chas. Reagan.

"Robin," a country lad—George Irland.

"Sylvia," betrothed to De Lacey—Miss Hannah Bubb.

"Betty," betrothed to William—Mrs. B. W. Griffith.

"Arabella," court lady—Miss Margaret Stoughton.

"Araminta," her sistes—Miss Katherine Hopper.

"Polly," farmer's daughter—Miss Lousie Lawshe.

"Dolly," farmer's daughter—Miss Anne Dreisbach.

"Molly," farmer's daughter—Miss Carolyn Hopper.

Musical director—H. M. Wiest.

DR. RIEMER GAVE LECTURES

AT ALTOONA AND FRANKLIN ON "HOME OF GERMAN KINGS."

Dr. G. C. L. Riemer, of the college faculty, delivered his illustrated lecture on "Germany, the Home of German Kings" at Altoona last Thursday evening and at Franklin on the following evening. The lectures were accompanied by the showing of ninety stereoptican views. At both places Prof. Riemer was engaged to speak by the modern language departments of the high schools. A feature of the entertainment at Franklin was a piano solo by Oscar Wolf, '12, who is employed in the engineering department of the National Transit Company at Oil City.

MRS. SCOTT UNABLE TO COME.

A communication from Mrs. Anna B. Scott, the famous food expert of Philadelphia, who was scheduled for lectures before the department of Domestic Science in the Woman's College last term, announces that continued ill health prevents her meeting any public engagements this spring term. However, Mrs. Scott promises some dates for next year.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

At a spring flower party held at their home, Brooklawn, on University avenue, Friday evening, Rev. and Mrs. Calvin A. Hare announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Helen Hare, to Mr. J. G. Sholl, Jr., of Pitman, N. J. Miss Hare and Mr. Sholl were both members of the class of 1910.

WILL WED APRIL 12.

Invitations are out for the weddlng of Miss Dorothy Wolfe, Institute, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Wolfe, to Mr. Stephen Wells, ex-'14, of Bloomsburg. The ceremony is to take place on Saturday, April 12th, at the home of the bride-elect's parents on St. George street.

FINAL TRY-OUT FOR PENN RELAY TEAM NEXT TUESDAY

FIVE TRACK MEN TO RACE AT PHILADELPHIA TO BE SELECTED.

The date of the final try-out for candidates for positions on the relay team which will be sent to Philadelphia April 26th to represent Bucknell in the Penn relay races has been announced as Tuesday, April 15th. Five men will be chosen to compose the team and it is expected from the ability of the men who are competing for the position that a good showing will be made by the Orange and Blue delegation in the meet.

The Bucknell contingent will compete with the following teams according to the schedule of events: W. & J., Lehigh, University of North Carolina, Massachusetts Agricultural College, Catholic University and the New York School of Law.

The first of the annual tri-angular meets between the track teams of Dickinson, Franklin and Marshall, and Bucknell is scheduled to be held in Lancaster May 24, and at least ten men will be sent from here to represent the Orange and Blue.

NOTED EXPERT TO TALK ON PEACE TOMORROW NIGHT

EDITOR OF INDEPENDENT TO ADDRESS STUDENTS IN BUCKNELL HALL.

A large audience should greet Hamilton Holt, LL. D., editor of the Independent, and one of America's foremost workers for Universal peace, when he speaks in Bucknell Hall on Tuesday (to-morrow) evening on "The Federation of the World." This is said to be Mr. Holt's most forceful lecture.

Mr. Holt has been closely connected with the growth of the peace movement and is admirable fitted to lecture on that subject. He has been especially instrumental in bringing about peace and friendship between the United States and Mexico and Japan. Mr. Holt has been honored many times in this and other counties with important positions on Universal Peace Committees and Conferences and he is recognized throughout the nation as one of the greatest living authorities on the subject.

The arrangements for Mr. Holt's address are in the hands of a Senior committee and owing to the limited seating capacity of Bucknell Hall admission will be by tickets. Students can secure tickets from the committee which consists of Stout, Talbot, and Steele, of the Senior class.

BIG SQUAD OUT FOR BALL TEAM

COACH "BY" DICKSON IN CHARGE OF CANDIDATES.

PROSPECTS FOR A WINNING TEAM ARE VERY BRIGHT

Eight of Last Year's Team Remain in School and are Out for Berths. New Men Show More Than Average Ability.

That Bucknell will be represented this year by another record-breaking baseball team is evident to those who witnessed the contest with Bloomsburg Normal on the campus Saturday and who have seen the Orange and Blue squad work out in the practice games that have been played between the "regulars" and the "yanigans" every day since college reopened.

A circumstance which is most encouraging to the coaches is the fact that the number of candidates that are out for the various positions on the nine is the largest in the history of local athletics. The playing ability of the 'varsity aspirants is of a high order and in the opinion of several who have followed the game at Bucknell for years past, the prospects for a season of victories was never brighter.

A number of the younger players who have been signed-up by George Cockill, '05, manager of the Harrisburg Tri-State team, have been ordered to report to Mr. Cockill to-morrow here at Lewisburg, where they will be given a week's practice with the Bucknell squad before the Harrisburg team starts its regular spring training.

Coach "By" Dickson arrived in town early last week and immediately took charge of the team and its destinies. "By" has turned out winning football and baseball teams for Bucknell for the three past years and every indication points toward another victorious nine this season.

On account of the excellent form that the new candidates for the team have displayed in the practices already held and in the game with Bloomsburg Saturday keen competition is expected for the berths on the 'varsity and considerable shifting and trying-out will doubtless be done before a regular line-up can be arranged. All but three of last season's team are in college this year and candidates for their former positions.

Besides Hagan and Talbot, of last year's pitching staff, the following men are making strong bids for the mound positions: Leibensberger, '16, who made a remarkable record last year at Williamsport; Cochrane, '15, Alter, '16, and Middaugh, '16.

Those who are trying out for the position of catcher are: Sturgis, '15, and Zehner, '13, and Buffington, '15, of last year's squad.

Cruikshank, '15, who held down the initial sack last season, and Fisher, '12, and Jordan, '13, are candidates for the station at first base.

Baer, '16, is the only competitor of Captain Worrilow, '14, for the second base job while the third base position is the goal of the competition between Coughanour, '15, of last season's 'varsity, and Snyder, '16, and Campbell, '16.

During the practice last week Murray, '13, sustained a broken hand while trying out for short stop. The injury will probably keep him out of the game for the rest of the season. Armstrong, '14; Angstadt, '14; Sellers, '15, and Speer, '15, are the other candidates for the position.

Among the candidates for the outfield positions are: Topham, '15, Campbell, '14, and Gdaniec, '15, of last year's team, and Gilpin, '16; Miller, '16; Devaven, '16; Hulley, '13; Urbanowitz, '16; T. E. Moore, '14; Rooke, '15; Fulton, '16, and Bliss, '15.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT.

The system of student government which was adopted by the members of the Women's college last term and which went into effect last Monday appears to be even a greater success than was expected by the most optimistic. Girls and teachers alike seem to be well pleased by the manner in which the girls administer the laws unto themselves and on every hand is heard the expression of regret that the system of self government was not attempted years ago.

GIVE THE PLAY YOUR SUPPORT.

The production of the operetta "Sylvia" this week by a cast including many students deserves the support of every man in college. The Bucknell Athletic Association, which is to share in the profits made, is in a position where financial support is sorely needed and every student should co-operate in the project by attending the play on one of the two evenings.

CONCERNING THE NEW STAFF.

The last day upon which students who desire to enter the competition for positions on the staff of the Orange and Blue may do so is set as next Thursday, the 10th. Contestant will please hand or send their names to William D. Reading who will make assignments for stories for the next issue of this paper. As has been the custom the faculty advisors of the college paper, in conjunction with the new editor, will make the appointments to the staff, which will be announced in the issue of next Monday.

LECTURE ON SEX HYGIENE

PROF. SHANNON GAVE FIVE TALKS TO STUDENTS.

Prof. T. W. Shannon, a member of the Advisory Board of the World's Federation of Purity, spent Thursday and Friday at Bucknell. Mr. Shannon spoke at the regular meeting of the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening using as his subject, "Sex Hygiene." On Friday afternoon he gave a second address before the Medical Association on "The Making of a Man." "The Problems of Young Manhood" was the subject of a third lecture given in the Chapel on Friday evening. All three of these lectures were largely attended. Prof. Shannon's treatment of his subjects was scientific, sane, and practical. He viewed the problem from a normal rather than from a pathological aspect. Prof. Shannon has a good message and it is certain that every one who heard him enjoyed and profitted by his lectures.

Y. M. C. A. ELECTS NEW OFFICERS

CHAIRMEN OF COMMITTEES ARE APPOINTED.

YEAR JUST CLOSED THE BEST IN ITS HISTORY

Reports of Committees Show Great Accomplishments.—Ninety-one per Cent. of the Men on Hill Belong to the Organization.

On the last Thursday evening of the winter term the Young Men's Christian Association held its annual business session for the election of officers and for the reports of committees. In the absence of President Fetter, vice-president Teamer took charge of the meeting. The committee on nominations recommended as officers for the ensuing year: Zinn, '14, for president; Rice, '14, for vice-president; Parmenter, '14, for secretary and Schnure, '14, for treasurer. Since no other nominations were made, the secretary was empowered to cast the ballot for the above mentioned officers.

Reports of the various standing committees were made. These reports show that the Association has enjoyed a very successful year. The Association has attempted and accomplished more during the past year than ever before in its history. Much credit for the work done is due to President Fetter and to Secretary Goehring. Through their efforts the Association has come to be the biggest and most influential student organization in Bucknell. Ninty-one per cent. of the men on the campus have been enrolled as members and more than half of the men of the institution have taken active part in some phase of the Association work.

Since the opening of the term, the President-elect has perfected his organization through the selection of chairmen for the various standing committees. The men selected for these positions are: Bible Study—Lotte, '14; Mission Study—Coulter, '14; Finance—Schnure, '14; Hand Book—Rischel, '15; Lyceum—Shattuck, '14; Religious Meetings—Ward, '15; Harvey Fund—Grove, '14; Music—Swenson, '14; Social Service—Boyer, '14; Membership—Riley, '14; Conference—Rice, '14; Social—Parmenter, '14. These men will also constitute the Student Cabinet. The chairmen for the Advertising committee and for the Employment Bureau which is a new department, are yet to be chosen. The Chairmen of the various committees in consultation with the General Secretary and President will choose the men to assist them in their committees and these will be announced later.

CHEMICAL SOCIETY MEETS.

The Chemical Society held an interesting meeting in the Laboratory auditorium Thursday afternoon at which C. M. Van Gundy, '98, gave the members of the organization an interesting talk on the manufacture of oil from petroleum. Mr. Van Gundy is chief chemist with the Texas Oil Company, of Port Arthur, Tex., and he described and explained in a capable manner the processes involved in the production of kerosine, benzine and lubricating oils and the methods of testing, distilling and determining the flash points.

NOTED ALUMNUS TO WED.

The engagement of Miss Marguerite N. Gay, of Salem, N. J., to Senator I. Warren Davis, '96, of New Jersey, was announced Saturday. Mr. Davis has offices in Salem and Camden and is a member of the New Jersey bar. He was elected to the Senate in 1911, and at the session just closed was majority leader. No date has been announced for the wedding.

THE COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

The lectures to the College Bible Class which meets Sundays at 9.30 in the Baptist church will be given this spring by President Harris, of Bucknell University. The general subject will be—"Present Day Problems". While the lectures are especially for college students all persons are welcome.

MEDICS HEAR PROF. SHANNON.

At an open meeting of the Medical Society Friday afternoon Prof. T. W. Shannon, member of the Advisory Board of the World's Federation of Purity, addressed the many students present, giving the second lecture of his series of talks on Sex Hygiene. The lecture was exceedingly interesting and the speaker presented many phases of the problem in a new light to many of his hearers. The meeting of the Medical society will be continued throughout the Spring term every Frday afternoon. The speaker this week will be Reiter, '12, and the subject to be discussed will be of interest to every student of Medecine.

Parke, '12, and Musser, '12, now located in Altoona, spent Sunday in town.

Lotte, '14, who has been detained at his home by business, has returned to school.

"Joe" Logan, ex-'14, was down from Milton Saturday to see the game with Bloomsburg.

Neff, ex-'14, who is a student at Michigan, is spending a few days with his Phi Gamma Delta brothers.

The next game for the 'varsity baseball team will be with Albright on Bucknell campus next Saturday.

Delta Delta Delta sorority was entertained at progressive 500 by Sigma Alpha Epsilon Friday evening.

A tie clasp has been found by Grove which the owner may secure by identifying at the former's room, 78 East College.

Florin, '09, who is now traveling for the Spirella Company, of Meadville, spent Sunday with his S. A. E. brothers.

The recently adopted form of student government went into effect at the Woman's College last Monday morning.

During the Easter vacation dances were given in the Lewisburg armory by Kappa Sigma, Pi Beta Phi, and Delta Delta Delta fraternities.

Help the Athletic Association by attending the production of "Sylvia" in the high school building next Thursday evening. Admission 25c.

Riley, '14, has left school for this term to accept a position at his home, Bridgeport, W. Va. Richardson, '16, has also dropped from college for this term.

James McClure, ex-'13, who is now a student at Amherst, spent the Easter vacation at his home in Lewisburg. "Jim" is captain of the Amherst chess team and will play against the team representing Yale this week.

Announcement has been made of the wedding at New Bloomfield, Pa., March 23rd, of Mary Myrtle Shull, Wellesley, '07, to Charles Osner Long, Bucknell, '09. Mr. and Mrs. Long will be at home after April 15th at Belwood, Pa.

Word has been received from Freeman G. Teed, '73, of Los Angeles, Cal., that he expects to return to Bucknell Commencement time to attend the fortieth anniversary celebration of his class which will be held at that time.

Manager Edwards, of the 'varsity baseball team, has arranged for two games which do not appear on the schedule as previously published. They are with the Milton team, captained by "Joe" Logan, ex-'14, and will be played at Lewisburg, Wednesday, April 12, and at Milton, Wednesday April 19.

Phi Kappa Psi has moved into its recently acquired house on Third St.; Demosthenean and the University Club have moved into the rooms on Market street vacated by Phi Kappa Psi; Alpha Sigma has moved into the halls formerly occupied by the Demosthenean on Market street, and Sigma Alpha Epsilon has completed a series of improvements in their house on St. George Street.

SRPING PRACTICE FOR FOOTBALL CANDIDATES

LARGE SQUAD TO LEARN NOW THE THEORY OF GAME AND SIGNALS.

For the first time in the history of Bucknell the candidates for the football team will be given spring practice this year. Coach Dickson and Captain Keiser issued a call for men Saturday morning and about twenty men answered the summons. The gridiron men were given several footballs and spent the morning kicking them about the field and in running.

Practice will be held every afternoon from now on until the weather becomes too hot and the men will be given work to do to keep in shape and they will be taught the theory and science of the game by Captain Keiser and ex-captain Jordan. Coach Dickson will supervise the work and will give the men frequent lectures and signal drills.

A LESSON
In GEOGRAPHY
Teacher—"Where is Cork?"

That little piece of cork has revolutionized the game. Batters in the big leagues who couldn't come within 10 points of the magic "300" are attaining that distinction, while the weaker ones are progressing proportionately. The Cork Center has solved the effort to get more batting without making a farce of the game. The fact that the big leagues use the Cork Center ball exclusivley proves that it is the long sought for balance between pitching and batting.

WOMEN'S COLLEGE

Helen Hare, '09, and Miss Martin, '00, were dinner guests at the Seminary on Friday evening.

Helen Davis, '13, of Shiloh, N. J., has resumed her studies after having been absent during the winter term.

Bertha McCauley, of Brockwayville, is the only new student at the Seminary this term. She is specializing in elocution.

Kathryn Wilmer, of Sunbury, and Grace Savage, of Uwchland, Del., have not resumed their studies at the Seminary this term.

Student government is now an established fact. The new system went into effect last Monday and is proving both successful and popular.

Friday evening a number of town and college friends of Helen Hare, '09, whose engagement was recently announced, surprised her at her home on University Avenue with an aluminum shower.

The Y. W. C. A. meeting Tuesday evening will be led by Edna Whittam, '14. The officers for the coming year, who were elected at the close of last term, have taken up their work and the committees have been appointed. The past year has proved to be one of the most successful in the history of the organization.

MINSTRELS WILL GIVE SHOW SOON

EXCELLENT TALENT AT WORK ON SONGS AND JOKES.

BURNT CORK PRODUCTION WILL BE UP TO STANDARD

Date of Annual Show to be Thursday, April 24, in Commencement Hall.—Many Funny Features Are on the Program.

The date of this year's production of the College Minstrels, which promises to even surpass the successful show given last spring, is announced as Thursday evening, April 24, in Commencement Hall. At present all the men connected with the affair are working their very hardest to give the students a performance well worth attending and judging from the rehearsals held thus far an evening of continuous fun and laughter is in store for every one who attends the show, hypochondriacs and the lugubrious not excepted.

The performance is in charge of Prof. Stolz, who successfully coached last year's production, and he is assisted by Lowter, '14, manager; Gehman, '14, assistant manager; E. Clark, '15, treasurer; Tripician, '16, property man, W. Edwards, '13, as interlocutor; Tripician, Coughanour, '15, Cruikshank, '15, and Frye, '15, as end men; and an excellent chorus make up the cast.

The production will not be lacking in clever and unique features, among which will be a full orchestra, a monologue, "Ten Minutes of Nonsense" by Coughanour; an act, "The Three Nutcrackers," by Tripician, Cruikshank and Glover, '13; and a refined olio by seven of the troupe. In addition there will be solos by each of the end men and several other special attractions that are sure to please.

In musical numbers which will be sung by the burnt cork artists are expected to make a decided hit for they have been selected from the latest popular songs and are being prepared under the guidance of Prof. Stolz. Interlocutor Edwards is in charge of the joke factory and he promises that there will be plenty of good ones sprung during the evening.

The price of admission will be twenty-five and thirty-five cents. Three-fourths of the proceeds from the Minstrels is to be given to the Athletic Association, and the other quarter will be devoted to the publication of Bucknell song books containing our college songs.

Owing to the short time remaining until the date of the performance it is urged that all the men connected with the Minstrels come out regularly for rehearsals, which will be as follows for this week: Monday, 6.30; Tuesday, 9.00; Wednesday, 6.30; Thursday, 8.00, and Friday, 6.30, in the evenings. Rehearsal will be held Saturday at 9.15 in the morning.

ASSOCIATION NOTES

Next Thursday evening John Fetter, '13, will address the meeting. Fetter always has something good and the fellows are promised a rare treat.

The music committee has a surprise in store for the fellows Thursday evening. Come out and see what's doing.

President Zinn announces that the Y. M. C. A. committees will be published in the near future. Several are already hard at work.

On to Eaglesmere is now the slogan of the Association. Start at once to plan to attend the great student conference in June. May Bucknell be well represented.

REITER, '12, ADDRESSED MEDICS.

At the regular meeting of the Medical society held in the Chemical laboratory building Friday afternoon Reiter, '12, gave the society an interesting and instructive address on Venereal diseases. This society is doubtless the most thriving in the institution and is enjoying the best year in its history, more meetings having already been held this year than in any two years preceeding. At the regular meeting next Friday the subject for discussion will be "Smallpox."

WESTERN ALUMNI MEET.

A number of Bucknell University alumni met recently at a luncheon at the Jonathan Club, Los Angeles, California, and afterward at the annual meeting of the association of Bucknellians from throughout Southern California, Freeman G. Teed, '73, was elected president, and Allen G. Ritter, '09, Room 707 Equitable Building, secretary.

FINAL TRY-OUT FOR PENN RELAY TEAM TO-MORROW

MANAGERS MUST HAND IN NAMES FOR INTER-CLASS MEET NEXT FRIDAY.

Bucknell's prospects for sending a top-notch relay team to the University of Pennsylvania track races on the 26th, were given a severe setback last week when Jordan, '13, was forced to withdraw as a candidate for the team on account of having developed a "charley horse."

The try-out for positions on the team that will represent the Orange and Blue at the Quaker City will be held Tuesday afternoon and with such men as Glover, '14, Lowther, '14, Fitzgerald, '15, Topham, '15, Bott, '15, Whittam, '15, Mellander, '16, Tripician, '16, Becker, '16, Gilpen, '16, and Urbanowitz, '16, trying out, a fast team is assured.

The inter-class meet, and the Lehigh meet, are bringing many men out for other positions on the track team. Bucknell has not met Lehigh in track in many years and May 7 undoubtedly will be a gala day in local track circles. Since it is the only large meet here this year it should draw a large crowd.

The Orange and Blue track men also have their eyes on the meet at Lancaster on May 24 when F. & M., Dickinson and Bucknell compete in the first of a series of annual triangular meets.

Manager McKeague desires all managers of class teams to hand in by Wednesday evening of this week the entries for the inter-class meet which comes off next Friday. Class managers will please get their lists in on time.

STAG DANCE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

IN TUSTIN GYMNASIUM FOR THE BENEFIT OF BAND.

A stag dance will be given in Tustin gymnasium Wednesday night next by the Bucknell band in order to secure money with which to purchase a quantity of new music and summer uniforms, consisting of white trousers and white hats, for the members. The dance will begin at 9 o'clock and an admission of fifteen cents will be charged. A long program of up-to-date music has been arranged by the band and the fellows attending are sure of having a good time. If the similar functions that have been held in the past can be taken as a criterion. Let every man on the Hill, whether you dance or not, turn out Wednesday night and give the band your support.

Nebraska University has taken a very decided stand against the song, "Hall, hall, the gang's all here," and any student, who sings it hereafter will be expelled.

1914 L'AGENDA TO APPEAR SOON

YEAR BOOK TO BE ON SALE NEXT SATURDAY.

JUNIOR PUBLICATION DEDICATED TO DR. PHILLIPS

Many Novel Features Incorporated In Book by Editor Lotte and staff.—Many Say it Surpasses "Awful Number" of Life.

The 1914 L'Agenda, which has been dedicated to Dr. Phillips of the College faculty, is about ready to be presented to the student body and the friends of the University. We believe, after a careful examination of the book, that it is equal, is not superior, to any previous publication of its kind. It does not aim, however, at the spectacular entirely, but tries in a clear and simple manner to set forth the student life at Bucknell as it really exists.

That the class of 1914, however, contains some original thinkers, is well shown by this "Year Book," every page of which reveals unsurpassed wit and pathos. The L'Agenda artist, "Don" Sprout, needs no introduction to Bucknell students for he has already proven that he is a master of "no mean ability." But, listen! he has a surprise for you in the "College Calendar."

It is very difficult to say just what is the one feature of this L'Agenda. The word "awful" is entirely too mild a term to express its character. Editor Lotte has performed the functions of his office to perfection and has made this issue a peer of its kind by incorporating in it such features as the poem, "Willie, Willie, Willie;" a "Fusser's Page" that is unique and startling in its exposures, and an intensely interesting "Economics Game" which ends 7 to 7 in favor of "Eph." An entire innovation is the addition of several colored plates. These together with an itemized account of the L'Agenda constitute its features.

We all know with what unerring exactness the "Woodpecker" staff portrays the faults of the student body, yet we feel safe in stating that the "College Calendar" found in this issue contains, it is said, more of these eccentricities than any six editions of the "famous bird," the famous 1911 edition included.

We might say, however, by way of conclusion, that unless one has taken an extended course in oratory, unless one has a thorough knowledge of biology and the chemical elements, and unless one has drunk deeply at the fountain of "Sweetness and Light," he may not be able to appreciate everything contained in this edition of the 1914 L'Agenda.

Manager Weaver has announced that the L'Agenda will be placed on sale next Saturday morning in Main Hall where all who subscribed for copies last term may procure them.

STAFF APPOINTMENTS

NAMES OF STUDENTS TO WRITE FOR "ORANGE AND BLUE."

The students who have been selected by means of the competitive system inaugurated last year, for positions on the editorial staff of the Orange and Blue are announced as follows: Associate Editor, C. Walter Lotte; Department Editors, Levi H. Shattuck, '14, Wallace C. Lowther, '14; Perry Carls, '14; Carl E. Geiger, '15; John W. Hedge, '15; Miss Edna Whittam, '14; Miss Helen Eede, '14; John B. Rishel, '15, and John A. Heberling, Academy.

Kansas University cleared $8000 on last year's football season.

FORMER STUDENTS WEDDED.

A very pretty home wedding took place at high noon Saturday when Stephen (Teeny) K. Wells, ex-'14, of Bloomsburg, and Miss Dorothy Wolfe, Institute '10, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Wolfe, on St. George street, by Rev. Dr. John T. Judd, pastor of the Lewisburg Baptist church. After a wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Wells will reside at Bloomsburg.

FRESHMEN DECLAMATION.

The annual contest in Declamation by students of the Freshmen class will be held next Friday evening. Assistance in rendering a varied program will be given by pupils of the musical department.

SENIOR CLASS MEETING.

An important meeting of the Senior class will be held in Bucknell Hall Friday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock. All members of the class are urged to attend.

NOTED JOURNALIST GAVE TALK ON UNIVERSAL PEACE

EDITOR OF INDEPENDENT ADDRESSED STUDENTS IN BUCKNELL HALL.

The students of the University and the citizens of Lewisburg were given a rare treat last Friday evening when they were permitted to hear Dr. Hamilton Holt of the New York Independent on the "Federation of the World." Dr. Holt was sent here under the auspices of the International Peace Society.

Dr. Holt spoke of the wonderful progress the nations of the world were making along the lines of universal peace. He showed that in the near future international disputes would be decided not by the force of arms but by the commands and decisions of an international judiciary. He discussed the formation of the Hague Court and enumerated the many cases which had been presented before it, telling how they had been amicably settled without resort to arms. By means of this Hague Court Mr. Holt said that ex-President Roosevelt was able to offer friendly aid to Japan and Russia during the late war and eventually bring about peace between them without offense to either party. He drew a comparison between the foundation of the federation of the forty-six nations of the world today and the formation of the United States out of the thirteen separate colonies in the days of Washington.

Mr. Holt is an exceptionally interesting and entertaining speaker and held the attention of his audience throughout the entire address. He is very optimistic that the day is not far distant when we shall have "The Parliament of Man and the Federation of the World."

DR. PERRINE ADDRESSED Y. M. C. A. ON LIFE OF LOT

MANY PRINCIPLES DRAWN FROM THE LIFE OF AFFLICTED PROPHET.

Last Thursday evening the Y. M. C. A. was given an interesting talk by Dr. Enoch Perrine, who took for his subject "The Life of Lot." The speaker showed how thinking, imagining, delight, and agreement enter into every man's life. This being so it is up to us as men to see that we only think of those things which are noble and right in the sight of God. If we do this our imagining will be along the same line and delight and agreement will result. In closing Dr. Perrine quoted:

"Sow a deed and you reap a habit,
Sow a habit and you reap a character,
Sow a character and you reap a destiny."

STUDENTS TOOK PART IN 'SYLVIA'

ATHLETIC ASSO. SHARED IN THE PROFITS OF OPERETTA.

TWO VERY SUCCESSFUL PERFORMANCES GIVEN

Several College Men Scored Decided Hits in Principal Roles of Play, While Many Students Appeared in the Excellent Chorus.

A number of Bucknell men and members of the Lewisburg Chora Society, as the cast of the operetta "Sylvia," made an excellent showing before a good sized audience in the Lewisburg High School building last Thursday and Saturday evenings.

The operetta, which was for the benefit of the Bucknell Athletic Association and the Choral Society, was a musical comedy of the highest order and was pronounced a decided success by all who attended. The play had an interesting and amusing plot and many laughable situations were well brought out by the cast in bright dialogues, solos, duets, trios, and choruses.

Coughanour, '15, acting as Prince Tobbytum, was one of the features in his portrayal of a man of consequence, and scored frequent laughter and applause from his audience. Ireland, '15, played the part of a country lad in an excellent manner.

Too much praise cannot be given to Miss Hannah Bubb and Mrs. B. W. Griffith for their portrayal of the characters of "Sylvia" and "Betty". Their sweet voices were well suited for the difficult solos assigned them. The chorus was composed of thirty voices and its rendition of the score was of the highest quality. Bartlett, '15, Clark, '15, Evanson, '15, Pangburn, '10, Beck, '13, and Zellers, '15, were in the chorus.

During a short period Thursday evening when trouble was experienced with the lights, Mrs. Griffith entertained the audience with selections on the piano of popular music.

WALTER H. EDWARDS, '13 MANAGER OF BASEBALL

Manager Edwards has arranged an excellent schedule for the Varsity baseball team on which appear some of the strongest nines among the Eastern colleges.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURES.

Dean Sarah C. Lovejoy, of State College, will give two lectures on Domestic Science before the young ladies of the domestic science department of Bucknell on April 28th. Dean Lovejoy is head of the department for women at State College and is the director of the school of domestic science. Admission will be by ticket.

At Bates College, a college choir is being organized to sing at chapel service.

BY WAY OF GREETING.

With the current issue of the "Orange and Blue" the new editorial board assumes control of the paper. We have taken up our new duties with not only the feeling of pleasure but also of diffidence; glad that we can apply our services to the good of Old Bucknell but timid lest we fail to uphold the high standards that have ben set by those who have preceeded us.

The aim of our administration shall always be "To maintain absolute fairness and to make the Orange and Blue the true reflection of our student life." To do this not only requires the unmitigated efforts of the entire staff but the co-operation and assistance of every student.

The Orange and Blue is after all only the mouth-piece of the student body and its columns are always open to communications. It is our hope that the alumni also will take an even increased interest in the paper and truly make it a connecting link between the undergraduates and the outside world.

Finally, we invite criticism. The paper is yours and if you see any way in which it can be improved, give us your ideas. Let us work in complete co-operation for it is only in that way that we can make the Orange and Blue truly representative of Greater Bucknell.

TWO NOTED LECTURERS.

Bucknell students have been exceedingly fortunate recently in having opportunities to hear lectures by such noted men as Captain Richard Hobson and Dr. Hamilton Holt. These two men, who so radically oppose each other in their beliefs as to what to prepare for in times of peace, have placed before those who were so fortunate as to hear them a store of material to think over and have given us a clearer understanding of the principles which they so strongly champion. That the men on the Hill appreciate the opportunity to listen to such men of state and national repute is attested by the large attendance at the lecture by Dr. Holt on Friday evening.

APPOINTMENTS TO STAFF.

The task of selecting a competent staff of assistants for the Orange and Blue is necessarily a slow one for merit alone decides one's capability to serve and it frequently happens that several assignments are written by an applicant before his real fitness for the position on the staff can be determined. The present staff, as announced elsewhere in this issue is somewhat tentative, and several other names will doubtless be added to it within a few weeks.

CORRESPONDENCE

(The Editors of the Orange and Blue are glad to print communications from any member of the student body or faculty upon subjects of timely interest. As a guarantee of good faith all articles must bear the signature of the writer, but the name, however, will not be published or divulged in any way unless the communicator so desires.)

HOW TO STOP CONGESTION.

Editor Orange and Blue:

Kindly let me suggest a method of alleviating the congestion which daily occurs near the entrance to Main College opposite the Library when two 9.15 classes are compelled to force their way from the recitation rooms in which they have been through a surging mass of underclassmen, who stand herded together in the narrow hallway like sheep in a box car. If those students who are waiting to enter the classrooms would tarry in the main hall or outside of the building until the 9.15 classes have been dismissed it would make the exit from the classrooms considerably easier for those who desire to get out of them and would facilitate the entrance to the rooms for those in waiting. And the young lady students would appreciate the change I am sure. Junior.

TRAINER GRATEFUL FOR GIFT.

Editor Orange and Blue:

Through the columns of the Orange and Blue I wish to extend my most sincere thanks to the members of the 'varsity football squad of last fall for the beautiful gold watch which they presented to me this winter. I appreciate the gift far more than I am able to express. Having been unable to thank all of the boys personally I take this means of assuring them of my gratitude. GEO. KLING.

FORMER STUDENT HAS NOT TAKEN FULL CARNEGIE AWARD

PROF. LINDEMANN INSTRUMENTAL IN SECURING PRIZE FOR FLEMING BOWER.

The following interesting item concerning Fleming C. Bower, ex-'03, a son of attorney F. E. Bower, of Lewisburg, is taken from the Milton Standard.

A recent list of the Carnegie Hero Fund awards contains the entry of the rescue from drowning of Stoner Watts, aged twelve, at Milton by Fleming C. Bower, January, 1909. After leaving Bucknell Bower had enlisted in the Navy and he was home on a furlough from the U. S. S. Georgia when he rescued young Watts.

"The award of a silver medal and $2,000 for educationnl purposes was made two years ago. Bower has not yet accepted the $2,000 award, but has eight more years in which to do so. Bower's heroism would have gone unrecognized had it not been for Prof. Lindemann, of Bucknell university.

"Bower is at present quartermaster at Portsmouth navy yard. He was discharged from the navy and pensioned after an illness and then secured the position at the Virginia navy yard."

COLLEGE ATTENDANCE.

The following interesting statistics showing the relative size of the larger American universities and colleges according to attendance, has been received by the Editor.

"In the number of students Columbia is in a class by herself having an attendance of 9597, the largest in the world. Next to her comes Minnesota, with 6953; then California, 6817, College of New York City, 6770, and Chicago, 6506. In a third class are Michigan 5620, Wisconsin 5539, Illinois 5200, Pennsylvania 5100 and Harvard 5045.

In a fourth class are Cornell 4518, Northwestern 4454, and University of N. Y. City 4400. Of the historical colleges only Harvard continues in the higher ranks. Yale is well up in the lower list with 3263, while Princeton has dropped to the forty-sixth place with an attendance of 1572."

For the first time in its history, the Yale football team will be instructed by a paid coach next year.

Students at Harvard, Yale, and Princeton who now occupy the rooms formerly used by Roosevelt, Taft and Wilson will meet together at New Haven for the purpose of forming a club. Only future occupants of these rooms will be eligible to become members.

Post, ex-'13, of Dalton, was a visitor on the Hill last week.

Tyson, '11, was down from Williamsport for a few days last week.

Donald A. Simpson, of Huntingdon, visited friends at the Phi Kappa Psi house over Sunday.

The date for the Minstrels is Thursday, April 24. Reserved seats will be on sale soon.

B. A. Mellander has been spending the past few days with his brother, Mellander, '16, at the Phi Kappa Psi house.

Lichensberger, the south-paw pitcher of the Varsity, has been handicapped in practice the past few days by a sore arm.

It is understood in Eastern political circles, that Charles R. Kurtz, '86, will be the next Surveyor of the Port of Philadelphia.

A large number of students attended the production of "Bought and Paid For," at Sunbury Saturday, afternoon, April 21st.

Kathrine Clayton, of the fourth year class of the Institute, was taken to Williamsport today to be operated on for appendicitis.

A daughter was born to Prof. and Mrs. Joseph Challis, on Wednesday morning, and the genial member of the Academy faculty is now receiving the congratulations of his friends.

Everett, '12, teacher of science in the Lewisburg high school, is to address the Parent-Teacher Association of Lewisburg next Friday evening on, "The Parent and Teacher in Co-operation".

Two baseball games are scheduled for the 'varsity on the Bucknell field this week. "Joe" Logan's Milton team will appear here Wednesday afternoon and Gettysburg will be the attraction Saturday.

Announcement has been made of the wedding of Miss Ada Belle Martin, of Stroudsburg, to Wallace J. Snyder, '08, professor of science at Edinboro State Normal School, which took place at Stroudsburg March 27.

A challenge from the Academy to participate in a relay race in Lewisburg has been accepted by the Freshman class. The event will be held under the auspices of the Playground Association of Lewisburg on Monday.

Many of the fraternities have been actively engaged during the past week in rolling and in digging weeds from off their tennis courts preparatory to an active season for the welders of the racquets. An inter-fraternity tournament would tend to promote interest in the summer sport.

Owing to the wet condition of the diamond and the unstable weather the game scheduled to have been played here with Albright Saturday was called off by Manager Edwards. It is the intention of the Bucknell management to have Albright appear here for a mid-week game later in the season.

The "Prep" Evening of Farce, consisting of two short, snappy plays and vocal music by the "Prep" Quartette will be given under the auspices of the Academy Athletic Association on Wednesday evening, April 30th, in Bucknell Hall. Proceeds are to be used to finance the baseball season. Admission 25 cents.

PROF. SMITH ADDRESSED CONFERENCE AT YALE

URGED TEACHING OF PARLIAMENTARY LAW IN COURSES OF ORATORY.

Prof. Bromley Smith represented Bucknell at a conference of teachers of Public Speaking from the colleges of the Northern Atlantic and New England states held at Yale University on the 24th and 25th of March, and presented a paper on "The Relation of Parliamentary Law to Public Speaking Courses." After some discussion, during which it was discovered that Bucknell was one of the few colleges that pay any attention to parliamentary law, it was unanimously recommended that instruction along that line be given in colleges in connection with courses in Public Speaking.

A LESSON
in GEOGRAPHY
Teacher—"Where is Cork?"
That little piece of cork has revolutionized the game. Batters in the big leagues who couldn't come within 10 points of the magic "300" are attaining that distinction, while the weaker ones are progressing proportionately. The Cork Center has solved the effort to get more batting without making a farce of the game. The fact that the big leagues use the Cork Center ball exclusivley proves that it is the long sought for balance between pitching and batting.

VARSITY MEETS FIRST DEFEAT

TIMELY HITS WON GAME FOR GETTYSBURG.

PITCHERS FOR BOTH TEAMS TOUCHED-UP FOR MANY HITS

Battlefield Collegians Show Good Form and Defeat 'Varsity Near Close of Game.—Liebensberger Makes Excellent Showing.

In a game replete with base hits and ragged fielding Bucknell met its first defeat of the season Saturday afternoon at the hands of the fast Gettysburg team. Although the day was a little cold for baseball there was an unusually large number of students and townspeople on the hill to witness the contest, which ended in a score of 7-5.

Viewed from a Bucknell standpoint the game could hardly be called a good one, five costly errors by Bucknell helping Gettysburg to run up the score. For Bucknell, Miller, Crulkshank, and Sturgis played the best game, while McCulloch and Appler starred for the visitors. Both Hagan for Bucknell and Hoar for Gettysburg were hit freely, but Gettysburg succeeded in bunching their hits and making them count for runs. Liebensberger was substituted for Hagan in the seventh inning, when the bases were full with none out, and he pitched a fine article of ball while on the mound, retiring the side. While in the game he gave no hits or free passes and had three strike-outs to his credit. The pitching of Hoar for the visitors was of high calibre. During the nine innings he gave only three passes to first and fanned nine of the Orange and Blue players.

The fielding of both teams was poor, Bucknell making five errors to four for Gettysburg. Bucknell's, however, came at a time when they meant runs for the visitors, which tells in short the story of the defeat.

Beard, the first man to bat in the first inning, struck out. Ikeler, the next man up, sent a fly to center, which Gdaniec muffed. Ikeler stole second and scored on a scorching liner by McCulloch. After Topham and Worrilow had struck out in the Bucknell half of the first inning Sturgis made first on an infield hit, but Crulkshank, the next batter was out at first.

In the third inning the first man up for Gettysburg got to first on a sacrifice hit to center and was advanced to third on two pretty sacrifice hits. A stinging liner, good for two bases, then gave Gettysburg their second run. Bucknell, however, came back strong and succeeded in tying the score in their half of the inning. With two out Sturgis made a pretty single to left. Crulkshank followed it with a Texas Leaguer over the railroad good for two bases, scoring Sturgis, and on errors by the visitors he rambled home with the Orange and Blue's second tally.

After this no scoring was done until the sixth, when both pitchers were hit hard. A hit to left field, a base on balls, and a scratch infield hit filled the bases for the visitors. A long fly to center and an error to Topham sent two runs across the plate.

Bucknell had a regular swatfest in their half of the sixth and succeeded in piling up three runs. Miller reached first on a hit to right and advanced to second when Gdaniec received a free pass. Campbell proved himself equal to the occasion with a two-base hit to left, scoring Miller and Gdaniec. Hagan hit to left field and Campbell romped across the plate with Bucknell's last run.

In the fatal seventh five hits off Hagan coupled with errors by Coughanour and Worrilow gave the visitors three runs. Liebensberger was substituted for Hagan, and he pitched perfect ball during the remainder of the game besides making a two-bagger in the eighth inning.

FORMER STUDENTS WEDDED IN LEWISBURG THURSDAY

SEVERAL HUNDRED GUESTS AT TEND THE SHAFFER-FRICK NUPTIALS.

Thursday evening the First Presbyterian church of Lewisburg was the scene of a large and fashionable wedding when Miss Mildred Shaffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard O. Shaffer, became the bride of Mr. Sylvannus Frick, of Nicholson, Pa., son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Frick, of Lewisburg. The ceremony took place promptly at seven o'clock, and was performed by Rev. Dr. W. E. Thomas, the pastor of the church, in the presence of several hundred invited guests. The bride is a graduate of Bucknell Institute, class of '07, and the bridegroom was an ex-member of the class of '09 in the college.

The bridesmaids were Misses Lucile Savage, Institute '09, of Sunbury; Pauline Ruthrauff, of Chambersburg, and Ellen Focht, Institute '10, and Marguerite Duncan, Institute '11, of Lewisburg. The best man was Jay Wolfe, '07, and the ushers were Messrs. Henry Cheesman and John Glenn of Scranton; and William Leiser III, '09, and Harold Shaffer, '13, of Lewisburg, the latter a brother of the bride.

FETTER ADDRESSED Y. M. C. A.

Last Thursday evening the Y. M. C. A. listened to Fetter, '13, who took for his topic, "The race of the Christian Runner." The speaker dwelt on the comparison of the Christian Runner and physical runner. He showed how we must make our character a good runner by creating a desire for a Christian life and by doing deeds of kindness. In our Christian associations with others we get our character in the proper atmosphere. In the training of the Christian Runner all hindrances must be thrown aside just as in the case of the physical runner. As a food the "Bible" furnishes the necessary nourishment and strength, while the adaptation to work enables a good start. All may enter in this race but runners must bear in mind that the entries may close at any time. Then if properly trained and given the right start, by the careful maintenance of our characters, we will win and secure the reward.

RICHARDS WON ORATORY PRIZE

TOOK FIRST PLACE IN INTER-COLLEGIATE CONTEST.

DEFEATED MEN FROM SIX OTHER PENNA. COLLEGES

Judges Give Unanimous First Choice To Richards, '14, In Peace Society Contest and He Will Represent This State in National Contest.

Another wreath of victory was gained for Bucknell when E. J. Richards, '14, was unanimously awarded first place in the Annual Intercollegiate Oratorical Contest held Thursday evening in Museum Hall of the University of Pennsylvania. Roy Ogden, of Swarthmore, took second place, and J. Bruce Brusius, representing University of Pennsylvania and a brother of Brosius, '14, of Bucknell, was adjudged third. The winners of the first and second places were awarded $75 and $25 respectively, and Mr. Richards will represent the college of Pennsylvania in the Mohonk National Oratorical Contest to be held at Lake Mohonk, N. Y., in May.

Six colleges were represented in the contest, Swarthmore, with two men; and Westminster, Ursinus, Bucknell and University of Pennsylvania with one representative each. These seven contestants had been selected from over 200 who had submitted theses early in the year. These theses were submitted to the Arbitration and Peace Society last January, at which time it was arranged to have the presentation made at the University Museum. This society is the State Branch of the American Peace Society, and its purpose is to promote the interests of peace among the nations. It is engaged actively in a campaign of education to arouse public sentiment to the need of absolute abolition of war. Professor Jesse H. Holmes, of Swarthmore, presided, and Hon. Dimner Beeber, Walter M. Wood and Professor Baker, of Haverford, acted as judges.

In his address Thursday night, Richards had for his subject "War and Christianity." Taking the battle of Gettysburg as typical of war, he painted a graphic picture of the horrors and misery caused by just one such battle. He denounced the double standard of ethics, which permits a nation professing Christianity to engage in war. He declared it to be a hollow Christianity which looks with horror on the dueling system, yet legalizes war as a means of settling international disputes.

ELECTRICALS DEFEAT CIVILS.

In a spirited baseball game on the campus Friday morning the Electrical Engineers defeated the team representing the Civil Engineers by a score of 19 to 17. By scoring in the first inning the Civils were ahead until the third, when a run made by the Electricals tied the score. In the seventh the Civils forged ahead but were again tied in the eighth. Two runs in the ninth gave the Electricals the game by two points. The contest was full of exciting plays and was witnessed by a large number of students.

ENTERTAINED AT DANCE.

The Sigma Chi fraternity gave an enjoyable informal dance in the Lewisburg Armory Friday evening complimentary to the local chapters of Phi Kappa Psi and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. A Sunbury orchestra furnished the music, and guests were in attendance from Lewisburg, Sunbury, Shamokin Milton and Watsontown.

COLLEGE BIBLE CLASS.

At the College Bible Class Sunday morning Dr. Harris explained the problem of Religion in Schools in a very instructive lecture. The real reason, he said, that any problem exists on this subject is because of an apparent separation of state and church. On the other hand they are co-extensive, the same people ruling the state that make up the church. Religion cannot be taught, but religion is taken into schools through the lives of those who enter. If a teacher reads scripture in a believing attitude it is beneficial, but if he reads it as a mere necessity it might do more harm than good. It is impossible to force religion.

TOLD MEDICS ABOUT SMALLPOX.

At the regular weekly meeting of the Medical Society held Friday afternoon in the Chemical laboratory, Eshelman, '13, gave the society an interesting and instructive talk on Smallpox. It is desired that all members of the society turn out for the meeting next Friday, which will be of especial interest to every student of medicine.

SENIORS TO MEET WEDNESDAY.

The Senior class of the college will hold an important meeting in Bucknell Hall Wednesday afternoon at 4.15 o'clock. The meeting scheduled to have been held last week had to be postponed because of the absence of a quorum of members, and it is urged that all attend the meeting called for next Wednesday as the business to be transacted is of an important nature.

FRESHMEN DECLAIM FOR PRIZES IN ANNUAL CONTEST

NINE STUDENTS COMPETE BEFORE LARGE CROWD FRIDAY EVENING.

The annual Declamation of the freshman class was held in Bucknell Hall Friday evening. The young ladies and gentlemen who took part in the program of the evening rendered their respective selections in a very creditable manner and the appreciation of the large audience was shown by the hearty applause accorded the speakers.

Preceeding the rendering of the declamations the nine contestants, five young ladies and four men, passed to their seats in the front of the auditorium to a march played by Miss Reinhardt.

The program rendered was as follows:

Elnora Louise Trescott.....Berwick
Cherokee Roses—Brown.
Samuel Milton Bryant....Lewisburg
The Death of a Traitor—Lippard.
Helen Derr Lewis.....Watsontown
The Redemption of a Soul—Hugo.
A La Bien Amiee.....Schutt

DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURES.

Dean Sarah C. Lovejoy, of State College, will give two lectures on Domestic Science before the young ladies of the domestic science department of Bucknell on April 28th. Dean Lovejoy is head of the department for women at State College and is the director of the school of domestic science. Admission will be by ticket.

The University of California has decided to award C's to the members of the varsity debating team.

TICKETS ON SALE FOR MINSTRELS

SALE OF SEATS BEGAN TODAY AT HEISER'S DRUG STORE.

BURNT CORK PRODUCTION WILL BE THE BEST EVER

Many New Features Are on the Program and Indications Point to a Successful Production.—Some of the Acts Enumerated.

Seats for the annual production of the Bucknell Minstrels, which will be presented in Commencement Hall on Thursday night, were placed on sale at Heiser's drug store this morning and the early demand for reservations gives assurance that a packed house will greet the black-faced merry-makers when the curtain is drawn apart on this production, the best that they have offered the students for many years.

An inovation in the line of minstrel shows will be presented by the caste in part one, in which solos will be sung by such famous vocalists as "Hunk" Fry, Triplean, Crulkshank, Boswell and Sharp. Side-splitting jokes and monologues will be sprung by the end-men, assisted by the Interlocutor, Edwards. This feature of the show is alone said to be worth twice the price of admission.

As extra features of the show there will be several musical and vaudeville acts, among them being a musical "stuntfest" by Triplean, Crulkshank and Glover, '13; a humorous skit by the premiere dark-horse comedians, Middaugh and Brownell, and a vocal solo by Criswell that is said to be the best thing that has been offered the musical-loving public this season. Manager Lowther is said to have just turned down an attractive offer from Oscar Hammerstein for the services of this virtuoso, not desiring to disappoint the audience that will attend the show in Commencement Hall Thursday night.

The concluding number of the program is in the form of a one-act play entitled "A Regular Fix", in which Edwards, '13, as Hugh De Brass, really gets into a regular fix, and the manner in which he finally extricates himself is sure to provoke laughs from even the most morose.

L'AGENDA MAKES APPEARANCE

MANY FEATURES IN YEAR BOOK WHICH HAS BIG SALE.

The 1914 L'Agenda made its appearance Saturday when the books were placed on sale in Main college by Manager Weaver. A number of new and interesting features are to be found in this year's issue of the annual, which compares very favorable with any that have been got out by former classes.

A large number of the books are bound in limp leather, similar to the style inaugurated by the publication last year. The color of the leather is black, the words "1914 L'Agenda" being stamped in gold in the center of the front cover. The large number of sales of this style of binding evidence its popularity with the students.

In the Athletic department is found resumes of the various sports at Bucknell, incorporating many new facts and statistics. The illustrations and photographs reproduced in the book are unusually good in the artistic work displayed and in originality of design.

A copy of the panoramic view of the students of Bucknell, which was photographed on the Hill last term, is to be found folded in the rear of the book and is one of the features that have made this issue an especially good one. The book is dedicated to Dr. Llewellyn Phillips, '92, of the college faculty.

This paper is published once a week during the college year by the Orange and Blue Board, representing the student body of Bucknell University. Subscription $1.25 per year, $1.00 if paid before January 1 of the college year. Communications addressed to the Orange and Blue, Lewisburg, Pa.

In a theme written some time ago on "My First Impression of the Campus," a Freshman wrote "The beauty of the campus, however, is greatly impaired by the unsightly poles that carry the electric wires and crown the crest of the Hill." We think it fair to say that the view of the Freshman is the sentiment of the entire student body. It has always been the boast of Bucknell, and a just one, that our campus, with its stately trees in full foliage, was second to that of no American University. But why should we not have its beauty exhibited to the full, unmarred by these crude instruments of lighting? Less than eight weeks will bring us to Commencement week when, above all other occasions, we welcome alumni and visitors to Bucknell. Can we not by that time have these unsightly poles taken down and the wires placed in underground conduits or else carried around the campus on poles erected along the roadway in the rear of the college buildings? We recommend either of these courses to the proper authorities of the university, convinced that even though the change would entail a small expense it should nevertheless be made, for the beauty of the campus is one of our greatest assets, to retain which makes even a large expenditure quite justifiable.

Another invitation has been received by the staff of the Orange and Blue to send delegates to a conference of editors and business managers of college newspapers. The invitation this time comes from the Department of Journalism of the University of Pittsburgh. The conference is to meet in Pittsburgh Friday, May 9th, and addresses will be made by prominent newspaper men of Western Pennsylvania. Practical problems of the field of college journalism will be discussed at considerable length. Any student who desires to attend the conference may secure credentials by applying to the editor.

The absence of all systematic cheering from the baseball games that have been played on the campus this year is noticeable not only to the spectators at the game but to the players themselves who, when they hear no encouraging cheers or plaudits from the crowd, experience a feeling of the lack of co-operation on the part of the students that is not conducive to the self-confidence and good playing of the players. At the games on Athletic field Wednesday and Saturday let us get together and with good rousing cheers encourage the boys on the field and give them continued assurance of our appreciation of their efforts.

FOURTH YEAR SEMINARY CLASS GAVE ANNUAL SOIREE

MEMBERS OF CLASS GAVE PLAY AND RECEIVED GUESTS IN PARLORS.

The annual Soiree of the Fourth year class of the Institute was held in the school room of the Seminary Saturday evening, after which a brief reception was held in the parlors. Dean and Mrs. Edwards, Miss Bush and the members of the Fourth year class receiving the guests.

The play presented by the members of the class, assisted by members of other classes of the Institute was entitled, "The Princess" and was in seven scenes. Each of the characters of the play were well worked out and presented by the young ladies and reflected much credit on Miss Edith Schillinger, of the faculty of the school of Elocution, who drilled and trained them in their parts.

Because of Miss Katherine Clayton's illness the lines of Lady Psyche were taken by Miss Blanche Woods.

The cast of characters was as follows:

Princess Ida.....Rheda Bittenbender
Instructors in the University—
Lady Blanche .....Edith Focht
Lady Psyche .....Blanche Woods
Melissa, daughter of Lady Blanche
.....Flossie Clarke
The Prince .....Amelia McSparran
Florin, his friend and brother of Psyche .....Helen Wedekindt
Cyril, friend to Prince and Florin, a gentleman of broken means
.....Jeanette Owens

DEFEAT SOPHOMORES, THEIR NEAREST RIVALS, BY MANY POINTS.

The inter-class meet which was held on the Athletic field Friday afternoon was won by the Freshmen, who scored 60 points, 11½ points more than the Sophomores, their nearest rivals for honors. The Juniors won 18 points while the Seniors scored 15½.

Following are the list of events, the winners and the time or distance that was made by the winners.

A LESSON in GEOGRAPHY

Teacher—"Where is Cork?"

That little piece of cork has revolutionized the game. Batters in the big leagues who couldn't come within 10 points of the magic "300" are attaining that distinction, while the weaker ones are progressing proportionately. The Cork Center has solved the effort to get more batting without making a farce of the game. The fact that the big leagues use the Cork Center ball exclusivley proves that it is the long sought for balance between pitching and batting.

RELAY TEAM SELECTED TO GO TO ANNUAL PENN MEET

TO SOLICIT SUBSCRIPTIONS FROM STUDENTS TO HELP DEFRAY EXPENSE.

That the old Bucknell spirit, "to never give up" is still alive was manifested last Wednesday when the candidates for Penn Relays ran the finals. Fighting against bad weather, soft tracks and stiff winds five men were chosen after spirited contests to represent Bucknell at Philadelphia next Saturday. The men chosen were Lowther, '14, Bott, '15, Stevenson, '15, Urbanowitz, '16, and Becker, '16. The first two ran the distance against fierce winds in 55 3-5 and 56 seconds respectively. The entire team in a trial against wind covered the mile in 3 minutes 47 4-5 seconds. As the Bucknell track is considered 2 or 3 seconds slower than Penn's, it looks as if Bucknell will be represented by a team that will do her honor.

Since track sports has been rejuvenated a seemingly great interest has been shown by the students. It is now up to the student body whether it will be kept up or not. The Athletic Association is not able to bear the entire burden of the necessary expense and during the coming week a committee consisting of Middleton, Jordan, McKeague and Linberg will call upon the fellows for a small contribution toward defraying the expenses of the meet with Lehigh and the cost of sending the team to the Penn Relays Saturday and the Triangular meet at Lancaster next month.

It is hoped that every man on the Hill will respond liberally to the appeals for contributions to the fund.

ASSOCIATION NOTES.

Sharp of the Academy sang a couple of solos at the meeting last week, which pleased all of the fellows.

If any one has a picture of the "student parade" at Harrisburg, the chairman of the Hand-Book Committee would be pleased if it were left with the General Secretary, as the committee would like to have a cut of it for the Y. M. C. A. Hand-Book next year.

CORRESPONDENCE

Editor Orange and Blue:

Some time ago a communication concerning fraternity rushing and signed by "Progressive" was published in your paper. The author of that article set forth a plan whereby Bucknell should fall into line with many of the other colleges and adopt a uniform method for rushing fraternity men. Surely this matter deserves attention, and if the student body intends to adopt any such method, this spring is the time to do it in order that the system may go into effect in the fall.

Altho I consider the plan submitted by "Progressive" a very good one, yet I think the following one would also be satisfactory and would do much to better interfraternity relations:

First.—Members of the Freshman class shall not be invited or pledged to become fraternity members before the first day after Christmas holidays in each year. Students entering the higher classes at the beginning of the fall term shall not be bid to join a fraternity until after the first of November. Students entering in the second or third terms shall not be bid until after being in college two months.

Second.—In case any fraternity finds in the action of another fraternity anything which in its judgment conflicts with or is not in fullest accord with the letter and spirit of the above agreement, this fraternity shall arrange for a conference with a representative of the fraternity charged with the violation for a discussion of the manner. In case of failure to come to a satisfactory agreement, the case shall then be brought before a conference consisting of representatives of all fraternities for discussion, arbitration or settlement.

By such a plan or by one like that submitted by "Progressive," Bucknell would be advancing in fraternity matters as she is in all other lines.

VARSITY WINS AND LOSES

DEFEATS MILTON BUT LOSES TO HARRISBURG.

MANY ERRORS MAR WORK OF BUCKNELL TEAM

Tri-State Champions Clout the Ball and Have Little Trouble in Defeating the Varsity.—Pitchers Show up Well in Contests.

The Varsity was returned a winner and a loser in the two games played on the campus last week. On Wednesday "Joe" Logan had his team here from Milton and they went down to defeat before the good pitching and heavy stick work of the Orange and Blue, while on Saturday Cockill's Tri-State Champions had little difficulty in defeating the Bucknell team. Both games were played in ideal baseball weather and were witnessed by a large number of students and townspeople.

Milton Team Defeated.

While the Varsity experienced little difficulty in defeating Logan's Milton aggregation Wednesday the game was rather a listless one and was characterized by considerable loose playing by both teams. Liebensberger, Buffington, and Hagan divided up the twirling for Bucknell, while Reltz officiated at the mound for Milton.

The greater part of the scoring was done in the first inning, when Milton secured one and Bucknell three runs. Logan, getting to first on balls, circled the bags and came home on an overthrow to second by Sturgis. Miller started the proceedings for Bucknell with a long hit good for two bags. After Coughanour was out on an infield fly, Sturgis made a clean single, scoring Miller. Crulkshank then brought the crowd to its feet with a stinging liner far over the centerfielder's head, which permitted him to circle the bases, besides sending Sturgis across the plate.

Tri-State Champs Victorious.

Heavy hitting on the part of the Harrisburg Tri-State team coupled with some critical errors by the Varsity resulted in the second defeat of the season for Bucknell Saturday.

Hagan occupied the box for the collegians during the first part of the game but was replaced by Liebensberger in the sixth inning. The latter showed excellent form, striking out three men and keeping the hits of the visiting team well scattered. Bressler and Fox did the twirling for Harrisburg and delivered the ball in good shape.

The visitors warmed up by scoring one run each in the first and second innings; in the third they started a merry-go-round which netted them three more tallies. Therre clouted the ball into right garden and reached third. Bressler, the next man up, responded with a single to right, and Therre sped across the plate. The next man was out at first. Sundheim sent a hot liner to Angstadt who made a bad throw to third allowing the runner to score. Rudolph then sent a fly to right and Sundheim scored.

Bucknell's first run came in the third inning. After Angstadt was out at first Baer sent a hot liner to the second baseman who missed it and Baer was safe at first. A second error by the second baseman allowed Hagan on first and sent Baer to sec-

BUCKNELL RELAY TEAM FAILS TO TAKE PLACE

COMES IN FIFTH IN RACES AT PHILADELPHIA SATURDAY.

Handicapped by lack of practice the relay team representing the Orange and Blue came in fifth at the Pennsylvania relay races held in Philadelphia Saturday afternoon. The team ran a good race, however, and succeeded in reaching the finish before Lehigh, Catholic University, and Villa Nova.

Eight colleges were entered in Bucknell's event, which was number 29, and they finished in the following order: New York Law, Washington and Jefferson, Dickinson, Colby, Bucknell, Lehigh, Catholic University, and Villa Nova. New York Law's time was exceedingly good—three minutes and thirty-four seconds—and the first five teams were all close at the finish. For Bucknell Urbanowicz ran first, Lowther second, Becker third, and Bott fourth, and their time was three minutes and thirty-eight seconds.

The next meet for Bucknell is the one with Lehigh, and with several weeks of practice ahead the prospects for a victory over the South Bethlehem team are very bright.

FRESHMEN BEAT MT. CARMEL.

In an exciting game Saturday afternoon the Freshmen defeated Mt. Carmel High School on the latter's field by the score of 9-8. The Freshmen had the better of the contest all the way through, but Mt. Carmel, by a strong ninth inning rally in which five runs were scored, almost tied the score. Middaugh pitched a good game for the Freshmen while Gilpin and Bigler starred at the bat with three hits each.

Mt. Carmel .. 0 1 0 2 0 0 0 0 5—8

MARRIED IN ARGENTINA.

Miss Hannah Derr, Institute, '06, was married at Cordova, Argentina, Wednesday, April 16, to J. R. McAlery. A cablegram from the South American Republic announces that the marriage is the culmination of a seven-thousand mile journey.

NOTICE, SENIORS!

All seniors are requested to leave an unmounted picture of themselves in cap and gown at Miss Shield's studio as soon as possible.

There will be a meeting of the senior class in Room No. 2 tonight at eight o'clock.

MINSTREL MEN MAKE MERRY

ANNUAL PRODUCTION HERE LAST THURSDAY.

BLACK FACE ARTISTS PROVOKE MANY LAUGHS

Vaudeville and Musical Acts and Clever Playlet Among Features of This Year's Performance.—Large Crowd Present.

About five hundred people witnessed a two-part minstrel show, the annual production of the Bucknell Minstrel Club, given in the Commencement Hall auditorium last Thursday night. Vaudeville and musical acts as well as a clever playlet featured the performance.

The scene of Part I was a lobby in Hotel Bucknell where a number of guests seated about in a semi-circle formed the chorus. The chief actors of this scene were the clerk and the bell hops who with their jokes and witticisms created considerable laughter. The soloists were also good: "Now Am de Time," by Tripician, '16, and "Mandalay," by Criswell, '16, seeming to take especially well with the audience.

Part II consisted of three acts; the first, "Ten Minutes of Vaudeville," by Middaugh, '16, and Brownell, '15, where some clever jokes were sprung; the second, a musical act with Tripician, '16, and Cruikshank, '15, as singers accompanied on the piano by Glover, '13; the third, a playlet entitled "A Regular Fix," which was well presented. Edwards, '13, taking the role of Mr. Hugh De Brass, rendered his part well, and the way in which he endeavored to escape from his peculiar predicament was quite amusing. Baer, '15, as Emily, also drew forth laughter from the audience.

The cast of characters was as follows:

PART I.

Clerk ..... Walter H. Edwards
Elevator Boy ..... "Crissy" Criswell
Bell Hops—"Trip" Tripician, "Crook" Cruikshank, "Mid" Middaugh, "Hunk" Frye.

MUSICAL NUMBERS.

BUCKNELL SONG BOOK.

The Songs of Bucknell, old and new, will appear during the opening term of next college year, if an advance subscription list can be secured, to warrant a safe publication. It is proposed to publish a book of about 140 pages, regular 8vo, bound in cloth, binding and paper to be of the best, to sell at $1.00.

The book will contain a number of popular college songs as well as old and new Bucknell songs; the Bucknell songs will be in larger proportion than is usual in a college song book. Several liberal contributions toward the song book project have been received, and it appears that, with good support from students and alumni, the book ought to be published at a profit, in which case the most of the proceeds will go to the Athletic Association.

The General Secretary and C. E. Glass, '16, will receive subscriptions.

SPEAKERS ANNOUNCED.

DR. HARRIS AND ALUMNI IN LIVELY DISCUSSION

BUCKNELL PRESIDENT AGAINST LAW FORCING SCHOOL BIBLE.

A lively discussion of the subject of the Bible in the public schools was held at the weekly meeting of Baptist ministers in the First Church Philadelphia, last Monday morning, in which Dr. Harris and several other Bucknell alumni took a leading part. The trouble started after the reading of a paper on "Religious Instruction in the Public Schools," by President Harris, in which he took the stand that Bible reading in the public schools should not be compulsory.

"The Bible is now read in 95 per cent. of the schools of Pennsylvania," said Dr. Harris. "To pass legislation on the subject would mean to bring down the courts on the question. They would rule the different Bibles sectarian, and that would make it worse than it is now."

Dr. Owen P. Eaches, '63, deplored the absence of any code of morality in the public schools. "In the whole curriculum," he said, "there is not a word leading to ethics or morals."

Dr. Milton Evans, '82, president of Crozer Seminary, claimed that it was foolish to imagine different religious denominations agreeing on such a vital question as to which version of the Bible should be read in the schools, and suggested that to satisfy all the Old Testament only should be read.

TRYOUTS FOR LEHIGH MEET.

Owing to an article in the contract with Lehigh the try-outs for the Bucknell-Lehigh meet will be held on Tuesday afternoon at 3.15. In case of rain, the try-outs will be held on the first clear day following Tuesday. Three men in each event will be picked for a final try-out on next Saturday in the Soph-Fresh. meet At that time the best two men of the three will be picked to represent Bucknell in the Lehigh meet with the third man as alternate.

UNDERCLASS MEET SATURDAY

The Sophomore-Freshmen meet will be held on the campus next Saturday afternoon at 2.30. The entries for the meet must be handed to Manager McKeague by midnight Thursday. Three men will be allowed each class in each event. The same man can be entered in as many events as is desired. Only two places will count, first counting five points and second three points.

ZANE BATTEN COMING SUNDAY

WILL PREACH TWO SERMONS IN BAPTIST CHURCH.

HE IS A PROMINENT BUCKNELL ALUMNUS

Is a Minister, Author, Writer for the Press and a Social Reformer of National Repute. All the Students Should be Present.

An event of rare interest to every student, as well as to many residents of the town, is the coming of Dr. Samuel Zane Batten, '85, a Christian minister, an author, a prolific writer for the press, and a college professor, who will address the College Bible Class and preach in the Baptist church next Sunday. Dr. Batten has been so long identified with the social interpretation of Christianity, has written books so eloquent in its advocacy, has lectured so widely and wrought so earnestly in its behalf, that the denomination to which he belongs organized a special department of its varied activities and placed him in charge as Secretary, with headquarters in Philadelphia

Dr. Batten is the advance agent of higher efficiency in the forces making for righteousness. He is the herald of a new morning in practical reform. He is the organizer of all who would be good Samaritans.—If they only had a leader. Let every loyal Bucknellian pay the tribute of his presence to one so worthy of attention.

DISCUSSED CATHOLICISM

DR. HARRIS LECTURED BEFORE BIBLE CLASS.

President Harris lectured to the College Bible Class in the Baptist church Sunday morning on the Catholic church and the election of the Pope. This year, Dr. Harris said, the Roman Catholic church is celebrating the decree of Milan, which might well be remembered by all churches since it was a grant of religious freedom. The present condition of the Pope's health brings up the question of a new election, the President continued. This, he said, is done by the College Cardinals which is a body of men appointed by each Pope while yet in power. The college now numbers sixty-three, Dr. Harris said, and thirty-three are Italians. He said, among the other thirty, three are citizens of the United States. Since the majority of the Cardinals is made up of Italians, it is easy to see why the Pope is always an Italian. The Catholic church is very strong, amounting to two hundred and sixty-eight millions in round numbers. Immigration Dr. Harris concluded, is a source of great suport to the Catholic church in the United States.

BAKER WILL LEAD MEDS.

At the last meeting of the Medical Society last Friday afternoon, H. W. Baker, '14, was elected president of the organization for next year. Other officers elected are: Vice Pres., W. A. Cawley, '14; Sec., G. S. Stevenson, '15; Treas., J. A. Corrin, '16. The retiring president, A. N. Redelin, '13, read a paper on Rheumatism at Friday's meeting.

1915 L'AGENDA EDITOR.

At a Sophomore class meeting held this morning Carl E. Geiger, of Williamsport, was elected editor of the 1915 L'Agenda. The Manager has not yet been selected.

For each student at the university of California $200 a year is paid for instruction according to figures just compiled.

CALLING CLASS MEETINGS.

Class presidents of late have been having a terrible time of it here at Bucknell. The trouble is that the student members of classes are unbelievably remiss in questions of class concern. So it is that quorums at class meetings are rarities.

Seemingly, save for the overflow meet of the freshmen preceeding a freshman-sophomore class rush in the fall and save for the well-attended gatherings of classes preceeding annual class banquets, the students as class members show disinterest. For some time President Middleton has endeavored to collect a quorum of seniors to decide upon some important question. Frequent requests for meetings of the class have met with little success. President Patterson of the Sophomores has had his trouble too and has used many devices to gather a quorum of his classmates He has tried all means and called meetings at all times of the day and evening to secure a quorum. In despair and in hopes of success he called a meeting at ten o'clock at night. This likewise proved fruitless. This morning, however, he caught the class while in attendance at the weekly lecture and thrust a meeting upon them. The coming L'Agenda officers were then elected.

Are we, then, less mindful of the business affairs of our classes than we are of class rushes and annual class banquets? In becoming seniors, do we feel less the obligations of our classes than we did as freshmen? We hope not.

CANES FOR SENIORS.

Canes for seniors is now the question that is bothering the heads of some of the last year men. Some of the class object to the innovation of such a custom here at Bucknell on the strength of the connotation which some persons associate with canes. Other seniors, however, are eager to institute such a custom in order to have a senior privilege which will be distinctive.

ELECTRICAL JUNIORS WIN.

Before a large crowd of enthusiastic rooters the Electrical Juniors defeated the Electrical Seniors on the campus Saturday morning. The Seniors maintained a big lead until the last inning, when clever stick work and brilliant base running enabled the lower classmen to score five runs and win the game, by a score of 13 to 12.

ALUMNI CLUB HOLDS BANQUET

LARGE GATHERING OF GRADS AT PHILADELPHIA FRIDAY.

ENTHUSIASM MARKS BIG ANNUAL MEETING

Speeches Made by President Harris and Several Other Prominent Bucknell Graduates.—J. M. Lyons, '51, Recites Poem.

The Philadelphia Alumni Club held its forty-eighth annual banquet at the Rittenhouse, April 25. The attendance was good and the spirit excellent. The trustees present were Harry S. Hopper, David P. Leas, '63, Dr. A. J. Rowland, '62, John D. Johnson, Dr. J. K. Weaver, '61, and Dr. G. M. Phillips, '71. Among the earlier graduates were John M. Lyons, D. D., '51, Dr. C. B. Lowe, '65, Dr. Samuel Bolton, '85, Arthur Malcolm, '60, Albert G. Hetherington, '70. Speeches were made by President Harris, '69, Robert G. Slifer, '98, Albert G. Hetherington, '70, Dr. George Augustus Lung, '82.

John M. Lyons, D. D., 1851, the oldest living graduate, after speaking for the early days of stage coach and canal, and declaring that while the old times were good, the present is better, and the future will be best, recited the following poem on "Progress:"

Roll on ye ages, roll apace,
Leave ignorance and gloom behind;
Press on; it is a world wide race,
It is the master march of mind.
No old stage coach now jogs along,
No packet, no canal we see;
To name them seems an idle song
Of things absurd that used to be.

The iron track is firmly laid,
The muttring thunders sound afar—
Behold the signals all displayed
Welcome the grand inviting car.
Swift autos too around us run
And light wing'd airships sail on high
To mark an era new begun
All o'er the earth and in the sky.

The noisy breeze wakes visions dim,
I turn my ear with strange desires;
The wind are ministers for Him.
God's servants are etherial fires.
Our scientists no longer tread
For years thru famous Greece and Rome;
Their field is wider now; outspread
The UNIVERSE is LEARNING'S home.

Turn we at length to our BUCKNELL
Ensconsed beneath the flickering shade,
Where, as the fathers loved to tell
Erst LUDWIG thought, and plann'd and pray'd;
We see our ALMA MATER stand
Mid clustering shrines in fair array,
Her name is known in every land
A power well recognized to-day.

The teachers tried are good and wise
To lead the strong aspiring youth,
To win bright Fame's alluring prize
In still expanding realms of truth;
I look, I see a Motto shine
With golden sunbeams all bespent,
Long live, Great Leader, Sound Divine
Tireless, Progressive PRESIDENT!

Clarence Burke was visited by his father during the past week.

The Academy baseball team was defeated by the Northumberland High school Saturday by the score of 8-3. The "Preps" next game will be played with Williamsport High on the college campus.

ASSOCIATION NOTES.

Prof. Fries addressed the meeting last Wednesday evening, choosing for his subject, "Freedom from Restraint."

President Zinn, who attended the Y. M. C. A. Conference at Lafayette lately, reports flourishing conditions in associations in all the eastern colleges. At the Lafayette meetings much stress was laid upon the student conference at Eagles Mere in June. Some colleges are going to be represented by over one hundred men, while each college, it is expected, will have at least twenty.

Prof. Wilcox addresses the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening and an excellent meeting is expected. Boswell, of the Academy, will sing.

Pamphlets containing information concerning the Summer Conference at Eagles Mere may be obtained at the General Secretary's office.

ond. After Miller was out on an infield fly Topham reached first on an error and Baer came across the plate.

After the visitors had scored two more runs Liebensberger took the mound and gave only one run in the last three innings. In the last half of the sixth Topham made first on a low ball to center, and stole second. After Sturgis was out at first Crulkshank was put out at second trying to stretch a single into a two bagger, while Topham stole home with Bucknell's second run.

LEHIGH TRACK MEET WEDNESDAY

WILL ARRIVE TUESDAY WITH SEVENTEEN MEN.

BUCKNELL THOUGHT TO BE A SURE WINNER IN THE RACES

Teamer and Hagan Will be Hard to Beat in Weights—With Fast Men For Bucknell in the Dashes and Distance Runs, Victory Looks Certain.

Bucknell track interest now centers around the meet to be held with Lehigh on the local campus Wednesday afternoon. The visitors have sent word to Manager McKeague that they will be here Tuesday evening seventeen strong, which is evidence that they are coming determined to carry home to Bethlehem the honors of the day.

Judging from the marks already made by the Bucknell athletes it will be a difficult matter to defeat the Orange and Blue and with a large delegation of students in the cheering section to encourage our men the honors are expected to remain in Lewisburg.

All of the men who have been chosen for places on the Bucknell team

J. LESLIE M'KEAGUE, '13,
Manager Track Team.

have shown excellent form in the trial meets held and both Coach Jordan and Captain Teamer expect a few of our college records, especially in the runs, to be broken.

The following is the list of events and the names of the men who will represent Bucknell in them:

100 yard dash—Jordan, '13, and Glover, '14.

220 yard dash—Lowther, '14, and Glover, '14.

440 yard dash—Lowther, '14, and Becker, '16, or Urbanowicz, '16.

880 yard run—Bott, '15, and Cook, '16

1 mile run—Butt, '15, and Bott, '15.

2 mile run—Butt, '15.

120 yard hurdles—Aleshouckas, '15, and Gilpin, '16.

220 yard hurdles—Jordan, '13, and Gilpin, '16.

Shot Put—Teamer, '13, and Jordan, '13.

Hammer Throw—Teamer, '13, and Dunkle, '13.

Discus throw—Hagan, '14, and Jordan, '13, or Topham, '15.

Pole Vault—Glass, '16, and Davis, '16.

High jump—Gilpin, '16, and Dunkle, '13 or Hagan, '14.

Broad jump—Sturgis, '15, and Topham, '15, or Dunkle, '13.

ALUMNUS PICKS A PLUM.

Charles R. Kurtz, '86, of Bellefonte, was recently appointed by President Wilson as surveyor of the customs of the Port of Philadelphia. The position carries with it a yearly salary of $5,000. His appointment was expected by Democratic politicians of that city.

BIBLE CLASS HEARS DR. BATTEN.

The Sunday morning Bible Class was addressed by Dr. Batten, '85, who spoke on Social Service Method and defined the service as that form of effort which tends to uplift man's community life. The speaker emphasized the fact that all things have definite causes, bad results having bad causes and it is our duty to eliminate these bad causes. Dr. Batten said that he believed that in the near future it would be considered a sin to be sick, so thoroughly will the bad causes of sickness have been investigated. Dr. Batten also brought out that it is our task to cultivate the almost unlimited possibilities present in every human being.

MUSIC GRADUATES' RECITAL.

At the Music Recital to be given Thursday evening, May, 8th, in Bucknell Hall, Miss Hollingshead, head of the Piano department, will present her pupil, Miss Helen Wedekindt, and Miss Armstrong, head of the Violin department will present her pupil, Miss Ethel Clush. All interested friends are invited to attend.

FRESHMEN WON ANNUAL UNDERCLASS TRACK MEET

HAD LITTLE DIFFICULTY IN DEFEATING SOPHOMORES SATURDAY.

In a one-sided struggle the Freshmen won the annual Sophomore-Freshman Track Meet on the campus Saturday afternoon, 72-37. The meet was made interesting by the individual efforts of Aleshoukas, '15, and Gilpin, '16, who scored 23 and 22 points respectively for their classes. Urbanowicz, '16, and Captain Butt, '16, made a good showing in the dashes and distances.

100 yd. dash—won by Urbanowicz, '16; second, Switzer, '15. Time, 10 2-5 sec.

220 yd. dash—won by Urbanowicz, '16; second, Aleshoukas, '15. Time, 24 1-5 sec.

440 yd. dash—won by Urbanowicz, 16; second, Becker, '16. Time, 53 3-5 sec.

880 yd. run—won by Bott, '15; second, Cook, '16. Time, 2 min. 14 sec.

1 mile run—won by Butt, '16; second, Bott, '15. Time, 5 min. 13-5 sec.

2 mile run—won by Butt, '16. Time, 11 min. 28 1-5 sec.

120 yd. hurdles—won by Aleshoucas, '15; second, Gilpin, '16. Time, 19 2-5 sec.

220 yd. hurdles—won by Gilpin, '16; second, Affron, '15. Time, 30 1-5 sec.

Shot put—won by Aleshouckas, '15; second, Gilpin, '16. Distance, 34 ft. 2 in.

Hammer throw—won by Aleshoucka, '15; second, Gilpin, '16. Distance, 96 ft. 5 in.

Discus throw—won by Aleshouckas, '15; second, Gilpin, '16. Distance, 94 ft. 7 in.

High jump—won by Gilpin, '16; second, Davis, '16. Height, 5 ft. 1½ in.

Pole vault—Tie between Glass, '16, and Davis, '16. Height, 9 ft. 6 in.

Broad jump—won by Becker, '16; second, Walters, '15. Distance, 19 ft. 2 in.

SERMONS BY DR. BATTEN.

Two very forceful and instructive sermons were delivered in the Lewisburg Baptist church Sunday by Dr. Samuel Zane Batten, '85, the present Secretary of the Department of Social Service and Brotherhood of the American Baptist Society, and a noted author and Christian minister. A large number of students as well as townspeople turned out to hear Dr. Batten speak and were highly pleased with the message that he brought to them.

The Prep baseball team defeated Williamsport High on the college campus Saturday morning by the score of 8-7.

VARSITY DROPS FOUR STRAIGHT

EASTERN TRIP A HOODOO FOR BUCKNELL.

PITCHING STAFF WAS THE WEAKEST POINT

Varsity Had Hardly a Fighting Chance in Any of the Games.—Defeats and the Weather the Features of the Trip.

Four straight games were dropped by the 'Varsity baseball team while on its Eastern trip last week, Albright, Catholic University, Georgetown and Mount St. Joseph's being the colleges before which the Orange and Blue bowed.

In none of the games did the Orange and Blue nine play the game with their usual skill and alacrity, apparently suffering from a hoodoo in every department, pitching, fielding, hitting and running, none excepted. In speaking of the trip this morning Manager Edwards said: "The one feature of the trip was the excellent weather."

Albright Game.

The first contest that the 'varsity indulged in was with Albright at Meyerstown Wednesday. Three pitchers were used by Bucknell in this game, Hagan, Liebensberger and Buffington topping the mound for three innnings each.

Although the first two men up for Bucknell clouted the ball for safe hits it was impossible to score. The home team threw a scare into the Bucknell crew as soon as they went to bat, the second man up knocking a home run and a three sacker being made a few minutes later, the inning netting Albright four runs. Hagan and the men behind him tightened up a little in the next two innings and allowed but one hit.

Liebensberger did the twirling for the next three sessions and kept Albright well in control, giving them one hit that brought them nothing.

In the last two innings, while Buffington was on the mound, the home nine bunched a three bagger and three singles, which together with a pass and three errors, netted them five runs.

Although Bucknell made eight hits during the game, none of them were for more than one base and were so well scattered that but two runs were tallied.

The score:

Bucknell ..... 0 0 0 0 0 1 0 0 1—1
Albright ..... 4 0 0 0 0 0 1 4 x—9

Hits—off Hagan, 4 in 3 innings; off Liebensberger, 1 in 3 innings; off Buffington, 4 in 3 innings; off Light 5. Home run—Greenhalgh. Three-base hits—Moll 2. First base on balls—off Hagan, 1; off Buffington, 1; off Light, 1. Struck out—by Hagan, 1; by Buffington, 3; by Light, 5.

Catholic University.

The first game to be played in Washington was on Thursday with Catholic University at Brookland field which was a rather listless one that the home team won by a 9 to 2 score.

The one brilliant play of the day was a fast triple play, executed by Hayes and Pipp. With men on first and second and none down in the sixth Coughanour hit a hard line-drive at Hayes, who hauled it down, and touching second, doubled Sturgis, and then threw to Pipp at first, completing the triple play.

Hagan, who did the twirling for the Orange and Blue, was touched up for eleven hits by the Brooklanders, and in addition, issued seven passes.

Bucknell scored their only runs in the opening round, a base on balls, a two-bagger, and a single resulting in two runs for the Pennsylvanians.

Catholic University evened things up in their half of this inning, getting two runs as a result of two doubles and a base on balls.

The fourth was the home team's big inning. A base on balls, three singles, a stolen base, and two errors giving the Red and Black four tallies. In the fourth they managed to send three more runners across the pan, this time by means of a base on balls, a three-bagger, two singles and an error.

The score:

Catholic Univ. ..2 0 4 2 0 0 0 0 x—9
Bucknell .....2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0—2

Runs—Horan 2, Donnelly 2, McDonnell 2, Pipp, Hayes, Topham, Sturgis. First base on errors—Catholic University, 1; Bucknell, 3. Left on bases—Catholic University, 7; Bucknell, 3. First base on balls—off Trayers, 4; off Hagan, 7. Innings pitched—By Trayers, 6; by Ryan, 2. Hits made—Off Trayers, 3; off Ryan, 9. Struck out—By Trayers, 5; by Ryan, 1; by Hagan, 1. MICHIGAN TENNIS TEAM TO PLAY HERE MAY 23

UNIVERSITY TENNIS CLUB TO DO BATTLE ON 'SEM' COURTS.

Arrangements were completed last week for a tennis match to be played between the University of Michigan Tennis team, and the University Tennis club of Bucknell on Friday afternoon May 23. The games will be played on the seminary courts.

It is indeed a rare opportunity to be able to secure such a tennis team as that of Michigan to come to Lewisburg, and it would hardly have been possible had not Michigan been scheduled to play the University of Pennsylvania on May 22. Michigan is ranked with Yale, Harvard and Princeton and competes with these colleges in tennis, thus an excellent exhibition of first-class tennis may be expected.

While the University Tennis Club players have not as yet been definitely decided upon, we are assured of two excellent players in Spencer and Walter Harris.

It is hoped that the student body will not fail to avail themselves of the opportunity to see one of the finest college teams in America.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO ENTERTAIN.

The Dramatic Associations of Bucknell, the Frill and Frown and the Cap and Dagger, make the following announcement: May 24th is the time: Commencement Hall is the place, and an evening of fun is the event, at which the Frill and Frown and Cap and Dagger societies will entertain their friends of the University and town. They promise all who attend a pleasant evening.

Harvard has adopted a new ruling to the effect that any student desiring a degree as Bachelor of Science must pass an examination based on the entire four-year course.

"TO EAGLES MERE" NOW THE CRY

BUCKNELL SHOULD HAVE A BIG DELEGATION.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE THERE JUNE 13 TO 22.

Speakers of International Repute, Healthy Surroundings and Fine Athletic Equipment Makes Conference Popular Among Students.

"Are you going to Eagles Mere?" This is the by-word of the Y. M. C. A. in their movement to have a large delegation at the Middle Atlantic Students' Conference to be held there from June 13 to 22. Eagles Mere, a centrally located summer resort has been selected as the place; because its pure mountain air, its fine bathing, and boating, and its first class athletic field make it an ideal place for a large gathering of college men.

The aim of the Y. M. C. A. is to have Bucknell represented by at least thirty men. Only forty-five miles from Lewisburg, Eagles Mere is handy to Bucknell students. Coming at the close of examinations it should be especially attractive because it adds a needed rest and recreation to a period of intellectual enjoyment. Meetings are held in the auditorium every morning which are addressed by men of national and international fame. The afternoons are free for personal intercourse with the leaders or for tennis, baseball, boating, swimming, or long walks in the woods; in short, every opportunity is afforded the men for leading a healthy, normal life while coming face to face with the world's greatest problems.

When one considers that John R. Mott, a Cornell graduate of international fame in Y. M. C. A. work, F. S. Brockman, National Y. M. C. A. Secretary in China, Clifford G. Roe, author of "The Panders," and other equally prominent men are to be present, it is evident that all who miss the conference will lose an opportunity especially vital to all college men.

It is the intention of the Bucknell delegation to rent a cottage where in true college style they will eat, sleep, entertain, and be merry. To do this a sufficient number must go to warrant it. President Zinn, just returned from a conference of Y. M. C. A. presidents, reports that State will be represented by 200 hundred men, Princeton by 150, while Dickinson, Gettysburg, Ursinus and others will have over 25 each. Those intending to go and all others that may be interested should get in touch at once with "Jack" Rice, '14, chairman of the conference committee, who will be pleased to give any information desired.

Representative Showalter will address the meeting of the Y. M. C. A. next Thursday evening.

This paper is published once a week during the college year by the Orange and Blue Board, representing the student body of Bucknell University. Subscription $1.25 per year, $1.00 if paid before January 1 of the college year. Communications addressed to the Orange and Blue, Lewisburg, Pa.

THE NEW SONG BOOKS.

It is the unbounded duty of every true college man to give his whole support to the publication of the Songs of Bucknell, Old and New, which, if the advance subscription list warrant the venture, will be placed before the students in book form next fall. The need of such a publication has long been felt here at Bucknell for although there have been probably more songs written in honor of Old Bucknell than of any other college in the country of like size, yet it has been a great many years since any of these songs have been published in a single volume. To Dr. Bartol and Prof. Stoltz, under whose direction the new song book will be compiled, the college already owes a large debt for having brought the project to a point of action, and when they will have completed their work the indebtedness to them of the present and future sons of Bucknell will be indeed great. As the author of a large number of Bucknell's best songs, Dr. Bartol is well fitted for the task for which he has so kindly offered his services. On account of several liberal contributions which have been received it has been possible to offer the new Song book to the students for one dollar a copy, considerable less than the cost of having them printed. It is now up to the men of Bucknell to decide whether or not the book shall be published and it is hoped that every student will pledge himself or herself to take one or more of the books, assuring the perpetuation of the best of the songs and anthems that honor our Alma Mater.

ENCOURAGE THE TEAM.

The poor showing which was made in the East by the 'Varsity baseball team last week should be an incentive for every man to turn out at the game with Lehigh next Saturday and by giving a demonstration of the old-time cheering show the boys on the team that we are still behind them and glad to offer them encouragement. It is a bit discouraging to a team to play through a nine-inning game without being given a single good organized cheer and the players cannot be expected under such circumstances to play in their best form. And besides the Lehigh game is Straw Hat game and the approved time for the appearance of the summer headgear at Bucknell.

SOPH. ORATORICAL CONTEST.

The annual oratorical contest of the Sophomore class will be held this week on Friday night in Bucknell Hall. Among the orations to be given will be two which have won prizes in the great inter-state collegiate contests of the middle west. A feature of the evening will be the absence of women from the program for the first time in the history of the Sophomore contest at Bucknell.

Be ready to talk business with the chairman of the Conference Committee.

MUSICAL HONORS FOR EX-STUDENT

PAUL ALTHOUSE, EX-'12, SINGING AT METROPOLITAN.

ALTHOUSE IS ONE OF THE WORLD'S GREATEST TENORS

Student Who Once Sang in Local Church Has Set the Musical World Agog, Says Famous Critic.—Althouse Well Known by Many Here.

To be acclaimed one of the greatest tenor singers in the world is the honor that is now being bestowed on Paul Althouse, ex-'12, a native of Reading, and a former student at Bucknell. While attending college Althouse sang in the choir of the Lewisburg Presbyterian church, where his singing was one of the features of the services.

Those who were attending college when Mr. Althouse was a student here will doubtless remember him and take especial interest in the following article by the famous operatic critic, John Curtis, which recently appeared in a Philadelphia paper:

"The premier of a grand opera is always a matter of interest, but that of "Boris Godunuff" by the Metropolitan Opera Company was marked by an episode that has set the musical world agog. It was the professional debut of the young American tenor, Paul Althouse, who achieved such a triumph that critics rank him today as one of the world's great tenors. And Paul Althouse is but 24 years old.

"He has no European reputation, but is strictly an American product, and one of the numerous proofs that it is not necessary for any singer to go abroad for a musical education. It is a triumph for Philadelphia, in that Althouse is the most recent grand opera star who owes his present position to his introduction to the opera-going public to the Philadelphia Operatic Society, the only institution of its kind in the world.

"Althouse was born in Reading, Pa., and sang in various church choirs there. Ambitious to enter opera, he came to Philadelphia, and joined the chorus of Hammerstein's opera company the first season that energetic empresario gave an opera here. Althouse sang in the chorus during the season, then he went to Perley Dunn Aldrich to study the voice.

"Althouse joined the Philadelphia Operatic Society. He made his debut in grand opera in the society's production of "Faust" at the Academy of Music on the night of Jan. 26, 1911. His success was immediate and emphatic. Of the performance Victor Herbert said to me, "The chorus and ballet are wonderful, and your principles are up to the best professional standards, but where did you find that tenor? He is a phenomenon."

"In the audience was Florence Hinkle, the famous American concert soprano, who was also a member of the society. She was the soprano of the Collegiate church of New York, and the choir of that church needed a tenor. She recommended Althouse, who had to sing but once for the Music Committee and he was immediately engaged. He then removed to New York, and began to study with Oscar Saenger. Then came many months of hard work, a try-out at the Metropolitan, and a four year engagement with that company."

Donnelly, Sturgis, Pipp, Trayers. Stolen bases—Pipp, 2. Triple play—Hayes to Pipp. Umpire Handiboe.

Georgetown Game.

The game with Georgetown Friday at Washington was on an off day for Liebensberger, who did the twirling for the 'varsity, and the Orange and Blue lost 10 to 5. "Lieby" was exceedingly wild, passing eight and hitting four in the seven innings which he played, while Buffington, who relieved him, allowed two hits and a run in the eighth.

In the heavy hitting department, however, Bucknell, outclassed the home team, three of the four two-baggers in the game being made by Baer, Cruikshank and Sturgis. It was by bunching those three two-baggers with two singles in the seventh and eighth innings that Bucknell secured four of her five runs.

The score:

Georgetown	1	0	1	3	3	0	1	1	x	10
Bucknell	0	1	0	0	0	0	2	2	0	5

Runs—Hollander 3, Connelly, Fury, Davis 2, Shugrue, F. Mulachy, Mullaney, Coughanour, Sturgis, Cruikshank, Baer, and Miller. First base on errors—G. U., 1; Bucknell 3. Left on bases—G. U., 11; Bucknell 4. First base on balls—off Feinle 1; off Liebensberger, 8. Innings pitched—by Liebensberger, 7; Buffington, 1. Hits made—off Liebensberger, 12; off Buffington 1. Struck out—by Feinle 8; by Liebensberger, 3. Two-base hits—Fury, Baer, Sturgis and Cruikshank. Sacrifice hits—Feinle and Baer. Stolen bases—Hollander, Connelly and Davis. Umpires—Hughes and McCauley.

Mount St. Josephs.

The 'varsity went to Baltimore Saturday and there lost to Mount St. Josephs in the best game of the series by a score of 6 to 4. Buffington was the mound artist for the occasion and pitched a good game.

Bucknell was able to connect safely with the ball but three times. Campbell dropping the ball into left for one base in the second, Baer clouting a pretty bingle into left field in the sixth, and Cruikshank starting off the last inning with a three-base drive into the right garden. Four runs, however, were scored by the 'varsity by means of several errors and bases on balls.

The score:

Bucknell	1	1	0	0	0	0	0	0	2	—4
Mt. St. Josephs	1	0	0	2	0	0	0	3	x	—6

Three-base hits—Cruikshank, Marrisette. Hits—Off Buffington 8, off Marrisette 3. Struck out—by Buffington 4; by Marrisette 8. Base on balls—off Buffington 2, off Marrisette 2. Umpire—Kauffman.

MINOR BALL GAMES

MANY EXCITING CONTESTS ON CAMPUS LAST WEEK.

Although the varsity was away during the greater part of the past week, the students did not lack chances of seeing some clever games of baseball. There were several contests between student aggregations, which, if not instructive were at least interesting. The condensed results follow:

Wednesday—Demosthenians, 9; Phi Gamma Delta, 8. Batteries: Hamilin, Frantz and Bigler; Middaugh and Bliss.

Thursday—Biologists, 17; Civil Engineers, 4. Moore, Carver and Boyer; Zebner and Cochran.

Friday—Law, 8; Science, 4. Fisher and Burleau; Stein, Jordan, Gorsuch and Hulley and Stein.

Saturday, 1.30—Demosthenians, 11; Forum, 8. Fulton and Stahler; Frantz and Bigler.

Saturday, 3:00—Electricals, 15; Law, 13. Middaugh and Criswell; Fisher and Burleau. In this game Coleman, right fielder for the Electricals, was the star.

SPLIT EVEN IN GAMES OF WEEK

WON FROM SUSQUEHANNA BUT LOST TO LEHIGH.

PITCHERS DO GOOD WORK BUT SUPPORT IN VARIABLE

Varsity Played Best Game of the Year With Susquehanna but Did Poorly at Home Saturday.—Heavy Hitting is Bucknell's Specialty.

The Varsity baseball team won and lost one of the two games played during the last week. The 7 to 3 victory over Susquehanna at Selinsgrove on Thursday was the best exhibition that the team has made this year and showed the players in their true form, while the defeat at the hands of Lehigh Saturday was inexcusable and a big disappointment to the large crowd that witnessed the game.

Susquehanna Game.

The Varsity played its best game of the year at Selinsgrove Thursday afternoon and defeated Susquehanna University by a score of 7 to 3.

Liebensberger pitched for Bucknell and was hit for but five safe hingles, only the two that were secured off him in the ninth inning being directly responsible for runs. The young Southpaw gave an excellent exhibition, of twirling by striking out thirteen opponents and keeping the game always under control and convinced all who saw the game of his real ability and worth.

The team was behind the pitcher to a man and accorded him first-class support, playing almost flawless ball. Excellent fielding saved several wallops from resulting in safe hits.

Two of the three runs secured by Susquehanna should have been prevented. The first tally, which they got in the sixth, was due to a few minutes of wildness on the part of Liebensberger, a base on balls and a hit batter, permitting the first man to score on a single that followed. The second point, made in the following inning, would have been thwarted had the players kept their eyes open. Harkins had been hit and was on first when Lichty knocked the ball into foul territory back of first base. Umpire Strine, however, called the ball "fair," and while the players were trying to show him his mistake Harkins quietly circled the sacks. His run had to be allowed.

Topham started the scoring in the first inning when he was passed, went to second when Coughanour was hit, stole third and scored on Cruikshank's sacrifice fly to right field.

In the second Bucknell tallied two more runs, Miller waiking, taking second on Worrilow's sacrifice, and crossing the plate on Liebensberger's two-base drive into left field. "Lefty" was then brought in by a hit by Topham.

Sturgis added another run to the Orange and Blue score in the third inning after which neither side could push a man across the plate until in the sixth when Bucknell tallied once. Miller hit into right field for three bases and tallied on Worrilow's two base hit. Campbell then drove a liner into Stettler's hands, the latter doubling Worrilow at second unassisted.

In this inning Susquehanna scored its first run of the game. In the seventh inning both teams tallied one run. In the eighth Bucknell scored one on a two base hit and an error, while in the ninth a two base hit and a single brought in another run for the home team.

The most sensational play of the game occurred in the fourth when Follmer, of Susquehanna, caught Worrilow's long drive into center field while on a dead run, spearing the ball with one hand and rolling over the ground after catching it. Miller, of Bucknell, hauled down a long fly in the fifth inning in almost as sensational a manner.

SOPHOMORES COMPETE FOR ORATORICAL PRIZE

ONLY MEN ON PROGRAM AND WORK OF CONTESTANTS WAS EXCELLENT.

The annual contest of the Sophomore class in oratory was held last Friday evening in Bucknell Hall. Five young men of the class presented varied types of addresses with a freedom of movement and ease in delivery that augers well for their future work upon the platform. A noticeable feature was the individuality displayed by the speakers, no two being alike, although all had received instruction. The absence of young women from the program for the first time was due to their failure of a sufficient number to enter the competition.

ART DEPARTMENT HONORED.

The high standing of the Art Department has been recognized by those in charge of the yearly exhibit held at Wanamaker's in Philadelphia each November. As a result of the pictures displayed last year by Miss Scott, head of the Art Department, any original work done by students in the Bucknell studio under Miss Scott's supervision will be entered in the next exhibit.

ARE YOU GOING

To the Eagles Mere Conference this year? John R. Mott, Secretary of the World's Student Federation; Fletcher Brockman, National Y. M. C. A. Secretary for China; Dr. Cairns, of Aberdeen, Scotland, will be there. The dates are June 13-22.

SENIORS TO BE ENTERTAINED.

President and Mrs. Harris have issued invitations to the members of the Senior class to attend a reception at their home on University Avenue, Thursday evening, May 22.

COMMENCEMENT PROGRAM GIVEN

PROF. WILLIAMS, OF DENISON, CHIEF ORATOR.

CLASS REUNIONS WILL BE A FEATURE OF THE WEEK

Famous Tyrone Band Has Been Engaged to Play During the Week.—Dr. Whalen Will Give Annual Address to Educational Society.

The annual commencement exercises of Bucknell University, which will begin this year on Thursday, June 12, and continue until graduation day, Wednesday, June 18, give promise of being one of the best that the school has ever held.

The annual address to the University will be delivered on Tuesday of Commencement week in Commencement Hall by Prof. Charles L. Williams, of Denison University. The address before the Educational Society, which will be delivered on Sunday in the First Baptist church, will be by H. J. Whalen, D. D., of New Castle, Pa. D. E. Lewis, '96, will be the orator at the Anniversary celebration of the Alumni.

The Tyrone Band, one of the crack musical organizations in that part of the state, has been contracted for to furnish the music for commencement week. The twilight concerts, which have been such pleasing features of the week, will again be a part of the program.

Among the many features of the week will be the reunions of eight of the graduating classes of the University. These events are eagerly looked forward to by the members of the classes and a large proportion of the members may be expected to return at this time, to renew acquaintances with the professors and their former classmates. The classes of 1863, '73, '83, '88, '93, '98, 1903, and 1908, are those that will hold reunions this year.

The program of activities for Commencement week is as follows:

Thursday, June 12th.

7.30 P. M.—Recital Elocution Class.

Friday, June 13th.

7.30 P. M.—Exhibition of the School of Music.

Saturday, June 14th.

10.30 A. M.—Organ Recital, School of Music.
7.30 P. M.—Exercises, Fourth Form Academy.

Sunday, June 15th.

Y. W. C. A. ENTERTAINMENT.

The annual Y. W. C. A. entertainment will be given in Bucknell Hall on Thursday evening, May 15th. A splendid program will be presented. The proceeds of this evening of pleasure will be used to send delegates to the Y. W. C. A. conference at Eagles Mere. Bucknell had six girls present last year and desires a good representation this year.

TO JUNIOR "EX" SPEAKERS.

Those members of the Junior class who will take part in the Junior "Ex" will please write a 150-word digest of their orations and hand the same to the editor of the Orange and Blue on or before Friday of this week in order that they may be published in next week's issue.

THETA ALPHA HOLDS ITS ANNUAL ELECTION

MUCH INTEREST TAKEN IN THE SOCIETY DURING THE PAST YEAR.

Theta Alpha Literary Society closed a successful year with its meeting last Monday night. Prof. Hamblin was present at the last meeting and gave the society a very interesting and instructive talk on literary work. He advised that those interested in literary work should do more reading upon current topics of the day. He pointed out the benefits to be derived from systematic reading.

Keen interest has been taken in the work of the society during the past year and the meetings have been well attended. Owing to the number of men desiring to take part in literary work the membership of the society has been increased from fifteen to twenty-five. During the past year the society has confined itself entirely to debating but from the interest shown in the last meeting it is probable that with the opening of the Society next year other forms of public speaking will be included in the programs.

The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Joseph E. Malin, '16; Vice President, Charles E. Tilton, '16; Secretary, Shaller W. Ventres, '16; Treasurer, Victor E. Lewis, '16; Critic, Clarence W. Peters, '16.

SONG RECITAL

Miss Rice, of the Bucknell School of Music, will present her pupil, Miss Neta Sheep, soprano, assisted by Miss Ethel Clush, violin, in a recital in Bucknell Hall, Friday evening, May 16th, at eight o'clock. All friends of the department of music are welcome to attend the recital.

SIX RECORDS BROKEN IN MEET

TWO BUCKNELL FIELD RECORDS SHATTERED.

LEHIGH EXCELLED IN THE RACES AND WON THE MEET

A Good Track Permitted Fast Time In All of the Races—Most of Bucknell's Points Were Made in the Field Events.

Although Bucknell's track team excelled and outpointed the delegation from Lehigh in the dual meet held on the campus Thursday afternoon in the field events, the visitors made an almost complete string of victories in the track events and won the match by a total of 72½ to 32½ points.

The meet was a record-breaking event, four of the Lehigh records being smashed in this meet and two of those of Bucknell. The day was a perfect one for a track meet and the cinder track was in the best of condition and conducive to fast time.

R. H. Sproul, of Lehigh, broke the records of his college in both of the two events in which he was entered, running the 100 yard dash in 10 seconds flat, and outdistancing Sturgis, of Bucknell, by a few inches in the broad jump, making 22 feet and 9 inches. But even at that Sturgis broke the jumping record of this school with a leap of 22 feet and 2 inches.

In the discus throw the records of both colleges were smashed and Captain Bailey, of the visitors, tossed the classic disk just two inches farther than did Hagan, of Bucknell, and captured first place.

The Lehigh record in the half-mile race was broken by J. N. Burke who negotiated the distance in 2 minutes and 2 seconds. Burke also ran the 440 yard dash in 10 seconds flat, but he was disqualified by the officials for having fouled Lowther, of Bucknell, while the runners were bunched at a point halfway around the course.

Through a misunderstanding among the officials Jordan, of Bucknell, was deprived of second place in the 100 yard dash which he justly earned. A hundred spectators grouped near the finish line granted him a position but the Lehigh manager and timer gave the place to Beckley. A compromise was effected which gave the two men a tie for second place.

Captain Teamer added more honor to his already large string in the shot put and hammer throw, winning first place in both events. Gilpin, '16, was also responsible for several of Bucknell's points, winning first place in the high jump and second in the 120 yard hurdles. Glass, '16, was granted first place in the pole vault. The other Bucknell winners of second places were Lowther, in the quarter-mile, Bott in the half-mile, and Jordan in the 220 yard hurdles.

This paper is published once a week during the college year by the Orange and Blue Board, representing the student body of Bucknell University. Subscription $1.25 per year, $1.00 if paid before January 1 of the college year. Communications addressed to the Orange and Blue, Lewisburg, Pa.

REJECTING CUSTOM.

There are always those about college who regret, and rightly too, without claim to the epithet of laggards, the demise of some phase or other of student life which has bound itself more or less inseparably with the past. Two such departures to be lamented attract our attention; that of the time-honored Euepia Society, founded on the very eve of the founding of the college and bearing on its membership book the names of celebrated Bucknellians, and again the departure of an event in college life, the annual reception of the college men to the college women.

Our lamentation, in this latter case, does not have to do so much with the mere lack of a college men's reception, to be sure, but rather aims at the unthinking, care-little manner in which all of us students are prone to be forgetful of the customs and traditions of college life. Some other colleges guard customs and traditions as bits of history to be preserved.

CREDIT WHERE DUE.

With the exception of a slight mix up and misunderstanding among the officals during the running of the 100 yard dash it is doubtful if there was ever a more successful track meet held at Bucknell than that conducted on the Athletic Feld Thursday afternoon with Lehigh, even though the visitors secured the most points. From start to finish the meet was run off in rapid-fire order and tiresome intervals between events, which usually occur at such athletic functions, were entirely absent. The cinder track was in the best condition it has been in for years and that fact was in a large measure responsible for the fast time that was made by the runners. The untiring efforts of Manager McKeague, of the track team, made the meet the success that it was and we take off our hat to him.

SPOKE ON IMMIGRATION.

At the Students' Bible Class Sunday morning Dr. Harris dealt with questions pertaining to immigration. He brought out that one of the reasons why the immigration is so gigantic this year is the unsettled conditions abroad, especially in the Balkan territory. One very conspicuous fact is that nealy all of the dealers in narcotics and alcoholics are foreigners and consequently, as Dr. Harris said, are indirectly responsible for much poverty and crime in this country. The speaker said that it is quite essential that the immigrant know the arts of peace and that the laws governing immigration exclude those of radical ideas such as anarchists, and those who are mentally or physically defective. In conclusion, Dr. Harris showed how the enforcing of a sex law would greatly diminish the white slave traffic in New York and other cities near the coast.

Lee Talbot, the former Cornell University wrestler and weight thrower, may join the professional ranks and go after the heavyweight wrestling honors this fall.

SPLIT EVEN IN GAMES OF WEEK.

Three-base hit—Miller. Two-base hits—Liebensberger, Topham 2. Sturgis, Worrilow 2, Harkins. Sacrifice hits—Cruikshank, Worrilow. Stolen bases—Topham 2, Sturgis 2, Coughanour. Struck out—by Liebensberger 13, by Peters 11. Bases on balls—off Liebensberger 3, off Peters 2. Double play—Stettler, unassisted. Wild pitch—Peters. Umpire—Strine.

Lehigh Game.

In a game replete with heavy hitting and costly errors by both teams, Bucknell bowed in defeat at the hands of Lehigh Saturday afternoon on the Bucknell campus. Although the weather was more suitable for football than for baseball a large crowd of students and townspeople were present to see the game. The final score was 11-9.

Buffington pitched for the Orange and Blue, and his work was better than the score indicates, striking out five men and giving no free passes to first. Costly errors, however, of which Coughanour contributed four, were the cause of the defeat, the Brown and White getting only three earned runs. Keady pitched a good game for the visitors besides winning his own game in the eighth with a home run drive. In the ninth inning Bucknell by a series of clean drives made the most sensational and exciting rally seen on the home grounds this season, but fell two runs short of overtaking Lehigh.

No scoring was done until the third inning when three runs, coupled with an error by Baer, gave the visitors three runs. In the fourth with Miller and Coughanour on base Campbell connected with the ball, sending Miller across with Bucknell's first run. Two errors allowed Worrillow to bring in another tally in the following inning.

In the first half of the eighth inning O'Keefe reached first on an error by Coughanour, Bell was out at first, but MacHardy made a two-bagger, scoring O'Keefe. After Wright was out at first Keady made his homer and scored Mac Hardy. In the last half Bucknell scored two tallies.

Each team made five runs in the ninth. With one on base and two out Coughanour made an overthrow to first which resulted in Bucknell's undoing. Two hits, another error, and a man being hit by Buffington were responsible for Lehigh's succession of tallies.

In the final half Hagan, who had taken Buffington's place after two were out in the first half, made first on an error, and Worrilow responded with a hit, filling the bases. Sturgis was out at first, while Hagan scored. Cruikshank hit safe scoring Topham and advancing Worrilow to third. Miller's scorching home-run scored himself and Worrilow but brought an end to Bucknell's chances.

These championship games, inaugurated a year ago will be held in connection with a May Day fete to be given by the girls of the schools under the direction of several Bucknell graduates. The games will be held on the Playground on the "Point."

SIX RECORDS BROKEN IN MEET.

Judging from the showing that the Lehigh team made in a meet held at Bethlehem Saturday with Haverford college it would seem that they were running and jumping exceptionally well in the meet here Thursday, for none of their marks were as good as in the Bucknell meet. They took second place in the 100 yard dash when the winner's time was 10 3-5 seconds.

The following were the events:

100 yard dash—first, R. H. Sproul, Lehigh; second, tie, Jordan, Bucknell, and C. D. Beckley, Lehigh. Time, 10 sec.

220 yard dash—first, J. H. Morse, Lehigh; second, C. D. Beckley, Lehigh. Time, 23 2-5 sec.

880 yard run—first, Burke, Lehigh; second, Bott, Bucknell. Time, 2 min. 2 sec.

1 mile run—first Mickel, Lehigh; second, Burns, Lehigh. Time, 4 min. 46 3-5 sec.

2 mile run—first, Davies, Lehigh; second, Burns, Lehigh. Time, 10 min. 46 2-5 sec.

120 yard hurdles—first, Raine, Lehigh; second, Gilpin, Bucknell. Time, 17 3-5 sec.

220 yard hurdles—first, Murphy, Lehigh; second, Jordan, Bucknell. Time, 28 1-5 sec.

Shot put—first, Teamer, Bucknell; second, Bailey, Lehigh. Distance, 39 ft. 6½ in.

Hammer throw—first, Teamer, Bucknell; second, Grumbach, Lehigh. Distance, 104 ft. 10 1-8 in.

Discus throw—first, Bailey, Lehigh; second, Hagan, Bucknell. Distance, 115 ft. 3 in.

Broad jump—first, Sproul, Lehigh; second, Sturgis, Bucknell. Distance, 22 ft. 9 in.

Pole vault—first, Glass, Bucknell; second, Keyes, Lehigh. Height, 9 ft. 6 in.

RECITAL BY MUSIC GRADUATES.

Two of this year's graduates of the School of Music made their debut at a recital in Bucknell Hall Thursday evening when Miss Hollingshead, head of the Piano department, presented her pupil, Miss Helen Wedekindt, and Miss Armstrong, head of the Violin department, presented her pupil, Miss Ethel Clush. The program rendered was exceptionally fine.

HILL GOSSIP

Middleton, '13, spent the week-end with friends at Shamokin.

Dr. Cressinger, '93, was up from Sunbury Saturday to see the Lehigh game.

Rosa L. Hartley, '97, is now teaching in the Acadia Seminary, Wolfeville, Nova Scotia.

Stoughton, '12, and Musser, '12, of Altoona, were Sunday visitors at their homes in Lewisburg.

St. Bonaventure college will play baseball with the Varsity on the campus next Saturday afternoon.

About a dozen students accompanied the team to Selinsgrove last week and witnessed the victory over Susquehanna.

Dean, '13, and Harris, '13, were in Philadelphia Saturday taking the examinations for teachers in the schools of that city.

The Bucknell band has been engaged to play at the Memorial exercises of the local lodge of Odd Fellows on June 8th.

Dr. S. B. Meeser, '3, and wife, of Chester, have announced the betrothal of their daughter, Carol, to Eugene E. Ayres, also of Chester.

"Ted" Mercer, who conducted a series of meetings at Bucknell last year, recently delivered several addresses at Franklin and Marshall college.

It is said that several fourth-year men were disappointed when they failed to receive an invitation to the President's reception on the 22nd.

Gretchen Radack, '11, recently coached the seniors of Franklin high school for a very successful production of a three-act play, "A College Town."

At the First Baptist church next Sunday evening, Dr. Llewellyn Phillips, of the College faculty, will speak on the subject, "Billy Sunday, or a Study of a Religious Revival."

The varsity baseball team will play the Milton team that it defeated here two weeks ago at Riverside Park Milton, on Wednesday afternoon.

The annual informal spring dance of Theta Delta Tau is to be given at Riverside Park, Milton, Friday evening. A Sunbury orchestra will furnish the music.

The vaudeville and picture show at the Orpheum tonight is for the benefit of the Bucknell Athletic Association. The admission is only ten cents and the program offered is well worth the money. Attend the show tonight whether you saw it this afternoon or not, a few laughs will do you good and the money will help a worthy cause.

JUNIOR "EX" TO BE HELD WEDNESDAY

SIX CONTESTANTS TO SPEAK FOR PRIZE.

SUBJECTS TO BE CONFINED TO THE UPLIFT MOVEMENT

First Time in Several Years That Young Ladies of the Class Have Appeared in the Exhibition.—Speaking Begins at 8.30.

The annual Junior Exhibition of Oratory will be held in Bucknell Hall next Wednesday evening. The speakers have been restricted this year in their choice of topics to some phase of the Uplift Movement and the variety of subjects and known ability of the contestants promise an evening of interest and edification.

The representatives of the class, who have been chosen on a basis of merit for excellence in Rhetoric and Public Speaking, will advocate the abolition of child labor, the establishment of commission government in cities, the betterment of rural conditions, the extension of missions, the substitution of peaceful measures for warfare, and the use of arbitration for the settlement of disputes between labor and capital. On the last subject mentioned Lotte will speak from personal experience, he having lost two weeks at the beginning of this term on account of a strike in New Jersey. Richards will offer his oration on Peace which was awarded first prize in the recent state intercollegiate contest.

The high standard set by the men of the Junior class last spring has put each speaker this year on his mettle. Encouragement is given to the men by the presence of two young ladies on the program. For two years past no woman has received a prize in this contest—last year by default and the year before by falling below the standard of excellence required. The young ladies this year hope to present productions of such merit that the former glory of the Junior contests will be restored.

Judgment in this contest is based partly on literary merit and partly on delivery. In a contest held several years ago all productions were ruled out but one, on the ground that they were not orations.

The contest will not begin until half past eight o'clock.

"DUTIES TO YOURSELF"

SUBJECT OF DR. RIEMER'S TALK TO THE Y. M. C. A.

Dr. Riemer, of the faculty, in his talk to the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening, took for his subject "Duties to Yourself." He spoke of these duties in such a manner as to bring them home to every man present. Dr. Riemer said every man wants to make good in life. To do this there are obligations which he must perform. The first naturally belongs to the body. Athletics should be taken up that will not slight one set of muscles but bring into play every one and our habits must be of the best.

The other obligation is to the mind. College stands primarily for development of mind. Every man must do his work with a "do and die spirit." This is the only way to accomplish things. If one lives within his means and does something worth while, using past knowledge for advancement, he is bound to succeed.

LIBRARY RETURN DAY.

Dr. Martin has announced Monday, June 2nd, as Library Return Day, by which time all books which have been taken from the library must be returned.

MISS SHEEP PRESENTED.

Miss Neta Sheep, who will be graduated this year from the school of vocal music, was presented by Miss Rice, head of the department, at a public recital in Bucknell Hall last Friday evening. The program consisted of ten numbers by Miss Sheep, who possesses a beautiful soprano voice, and three selections by Miss Ethel Clush, violinist, who is also to be graduated from the schol of music this year. Misses Wedekindt, Clarke, Knapp, and Thompson acted as ushers.

TENNIS MATCH WITH MICHIGAN FRIDAY NEXT

This week will be an especially interesting one for lovers of tennis. On Friday afternoon at 2.30 will be the big event of the season when the University of Michigan Tennis Team will meet Bucknell's players on the Sigma Alpha Epsilon court. Michigan was defeated by Cornell Saturday 4-2, so it is hoped that Bucknell will be able to make a good showing against these prominent players.

The entire Bucknell team has not as yet been fully chosen. Messrs. Spencer Harris, Walter Harris and W. L. Moyer are certain of positions on the team. The other member of the team will be chosen by Wednesday when the winner of the tournament, which is now being held, will have been finished.

Saturday morning Susquehanna University will play on the Seminary courts.

Bleachers and chairs will be placed around the courts so as to furnish suitable accommodations for the spectators. It is probable that the Bucknell band will furnish music for Friday afternoon's event.

An admission of twenty-five cents will be charged for the Michigan meet.

Varsity vs. Newberry, Wednesday.

TWO VICTORIES FOR VARSITY

MILTON AND ST. BONAVENTURE ARE CONQUERED.

PLAYERS ARE SHIFTED AND PLAY BETTER BALL

Varsity Almost Lost Game at Milton but Rallied in Closing Innings.—Miller's Home Run a Feature of St. Bonaventure Game.

The Varsity baseball team won both of its games last week, a rally in the closing innings of the Milton game turning the tide of battle and giving Bucknell the victory, while the game with St. Bonaventure on the campus Saturday was the property of the Orange and Blue from the very outset.

Bucknell, 10; Milton, 9.

By playing good ball during the opening innings of the game, poor ball in the fourth and fifth innings, and by making a decided rally in the last few periods, Bucknell finally won its game with Milton at Riverside Park last Wednesday afternoon.

The following from a Milton paper is a good account of the contest:—

Leibensberger started to do the pitching for Bucknell, and he served a variety of twisters and benders to Milton for four innings that had batters doing an almost continuous turkey trot from the bench to the plate, back to the bench, and then to the field where they were compelled to chase after the balls hit by Liebenberger's teammates. The collegian was great, until Catcher Sturgis was compelled to retire from the game because of a crippled finger, sustained by getting the digit in the wrong place to receive one of the pitcher's choice benders. After the big catcher retired "Leiby" seemed to be like a ship without a rudder. He put just as much stuff on the ball as he had been doing but seemed to lose all

SOPHS IN ANNUAL COTILLION.

The sophomores of the college and their friends will dance at Riverside Park, Wednesday evening, May 28, which is the date of the annual Sophomore Cotillion. The underclassmen have secured the Campbell orchestra, of Sunbury, for the occasion and will dance from nine to one o'clock. Tickets for the cotillion may be secured from the committee or at Dr. Heiser's drug store, upon payment of one dollar subscription. Mrs. B. W. Griffith and Mrs. Joseph M. Wolfe are to act as patronesses.

EXPECT VICTORY FOR TRACK TEAM SATURDAY

Final try-outs will be held on the campus next Tuesday afternoon when the men will be chosen who are to represent Bucknell in the triangular meet to be held at Lancaster on Saturday. Franklin and Marshall, Dickinson, and Bucknell will be represented in the meet which will undoubtedly be a hotly contested one. Manager McKeague with the eleven men who are to represent the Orange and Blue, will leave the Pennsy station on the 7.25 train Saturday morning.

The meet at Lancaster will be an important one and those taking first, second, or third places will be awarded gold, silver, or bronze medals. In addition to the individual medals a large fifteen-inch silver trophy cup will go to the college winning the meet, the cup to be held until the next meet when it will again go to the winning college and so on until one college will have won three meets, when the cup then becomes the property of that college.

Judging from the records already made by members of the track team, Bucknell will make a high bid for the first possession of the cup. While Bucknell did not succeed in piling up as many points as Lehigh in the Permanent Organization Made at Meeting Wednesday Night, and Parmenter, '14, Elected Chairman.—Committee to Make Nominations.

The movement which was started some time ago for the formation of a general caucus committee composed of representatives from all of the fraternities and the non-fraternity men in college, materialized last Wednesday evening when the first successful meeting was held and organization perfected.

The formation of such a committee is the outcome of the agreement which was recently entered into by all the organizations at Bucknell to meet in a general caucus before all college elections and to nominate men for the various positions. Every organization in school was requested to send one representative to the meeting held Wednesday and all but one were present.

The organization is to be known as The Representative Caucus of the Bucknell Student Body. Each organization and the non-fraternity men will be entitled to one representative, to be chosen by the men who are being represented. The chairman of the Caucus will always be the president of the Senior class but this year, inasmuch as the college year is nearly over, Parmenter, president of the Junior class, was made chairman for the remainder of the year. Zinn, '14, was elected secretary.

According to a resolution passed at the meeting of the caucus committee the purpose of the organization shall be, to act as a deliberative body for the consideration of and discussion of candidates for the various athletic association offices, and after full discussion to nominate suitable men for these offices.

All candidates for athletic association offices must now hand their names to the chairman of the caucus committee two weeks before the regular meeting of the committee. Each candidate must have passed off the required number of points in his college work, so as to be in good class standing before being eligible for nomination. He must also be a member in good standing of the Athletic Association.

At the meeting of the committee at least two of the candidates, but not more than three of them, will be recommended to the student body for election and their names placed in nomination at the meeting of the Athletic Association, when the students themselves will make the final selection by ballot.

SPOKE ON EASTERN CHURCH.

Dr. Harris spoke to the Sunday morning Bible class concerning the Eastern Church and various topics connected with it. It is especially interesting at present because the membership of that church is rapidly increasing. Dr. Harris explained the following terms which are directly connected with the church: (1) Holy; (2) Orthodox; (3) Apostolic. In the Eastern Church, Dr. Harris said, the communion is accomplished with both bread and wine while in the Western Latin Church bread only is given to the people. Other differences, Dr. Harris concluded, are found in marriage and baptismal laws, but all are the result of an original racial difference and consequently a difference in language.

See the tennis match with Michigan Friday afternoon.

VARSITY PLAYERS WHO WILL COACH NEXT YEAR

D. F. Dunkle, '13.

A. A. Jordan, '13.

S. P. Teamer, '13.

Albert A. Jordan, captain of last year's football team, has been engaged to coach the athletic teams at Kiskeminitas School, Saltsburg, next year. He will also teach History in that institution. Jordan is one of the best ends that Bucknell has ever turned out and was selected by Walter Camp last fall for a position on one of his mythical All-American teams. Besides having been captain of football this year Jordan played center on the Varsity basket-ball team and was a member of the Varsity track team.

Samuel P. Teamer played the strongest game of his career at guard on the Varsity football team last fall and was one of the mainstays of the eleven. Next year he will coach the football and other athletic teams of the high school of Berwyn, Pa., his home. Although lighter than most of his opponents Teamer never experienced much difficulty with them, his aggressiveness and knowledge of the game making him a very valuable member of the team. Teamer is one of the best track men that Bucknell has had in many years and is captain of the team this year. He also played on his class basket-ball and baseball teams.

D. Forrest Dunkle is another player whose place on the Varsity football team will be hard to fill. Dunkle earned a permanent position on the eleven in his sophomore year and played an excellent game at guard for two seasons. Last fall Coach Dickson shifted him to tackle, where he made good at once. Next year Dunkle will coach football and the other sports of the Ossining, N. Y., high school and will teach mathematics there.

Richardson, the other Varsity player who will be graduated this year, will continue his work by taking post-graduate work at Ohio State College.

This paper is published once a week during the college year by the Orange and Blue Board, representing the student body of Bucknell University. Subscription $1.25 per year, $1.00 if paid before January 1 of the college year. Communications addressed to the Orange and Blue, Lewisburg, Pa.

An X in the vacant space opposite this reading, indicates that your subscription is due. Will you please remit?

One of the most auspicious movements that have ben made in the history of this college toward doing away with factional politics and to make for a bigger and better Bucknell was the recent formation of the Representative Caucus of the Bucknell Student Body. To us the new system seems to be almost ideal and one that will remedy the poor conditions of the past few years, assuring the students that a man will not be sanctioned for an ounce unless he is in every way worthy of the honor. Of course the system cannot live without the thorough co-operation of every student, but as the value and need of such a Caucus is quite apparent to all of us, we are sure that it will receive unanimous support.

No act has been perpetrated by any student or students of Bucknell that deserves a more severe reprimand than that which occurred on the Hill Sunday afternoon. Bucknell was being honored by a visit from twenty-five or thirty young men who were attending a convention at Milton and had come down to Lewisburg to see our institution. These young men represented various parts of Pennsylvania and some of them might have been prospective students. It would have been a gentlemanly act for some student to have offered to show the visitors about the campus and through any of the buildings to which access could be had. Instead of doing this, a student (not a Freshman either) was so thoughtless and so lamentably uncultured as to throw water from his window on the visitors. Such an act can hardly be spoken of too severely. Instead of trying to boost Bucknell, as every student with a fair amount of common sense is trying to do, this student has deliberately harmed it.

While the problem of the selection of a class memorial to be left to the school by the Senior class is still a live topic, would it be amiss for us to suggest as an acceptable and suitable gift the establishment and presentation to the University of a fund of sufficient amount, to be known as the Class of 1913 Memorial Foundation, the income of which to be used for the express purpose of keeping the 1907 Memorial clock and the Class of 1911 Memorial Electric Bell System in working condition.

Almost invariably the Memorial clock on West College varies, if going, from three to ten minutes from "town" and standard time and is as changeable as the weather of last month. The Electric Bell System, with the regulator clock in the Library, is usually as variable as the big West College clock and too frequently the bell system has entirely failed to perform its proper functions. It is these facts that cause a student when telling another the time to usually state which of four kinds of time his watch is keeping, whether it be set according to the bell system, the railroad time, the town clock, or the college clock. Students who live off the campus and who depend on their watches to get to their recitations on time are very frequently late as a result of the continual difference between these timekeepers and the remedy of the conditions, from whatever source it comes, will be indeed welcomed.

COMMUNICATION.

Editor Orange and Blue:

Recently I met a member of the Senior class who gave me full information as to the present affairs of that body. To me it is strange indeed to learn that the class has permitted matters to reach such a lax condition. The loyalty and spirit which usually characterizes the activities of a class apparently are wholly lacking.

From the statements of my informant I infer there is no intention on the part of the class to liquidate the debt incurred by the manager of the 1912 L'Agenda. The principle in this, as so considered among business men, involves that of business honor. Since I am told that the Grit Publishing Co. has honorably discharged its obligation in the L'Agenda contract, it should behoove the class of 1913 to do the honest and square thing on its part.

Somehow the students of Bucknell are prone to overlook the fact that to contract a debt and then fail to discharge it hurts the reputation of our honored institution. When the report once goes abroad that Bucknell students do not pay their debts, how can we as alumni recommend our alma mater to business men as the place to educate their children?

As far back as I can learn in consulting old alumni it has always been the custom of the outgoing classes to leave a memorial to the college. Those of us who are acquainted with the situation are wondering if this time honored custom is to be broken this year. Surely there are some members of the class who are still imbued with loyalty and class spirit enough to act under existing conditions. If the seeming indifferences be on the part of the class executives or a few drones, why do not the earnest and energetic members get together and act independently? They need not be restricted because of the thoughtlessness and neglect of the minority.

I would suggest that the class awaken, throw off the spirit of indifference and get busy.

An Alumnus.

Editor Orange and Blue:

The cheering at the baseball game Saturday was quite noticeable by its absence. This lack of enthusiasm and encouragement to the team is pardonable in a Sunday school league but at a university such as Bucknell it should be unknown. The fault, as far as I can see, rents entirely with the students who fail to respond save in a chicken-hearted way when the cheerleader calls for a yell. Let us get together at the games Wednesday and Saturday, give the leader our full support, and show our players that we are with them every minute.

JUNIOR.

EXPECT VICTORY FOR TRACK TEAM SATURDAY.

last meet with that college, no mean showing was made by the Orange and Blue contestants. Lehigh, while ordinarily strong in track, made records in the meet with Bucknell which were far above their usual standard.

In the field events we are especially safe in saying that Bucknell will outshine both opponents. With Hagan and Teamer in the discus and hammer throws, Bucknell will be almost sure of first place in these events. The shot put is also one of Bucknell's strong points and will undoubtedly be carried off by Captain Teamer.

In the broad jump the records of neither F. and M. nor Dickinson have excelled 21 feet, while Sturgis holds a record of 22 feet 2 inches. Walters, who covers almost 21 feet, will also represent Bucknell, making the chances good for both first and second places in that event.

Gilpin, '16, will undoubtedly make a good showing for Bucknell in the high jump and hurdles. Some of the other men who will make strong contestants for Bucknell are Glass, '16, in the pole vault; Lowther, '14, in the quarter mile; Bott, '16, in the half mile, and Jordan, '13, in the hurdles.

idea of where the plate was located, or, if he did locate it, forgot the "stuff" and a Milton batter had the Bucknell outfield panting for breath after long chase to recover the ball. At last "By" Dickson, the coach, concluded Leibensberger had performed long enough and yanked him to the bench.

A nice loking young chap named Buffington next appeared on the mnd. He was just as nice as he was nice looking for he served up just the kind of balls that the local batters had been hankering for all afternoon. Those that you can "hit 'em where nobody ain't." The local willow wielders soon changed the score from seven to one to nine to seven, eight runs being scored in the fifth inning.

It is presumed that Coach Dickson told Buffington something after this innings for "Buff" tightened and nary a run could Milton score. Bucknell, however gathered in one in the sixth; one in the eighth, and one in the ninth, making the final score 10 to 9.

The all around work of Cruikshank featured for Bucknell and he performed like a veteran behind the bat when called upon to take Sturgis' place, though the position was new to him. There were no sensational fielding features.

Bucknell, 8; St. Bonaventure, 6.

Saturday afternoon Bucknell came out victorious in the game with St. Bonaventure on the Bucknell campus. Although several errors were made it was easily seen that the team had taken a decided brace in the fielding department, while the hitting was far above the ordinary, a home run and a three bagger giving Miller the honors in that branch.

Hagan started to pitch for the Orange and Blue, but after two runs had been registered off him in the second and two more in the third, Buffington was substituted, and his delivery and the visitors guessing for the remainder of the game. O'Connell did the twirling for St. Bonaventure and he was found for hits in every inning except the second.

Topham started things moving in the first by drawing a free pass to first. Worrilow made a pretty bunt, advancing Topham to second. Sturgis proved himself equal to the occasion by driving out a stinging three-bagger, and Topham scored. Cruikshank, the next man up, was out at first, and Sturgis came over with the second run.

The visitors began to make things look lively in the third, when they made two runs on a three base hit, a single, and a error. Three more hits in the third, one good for three sacks, enabled them to put two more runs across the pan. Buffington was then put in, and he held the visitors runless until the eighth, when two more runs were made.

Bucknell's big inning was the fifth, in which three runs were made. Buffington reached first on a slow drive over the pitcher's head, and Topham made a clean hit to left. Worrilow sent a grounder to second, but Osborne muffed it, and Buffington scored. Sturgis sent a three-bagger to right, scoring Topham and Worrilow. Cruikshank sent a fly to right and Gdaniec was out at first.

Miller added another run in the sixth by clouting the ball into deep center for a homer. In the seventh a two-bagger by Worrilow and a single by Sturgis, coupled with some slow handling of the ball by the visitors, gave the Orange and Blue their last two runs.

GAVE VAUDEVILLE SHOW.

A well patronized vaudeville show was given in the Orpheum theatre last Monday afternoon and evening through the courtesy of the owner, Mr. Koser, for the benefit of the Bucknell Athletic Association. At each performance the Academy Quartet sang several appreciated numbers; Tripician, '16, and Middaugh, '16, gave a humorous dialogue and sang several numbers; and a sextette selected from the Lewisburg Choral Society sang several appreciated numbers; latter number was especially fine. The Bucknell band generously donated their services and played in front of the theatre preceding the performances.

VARSITY DEFEATS LEBANON VALLEY

TRIUMPHED OVER VISITORS IN SHORT GAME.

NO FREE PASSES IN GAME AND FEW RUNS WERE MADE

Buffington Twirled an Excellent Game for Varsity and Gave But Six Hits.—Wet Grounds Responsible for Errors Made by Players.

In the shortest game played on the home grounds in many years Bucknell downed Lebanon Valley Saturday with a 4-3 score. It was the best game the Orange and Blue played this year, and they would have probably blanked the vistors had it not been for three errors caused by the muddy condition of the field. Only one hour and ten minutes were required to pull off the contest, but what was lacking in quantity was well made up in the quality of ball which both teams played.

Buffington pitched for the Orange and Blue and had the visitors completely at his mercy. In six of the innings only three men faced him, and he was touched for but six hits, only one of them being good for more than one base. Stickell pitched for Lebanon Valley, but was found for twelve safe hits. Neither pitcher gave a base on balls. Topham and Fisher for Bucknell and T. Lyter for Lebanon Valley led in stick work, each having three safe bingles to his credit.

Fisher started the ball rolling for Bucknell in the third by getting to first on a hit over short-stop, and advanced to second on a sacrifice by Coughanour. Buffington was out on a foul fly caught by Lyter. Topham sent Fisher home by a hit to right field, and soon stole second. Crulkshank responded with a single and Topham scored the second run.

After scoring a run in the fourth on two singles and an error by Crulkshank, the visitors succeeded in tying the score in the sixth. J. Lyter made first on an error, and Snavely and T. Lyter followed with singles, filling the bases. An error due to the muddy field then sent J. Lyter and Snavely across the pan, which ended the scoring as far as Lebanon Valley was concerned.

The Orange and Blue came back strong in the "lucky seventh" and scored two runs. Topham made a clean bingle and stole second, coming home with the tying run on Crulkshank's hit. Sturgis proved himself equal to the emergency by landing on the sphere for a two-bagger, and Crulkshank sped across the plate with the winning tally.

PROF. DAVIS SPOKE BEFORE STATE FORESTRY EXHIBIT

MANY OTHER NOTED EXPERTS GAVE ADDRESSES AT PHILADELPHIA.

Prof. Nelson Davis, of the Department of Biology, was given a signal honor last week when he was one of the speakers at the forestry exhibition, held under the auspices of the Pennsylvania Forestry Association in Horticultural Hall, Philadelphia. Dr. Davis spoke on "Chestnut Culture" before an audience that crowded the hall, which included whole classes from various schools in that city.

The exhibition continued from Monday until Saturday and ten speakers, authorities in the various departments of forestry, addressed the association. Among the speakers were Prof. Graves, successor to Gifford Pinchot as United States Forester; Prof. Ferguson, Dean of the Department of Forestry of State College; Dr. Harshberger, Professor of Botany at the University of Pennsylvania; Mr. Williams, Deputy State Commissioner of Forestry; Mr. Stone, National President of the Audubon Society, and Dr. J. T. Rothrock, Secretary of the Pennsylvania Forestry Reservation Commission.

Prof. Davis outlined the wonderful opportunities to be met with in this as yet unexploited field in forestry and delighted his audience with a history of the expansive chestnut tract of C. K. Sober in Northumberland county which is fast making its owner wealthy. He emphasized the fact that waste mountain land, heretofore idle, can be utilized and made to produce revenue for those engaged in cultivating chestnut trees.

TO SHOW PICTURES.

At some time during the week slides of last year's Y. M. C. A. Conference at Eagles Mere will be shown in Bucknell Hall. Watch the bulletin board for further notice of the date.

JUNIORS ORATE IN ANNUAL "EX"

CONTESTANTS SPOKE ON UPLIFT MOVEMENT.

ANNUAL EXHIBITION ONE OF EXCEPTIONAL SUCCESS

Interesting Variety of Phases of the Subject Fully Discussed.—Excellent Musical Selections Also Rendered as Part of Program.

The annual Junior exhibition of original orations was held in Bucknell Hall last Wednesday evening before a fair sized and very appreciative audience. That the contest was one of unusual success is the opinion of all those who were present, for all the orations were both well written and well delivered. Owing to the excellence of every speaker the judges will no doubt have considerable difficulty in selecting the winner.

The orations this year were restricted to some phase of the Uplift Movement and although the general topic of all was the elevation of humanity in some respect, yet such a variety of subjects in regard to this movement were chosen as to make the program very interesting.

In addition to the six orations the audience was favored by two excellent musical numbers, consisting of a piano duet by Misses Lathrop and Reinhart, and a vocal solo by Miss McCauley.

The essence of the six orations was as follows:

Samuel H. Coulter.

Coulter, speaking on "The Extension of Christian Civilization to Foreign Lands," said: The needs of the non-Christian world are very great, as can be seen by contrasting them with the blessings that Christianity has bestowed on civilized lands. Great industries, prosperous farms, pleasant homes and happy people, all proclaim the moral uplift of Christian nations. On the other hand, down-trodden men, wretched women and unhappy children declare the woes of paganism. While the need and opportunity for its relief are great in the home lands, both need and opportunity in foreign lands are unparalleled in the history of the world. To the honor of Christianity a band of noble men and women has gone forth to allay such urgent distress, but, where one now labors, a hundred are needed to sow the seeds of knowledge that shall some day ripen into the harvest of enlightened nations. And thus, means of providing better conditions of life among these people are needed and to meet these needs we must make an appeal for teachers and workers who shall labor to dispel such ignorance and relieve such hopelessness.

Frank Russell Hamblin.

Russell Hamblin took as his subject, "The Government of Cities by Commissions," and said: At present we find corruption and extravagance almost everywhere in city government. This is shown in the protection of the liquor and vice interests, in the fraudulent manipulation of franchises and contracts, and in ballot-box stuffing and padding of the registration lists. The evil results are not limited to the city, but extend through state and nation. To remedy this the

BAND TO GIVE CONCERT ON CAMPUS FRIDAY NIGHT

TO PLAY SELECTIONS AND TAKE COLLECTION TO PURCHASE NEW MUSIC.

Bucknell's band will give the students of the University a concert next Friday evening at 7.15 o'clock on the campus, the weather permitting. A number of new selections will be played and the entire student body should avail themselves of this opportunity to hear some excellent music.

A silver collection will be taken during the concert in order to defray the expenses of some new music the band contemplates purchasing. In case of rain the concert will be given in Bucknell Hall.

RAIN INTERFERED

WITH MICHIGAN TENNIS MATCH LAST FRIDAY.

Lovers of tennis were greatly disappointed Friday when the scheduled match between the Bucknell University club and the team representing the University of Michigan had to be cancelled on account of the inclemency of the weather.

Bucknell would have been represented by Spencer and Walter Harris, Moyer and Mahlin. The Harris boys and Moyer were accorded positions on the team without competition on account of their well known superior ability at the game, while Mahlin was selected as a result of the round-robin tournament which was held last week.

The showers of the week-end also made necessary the cancellation of the tennis match scheduled to have been played Saturday between the Varsity team and that representing Susquehanna University.

BUCKNELL THIRD IN TRACK MEET

FIRST TRIANGULAR MEET A BIG SUCCESS.

F. & M. TOOK FIRST PLACE AND DICKINSON THE SECOND

Varsity Team Captured Two Firsts, Five Seconds and Four Thirds,—Meet to Be Staged on Bucknell Field Next Year.

The Varsity track team returned Saturday evening from Lancaster, where they came out in third place in the triangular meet held by Franklin and Marshall college which was the first of the annual events which will take place between F. & M., Dickinson and Bucknell. F. & M. won first place in the meet with a score of 49 points, Dickinson secured second place with 47 points, and Bucknell's athletes tallied 29.

It was one of the most closely contested meets ever held in Lancaster and the winner was not decided until the last event when Roberts, of F. & M., won the broad jump and placed his college in the lead. The Orange and Blue team say that the meet was run off in remarkably fast order and the visiting track men were accorded every courtesy and privilege possible.

The prize for the meet is a large silver cup, which goes eventually to the team winning it three times. Individual medals were given to winners of first, second and third places.

In the meet Bucknell won two first places, five seconds and four thirds, Gilpin winning the high jump and Hagan the discus throw. Capt. Teamer taking second place in the hammer throw and shot put, and third in the discus events; Lowther coming in second in the quarter mile and third in the 220 dash, Jordan taking third in the 100 yard dash and second in the 220 yard hurdles, Walters winning second in the broad jump, and Bott being the third to cross the line in the two-mile run.

Next year the meet between these colleges will be held here at Bucknell.

100-yard dash—First, Garton, D.; second, Sykes, F & M.; third, Jordan, B. Time, 10 2-5 sec.

220-yard run—First, Sykes, F. & M.; second, Garton, D.; third, Lowther, B. Time, 22 2-5 sec.

BAND TO PLAY DURING COMMENCEMENT WEEK.

The Tyrone band, pictured above, which has been engaged to give daily concerts on the campus during Commencement week, was awarded first prize at a contest held in Altoona last year in which many prominent bands participated. Edward Hungerford, author of "The Man Who Stole a Railroad," said of this organization, "I could hardly hesitate to pronounce it one of the best bands that I have ever heard. The Tyrone Band reflects a great deal of credit upon the Pennsylvania Railroad, which has fostered it; it reflects still greater credit upon the bandmen themselves—the men who have given time and practiced energy to its perfection."

This paper is published once a week during the college year by the Orange and Blue Board, representing the student body of Bucknell University. Subscription $1.25 per year. $1.00 if paid before January 1 of the college year. Communications addressed to the Orange and Blue, Lewisburg, Pa.

An X in the vacant space opposite this reading, indicates that your subscription is due. Will you please remit?

At a large number of the colleges in the East the students gather on the steps of the Chapel or at some other place on the campus one evening a week during the Spring time and hold a "Sing," joining heartily in singing the most popular of their college songs. At Brown this custom has been observed for many years by the members of the Senior class, while at Allegheny an interclass singing contest is held every year. By means of these "Sings" the college men are brought together in an air of goodfellowship that is conducive to an increased devotion to their Alma Mater. To inaugurate such a custom at Bucknell would be a long step in the right direction and would undoubtedly receive the full support of the faculty and student body.

TO THE ALUMNI.

Reunions are to be held this year of the classes of '63, '73, '83, '93, '98, 1903, and 1908. Look over the list and see if your class is down for one. Begin plans now to come back for it and write your friends in the class and urge them to do likewise. If you are married bring your wife, if not bring your "sister." A large number of changes have been made around Bucknell that will make a visit here this year well worth the time and expense involved, and all your classmates will be here and anxious to see you. Take a few days off, June 16th, 17th and 18th, and see what is doing on the Hill. You will be well repaid.

commission form of government is proposed. This form of government was first tried by Galveston and later improved upon by Des Moines, and has led to wonderful results in economy and clean government. This plan is of advantage because it provides a business-like government, giving five men complete control over all legislation and minor officers. It enables the people to fix responsibility for all actions taken, through the short ballot it enables the voter to know for whom he is voting and eliminates party politics. The initiative, referendum, and recall, which may be applied, are of advantage but seldom need to be brought into use. Ward elections are abolished. In general this plan makes corruption and extravagance impossible and restores popular government in our cities.

Edward J. Richards.

E. J. Richards delivered his oration on "The Relation of Christians to the Peace Movement," which recently won the State Peace Prize, and in part said: To-day we recall with horror the terrible system employed in the dark ages to determine justice; namely—Trial by Battle. Its folly and its wretchedness are known to all of us. Reverting to that early period in which it prevailed our minds are impressed by the general barbarism of it. We thank God that we are not of that age.—that ours is an age of light, while theirs was an age of darkness. But the dark ages have not passed away. While condemning the bloody contests of individuals as unchristian and denying to all these the right of waging war we continue to uphold a system far more atrocious and hideous. Let us abandon this system of Preparation for War in time of Peace, as irrational, as unchristian. Then our battlements shall be schools, colleges and churches; our arsenals shall be libraries; our navy shall be peaceful ships on errands of perpetual commerce; our army shall be teachers of youth and ministers of religion.

Let the abolition of war, the overthrow of the war system, with the disarming of the nations be our guiding star. At last let us be true followers of the Prince of Peace.

Minnie I. Etzweiler

Miss Minnie I. Etzweiler spoke on "The Dawn of a New Day for the Rural Community," and said in part: One of the first things that attracts our attention in the study of rural conditions is the emigration from country to city. There are several reasons for this; the isolation, lack of social life, long hours, hard work, low wages on the farm coupled with the desire of the country boy to seek greater opportunities in the city. But usually it is the best boy who goes to the city, and those who are left behind, despondent, sink low in morals and crime; schools and churches are neglected and the result is virtual paganism and barbarism. To better these conditions is the aim of the country life movement, and it has already done much; agriculture is becoming a profession, scientific farming is being introduced, and everywhere improvements are being made. Much has been done, but very much still remains to be done, and for this great work college men and women are needed everywhere.

Edna Alice Whittam.

"A National Duty: Justice to the Child," was the topic of Miss Edna Whittam's oration. "Child labor is uncongenial to American civilization because American civilization is characterized by the spirit of fair play and compassionateness of human suffering; but most especially because American civilization has for its dominant principle, the moral equality of all human beings.

"Child labor cuts off development, physically, mentally and morally, which is an unpardonable offense. It robs children of their childhood, for labor and the life of a child with its time for play cannot be experienced by the child at the same time.

"The question is a nation question and protection must be national rather than sectional as at present.

"Child labor is to be overcome by better schools and compulsory school laws, honestly enforced; by the industrial schools which must be under state control so that through these the nation may be upbuilded.

"Justice to the child is the ground on which child labor is to be abolished, since the nation's greatest resource is the life and joy of childhood. A weakened childhood mars the state. Conscience demands that we save the child for its own sake."

C. Walter Lotte.

In speaking of "The Use of Arbitration in the Settlement of Labor Disputes," C. Walter Lotte said: "A spirit of great unrest in all branches of life at the present time is showing itself in the economic realm where disputes between labor and capital are threatening our largest industries. The only method of settling these disputes is the method of voluntary arbitration. The use of arbitration would benefit the laboring man because of the fact that it would do away with the loss of wages accompanying a strike; it would benefit the employer by doing away with all the accompanying evils of a strike; and it would benefit the people at large because it would do away with the conditions brought on by a great strike, conditions which foster anarchy and destroy Americanism. Instances of the use of arbitration in this and other countries show its feasibility. The substitution of arbitration for the strike is a victory for freedom over anarchy."

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON ENTERTAINS AT PARTY

EIGHTEEN YOUNG LADIES ARE THE GUESTS OF THAT FRATERNITY.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon chapter house is just now the residence of eighteen visiting girls and their two chaperones, Mrs. William R. Peoples, of Jersey Shore, and Mrs. Mabel Wendt Zahn, of Williamsport, all of whom are attending the fifth annual house party of the local chapter of the fraternity. Tuesday morning, following the formal ball in the Lewisburg armory this evening, the visiting guests will depart for their homes.

A cold, driving rain accompanied the first incoming guests of S. A. E. last Friday afternoon and continuous inclemency marked the opening days of the party. An informal party at the chapter house Friday evening began the order of events. Saturday afternoon the visitors saw Bucknell defeat Lebanon Valley on the college campus.

An informal dance in the Lewisburg Armory with music by the Sunbury orchestra furnished entertainment Saturday evening. Sunday evening, save for a trip to the observatory, the guests remained at home and the party disbanded early.

The formal ball in the Armory this evening is to mark the close of the party. The dancing hall by means of college pennants, banners and other decorations, has been made as comfortable as possible for the event. The Pottsville orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music. Plans have been made to entertain a number of friends and alumni of the chapter in addition to the visiting guests.

The following are the members of the party: Mrs. W. R. Peoples, Jersey Shore; Mrs. Walter W. Zahn, Williamsport; and the Misses Blanche Harcourt, Asbury Park, N. J.; Myra West, Toledo, O.; Caroline Best, Montgomery; Sarah Harinton, Paterson, N. J.; Mary Tate, Allenwood; Hazel Galloway, Carrie Housel and Alvesta Reber, Lewisburg; Marie Agnew and Georgie Kurtz, Franklin; Helen Lewis, Helen Hilliard and Edith Housel, Watsontown; Margaret Schwer, Jersey Shore; Angeline Reber, Winfield; Caroline Dean, Philadelphia; Helen Bachert, Tyrone; and Hazel Beeber, Muncy.

TO REPEAT "SYLVIA" IN OUT-DOOR PERFORMANCE

WILL BE GIVEN ON CAMPUS FOR BENEFIT OF THE ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION.

Arrangements are being made to again present the operetta "Sylvia" which was given last month by members of the Lewisburg Choral Society and students of the University, in an outdoor performance on the Bucknell campus on the afternoon of Friday, June, 6th. The operetta was greatly appreciated by the audiences which witnessed it at the recent presentations and accommodations will be provided on the campus for a large crowd. An admission of 25 cents will be charged, the receipts to be given to the Bucknell Athletic Association.

LECTURES BY STATE FORESTER.

R. B. Winter, the State Forester who is in charge of the McCall division of the White Deer state forest near Millinburg, delivered the lecture to the 8.15 class in Forestry this morning and addressed the 11.15 major class in Forestry. Mr. Winter gave a thorough description of the State Department of Forestry and explained the work that is being done by it. He also told of actual work that is done by the foresters. The work of the department was divided by him into four classes, the education of the people in and around the forests in the care of the timber, the protection of the trees, the regeneration of the forests, and the utilization of all the land. Both of his talks were greatly appreciated.

Mr. Zahn, of Williamsport, was the guest of Wendt, '13, over Sunday.

Daubert, '11, pastor of a church at Liverpool, spent Friday on the campus.

Velte, '10, who is located at Salem, N. J., spent several days on the Hill last week.

The Sophomore-Freshman game will be played on the campus Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Ralph Tyson, ex-'14, who is a student at Jefferson Medical college, is attending the S. A. E. house party.

Nicely, ex-'14, now a student at Jefferson Medical college, spent Sunday with his Phi Gamma Delta brothers.

Phi Gamma Delta entertained Phi Kappa Psi, Kappa Sigma and Delta Theta Upsilon at an enjoyable dance at Riverside Park last Friday evening.

Alfred James, of Allentown, visited Lotte, '14, over Sunday while on his way to Penn State. James is a grandson of the late Charles S. James, Ph. D., Professor of Mathematics at Bucknell from 1851 to 1877.

F. W. Robbins, '98, superintendent of the city schools of Lebanon, is at the head of a movement to transform the vacant lots in and about that city into gardens. Mr. Robbins has enlisted the aid of the school boys in the cause and the larger part of the work will be done by them during the summer months.

All members of the Sophomore class who wish to be considered by the Student Caucus as candidates for election to assistant managerships should hand their names to their representative in the Committee before 7.00 o'clock this evening as the Caucus meets at that time at the Kappa Sigma halls. Friday was the date set as the last day on which candidacy could be announced, but because that fact was not thoroughly understood the time was changed until this evening.

LITTLE QUAKERS BOW TO VARSITY

BUCKNELL DEFEATED IN OTHER GAMES OF TRIP.

SETON HALL GAME SHOULD NOT HAVE BEEN A DEFEAT

Angstadt Twirled Excellent Games for Varsity—Unable to Play with Army on Account of Rain of Wednesday.

Although the Varsity baseball team dropped two of the three game played on its eastern trip last week it practically atoned for them by giving our Quaker rivals, Swarthmore, a decisive 12 to 7 defeat.

The first game of the trip was to have been played at West Point Wednesday, but on account of a heavy rain that fell during the afternoon, it was impossible to play.

This was the last long trip of the year for the Bucknell team and the one of which they were expected to pile up the greatest number of victories, and for that reason the loss of the two earlier and supposedly easier games was a great disappointment to the followers of the team.

B. U. 1; Seton Hall, 2.

It is said that it was the tenth man on the Seton Hall team that caused Bucknell to lose the game with that team Thursday, Miller having been entitled to a score when called out on a throw to the home plate in the seventh inning.

Angstadt was the twirler of the day for the Orange and Blue and pitched one of the best games of the season, striking out ten men and giving but five scattered safe hits. It was one of the first opportunities that the youngster has had of showing his true worth as a pitcher and he thoroughly demonstrated that he has "the goods."

A single and an error by Worrilow in the fourth gave the home team their first run, and their second and final tally came in the seventh on a pass, a sacrifice and a single.

Bucknell could not get a runner safely past third until in the ninth when Topham hit into left field for three bases and went home when Miller's drive into right garden was muffed.

The score:

Bucknell	0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 1—1
Seton Hall	0 0 0 1 0 0 1 0 x—2

TO SELL ICE CREAM AND CANDY ON PRETTILY DECORATED CAMPUS.

Next Thursday evening at 7.30 o'clock the girls of the Seminary will hold a fete on the "Sem" lawn. Ladies representing lands across the waters will be there to serve ice cream under the swinging Japanese lanterns. Candy fresh from "Sem" chafing dishes will be on sale. Those wishing their fortunes told will find a tent replete with black cats, boiling caldrons and sibyls.

Every man in college is invited to enjoy an evening promenading the girls' campus and listening to the band play. The girls will welcome any one who appreciates a general good time.

ATHLETIC ASSOC. ELECTION.

The regular spring election of the Athletic Association will be held in Tustin gymnasium Saturday, June 7, at 10 a. m., for the purpose of electing assistant managers of baseball, basket-ball, track, and tennis, and two undergraduate members of the Advisory Board.

ALUMNUS IN CANADA

WILL MAKE TRIP FOR GOVERNMENT IN CANOES.

Daniel M. Wise, '12 Electrical, recently accepted an appointment as magnetic observer in the Department of Terrestrial Magnetism of the Carnegie Institution at Washington, D. C. On May 11th in company with Dr. Edmunds of the same department, he left for Winnipeg, Manitoba, where they will outfit for an expedition into Northern Canada, District of Patricia. The trip through Northern Canada will be made for the most part in canoes and will cover upwards of 1800 miles, about 500 of which will be along the shore of Hudson Bay. They expect to return about October 15th.

SENIORS WILL FOLLOW THE CUSTOM AND PRESENT PLAY

STRONG CAST TO GIVE ROMANCE DURING COMMENCEMENT WEEK.

The annual Senior class play, which is always one of the chief attractions of Commencement week, will be held in Commencement Hall on Monday evening, June 16. The production to be given this year is a farcical romance in three acts, entitled "The Century Plant."

From present appearances this play promises to equal or even surpass any other given by a Senior class for a number of years. Both Miss Schillinger, who is acting as coach, and the members of the cast are working hard to give the people a production worthy of professionals.

The leading characters of the play are Ralph Talbot as Robert L. Endell, and Miss Jane Irey as Estelle De Lanier. Talbot is manager of the class play.

The cast of characters is as follows:

Robert L. Endell, Gov. Gen. of the Philippine Islands	Talbot.
Hon. Milton Barney, secretary of Foreign Affairs	Kelly
Capt. Ralph Austin, on the Governor's staff	Middleton
Capt. Raymond Brooks	Eshelman
Maj. George Scott	Bernhart
Mrs. Barret-Jones	Miss Brown
Miriam Barney	Miss Galloway
Estelle De Lanier	Miss Irey

J. M. Duff, rated as one of Princeton's best guards, and E. H. Harlan, a Princeton backfield man, both chosen for Walter Camp's "big team," will coach Pitt next year.

BAND WILL BE GIVEN LETTERS

"B" INSIGNIA TO BE AWARDED MEMBERS.

CONSTITUTION ADOPTED AND APPROVED BY FACULTY COMM.

Organization is the Best in History of Bucknell and Has Had a Very Prosperous Year.—Financial Report and Constitution.

The ratification of a constitution which has received the approval of a special Faculty committee is all that the Bucknell Band must do in order to have "B's" awarded to the members of the organization who have played in the band a stipulated number of times. An advisory committee composed of the president of the Athletic Association, an appointed member of the faculty, and the editor of the Orange and Blue will decide to what members the insignia shall be awarded.

The movement to secure letters for the members of the organization and to give the band a written constitution has been under way for some time and a committee from the band, consisting of V. T. Swenson, W. C. Hulley and W. C. Houser, was delegated to draw up a constitution, which was submitted to President Harris, who referred it to a faculty committee, composed of Profs. Griffith, Smith and Stolz. The latter committee recommended several changes in the original draft and have sent the documents back to the band for final ratification, action on which will be taken this week.

Under the provision of the constitution the letters which will be awarded to the band members will be in the form of a double B, a two-inch B being entwined within the lower loop of a five-inch B.

Has Had a Successful Year.

Never has Bucknell been able to boast of a band more efficient than the present organization. The band has had the most successful year in its history, fulfilling every expectation, and justly deserves the commendation of the student body.

Throughout the present school year the band has furnished music at every varsity game and has been a source of much enthusiasm. The three concerts given during the year and the one of the evening of Memorial Day on the campus before a gathering of seven hundred people were of high calibre and show the headway that has been made by the organization. However the band has not been confined to the campus entirely but has successfully filled several engagements in town, with the Memorial Day parade as the feature, and has gained the respect of the town people as no other organization has in recent years.

The success of the band is partly due to the loyal support of the student body which has generously aided whenever called upon, but the real secret of its success is to be found in the harmony existing between the members themselves who have taken great interest and pride in the organization and have worked hard to make it as efficient as possible. Each member has taken a great deal of interest in the band and has asked no more in return than that the music ren-

SOPHOMORES WIN ANNUAL CONTEST WITH FRESHMEN

DEFEAT FIRST YEAR MEN IN AN EXCITING GAME ON CAMPUS.

The annual baseball game between the Freshmen and Sophomores took place Saturday afternoon and resulted in a victory for the latter by a 6-3 score.

The contest was marked by brilliant plays and long hits, and its issue was in doubt until the sixth inning. With one out Middaugh, pitching for the Freshmen, then weakened, and through four passes, timely hits and clevr base stealing, the Sophomores tallied five runs. Middaugh was replaced by Alter and no more scores were made.

For the Freshmen, Switzer starter the ninth with a two-bagger and was brought home by Gilpin's triple to left. Gilpin tallied while the ball was being thrown in. Snyder kept up the rally with a single but was not advanced and the side was retired without further score.

Bear was easily the star of the game, stealing home twice, securing two safe bingles and making a sensational catch of a long fly to deep left.

The score:

Sophomores	0 0 0 0 1 5 0 0 x—6

Three-base hits—Gilpin. Burlew. Two-base hits—Switzer, Gilpin, Pangburn, Michael. Struck out—by Middaugh 3; by Alter 2; by Sellers 5. Double plays—Sellers to Spear; Fahringer to Spear to Groover. Umpire—Bliss.

WILL GIVE TWO OUT-DOOR PLAYS

BEN GREET PLAYERS TO ACT ON CAMPUS.

"MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING" "THE MERCHANT OF VENICE"

Famous Woodland Players to Present Noted Dramas by the Great English Bard.—Productions Under Auspices of College Y. M. C. A.

The Ben Greet Woodland Players will appear on the campus this year according to an announcement made today by the officials of the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday afternoon and evening, June 10th, are set as the dates for the presentation of Shapespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing," and "The Merchant of Venice." The plays will be given under the auspices of the Bucknell Y. M. C. A.

The popular out-of-doors players have appeared on the Bucknell campus for many summers past and they are very popular with local audiences, which bespeaks a large attendance at the productions next week. Both performances will be given on the campus in front of West College, light by which to give the evening production being furnished by a special artificial lighting system that is carried by the Ben Greet players.

In addition to the intrinsic value of the powerful dramas, Mr. Greet's productions are extremely valuable as educational factors, giving us a glimpse of the stage methods of the great dramatist's time and also showing what effects can be produced by good plays, interpreted by capable and well trained players, even with the barest possible stage fixtures. Mr. Greet, himself, takes the part of Shylock in "The Merchant of Venice," and in that role shows his ability as a dramatist.

The afternoon performance will be given at four o'clock and the evening play at 8.15 o'clock. The single admission tickets will be one dollar. A ticket for the two plays will be sold for $1.50. Tickets are on sale at Heiser's drug store. In case of rain the plays will be given in Commencement Hall. Remember the date: June 10th!

Dr. Harris addressed the Sunday Morning Bible Class on Christian Unity. Next Sunday he will speak on Christian Science.

A WARNING TO DEADHEADS.

It is hard to believe that among the students on the Hill are some who are so abominably cheap as to refuse to pay the admission price at a ball game on the campus in which their own college team is one of the contestants. But that is actually what occurred at a recent game which the Varsity played at home, when three college men who do not hold season tickets, emphatically declined to pay the twenty-five cents charge when requested by the ticket collector. Those connected with the Athletic Association management state that this is not the first time this year that students have refused to pay the regular price of admission, but that it is positively the last and that in future games a refusal to pay on the part of any one, student or not, will result in his removal from the grounds, by force if necessary.

UNRETURNED BOOKS.

It is understood that there is a large sized list of books that have been borrowed from the Library during the past months and that have never been returned. No student is accused or suspected of having purposely failed to return the volumes taken by him and the library officials are doubtless correct in their supposition that the matter is simply one of negligence and carelessness. However we cannot expect to maintain a library even as large and complete as the one we are so fortunate to have if everyone who borrows a book from it is too careless to return it. So if you have a book in your room that belongs to the Bucknell Library, see that it is returned this week.

THE BUDGET SYSTEM.

The question of the support of student activities is one that is alive in many colleges today and especially so at Bucknell. The various organizations make so many calls upon the students for funds and support that at times they become almost a burden to the student body, and some of them, even the most worthy, are often given very little support.

The present plan of managing and financing student activities places an extra share of the burden upon those students whose loyalty to the college morally compells them to contribute.

As a remedy for the existing conditions the Allegheny College Campus advances the following plan, similar to systems that are being used with much success in other colleges, which seems to us an excellent one to be inaugurated at Bucknell:

"The system that seems the most logical, and the one that has proven its value where tried, is that of placing all activities including athletics, dramatics, publications, oratory, and in fact all activities, on a budget system. The total amount necessary for each organization is taken and then the amount divided by the number of students. In this way, by guaranteeing the support of a wider range of people the amount required from each student is materially decreased.

"A simple example will show the truth of this: Ohio Wesleyan last week adopted a similar system. The budget includes athletics, year book, class dues, debates, lecture courses, weekly paper and the Christian association dues and the total amount from each student is $10.95—a sum equivalent to perhaps half that formerly required. This also includes reserved seats at the games. The fee is paid at the time of the tuition fee to one person and the amounts then given to the various departments by a committee of the faculty.

"There are few students who spend less than ten dollars in the support of college activities and if the whole catalogue of activities were placed on a business-like basis, every student could attend every event at no greater expense."

dered be satisfactory and appreciated by the students.

Those who deserve special mention are the officers, who have worked tirelessly for a good band and have succeeded. The officers are Houser, '15, leader; Swenson, '15, manager; and Prof. Smith, secretary and treasurer.

The organization has been a financial success also and will close the year with a small credit balance with which to start operations in the fall. The students contributed a part of the cost of the new uniforms while the greater part was obtained as engagement fees. Besides the uniforms and two new horns purchased this year, the band has kept well supplied with new music and has been able to render a varied program at each engagement. After three more engagements besides the regular program the band will close the year with a little social for all those direct ly interested in it.

During the year all of the music of the band has been indexed and filed. Wardrobes in which to keep the new uniforms have been donated by the college and are installed in the band room.

As this effort on the part of the band to sustain itself shows it to be a progressive organization the student body should show its appreciation by continuing its support and should endeavor to keep together the best band in the history of the school.

SOPH. COTILLION A SUCCESS.

The annual Sophomore cotillion was given by the class of 1915 at Riverside Park, Wednesday night and met with decided success, about seventy couples attending. Campbell's orchestra of Sunbury furnished the music for the second-year men and their friends, and Mrs. B. W. Griffith and Mrs. J. M. Wolfe acted as chaperones. The committee in charge of the cotillion was as follows: R. C. Shipman, chairman; W. A. Affron, R. K. Hoke, N. Mitterling, D. H. Schaffner, J. H. Speer, J. D. Travaskis, F. F. Whittam and T. B. Williams.

Three-base hit—Topham. Struck out—by Angstadt, 10; by Ralston, 8. Base on balls—off Angstadt 3, Bucknell 4, Deleware 7.

The defeat by Delaware College marked the second game of the trip and closed the season for that team.

Buffington held the position on the mound and although he was hit pretty hard in the first inning soon settled down and served up a baffling variety of benders until the fifth when he began to loosen a bit, causing his substitution by Liebensberger, who proved equal to the emergency and struck out six men in three innings, although one run came across in the seventh, brought about by a single, a purloined base and a wild pitch.

All of the runs of the Orange and Blue were made in the third inning when four singles and pass netted four tallies.

The score:

Delaware	3 0 1 0 2 0 1 0 x—7
Bucknell	0 0 4 0 0 0 0 0 0—4

Bucknell, 12; Swarthmore, 7.

The defeat of Swarthmore by the Varsity has been one of the ambitions of the team all year and its realization has been cause for much rejoicing by the students and players. In a large measure it atones for the defeats on the week and the hard luck that Bucknell experienced in the football game with that school last fall.

Angstadt was again chosen to start the pitching and with the exception of the first inning held his opponents in almost complete control until in the seventh inning when he was removed and Liebensberger substituted.

Two singles and some loose fielding gave Swarthmore two runs in the opening inning and they tallied once more in the second when Riffert knocked a home run into deep center field. For the next five innings the Quakers were kept from getting more than one clean hit. In the eighth they secured a triple and double, which with a pass and two errors gave them three runs. Two singles and a pass in the ninth raised their score one more point.

Bucknell enjoyed a swat-fest throughout the entire game, the third and ninth innings, however, being the times that the Orange and Blue scored the most runs. Long hits were features of the work of the Bucknell players.

The score:

Bucknell	0 2 4 0 0 0 1 0 5—12
Swarthmore	2 1 0 0 0 0 0 2 1— 7

VARSITY VICTOR IN LAST INNING

ONE RUN BEHIND WHEN BASES WERE CLEARED.

MANY HOME RUNS IN GAME WITH WILLIAMSPORT CHAMPS

Sturgis Clouted Ball in Ninth for Three Bases and Brought in Winning Run.—Game Was Very Exciting Throughout.

Bucknell won a closely contested game from Newberry, the champions of the Williamsport City League, last Wednesday afternoon before a small crowd. The contest was exciting from start to finish, and the result in doubt until Sturgis with a terrific clout sent Topham and Cruikshank across the pan with the tying and the winning runs.

Lichensburger and Buffington divided the twirling for Bucknell, while McCarthy officiated at the mound for the Billtowners. The features of the game were the long drives made by both teams, three home runs and three three-baggers being made off the three pitchers. Sturgis starred in this line for the Orange and Blue with a homer and a three-bagger to his credit, while Pott had the same record for the visitors. Newberry started the scoring in the first when Pott lined out a homer with a man on first. An error by Cruikshank, followed by Moser's single, gave them their third tally in the fifth, while Pott's three-bagger and Kilkinson's single allowed the former to bring the fourth and last across the pan in the sixth.

Cruikshank, second man up for Bucknell in the first inning, brought in the first tally for the Orange and Blue with a swat good for a trip around the circuit. After this Bucknell was unable to score until the seventh lap. Campbell lined out a pretty three-bagger in the fourth with two out, but Coughanour was out at first on an assist by Paradise.

In the seventh Buffington and Topham were out on flies to left field, Cruikshank made first on a single, and Sturgis gave the ball a ride toward Bucknell Hall, following Cruikshank across the pan. Miller was out on a fly to second base.

In the ninth with the score 4-3 in favor of Williamsport Topham got to first on a hit. Cruikshank repeated the trick, and things began to take on an interesting aspect. Sturgis was the next man up, and he connected so well that Topham and Cruikshank crossed the plate, and the game ended with the visitors' fielders still looking for the ball.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT ELECTS.

At the regular business meeting of the Student Government Association of the Bucknell College for Women last Wednesday evening, the following Executive Board was elected for the coming year: President, Olive M. Cooper, '14; Vice Pres., Ethel E. Peterson, '15; Secretary, Dorothy E. Bunnel, '16. Frances T. McNall, '14, Ruth H. Edwards, '14, Ramona Lenington, '15. Miss Mary Stanton was elected Advisory member.

PROMINENT ALUMNUS MET A SAD AND TRAGIC DEATH

C. PARK EDMUNDS, '10, KILLED BY ELECTRIC CURRENT TUESDAY.

Bucknell lost one of her most promising graduates and loyal friends in the death of C. Park Edmunds, '10. His death was due to an accident that occurred three o'clock Tuesday afternoon while Edmunds, an electrical engineer, was at work in the shops of the Westinghouse Electric Co. at Pittsburgh. He was making the final test of an electric locomotive when the current, about 11,000 volts, jumped to his body and hurled him to the ground. He was hurried to the Pittsburgh hospital where it was found that he had sustained severe internal injuries. His death occurren at 7.40 P. M.

The body was removed to his residence at Wilkinsburg where services were held Wednesday evening, attended by three hundred of his fellow employees. Beautiful floral tributes were sent by the Engineering Department, Faculty of Casino Technical School, Students of Casino Technical School, Aztec Canoe Club, Demosthenean Fraternity, and personal friends.

The body was then taken to his home in Mill Village, Pa., where funeral services were held Saturday in charge of the I. O. O. F., and the Demosthenean Fraternity of Bucknell. The following representatives were present from the Demosthenean Fraternity, R. M. Steele, '08, Abraham, '10, L. Sprout, '10, Middleton, '13, and Professor Rhodes.

Edmunds was born at Mill Village, in 1885, and after graduating from the Waterford High School entered Bucknell University with the class of 1910. He was one of the most popular athletes that ever played on a Bucknell football team, for three years holding the position of guard; he was manager of the baseball team in 1910; a member of the rifle team of the 12th Regt., N. G. P.; a strong contestant in the class oratorical exhibitions; and with it all an excellent student, and regarded as one of the most promising graduates of our Electrical Department.

For the past three years Edmunds was an instructor in mathematics in the Casino Technical Night School at Turtle Creek and had just been elected head of the mathematics department for the year 1913-14.

In the untimely death of this alumnus, from whom all had good reason to expect much, Bucknell has sustained a loss that will be deeply felt for a long time.

PHI PSI HOUSE WARMING.

The local chapter of Phi Kappa Psi entertained over two hundred and fifty guests Friday evening at a reception and house warming in their new fraternity house on Third street. The house was tastily decorated for the occasion.

LYCEUM PROGRAM FOR NEXT YEAR

GIVES PROMISE OF BEING UP TO STANDARD.

SEVERAL NOTED STARS TO MAKE INITIAL BOW HERE

Miss Virginia Brooks and Prof. Woods Are Among the Most Famous of Entertainers.—Dunbar Bell Ringers Always Please.

The Lyceum Committee of the Y. M. C. A. has arranged an excellent course for the coming year. The course is again furnished by the Redpath Co., which so well pleased its patrons last year. The course consists of five numbers all of which have proven very popular wherever they have been presented.

As one of the leading attractions of the season Miss Virginia Brooks, the Twentieth Century Joan of Arc, will tell how she cleaned up West Hammond, Ill. The Woman's Home Companion of Dec. 1912 gave a prominent place to Miss Brooks in its department about prominent people and the Pictorial Review of Feb. 1913, contains an article of several thousand words about Miss Brooks' crusade written by one of the staff writers.

Those who heard Philidelah Rice in his monologue "Peaceful Valley" will be glad to know that he is to return this season. Those who are best acquainted with the art of impersonation pronounced him a master and second to none except Leland Powers himself.

A unique feature of the season's course will be the presentation by Prof. Montravill M. Wood of the interesting physical phenomena of the Gyroscope, the Monorail car and the ultra violet ray. Prof. Wood is already well known to scientists and inventors throughout the country. In fact, he is one of America's foremost inventors, especially in the electric field. The patents which have been awarded to him, number nearly one hundred, the majority of which are in practical use to-day. Every time you turn on your electric light with the familiar snap switch, you can think of Mr. Wood as the inventor.

One of the foremost lecturers on the American Lyceum platform today is Edward Amherst Ott. His lectures are as interesting as the following titles would indicate: "Sour Grapes," "Will Your Dreams Come True?" "The Spenders," "A Fortune for You." Mr. Ott has published several books on the subject of Heredity and Marriage Reform and important new legislation has been enacted in several states based on the principles outlined in his works.

The Dunbar Male Quaret and Bell Ringers which was so popular in Lewisburg a few seasons ago will be presented again this year. They have for ten years been America's foremost concert company. An organization of International reputation and the only one of its kind in the world. They are pioneers in the modern system of bell ringing and bell construction.

The personnell of the entire course is the best that has been presented for many years and is varied enough to appeal to all those who like any form of Lyceum attractions. Tickets will be placed on sale during the summer and a canvass of the town and school will be made early in the fall. The price of a ticket will be $1.50 and can be secured by application to the Lyceum Committee.

GRANTED NATIONAL CHARTER

The Alpha Sigma literary fraternity wishes to announce that it has been granted admittance to a national organization. It will therefore begin school next fall as the Delta chapter of Lambda Chi Alpha.

ATHLETIC ASSOC. ELECTION.

The annual spring meeting of the Athletic Association was held in the gymnasium Saturday morning. The report of the Comptroller showed that the Association had the year in a better financial condition than in former years.

The following officers were then elected:

Baseball Manager, W. D. Reading, '14; Assistant Baseball Manager, W. A. Affron, '15; Assistant Basket-ball Manager, B. W. Laidlaw, '15; Assistant Track Manager, J. L. Shoemaker, '15; Assistant Tennis Manager, W. T. Windsor, '15; Advisory Board, D. D. Zinn, '14; and E. J. Richards, '14.

TWO TEACHERS IN WOMAN'S COLLEGE HAVE RESIGNED

THE DEPARTMENTS OF ART AND MUSIC TO LOSE ABLE INSTRUCTORS.

Miss Georgiana K. Scott, who has been in charge of the Art Department for the past four years, has tendered her resignation to take effect at the end of this school year. Miss Scott has been forced to take this action by ill health. Her departure will be greatly felt by the girls who will lose a friend, the Advisory member of the Y. W. C. A., and patroness of Pi Beta Phi.

Miss Bessie S. Rice has tendered her resignation as teacher of vocal music. It is greatly regretted by friends of the department that Miss Rice will not return next year for her work has done much toward advancing the standard of music here and promoting enthusiasm among the students.

TO NOW PLAY IN CENTRAL LEAGUE

BUCKNELL IN INTERCOLLEGIATE ORGANIZATION.

THREE OTHER COLLEGES IN NEW BASKET-BALL COMPACT

"Coxey" Thompson, '04, Elected as President of New League.—Susquehanna, Gettysburg and Albright Are Other Schools.

Bucknell is now a member of the Central Section of the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Basket-ball League and next winter the Orange and Blue will play a series of games with the other colleges in the Section, which are Gettysburg, Susquehanna and Albright.

The organization of the Central Section of the League was completed at a recent meeting of representatives of the various colleges at Harrisburg, R. W. Thompson, '04, represented Bucknell and was elected president of the Section. Prof. F. W. Moser, of Gettysburg, was elected secretary-treasurer.

During the early spring the various colleges in Pennsylvania sent representatives to a meeting held in Philadelphia, at which the formation of a State Intercollegiate basketball league was considered. It was decided to divide the state into three sections, Western, Central, and Eastern. The Western and Eastern sections have not yet been organized.

While there are only four colleges at present represented in the Central Section it is likely that one or two more may be added soon, as Dickinson has been invited to join, and Franklin and Marshall has been urged to come into the organization in case the Eastern section does not organize this year.

At the meeting in Harrisburg a tentative schedule of games between the four colleges in the League was adopted, which provides for two games between members of the organization every week of the season. Being a member of the Intercollegiate League will not interfere with the scheduling of other games with teams outside of the League.

ELOCUTION RECITAL

GRADUATES OF DEPARTMENT DO EXCELLENT WORK.

Last Friday evening in the Seminary school room Miss Jane Irey and Miss Amelia McSparren, who will be graduated from the elocution department this year, gave their recital. The selections were difficult and evidenced careful training, hard work and a ready command of emotional feeling. The program:

Eve's Dream from "Paradise Lost, Milton—Miss Irey.

Guido Ferranti, Wilde; The Heather Boy, Fr. Hebbel—Miss McSparren.

Widow Johnson, Ruth McEnery Stuart; The Witch's Cavern from "Last Days of Pompeii," Bulwer Lyton—Miss Irey.

The Tramp Violinist, F. Hopkinson Smith; The Confessional, W. W. Story—Miss McSparren.

The Raven, music by Max Heinrich, Edgar Allen Poe—Miss Irey. Accompanist, Miss Rice.

NEWS WANTED NEXT WEEK.

Articles and items of news for the Commencement News are being eagerly solicited. During Commencement week items concerning visitors and alumni will be needed and will be gratefully received by the staff of the News. Other news which can be prepared at once is desired this week. This paper is published once a week during the college year by the Orange and Blue Board, representing the student body of Bucknell University. Subscription $1.25 per year, $1.00 if paid before January 1 of the college year. Communications addressed to the Orange and Blue, Lewisburg, Pa.

An X in the vacant space opposite this reading, indicates that your subscription is due. Will you please remit?

ADVERTISING THAT PAYS.

There are other means of securing new students for Bucknell besides by sending out advertisements and traveling representatives. One of the methods, and probably the best, is by creating a favorable impression of Bucknell in a student's home town. With the beginning of the summer vacation college students will go to practically every portion of the country and it is then that the business men of your community decide whether or not the institution to which you are going is doing worthy work. Loud dress and "rah-rah" actions may appeal to those of lesser intelligence, but the men of experience will judge you, and also the college from which you come, by your bearing and mental ability. You, yourself, are the best or the worst advertisement for Bucknell. The summer vacation will afford a splendid opportunity for you to interest the seniors in the high school from which you were graduated, in our Institution, to tell them of the advantages offered here and to pursuade them to matriculate here next fall. There is surely no better way to show college spirit than by thus helping in a publicity campaign that will bring to Bucknell results of the greatest value.

THE MOVING-UP PEE-RADE

An excellent chance to show the originality of Bucknell students will occur next Friday evening when the annual moving-up pee-rade of the Freshmen takes place. Since the inauguration of the pee-rade several years ago it has consisted of but a procession of the first-year men in pajamas, red fire, and an intermittent discord sounded on several instruments borrowed from the college band. Would it not be much more intresting to both participants and spectators if there was some system to the affair, the full Bucknell band invited to lead the pee-rade, the costumes of the marchers made as unique as possible, and amusing along the line of march and at the bon-fire, where the procession ends and the class caps are given over to the all-consuming flames?

A NEW ALUMNI DEPARTMENT

From now on the alumni of Bucknell located in and about Philadelphia will have a whole column in each issue of the Orange and Blue, or as much of it as they can use, devoted solely to news from the Philadelphia Alumni Club. The inauguration of this department, while it necessarily has a small financial basis, is a move that will be of inestimable value to the college and will be the means of bringing the institution into closer touch with hundreds of its alumni, renewing in them the feeling of intimacy and sympathy with its activities and achievements.

Editing this paper is a nice thing. If we publish jokes, people say we are rattle-brained. If we don't we are fossils. If we publish orginal matter they say we don't give them enough selections. If we give them selections they say we are too lazy to write. If we don't go to church we are heathens. If we do we are hypocrites. If we remain at the office we ought to be looking out for news items. If we go out we are not attending to business. If we wear old clothes they laugh at us. If we wear good clothes they say we have a pull. What are we to do? Just as likely as not someone will say that we stole this from an exchange. So we did.

ALUMNUS IS GIVEN CALL TO WEST CHESTER CHURCH

REV. WALKER, '89, OF CLARION, MAY ASSUME WORK IN NEW FIELD.

At a recent meeting of the congregation of the Olivet Baptist church, of West Chester, a call to that pulpit was made to Rev. Charles A. Walker, '89, of Clarion. The summons was unanimous and there was no other candidate considered. It is expected that Rev. Walker will accept and assume the work in the new field in June.

Mr. Walker was educated in the schools of Philadelphia, was graduated from Bucknell University and Crozer Theological Seminary and has spent a year in travel and study abroad. He has held three pastorates: at Bellwood, where he spent eight years; at Malvern, where he remained almost ten years, and at Clarion, where he has been for the past three years.

Mr. Walker holds the position of Secretary of the Pennsylvania Baptist General Convention, and on this account is probably the most widely known Baptist minister in the State. He has also served as clerk of the North Philadelphia Baptist Association, and is the present clerk of the Clarion Association.

His family consists of his wife and one daughter, Miss Margaret, who was graduated last year from the Clarion State Normal School, and is at present doing post graduate work there. She expects to enter Bucknell University in the fall.

DR. PHILLIPS HONORED.

Word has reached the student body that Dr. Phillips has been selected as one of the few instructors in Bible Study at Eagles Mere during Y. M. C. A. Conference. As Dr. Phillips is chosen by the National Committee to address college men, it shows that the work of Dr. Phillips at Bucknell has gained the attention of men in other states. It not only places the honored professor in prominence but also places Bucknell and her Y. M. C. A. in the forepart as Dr. Phillips has been a member of the advisory board and had the work of the Y. M. C. A. at heart ever since he has been connected with Bucknell.

Bucknell students ought to show their appreciation of this selection of Dr. Phillips by sending a goodly number to the Conference. Several have announced their intention of being present while others are thinking seriously of it. It is hoped that these join the crowd, making the Bucknell delegation one of the largest at Eagles Mere. There is surely a rare opportunity offered the fellows who attend.

DISCOVERED NEW MOTH.

Prof. P. H. Hertzog, '10, of the faculty of Pebble Institute, Hightstown, N. J., is said to have recently discovered a species of moth which has heretofore not been known to science. The new lepidopteran has not yet been given a name. Prof. Hertzog has made several similar discoveries during the past few years.

Plans are being made at Princeton to organize a University Club, which will occupy a large building on the campus. The need of a common meeting place for men of the university in an accessible location on the campus has long been felt at Princeton.

The cost of living is to be lowered at Princeton by the opening of a shoe parlor under student control, where shines may be obtained at reduced rates.

"Distinctively Individual"

TO PHILADELPHIA ALUMNI

To all Philadelphia Bucknell Men:

At the present time in and about Philadelphia there are about five hundred Bucknell Alumni. The number has ben growing so quietly that nobody realized just how big it had gotten to be until the actual count was made. This growth of the Alumni has changed the problem of its government. Heretofore it has largely been one of individuals; it has now become one of a large group.

The question of how to solve this problem best has been on the minds of a good many Philadelphia-Bucknell men for some time. The Executive Committee of the Philadelphia Alumni Club has considered the matter and has come to the conclusion that the first move for it to make in this task of organization is to weld all of Philadelphia's Alumni together. The aim is to make the body as one—a complete unit. Whatever it does then, it will do with the intensity of one and the strength of hundreds. The committee also thinks that one of the best means of getting this unity is by talking together through the medium of the printed page every week. Acting on these conclusions it recently took up the matter with the Orange and Blue and Commencement News with the following result:

THE PHILADELPHIA ALUMNI CLUB OFFERS EACH BUCKNELL MAN IN THE CITY AND VICINITY THE ORANGE AND BLUE FOR 1912-13, THE COMMENCEMENT NEWS FOR 1914, AND ANNUAL DUES FOR 1913-14 IN THE CLUB FOR ONE DOLLAR AND FIFTY CENTS.

The Orange and Blue is to grant to the Philadelphia Alumni the use of this entire column every issue. It is OUR column to be used only for such news as the Philadelphia Alumni Club desires to put in it. There will be bulletins of the Club's activities, news of its members and news of the Alumni generally.

There is only one string to this proposition and that is already cut if you do your part. The Executive Committee had to guarantee seventy-five subscriptions to the Orange and Blue to get this opportunity, and it did. And it did, because it believed that you would back it up with a subscription.

Don't put this aside and think about it—the price might go up. Send your ONE FIFTY with the enclosed order at once to Clement K. Robb, Treasurer, Centennial National Bank, Philadelphia, Pa.

Dear Sir:

I enclose herewith one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50) in payment of my subscription to your combination offer.

GAMES SCHEDULED

WYCHOFF WILL PITCH IN ALUMNI GAME.

The following baseball games have been scheduled by Manager Edwards to be played by the Varsity on the local field during the remainder of the season:

Wednesday, June 11—pending, Susquehanna.

Saturday, June 14—Mifflinburg.

Monday, June 16 — Williamsport City Champions.

Tuesday, June 17—Alumni.

The Williamsport team which will be here on Monday of Commencement week is the same team that played the exciting game with the Varsity last Wednesday which Bucknell did not win until the last minute of play.

It has been officially announced that Wychoff, ex-'15, who is now with the Philadelphia Athletics, will pitch for the Alumni in the game with the Varsity next Tuesday. Other former Bucknell diamond stars such as Cockill, Daniels, Clark, "Doc" Smith, Tim O'Leary, and Manning.

The University of Chicago has $1,000,000 worth of new buildings in the course of construction. They are modeled after those at Oxford University.

Our forty-second store, in a list that embraces the principal cities of the English-speaking world, from London to Sydney, and one in Paris.

Athletics is a bigger word than it was; it means the Open; it spells Outdoors. It has ushered in the Country Life.

To meet this demand we have inaugurated a department in this new store in which will be carried garments—made in England, the home of Country Life—suitable for all Outdoor purposes or just Lounging aroun door purposes or just Lounging around the Country Club.

And, as the location would indicate, this store is not exclusively for Men. The Wives and Daughters of America are now a big afctor in Outdoor Life. They will be surprised and delighted with the extensive and exclusive assortment of Apparel and Implements.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

Much stress has already been given to the importance of attending the summer conference. A number of men have already agreed to go to represent our institution. Bucknell should have twenty-five men at Eagles Mere. Consider a vacation of ten days among the leading men from the colleges of the Middle Atlantic states. The Y. M. C. A. leaders at the conference will be among the best in the country. John R. Mott, who was appointed Ambassador to China, will be there June 16 and 17. If you can go to the conference this year but would rather wait until next year, you are making a mistake by a year. If you can possibly go, go at a sacrifice.
